15 Men Executed In Cuba

U.S. Recognizes Castro Regime

By Herald Wire Services

HAVANA, Cuba — The United States formally recognized the revolutionary government of Cuba Wednesday as the regime of Fidel Castro announced the execution of 15 officers of the forces of former dictator Fulgencio Batista.

The American action, announced in a note delivered to the new Cuban foreign minister, Robert Daniel Agramonte, by Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith, was followed almost immediately by similar action by the British government.

Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Uruguay, Nicaragua and the United Arab Republic also announced recognition of the government.

The move came six days after Batista fled Cuba, admitting defeat at the hands of the rebels.

The note said:

"I have been instructed by my government to inform your excellency, that, having noted with satisfaction the assurances given by the new government of Cuba of its intention to comply with the international obligation and agreements of Cuba, the government of the U.S. is pleased to recognize the government under the presidency of Manuel Urrutia Lleo, as the provisional government of the Republic of Cuba."

The executions signaled the start of widespread trials by revolutionary courts of Cubans accused of crimes against the state.

Authorities said 10 officers, including Col. Arcadio Casillas Lumpuy, were executed in Santiago, capital of Oriente province and hometown of Castro.

Lumpuy was Batista's chief of operations in Oriente, where between 200 and 300 presoners were reported awaiting trial.

Five military men were executed in Santa Clara, capital of central Las Villas Province. Among those reported sentenced to death there was Lt. Col. Cornelio Rojas, a police inspector. He was accused of torturing prisoners.

Havana Police Chief Aldo Vera said 800 prisoners are being held in the capital on political charges. He declared each case is under investigation and the innocent will be released.

Camilio Cienfugos, commander of Havana Province, said plans were under way for a drastic reorganization of the country's armed forces, under the supervision of the revolutionaries. He added that regular army men innocent of misdeeds will be permitted to take part in the reorganization.

There were these additional developments as Havana awaited impatiently for the expected arrival of Castro today:

Luis Bush, minister of the presidency, said Cuba will demand the extradition of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer on charges he fled by yacht to Key West, Fla., with 17 million dollars belonging to the Cuban people.

The presidency said Masferrer had his own private army for protection and for rooting out suspected rebel sympathizers. He is a close friend of Batista and owner of the newspaper El Tiempo. The paper was sacked by rebel sympathizers after Batista fled. Bush said instructions already had been given to press the U. S. for Masferrer's immediate extradition.

Bush also announced creation of two new ministries — social assistance and economy. The names of the men to head the ministries were not announced.

Castro would not comment on reports that the revolutionary regime would ask for replacement of U.S. Ambassador Smith. Castro was expected to spend the night at Matanzas, 60 miles from Havana. He headed to Matanzas from Santa Clara.

Castro's 26th of July Movement spurred the hunt for informers, grafters and others who lined their pockets under Batista by announcing formation of a "department of purification."

"Chivato," meaning rascal, is applied to informers for Batista's police and is the dirtiest word in Havana today.

The new department also will disarm unauthorized gun-

New Regime Takes Dim View of Prio

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Former Cuban President Carlos Prio Socarras, who claims he spent his entire fortune buying arms for the revolution, may wind up out in the cold in his country's new government.

"I spent everything I had," Prio said Wednesday in an interview at his huge country home, La Chata, a few miles from Havana.

He and his family returned here from their long exile in Miami.

"All that I have left is the property that I own here," said Cuba's last constitutional president who was ousted by Fulgencio Batista. "But I am not asking for anything."

PRIO

Even if he does ask for something, indications are that he won't get it from the government being formed by Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Rebel Leader Fidel Castro picked to take over from Batista.

Observers here don't believe that Prio will ever regain his former political strength because he has very little popular support.

Some give him no credit for aiding the rebel movement and even accuse Prio of having stolen the money he had when he was president. Prio was ousted by Batista in 1952.

Prio did not make any estimate of just how many millions he spent while in exile in Miami buying arms and ammunition to ship to the rebels. He would only say he spent "everything."

There were close to a hundred automobiles at La Chata Wednesday, and hundreds of young men milling around who fought in the interior for Prio's revolutionary organization, Autentica.

Nearly every man was heavily armed and a few appeared to have just started growing beards — the symbol of sacrifice.

Without any political power, a big question is how Prio will go about rewarding them.

In Havana proper, meanwhile, citizens are preparing the biggest celebration yet for the arrival of Castro and the core of his rebel army.

Havana has more than returned to normal. Things are much better than normal.

Bakers, shoeshine boys, taxis and tourist traps — except for the gambling casinos which Urrutia has vowed to keep closed—are all back in business.

Baseball is back, and sports news is again getting newspaper space, along with weddings and funerals.

For a city that feared it was in for a blood bath this time last week, the adjustment to the switch in governments is amazing. Habaneros still can't quite believe that the tourists may start flocking back at any time.

Spring Is In the Air --For Fair

Miami's spring-like weather isn't expected to change in the foreseeable future, and the rest of Florida will keep warming up, too, after its brief but severe cold snap.

"There's not much prospect of any major change," Miami Weather Bureau Forecaster William McGehee said Wednesday. "The weather will be good here and the rest of the state should keep on warming up."

Miami temperatures hit the mid-70s Wednesday and are expected to go a few degrees higher today. The low this morning should range from 65 to 70, McGehee said.

In Central and North Florida, coldest temperatures Wednesday morning were in the high 30s, and the mercury rose during the day to the mid-60s. Sunny skies are expected to continue over the whole state at least for another day or two.

Mikoyan Hooted in Cleveland

By Herald Wire Services

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, pretending to ignore a rock-throwing incident and intensive anti-Soviet demonstrations, advocated a co-existence in "peace and friendship" on his one-day visit here Wednesday.

The Soviet's No. 2 man and seven other Russians, including Russian Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, arrived at Hopkins airport and were greeted by Financier Cyrus Eaton, who was host to the Russian official during his brief stay.

At the airport, Mikoyan, referring to Eaton's recent visit to Russia, stated: "Your trip was a private one but your statements after the visit bore testimony to the fact that people living under different systems can still get along together.

"You want peace and friendship and so do we. Let us each retain our views on capitalism and socialism, but let us be friends in peace."

He told a group of leading Ohio businessmen that Soviet scientists have so far failed to create shelters good against H-bombs. Soviet scientists are working to create shelters which can provide protection against thermonuclear explosions, he said that "when one has knowledge of what the

U.S. Gets Ricca Data

CHICAGO — (UPI) — The naturalization papers of Paul (The Waiter) Ricca, one-time kingpin in the Al Capone gang, Wednesday were ordered turned over to the attorney general in a new move to deport the mob veteran to his native Italy.

At the request of the government, Federal Judge Walter La Buy ordered Ricca's certificate of naturalization turned over to U.S. District Attorney Robert Tieken for transfer to Washington.

Ricca appeared Tuesday before Otto A. Eck, special inquiry officer of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, but was a reluctant witness when the government tried to get him to admit he obtained his citizenship fraudulently.

Filibuster Control Battle Erupts As Congress Opens

Stage Set For Bitter Civil Fight

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The new 86th Congress, biggest in U.S. history, opened Wednesday with fireworks popping over Senate filibusters and with new Republican leaders taking party command in both houses.

The heavily - Democratic House and Senate convened at noon for a session that must try to reconcile President Eisenhower's economy budget with Russia's space challenge. Democratic leaders promised "responsible service" and "sympathetic" consideration of the President's proposals.

The session was only minutes old when the Senate erupted in a row over attempts by liberal members to make it easier to curb anti-civil rights filibusters. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas finally forced postponement of a first-round showdown until today.

Johnson acted after Vice President Richard M. Nixon, presiding over the chamber, held for the second time in two years that the Senate can adopt new rules at the outset of a new Congress, including a crackdown on filibusters.

This was the opinion the liberal anti-filibuster senators wanted to hear and it laid the groundwork for a rousing North-South fight when the Senate meets today at 10 a.m. —two hours early.

A House controversy, with civil rights overtones, was settled when Rep. Dale Alford, the Little Rock, Ark., segregationist, was allowed to take his seat by an overwhelming vote. A House elections subcommittee had recommended that Alford be barred pending an investigation of his write-in victory over Rep. Brooks Hays (D., Ark.).

Opening day saw more than 2,000 bills introduced in the House — including two big spending measures which Eisenhower vetoed last year for economy reasons.

One would launch a 275 million dollar program of federal aid for economically-depressed areas. The other would provide federal grants of 100 million dollars a year for five years to help communities build airports. Democrats labeled them "must" legislation.

Former President Truman and a host of luminaries were on hand to see the opening of the most overwhelmingly Democratic Congress since New Deal days. The Senate lineup is 64 Democrats and 34 Republicans. In the House, it is 283 Democrats and 153 Republicans.

The Congress, with which Eisenhower must deal during his last two years in the White House, also is the largest in history due to the addition of two senators and a House member from the new state of Alaska.

The Democrats unanimously returned Sen. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn to power. House Democrats also renamed Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts as their party's floor leader.

Johnson and Rayburn promptly urged their Democratic colleagues to live up to the responsibilities entrusted to them by the sweeping Democratic victories in the November congressional elections.

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The political lineup in the new 86th Congress:

Senate: 64 Democrats, 34 Republicans (total 98, with Alaska.)

House: 283 Democrats, 135 Republicans, (total 436, with Alaska.)

Last session, the Democrats controlled the Senate, 49 to 47. They held the House, 235 to 200.

Martin One of Boys Again; Uses Employes' Entrance

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Joe Martin turned in his Cadillac for a taxicab Wednesday and came to work through the employes' entrance.

He was no longer the leader of House Republicans, using the boss' door. He was just one of the crowd.

The 74-year-old bachelor from North Attleboro, Mass., stands as a living monument to the caprices and cruelties of big time politics.

Almost 20 years ago to the day, Martin's colleagues elevated him to the highest post within their power — the GOP leadership of the House. They made him speaker during the four years they were in control.

Tuesday the roof fell in.

Unceremoniously, unmercifully and unexpectedly, Martin was toppled from his throne by a vote of 74-70 at a party caucus. In his place was installed Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, who had risen to a position of power in the House with the early assistance of Martin.

How does it feel to be fired, right out of a clear sky, after 20 years as boss?

"It's not too bad, now that it's over," Martin said. "I didn't like it. I didn't expect it. I thought I had the votes. I was a little stunned at first, but now I don't feel so bad about it. In fact, you might say I feel good. In a way I'm sort of glad, now that it's over.

"It's a relief not to have the responsibilities."

'Luck of Draw' Gives Alaska Two 'Short Term' Senators

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The luck of the draw gave Alaska two short-term senators Wednesday.

Sen. Ernest Gruening will represent the 49th state for four years and Sen. E. L. (Bob) Bartlett will serve a two-year term.

Both new Democratic senators missed a chance to win a full six-year term as they performed a ceremony last held when Arizona and New Mexico sent their first senators to Washington 47 years ago.

Gruening, 71-year-old former territorial governor, drew one of three slips of paper from a small box to determine his term.

It made him a four-year senator. Then Bartlett, Alaska's 54-year-old former delegate to Congress, drew a two-year slip. The six-year slip remained unchosen.

The draw was necessary to give Gruening and Bartlett terms of differing length.

The Constitution requires the Senate membership to be divided into three classes, with about one-third of the senators standing for re-election every two years.

As a result of Wednesday's drawing, Alaskans will vote for senators again in 1960 and 1962. The senators elected then will have full six-year terms.

On Tuesday, Gruening and Bartlett flipped a coin to decide who would rank as Alaska's senior senator. Bartlett won the flip, so Gruening had first choice in the draw Wednesday.

GOP Senators Pick Dirksen

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Conservative Republicans won their fight to keep Senate party control Wednesday by electing Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as GOP leader over liberal Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. The vote was 20-14.

The Republicans also elected Liberal Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California as whip, or assistant GOP leader, by the same vote. This was considered a concession to the liberal group which sought to overthrow conservative control.

Kuchel won out over Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, a last minute candidate nominated by Dirksen forces, in a two-hour organizational meeting of Senate Republicans.

The GOP senators reelected Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Masschusetts as chairman of the Republican Conference, made up of all Senate Republicans, and Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota was reelected secretary. Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire was reelected chairman of the Republican Policy Committee.

Boone Does Some Explaining About Beer Drinking, Stealing

NEW YORK—(AP)—Singer Pat Boone, idolized as a clean-living, non-drinking antidote to juvenile delinquency, is having to do some explaining about his "past."

In an interview Wednesday with The New York Post, Boone discussed the weaknesses he discloses in his new book, "Twixt Twelve and Twenty." These weaknesses included shoplifting and beer-drinking.

Pat explained:

"I was about 16 when four or five of us guys did our shoplifting. Each of us took a downtown store in Nashville at Christmas time. We did it for excitement, but we did it.

"We took little items. Cigaret lighters, socks, pants, shirts, sweaters, things like that. Our folks could have afforded to pay for them."

Later, Boone continued, he became remorseful, and confessed his deeds to his high high school principal.

"I . . . told him I wanted to return the goods I'd stolen, or pay for it. He helped me. By this time I'd sung quite a lot around town, and this would have been quite a story if it had come out but it never did.

"Again with the guys, we got to drinking beer like a lot of teen-agers. None of us liked it—I smoked a lot, too, and I don't now."

Nor, he added, does he any longer take beer or other alcoholic beverages.

Rocket Orbits Around Sun, Russians Say

LONDON —(AP)— The Soviet space rocket went into orbit around the sun Wednesday and became the first artificial planet of the solar system, Moscow radio said.

The broadcast said the rocket has covered a distance of 14,500,000 kilometers (9,062,500 miles) since it was launched from a base in the Soviet Union Friday.

All radio contact with the rocket has been lost since Monday. The Soviet Union has given no indication of how it could tell when the rocket would go into orbit around the sun.

Its curving path through space as it veers into orbit around the sun leaves it one million kilometers (625,000 miles) from the earth, the broadcast said.

Quoting the science correspondent of the Tass News Agency, Moscow said this figure "will increase at a terrific pace since the earth and the artificial planet are diverging in the cosmos."

The Tass science correspondent insisted the Russians had no intention of hitting the moon with their space rocket.

It missed the moon by about 5,000 miles and headed on through space.

The initial Soviet announcement said the rocket was headed toward the moon. The aim of putting it into orbit around the sun was not mentioned then.

$85,000 Is Found On Cuban Yacht

By Herald Services

KEY WEST — About $85,000 in cash has been discovered aboard one of two Cuban yachts which fled here from Havana with 36 men during the downfall of strongman Fulgencio Batista's regime.

But another 17 million dollars said to have been spirited away on the boats has not been found, and Federal Judge Emett Choate denied a Cuban government petition to impound the money if found.

The $85,000 was uncovered, but not seized, by immigration agents as they searched the yacht Olocun II, under guard at the Key West Naval base.

Agents said they would continue searching the boat, and its companion yacht, the Martha III, today.

Those aboard the boats, identified as close supporters of Batista, include Sen. Rolando Masferrer, described as one of Cuba's most hated men.

The party has not been allowed to leave the docked boats.

The new Cuban revolutionary government, in a petition filed in Miami Federal Court by Cuban Minister of State Roberto Agramonte, claimed the two vessels fled with 17 million dollars from the nation's treasury.

Judge Choate said the U.S. could not impound the money if found because of lack of jurisdiction.

Row Brewing With Britain?

LONDON — A major political row seemed brewing Wednesday over British arms sales to Cuba's defunct Batista regime and the London government's apparent surprise at the swift victory of Rebel Fidel Castro.

Most British newspapers carried reports that anti-British feeling is running high in Cuba and that the revolutionary government may expel Ambassador Alfred Fordham.

The Foreign Office described these reports as pure speculation and said Provisional President Manuel Urrutia's regime had asked for British recognition, relaying its request through Fordham.

Fordham was quoted as being "greatly surprised" by the suddenness with which the Batista regime had crumbled.

Batista Betrayed Friends

HAVANA — Fulgencio Batista betrayed many of his closest and most loyal friends when he suddenly decided to give up his fight against Fidel Castro's revolutionaries on New Year's Day.

The Cuban dictator left scores of them behind when he boarded a plane for the Dominican Republic and fled the country. Many are already in jail.

Cubans, and perhaps much of the outside world, are still mystified as to why Batista suddenly gave up his post just when he reported hundreds of rebels had been killed in savage fighting for Santa Clara. His last declaration was an order to the armed forces to pursue the rebels until they were destroyed throughout Cuba.

Pilots Unit Rejects Meany Bid

WASHINGTON — (AP) — American Airlines said Wednesday the head of the Pilots Union had turned down a proposal that AFL-CIO President George Meany arbitrate a strike that has grounded its planes since Dec. 20.

C. R. Smith, president of American, said he made the recommendation Saturday but was rebuffed by Clarence Sayen, president of the striking Air Line Pilots Association.

American disclosed the arbitration proposal in a statement after federal mediators reported both sides were close to agreement in efforts to end the 19-day-old pilots' strike.

Smith said he had suggested that Meany's decisions be binding on the company and the pilots.

Sayen, he continued, termed the proposal impractical "and has consistently neglected to discuss it since that time."

Under the proposal the pilots would return to work while Meany considered the wage-hour issues.

Added Fire Inspection Proposed

A proposal for the Dade school system to do its own fire inspecting was made Wednesday by two school board members.

"We need a man inspecting all the time," said Mrs. Jane Roberts, who cited a recent Herald article about fire hazards in one school.

The idea was backed by board Chairman C. Raymond Van Dusen, who said the schools shouldn't rely solely on municipal fire inspections.

"The School Board should accept the responsibility for fire prevention. We can't depend on somebody else to do the job," he said.

No action was taken on the proposal at Wednesday's meeting. The board asked Supt. Joe Hall to study it and come up with a recommendation in two weeks.

High Seas in East; Mud Bath in West

NEW YORK —(UPI)— A transcontinental winter storm swept into the Atlantic Ocean Wednesday with an icy gale which churned up 50-foot waves and disabled at least four ships.

In the storm's backwash, ice plugged up the water supply for the entire city of North Tonawanda, N.Y., and marooned hundreds of farm families and travelers behind 20-foot snow drifts in Canada.

Another storm, the second of the week, is expected to hit Northern California. Damage was estimated at more than a million dollars in the wake of the earlier onslaught on the southern part of the state, where mud slides smashed down mountainsides which had been stripped of normal watershed by recent brush fires.

The cold wave and storms had lasted almost a week in a vast area covering much of the nation. Weather-blamed deaths, led by murderous cold wave fires and including traffic accidents, exhaustion and exposure, rose to at least 80. Since Monday, fires had killed at least 52.

The greatest weather drama was being played on the high seas, lashed by mammoth waves and howling winds off the Atlantic coastline.

The Boston Coast Guard said two ships, including a cutter, were in serious trouble off New England, where the waves ran 50 feet high.

The 110-foot Lillian B. radioed she was leaking badly, and the battered cutter McCulloch, which already had lost one crewman in the storm, was making painfully slow progress toward Argentia, Newfoundland. The 75-foot Sippican called off a distress signal and proceeded under her own power.

At Norfolk, Va., the Coast Guard said the 8,238-ton freighter African Dawn was wallowing in 40-foot seas off the coast coast of Bermuda with a rapidly widening crack in her main deck.

Bank's Alert, All Right

Hey, Mr. Froeb, Sir, Don't Do That Again

NEW YORK —(AP)— "Everybody lie down on the floor."

The command was shouted Wednesday by a man bursting into the Marlboro Branch of the Lincoln Savings Bank of Brooklyn. He was nattily dressed and wore dark blue glasses.

Recalling that four gunmen had robbed the bank of more than $72,000 hardly two weeks ago, the branch's eight employes promptly hit the deck.

The command had been shouted by Augustus C. Froeb, 75, of Westhampton, N. Y., sprightly senior trustee of the bank. He said later he wanted to test the alertness of employes in sounding an alarm.

But before he could explain, things began to happen.

One of the employes, Charles Roppolo, 40, chief clerk, sounded a burglar alarm. Another, Frank Friel, a guard, whipped his revolver from its holster.

By then, Paul McGuirk, the branch manager, recognized Froeb and shouted to Friel: "It's all right. It's Mr. Froeb, the trustee. He's OK.

Three detectives stationed in the bank vicinity since the Dec. 27 holdup, but not aware of Froeb's test alert, heard the ensuing commotion and dashed in.

Thirty other detectives and policemen swarmed into the branch in response to the burglar alarm.

"You're lucky you didn't get hurt," Detective Sam Botwinick told Froeb.

"I didn't think it would take such a serious turn," said Froeb.

The police were rather upset about the whole thing, but no charges were brought.

bomb really is, one thinks that all these shelters are merely a matter of consolation until the bomb has exploded, because there is no shelter."

Mikoyan spoke of the futility of the building of shelters against such weapons in order to make a plea for friendship and peace between the Soviet Union and the U.S.

All was not peaceful and friendly, however, during protest demonstrations staged by victims of Soviet terror, mostly Hungarian groups.

As Mikoyan and his party emerged from Eaton's Greenbrier suite in the Terminal Tower to attend a luncheon with business and industrial leaders at the Union Club, a 19-year-old fugitive from Russian oppression threw a rock at the deputy premier.

The woman, Mrs. Emma Halhai, missed, but was taken into custody and charged with disorderly conduct by police, who had difficulty restraining several hundred demonstrators who jeered and shouted at the visiting official and Eaton.

Earlier, police asked a Hungarian refugee to leave the airport when they found a spoiled egg in his possession.

Mikoyan, however, pretended to ignore the rock-throwing incident as he doffed his hat, waved and smiled at the crowd before entering a limousine to drive to the exclusive Union Club.

Dad and 5 Die in Fire

BRANDON, Minn. —(AP)— A father and his five children died Wednesday in a fire that swept their two-story home here.

Mark Kelly got out of the house after the fire began, but lost his life when he went back in and sought to rescue his children.

Dead were Kelly, about 38, three sons, Jim, 16, Dennis, 12, Pat, 14; and two daughters, Mary Lee, 10, and Peggy, 3.

Mrs. Kelly fled the burning house with her husband and tried to go back in for the children, along with her husband. Neighbors restrained the mother from reentering the house.

The father's body was found at the foot of a stairs, where he apparently collapsed while trying to reach the baby.

Void Hotel Deal, New Suit Demands

By LEO ADDE
And BOB HARDIN
Herald Staff Writers

The Dade Port Authority's deal to pay $2.5 million for a hotel that one bidder offered to build free was attacked in a Circuit Court lawsuit Wednesday.

The taxpayer's suit demands the International Airport hotel contract with Miami Beach hotelman Saul Cohen be voided.

The suit was filed by Ronny Realty Co., owned by Leonard A. Wein, owner of Miami Airways Hotel near the airport.

Wein was once minority stockholder in a hotel later bought by Cohen.

Auditor Robert M. Morgan labeled the agreement with Cohen a $2,500,000 mistake."

And two Metro commissioners who blasted Morgan for his report, found themselves with scant support.

The report, critical of Port Director George McSherry for his handling of the deal, led Commissioner John McLeod to demand:

"Morgan should be fired for letting it get in the papers before we (the commissioners) saw it."

Countered Commissioner Joseph Boyd:

"I look at it that we work for the people. And our bosses have a right to see any report any time, I believe."

A poll late Wednesday showed at least seven of 11 commissioners solid in their support of Morgan. Two could not be reached for comment.

"Morgan was simply doing his job," said Boyd. "He has a right to investigate fairly and impartially and report the facts as he sees them."

The facts as Morgan's auditing firm saw them Tuesday, were:

1. McSherry allowed Cohen to change his original bid.

2. Other bidders did not receive equal consideration by McSherry.

3. "Indications were" that McSherry did not tell commissioners that they'd have to repay Cohen the money he spent on the hotel.

Hotelman Lawrence Tisch offered to build the hotel at no cost to the county, Morgan's report said.

Castro Aide Goes Clear

Unworried now about top rebel propagandist Jose Carlos Llanusa moving around the U.S., immigration authorities formally dropped proceedings against him Wednesday. Llanusa is back in Havana.

Federal Judge Emett Choate ordered return of a $1,500 cash bond.

The 33-year-old Havana native told the court he was "chief propagandist" for Castro's 26th of July Movement.

Arrested when he came here by plane from Venezuela Dec. 10, he was confined briefly to Dade County jail while immigration authorities investigated his right to enter the country.

National Summary

Widespread cloudiness accompanied the warming flow of rain or drizzle out of Texas into Tennessee and Kentucky while drizzle surrounded a disturabnce moving through the central plains toward the mid Mississippi Valley.

Spotty light snow was scattered over the Rockies from Colorado to Montana but the Pacific states held most of the wet weather in the west.

Moisture from the Gulf of Mexico spreading northeastward, will extend the rains from the lower Mississippi Valley to the Carolinas and Virginia. The precipitation may begin as a combination or variation of snow, sleet to rain from southern Iowa to the upper Ohio Valley and into the mid Atlantic states.

Snow will develop and spread from the Ohio Valley and the southern Great Lakes to the mountains of New York and as far south as the mountains of western Virginia.

Cooler air pressing eastward across the plains will give partly cloudy weather from Texas to the Dakotas with rain changing to snow in the lower Missouri Valley and snow across the Great Lakes.

The new Pacific storm sweeping down the coast is expected to give heavy rains with gale winds as it moves inland through central California with the precipitation as heavy snow in the mountains.

U.S. Charges Russia Cleared Way for Pearl Harbor Attack

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The U. S. Wednesday charged Russia with trying to "rewrite history" to hide the fact that the Soviet encouraged Hitler's military ambitions and cleared the way for the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

It also renewed charges that Russia is responsible for the continued division of Germany, the crisis in Berlin and the trouble and insecurity which has plagued Europe ever since the end of World War II.

The charges were contained in a 53-page booklet released by the State Department to refute allegations in Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's Nov. 27 note to the Western Big Three demanding they evacuate West Berlin.

The lengthy Russian note contained a series of assertions that the U. S. and its allies had at one time encouraged Hitler and then refused after the war to cooperate with Russia to achieve European security and prosperity.

Wednesday's publication, described as "an analysis" of the Soviet note, took up those charges one-by-one and knocked them down by citing history and the statements of Russian leaders.

The document said Russia's actions in every respect "tended to encourage Hitler's military ambitions." It noted that Russian aid to Hitlerite Germany "included not only the providing of arms but the concluding of numerous economic agreements."

The document also blamed Russia for playing a major role in starting the Pacific war.

It said that "in April, 1941, the U.S.S.R. signed a neutrality pact with the Japanese ally of Hitler, thereby clearing the way for the Pearl Harbor attack on the U. S. on Dec. 7, 1941."

Moscow cooperated with the Allies during the war when it was getting vast military aid but beginning in 1946 the Soviet launched the "cold war" and proceeded to violate all its wartime agreements, the booklet asserted.

Nikita Likes Ike, Not Dulles

Humphrey Tells Of Khrushchev Talk

NEW YORK — (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev likes and respects President Eisenhower and considers him a man of peace but thinks Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is "imperialist" and "warlike," says Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D., Minn).

HUMPHREY

Humphrey also quotes Khrushchev as saying of former President Truman:

"I did not like Truman, I did not like Truman's policies but Truman did make decisions."

Humphrey, who had an 8½ hour conference with the Russian premier at the Kremlin Dec. 1, recounts his experiences and quotes some of Khrushchev's statements in an article in the current issue of Life Magazine. Humphrey used notes he made during the Kremlin meeting.

At various points Khrushchev was quoted as saying:

"I have the deepest respect for President Eisenhower. I like President Eisenhower. We want no evil to the U.S. or to Free Berlin. We must assure the President of this . . . He is a very honest man who wants peace."

Humphrey quotes the Russian premier as saying of Eisenhower's secretary of state:

"I am sorry that the policies of the U.S. are made by Dulles. He is a man of a very special kind of character . . .

"Throughout the whole world he is regarded in the same way. It is not just I who do not like Mr. Dulles. If you don't think so, read the British press and the French press and the press of other countries.

"However, I will tell you that the Soviet Union will survive. We have survived many secretaries of state."

Part of Humphrey's impressions of Khrushchev were:

"Khrushchev reminded me of somebody who has risen from poverty and weakness to wealth and power but is never wholly confident of himself and his new status . . .

"Here, I concluded, was a man who might be capable of attempting just about anything in order to prove — to himself as well as to others — that he and his country are as strong and invincible as he wants to believe they are . . .

"He displayed, though of course he never acknowledged a deep sense of national insecurity and inferiority."

Humphrey wrote that Khrushchev assured him "there will never be a war" of his making.

Causeway Must 'Pay Own Way'

The Metro Commission plans to finance the projected Keys causeway, if it is approved, on a self-liquidating bond basis without obligating Port Authority revenues, Chairman Walter Weiss told the Greater Miami Aviation Association Wednesday.

Sharp criticism has been directed by aviation interests at plans to finance the proposed causeway and Interama, an inter-American trade and cultural fair, with earnings of Miami International airport.

"The causeway, if it is built, must stand on its own feet on a toll basis," Weiss said.

Death Penalty

SAIGON — (AP) — South Viet Nam's National Assembly has passed a law ordering the death penalty for embezzlement of public funds if the amount exceeds the equivalent of $26,666.

Alfried Krupp

Big Steel Plant Sold To Krupp

Expands Holdings In Face of Allies

BONN, Germany — (AP) — Alfried Krupp, the German munitions king of World War II, has bought out a rival concern and emerged as West Germany's leading steelmaker.

Krupp has purchased the Bochumer Verein with a capital of 23 million dollars. He already operates the Rheinhausen steel plant capitalized at 27½ million.

With the two companies going full blast, Krupp interests will now turn out four million tons of steel a year.

The move was a further step in the growing concentration of industrial might in this country despite vigorous efforts once exerted by the victorious Allied powers to break up German cartels after World War II.

Krupp actually is under orders to break up his coal and steel empire. The Allies signed a treaty with West Germany under which this divestment was to have been accomplished by the end of 1958.

The industrialist has disposed of a large number of his holdings but has yet to fulfill the treaty obligations. The West German government has joined him in complaining that the order is unworkable.

They contend that no German has the money to buy up the Krupp interests, and the government doesn't want them to fall into foreign hands.

Allied interest these days in German rearmament for the North Atlantic Alliance has acted against pressures for further fragmentation of the Krupp empire.

The European Coal and Steel Community has given its approval to Krupp's purchase of Bochumer Verein. Reliable informants said the trade unions at both Rheinhausen and Bochumer Verein also backed the deal. The trade unions generally have few quarrels with Krupp. He treats his workers well, possibly better than any other German industrialist.

Pakistan Sees Tax Windfall

KARACHI, Pakistan — (AP) — Pakistan's military government hopes to collect at least $57,750,000 in taxes on previously concealed incomes which have recently been declared.

The finance ministry said the equivalent of 231 million dollars in untaxed income had been admitted up to the end of 1958 under government order. The income will be taxed at 25 per cent, the ministry said.

Joe Martin: Down, Swinging

Revolution On The Hill

INSURGENCY is in the air in Congress, too, and this week it gave the heave-ho to Joseph W. Martin Jr., lo these 20 years the Republican leader of the House.

A GOP not dominated by Joe Martin, House Speaker from remote time to time, would be like the Democracy not herded, say, by Sam Rayburn.

Indeed, there may be something portentous in the simile.

Rep. Martin is succeeded by Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, no less conservative but younger and perhaps more dynamic. It is hardly a secret that for a dozen years Republican Martin and Democrat Rayburn, two old bachelor pros, have enjoyed an unwritten working agreement.

The guidon of this marching order was "harmony" — that is, neither party in the House should raise any snakes in the legislative grass. This tended to blur party lines. And it created the Southern Democratic-conservative Republican coalition that has bossed Congress.

MR. HALLECK, of course, is no firebrand. He is no more and no less devoted to the Republican Administration than is genial Joe Martin, now an obviously disgruntled man. Both had to swallow hard at some executive policies, but Leader Martin gagged more often than follower Halleck. For instance, Congressional Quarterly credits Mr. Martin with a 57 per cent party loyalty record and Mr. Halleck with 78 per cent.

So it well may be that the smallest House Republican bloc in 20 years will detach itself from the coalition and make a partisan fight of it in 1959.

If this is the case, the two old parties may acquire some distinctiveness in an era when the choice oftentimes was between Tweedle-Dum and Tweedle-Dee.

That distinctiveness can be welcomed in the name of two-party government.

But it is also a forerunner of the partisan contention that lies ahead in this politically-minded Congress. Insurgency has been in the air in the Senate, too. One can almost count the broken heads that will litter Capitol Hill as fateful 1960 approaches.

In Restraint Of Travel

OUR SEN. SMATHERS has an admirable quality of persistence, well demonstrated by the renewal of his fight to repeal the onerous ten per cent federal tax on domestic travel. (Ned Aitchison has some more to say on this score today on Page 7A.)

Sen. Smathers fough hard of the measure in the last Congress and would have pushed it through but for Administration opposition. The President wanted the $220 million the tax produces. Smathers pointed out that it was not imposed as a revenue maker but as a means to cut down wartime travel.

Certainly this country wants nothing to discourage travel. It is a basis for prosperity, a broadening and educational experience, a promoter of understanding between regions and people, not to mention being good fun.

Let's get behind Sen. Smathers and help him bury this tax with other outmoded and burdensome imposts. Let's get more people on planes, trains and buses. Florida can use the business.

Black Once, It's Grayish Now

MIAMI'S ill fame as a black market for the buyers and sellers of babies for adoption has been aired again — this time before a legislative committee in the State of New York.

It seems to us these repeated hearings emphasize the negative aspects of a situation which is admittedly not good but is not all bad, either.

It is true that Miami attracts many unmarried mothers who seek to lose themselves in the anonymity of a tourist center and dispose of their babies without hometown shame. It is a made-to-order situation in which the black marketeer may flourish, and he has done so in the past.

Since the situation was brought to public attention several years ago, however, largely through efforts of The Herald, many changes have come about. Laws have been tightened so that the baby seller finds it difficult to operate. Hospitals have new rules which make it almost impossible for a mother unwittingly to be duped into selling her child. Local leaders are discussing plans for a Florence Crittenton Home where the unmarried mother may have her child and plan for its future in complete security. And, probably most important of all, adoptive agencies have eased their rigid rules which once closed doors to many childless couples who had love to lavish on some homeless infant.

The black market has, indeed, faded to gray and we think the persons who try to picture Miamians as heartless connivers in a vicious traffic in human flesh do not have access to all the facts.

Fewer Cooks, Better Broth

SUGGESTIONS for streamlining the agricultural services provided by Florida's state government were put forward several weeks ago by a committee of lawmakers.

The plan was widely discussed. Its most controversial item called for a 17-man board that would share the administrative duties of the Commissioner of Agriculture. At best, this would be unwieldy; at worst, a case of 18 cooks stirring the same broth.

Now State Sen. Tom Adams, chairman of the committee, has announced that the proposal for the 17-man board has been dropped. Instead, the committee suggests a 13-man council with no powers except to advise the commissioner.

Even that hardly seems necessary. But the revision improves the plan. It shows the value of presenting public measures for the fullest public discussion.

It's Still At Yawning Stage

ANOTHER engineering report has been filed on a proposed new causeway system here. Another special meeting of the Metropolitan Commission has been called to discuss the recommendations.

This routine is getting monotonous.

What people are waiting for is an end to talk and a start of action.

The latest report — a 99-page document — has the distinction of analyzing thoroughly, for the first time, the idea of using spoil banks alongside the inland waterway as the base for a causeway running north and south in the upper end of Biscayne Bay.

That 12-year-old suggestion has merits not previously explored fully. One is that the right-of-way would cost little or nothing, being already in public ownership. Besides, the federal government is widening and deepening the waterway toward Miami from the north. When the dredges reach Biscayne Bay, they will make the existing spoil banks higher and wider, a potential free site for the roadway.

THE REPORT also points up a fact sensed by every motorist here — the way traffic is increasing.

The number of motor vehicles in Dade County has grown by 140 per cent in the past 10 years. But traffic volumes are swelling even faster than that, as shown by a clearer yardstick — highway use of motor fuel. From 1946 to 1956, this fuel index leaped 190 per cent in Dade County, as compared with 160 per cent statewide and only 95 per cent nationally.

Matter-of-factly, the latest report notes that the Dade County Port Authority law authorizes "the construction, acquisition, improvement, maintenance and operation of projects including harbor, port, shipping and airport facilities of all kinds, toll highways, toll causeways and bridges."

The Metro County Commissioners double as the governing board of the Port Authority.

"The county commissioners in this dual capacity," the report continues, "are constantly studying means of relieving traffic congestion throughout the metropolitan area and financing the construction of new highway facilities that will stimulate the continued economic growth of the Greater Miami area."

AMONG the projects which the commissioners "are constantly studying" are a causeway from the South Dade mainland to the Upper Keys, with possible links to Key Biscayne and a tunnel under Government Cut to Miami Beach. The Malecon, or Mid-Bay Causeway, is now added officially to the list.

The day motorists here will get excited about this sort of thing will come when they see cement-mixers pouring foundations. Until then, public reaction is likely to be a small yawn, hidden only partly, if at all.

The Way The Ball Doesn't Bounce

UP in Savannah there is a character named "Sloppy" Joe Bellinger. To the law he's a caution, you bet, and not because he is the alleged kingpin of the bolita racket but because he can't be tried.

You see, Joe falls asleep in the witness chair—he's so fat he can't stay awake under the stress of questioning.

The reason is medical. At 425 pounds, doctors explain, an excessively fat man such as Joe simple "drowns" in his own carbon dioxide when inactive. The malady, a recognized one, is called the "Pickwickian syndrome" after the character (fictional) "Fat Joe" in Charles Dickens' Pickwick Papers.

What surprises us in Mr. Bellinger's unique but apparently valid defense is that bolita requires the operator to stay a jump ahead of the police — not the locals or the sheriff, unhappily, but the federals.

Joe, obviously, doesn't lose any weight. Who should be investigating whom?

Really, You're Not So Broke

THERE'S another great advantage of being a citizen of the United States — you'll never die broke.

No matter how much money you have in your jeans, or how much you owe, as an American citizen you're worth $1,547.

That's your share of $262 billion book value of federal property which you own along with 170 million fellow countrymen. Better not try to spend it, though. As things look now, it will be a long time before Uncle Sam liquidates.

There Is Snow In Jerusalem

Editor The Herald: I was very interested in John Pennekamp's column discussing the "White Christmas" theme. His point is well taken, that Christmas in Bethlehem, climatically speaking, would be very different from that in New England, the Middle West and other places in those latitudes. But when I visited Bethlehem last summer, I had to revise some of my preconceived ideas.

For one thing, I looked hard and could not find a single palm tree. In Jerusalem, too, I looked for palms, for are we not taught that Jesus was welcomed into the city by people waving palm branches?

I actually found one palm in Jerusalem in the patio of the American Colony Hotel. In Bethlehem, I climbed the highest tower of the Church of the Nativity, and took pictures in every direction. I have studied these pictures carefully and cannot find a palm, only olive and scrubby pine trees.

Now, 20 miles east, in Jericho at 3,700 feet lower altitude, there are many palms. Also along the coast at sea level. But Jerusalem and Bethlehem are at altitudes of 2,500-2,800 feet and even summer nights apparently are too chilly for palms to flourish.

We were told that while it does not snow every winter in Jerusalem, it is not unusual to have snow at some time during the winter.

Recognize New Cuban Regime

Editor The Herald: The United States has incurred a great deal of ill-will in the past in Latin America because of its sympathy towards dictators.

The United States gained Latin American good will when it stopped shipping arms to the Batista government. The statement by Batista to the effect that his defeat was caused by this embargo is fortunate for the United States in that it will produce good will towards us in Latin America.

The new Cuban government has the overwhelming support of the Cuban people. Therefore, the United States should recognize the government as soon as possible. This would indicate that we favor popular governments.

Herald Series Aids Planners

Editor The Herald: The thought-provoking material on growth problems of South Brevard County recently provided by your Bill Bunge has been exciting much favorable comment.

In addition to professional and official study that is being made of Brevard County's seam-splitting expansion, other groups of citizens are attempting to understand the kinds of problems and the kinds of solutions to the problems that arise when population outruns public facilities.

Among the citizens' groups here is one composed of nine members of the American Association of University Women who are systematically identifying and examining problems of this growing area, and the techniques used by other communities to treat the swelling.

This group has been particularly concerned with those areas of confusion or strain that can be cured by, or prevented by, legislative action at the local or state level.

Bunge's articles have furnished us reference material and stimulation for further discussion and reading. We believe that his interesting and conscientious treatment of area problems may act as catalyst for a grass-roots participation in planning for our sprawling South Brevard County.

Writer Defends Stand On Gus

Editor The Herald: I do hope that Harry Young, who thinks I'm a poor sport, recalls Durocher's remark, "nice guys finish last."

No one dislikes old Andy Gustafson. He's nice. But there is little comfort in a 60 per cent win and 40 per cent loss record at U.M. I merely pointed out that Terry Brennan, with a better record, got the gate at Notre Dame.

Of course Gus is going to be with us at least another year. From past performances and his inability to change tactics, plus the tough '59 schedule, it's 20 to 1 we'll have another 2-8 season . . . if we're lucky.

How To Tell A New Husband

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

PURELY PERSONAL Prejudices:

There are three delusions that invariably mark the new or inexperienced husband—(a) he thinks he can win an argument by logic, (b) he thinks he can successfully keep a secret from his wife, and (c) he thinks that buying a present makes a woman forget a grievance.

Harris

The more self-consciously a prayer is said, the less meaningful it becomes; as St. Anthony observed, the perfect prayer is made unconsciously.

A "humanitarian" is too often a person who is willing to sacrifice the persons around him in the present for the sake of an abstraction called "mankind" in the future.

Since a man of 60 has spent about 20 years in bed, why doesn't he look more rested?

Game Has Become Bird-Like Dance

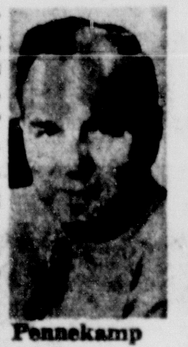
By JOHN PENNEKAMP

I'M AFRAID I must make a protest.

As a long time ago basketball player I just can't bring myself to regard these present day exhibitions as sport.

Oh, yes, I know that they run up statistics to prove that it's America's most popular spectator game.

At the same time they tell about the strenuous training routine through which the players go, their skill as dribblers, ball handlers and shot makers.



Pennekamp

They've developed a lot of announcer's jargon to go with it, but they've ruined the game.

Why, I watched one the other day that wound up with organ music as the background!

What's come over us?

★ ★ ★

WHOEVER TERMS modern basketball "fast" simply has closed his eyes meditatively and is harking back in memory to the days when it was.

Today's game is replete with foul calls, most of them resulting from accidental encounters which in other places would be called mild caresses.

In the old days the players would have scorned a free throw for such sissy stuff. Yet, sometimes in this present day game they get two of them!

I've talked this thing over with some of the men I used to play with as boys, and they all tell me that they, too, look on in wonder at what has happened to this game which is said to be the only truly American one, by invention.

IN OUR DAY the ball always was placed in play at center, to start a half or after a goal.

That gave a chance for some interesting arm and footwork and strategy. If you were a good enough center, you signalled the direction in which you would tip the ball. Your receiver would be there to get it, and it would whiz around the floor, following a practiced design.

If the ball came in your direction when the other team had it, you went for it. If you bumped your opponent, so what? That was part of the game.

If you could take it from him, using only one arm, as I remember, and holding it straight, that was all right too.

If he was dribbling he had to keep moving, and even then if you were dexterous enough you could take it from him, or tip it out of his control. Because of that we used to see some sensational baskets shot the full length of the floor.

None of this present day business of a bounce or two, then stopping to survey the field, sure that no opponent dare, for fear of a foul, get close to you.

THE 10 MEN in the game in those days were all over the field, not congested, dancing birds-in-love style, at one end of the court.

The guards played the forwards, tried to keep them from progressing and looked foolish when they were evaded by some maneuver. Centers were pretty foot-loose after the initial jump.

Scores occassionally got up to 19 to 17 or something like that, none of this 121 to 89 business which is about as good an indication as any of how strength, spirit and vigor have gone from the game.

I wonder whether today's players know what a butter finger is? That's when, fingers extended to receive it, you'd get hit on the tip of one with the ball. The digit would turn black and blue and be sore for months.

Probably the best commentary on today's game is the number of substitutes a team carries along.

In my day the only extra was somebody's little brother, who acted as the team mascot and carried the ball away if his team won.

My recollection is that the ball was the prize, with the players on the "visiting team" getting their carfare paid out of the proceeds, if there was 60 cents in the till.

Nobody will ask me, of course, but if I were delegated to make basketball the game it was I would first get rid of all the officials but one and take the whistle away from him.

Today And Tomorrow

What Does He Mean By Majority Rule?

By WALTER LIPPMANN

WITH ALL due respect to Sen. Paul Douglas, whom I admire very much, the question at issue in the Senate is not whether the majority shall rule. The question is what kind of majority shall rule. For there are many sorts of majorities.

Lippmann

Sen. Douglas wants one more than half of the senators elected to rule, which would be 50. But on most of the business of the Senate one more than half of a quorum, which would be 26 votes, can pass a bill.

The present rules of the Senate require 65 senators to close a debate. The Johnson-Knowland amendment, which probably will be adopted, requires a two-thirds majority of those present and voting, which can theoretically be as many as 66 and as few as 34, to close debate.

SEN. DOUGLAS is begging the question when he talks as if "majority rule" were something simple and obvious to all men. Moreover, he ignores the nature of the Senate, which is the representative in our system of a federation of states. In the Senate, what does it mean to speak of "majority rule?" A majority of what? A majority of the states or a majority of the people of the United States?

In the House the members represent, more or less exactly, the voters themselves. A member from New York and a member from Alaska represent approximately the same number of people. But this is not true of the Senate.

Thus when Sen. Douglas wants 50 senators to be able to close a debate and to pass a bill, he calls it majority rule which is "the basic principle of our government." But suppose the 50 represent the 25 smallest states, do they represent a majority of the people of the United States?

★ ★ ★

THE MORAL of all this is that in the Senate, "majority rule" is not something which all good men must favor and only reactionaries or worse can oppose. The question of what kind of majority shall prevail is not one of simple arithmetic or of absolute principle but of political wisdom.

For those of us who prefer the Johnson to the Douglas amendment of Rule XXII, there are two outstanding considerations.

One, which refers to the civil rights of Negroes, is that we wish the federal government to proceed if not with the consent, then at least with the assent, of a large body of Southern opinion. We think that legislation which does not have at least the assent of the liberal South will prove to be unenforcible.

The other consideration is that we do not wish to entrust the civil liberties of all our people to simple and narrow majorities. We live in a time of danger when panic is always possible and panics can easily produce a stampede away from liberty.

THE JOHNSON amendment to the rules, which requires at the most 66 votes to pass a controversial measure, is a reasonable rule. Legislation could be blocked by an unending filibuster only if all the senators of 17 states participated in it. This would not, as some have suggested who side with Sen. Douglas, give the South an absolute veto on legislation to promote the civil rights of Negroes.

In the deep South there are only seven states in which there has been no desegregation at primary or secondary level and they have 14 senators. In 10 other states of the South and the borderland there is some desegregation. All of these states would have to combine with the deep South to impose a "veto."

Now legislation which is opposed by all the states of a whole section of the country, including the states which are beginning to comply with the new principle of desegregation, is very doubtful legislation indeed. It promises more trouble than anything else.

Presumably the Johnson amendment will be adopted, as Sen. Douglas himself forecast. When it is adopted, it will not stop his long, persistent, and invaluable labors on behalf of civil rights.

Repeal of Travel Tax Would Help Florida

By NED AITCHISON
Herald Travel Writer

AMERICAN TRAVELERS are being defrauded out of millions of dollars annually.

AITCHISON

And this gigantic swindle is being perpetrated by none other than the United States government through bull-headed continuance of the World War II "emergency" 10 per cent tax on domestic travel.

Passed as a means of discouraging unnecessary travel during the critical days of the global conflict when transportation was at a premium and public carriers were struggling with an impossible task, the impost remains today—nearly 14 years after the war ended—as a senseless penalty on United States citizens who wish to travel within their own country.

It may sound harsh to call this a fraud by the government on its own people. But it is nothing less than that, in the light of the manner in which it was presented to the public during the war and the way in which its purposes were then explained.

At that time it was accepted in good faith by Americans as another necessary burden to be assumed under the compulsion of a great emergency.

But today no such possible excuse exists for its continuance.

And responsible government officials have not, and are not, acting in good faith by keeping the domestic travel tax in operation.

* * *

IF YOU IMAGINE this impost is peanuts in a national situation involving a 77 billion-dollar proposed federal budget for the approaching fiscal years, examine the facts.

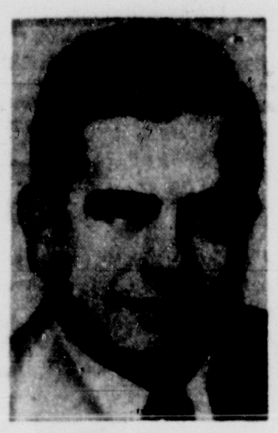
United States Sen. George Smathers and Rep. Dante Fascell, both of Miami, who have worked untiringly to obtain repeal of the obnoxious tax which is affecting so adversely the economy of Florida and all other resort areas of the country, point out that the levy yielded $220,000,000 or more last year.

This gives a solid example of how the tax dips into the pockets of domestic travelers in the United States.

Largely through the persistent efforts of Sen. Smathers and Rep. Fascell, the levy on international travel from this country has largely been eliminated.

But every American who travels at home, who wants to see his own country, still is penalized. Does that make sense?

SMATHERS



FASCELL

HOWEVER, IT IS ENCOURAGING that Sen. Smathers sees in the composition of the new Congress hope that this may be the year in which the travel tax finally is repealed.

As Sen. Smathers explained, "This was not a tax relief measure." But the only excuse offered for not eliminating it now is that it is just that.

Well, again to quote the Florida senator, the effect of the repeal would be to so "stimulate business and remove another artificial obstacle toward economic progress" that the government stands, in the long run, to gain more revenue through its repeal than through its continuance.

He adds that "when the tax is lifted, corporate earnings will rise and there will be bigger income tax payments to the treasury." How true that could be.

* * *

WITH THE NATION'S AIRLINES entering the jet age, involving vast expenditures for fast, new transports, and with railroads purchasing expensive new equipment and seeking other means to bolster their dwindling financial structures; with steamship and bus lines, striving to increase traffic, the government should be concerned with stimulating, rather than discouraging, domestic travel.

One important way would be to kill the 10 per cent domestic travel tax.

One means of helping the Florida congressional spokesmen in achieving this would be for all interested individuals, groups and concerns to send strongly-worded letters to Washington, demanding repeal of the "emergency" tax.

These should be addressed to Sen. Smathers in care of the Senate Office Building and to Congressman Fascell in care of the House Office Building.

And such support should help bolster their case.

But this should be done now, to be most effective.

U.S. Must Take Steps Now To Improve Latin Relations

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — If a real start is to be made in 1959 on improving our relations with our southern neighbors — relations which last year reached their lowest point in a quarter century — here are some resolutions that should be made and kept:

PEARSON

JOHN FOSTER DULLES — To revise the disastrous State Department policy of recognizing any de facto regime which seizes power by force, just so long as that regime gives lip service to anti-Communism and to "fulfillment of international obligations."

More than one of the military coups that have set back democracy in Latin America could have been nipped in the bud if we had withheld diplomatic recognition.

ROY RUBOTTOM JR., assistant secretary of state for American republics affairs — To speak up more forcefully for his own ideas on how to win friends and influence people in the Western Hemisphere.

Rubottom, the first effective and knowledgeable man to hold that post in the Eisenhower administration, can do a lot to firm up our vacillating attitudes in this field.

CONGRESS—To follow up with positive action the reports it will receive from the Senate foreign relations subcommittee, headed by Wayne Morse of Oregon, now making an exhaustive study of our Pan-American relations.

The subcommittee is due to come up with some strong criticism of various current policies, including the furnishing of so-called "military aid" to Latin-American governments where political conditions are notoriously unstable, or where dictators have suppressed the popular will.

If Congress takes the results of these studies seriously, there could be a healthy modification of military spending on this continent.

DR. MILTON EISENHOWER — To take a short course in press relations before making any more Latin-American tours. Reporters who covered the Central American junket by the President's brother found that they were left up in the air most of the time about his schedule and given only sketchy briefings on his private consultations with government officials.

Yet Dr. Eisenhower, on his return to Washington, sharply criticized "inadequate" press coverage of his mission.

VICE PRESIDENT RICHARD M. NIXON —To stay north of the border from now on.

* * *

YOU CAN LOOK for some more spectacular Soviet achievements in outer space this year. The U.S.A. had better face them rather than keep on whistling in the dark.

The most spectacular space event on the Russian calendar will be the launching of a man into orbit and bringing him back alive.

The second spectacular event which the Russians have up their scientific sleeve is to fly an atomic plane around the world several times without refueling.

The United States will send Capt. Robert White on a short 20-minute dash 100 miles into space in the X-15 next fall. But we will not be ready to launch a man into orbit until late 1960 or early 1961.

* * *

CHIEF REASON for the American lag is administration failure to see the importance of the missile-satellite program and then spend money fast enough.

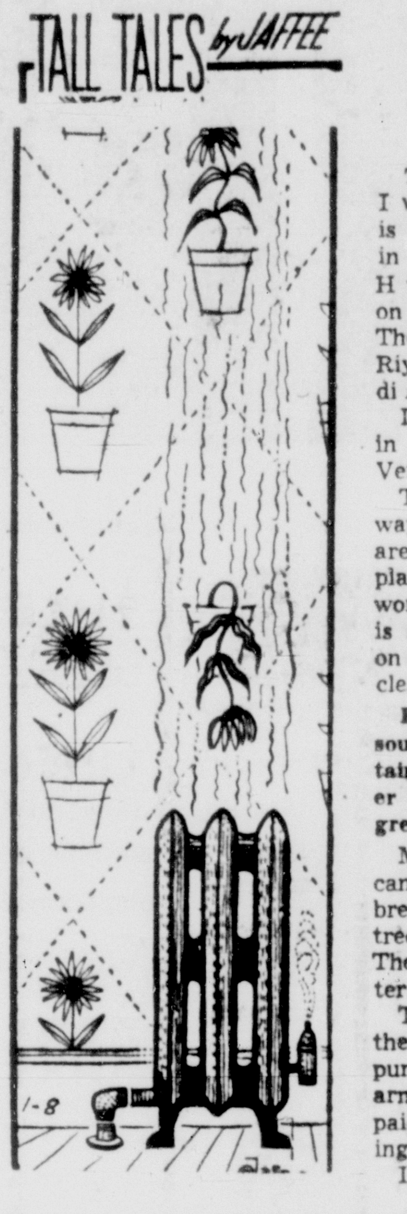
The amazing fact is that, despite repeated Russian space triumphs, President Eisenhower recently cut back the following funds for vital weapons:

$605,000,000 for four more Polaris submarines. This is the sub which fires missiles from under the water. Admiral Rickover conceived the idea of using these subs to lurk under the polar icecaps as a threat to Russia in case of war.

$90,000,000 for the solid-propelled Minute Man intercontinental ballistic missile. This is more efficient than the Atlas because it's solid-propelled and can be fired from below ground.

$48,000,000 for the Hound-Dog missile, to be fired from bombers to the ground. This is planned to give an eventual 1,000 miles additional range to the B-52 by permitting it to fire 1,000 miles instead of merely dropping a bomb.

All these were lopped off the defense budget by Eisenhower after having been appropriated by Congress and after he knew Russia was forging far ahead of us.



Life Still Cheap in Our Civilization

By JIM BISHOP

BISHOP

THERE ARE three places I would not like to visit. One is Salekard on the Ob River in Siberia. The second is Hwaining on the Yangtze. The third is Riyadh in Saudi Arabia.

Life is cheap in these places. Very cheap.

These, to my way of thinking are the mean places of the world. Salekard is a collection of long icicles on the edge of the Arctic Circle.

Here, and a little to the south, the Communists maintain prison camps. The weather ranges from 40 to 60 degrees below zero.

Men march from labor camps every morning in the breath-snapping cold to chop trees in the great forests. Their daytime is dark in winter.

The soldiers who guard them are sent to Salekard as punishment for infractions of army rules. The prisoners are paid in hot soups and clothing.

If they catch cold, or are otherwise ill, the food is stopped.

Some of the prisoners last from three to six months. When they die, the thin clothes are stripped from the bodies by other guests of the Soviet Union.

The dead are stacked stiff against the back of the buildings until the June thaws permit burial. Salekard is not for me.

* * *

HWAINING IS on the big bend of the Yangtze River. As a city, it is so big that suburbs stretch for miles to the east and west. Boatmen on the river steamers normally keep a lookout for logs.

Around Hwaining, they watch for the bodies of infants.

China now has 600,000,000 people. The poor have the most babies. When the mouths become too many, the Chinese fathers take the new ones and walk to the river and drop them. Infants make such a little splash.

No one asks the mother what her wishes are. She isn't permitted to have any.

* * *

IN EGYPT, 3,000 years ago, it was worse. There, they carried unwanted infants to a hill and left them for the animals.

Of course, when the Yangtze reaches the flood stages in Spring, it spills muddily into the city and drowns thousands of the mothers and fathers too. It is not a discerning river.

* * *

I FIRST HEARD details about Riyadh in London 15 months ago. The British theatrical agencies were trying to discourage their chorus girls from accepting offers to go to Saudi Arabia.

This is a kingdom of hot sand almost one-third the size of the United States.

The reason was that most of the girls are not seen again. Once inside Saudi Arabia, they have no rights except such as King Ib'n Saud permits.

They cannot go home; they cannot write letters; often, they are not permitted to contact the British consul.

Many are sold in the slave markets to the Moslem merchants who can afford the price.

Ib'n Saud, a spectacled, unctuous king who taps his finger tips, got rich by granting oil leases to American companies. He averages about $300,000,000 a year in royalties.

The money is used to build air-conditioned palaces.

The king has about 90 women in his harems.

* * *

THE GOVERNMENT spends no money on prisons. If a citizen steals, he is brought to the public square and his right hand is chopped off.

On the second offense, the left hand is severed.

The third one is punishable by having both feet chopped off.

A wife who cheats is dragged nude on ropes through the streets. A hole is dug for her in the main square. Guards stand her in it and cover her until only her head is above ground.

The people are then armed with rocks. They stand around the perimeter of the square waiting for the signal to start target practice.

* * *

IN EGYPT and Jordan I saw children whose parents broke their legs and arms when they were infants so that they could grow up to be beggars and support the family.

The babies get no medical attention, and sometimes they are blinded too, so that they will look more pathetic on street corners.

The next time you want to boast about our progressive civilization, think a moment of Salekard, Hwaining and Riyadh.

These are our neighbors . . .

Get Boss Off Hook

Mikoyan Clearing Khrushchev Path?

By PETER LISAGOR
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

WASHINGTON—The Kremlin's so-called American expert, Anastas I. Mikoyan, has indicated that Moscow would welcome proposals on Berlin that would ease the impending crisis there.

The Soviet deputy premier seemed, in his conversation here with Secretary of State Dulles, to be inviting Washington's aid in getting Nikita S. Khrushchev off the ultimatum hook, according to informed sources.

Khrushchev last month delivered what amounted to a six-month ultimatum to the Western allies to vacate the former Reich capital and make of it a "free city."

The Allies rejected the idea and offered to talk with the Russians about the whole German problem.

This offer is regarded here as the counter-proposal which Mikoyan appears to be soliciting.

* * *

OFFICIALS HERE are convinced that one of Mikoyan's aims is to prepare the way for a possible later visit to this country of Khrushchev himself.

Soviet officials here have used the occasion of Mikoyan's visit, through ill-concealed hints to various groups, reportedly including The National Press Club, to let it be known that Khrushchev would welcome speaking engagements here.

Those who have studied the Dulles-Mikoyan memo of the conversation believe the Russians want to bring the U.S. to a conference table, not only on Berlin and Germany but other cold war issues.

In short, according to some authorities, Mikoyan left doors open on the issues he discussed with Dulles.

* * *

HE DID NOT, contrary to some reports, indicate that Moscow was prepared to yield on anything, including the assurance of free access to Berlin in its present status.

One narrow-eyed observer, who doubts that Mikoyan is authorized to do more than collect impressions while here, says that the visitor is the most flexible Bolshevik alive, adding "and that's why he's alive."

It is expected that when Mikoyan returns to Washington after touring the country, he will be more specific in his talks with President Eisenhower.

He is even expected to broach the idea of a Khrushchev visit in a way that will not permit a direct rebuff from officials who shudder at the security problem such a visit would pose.

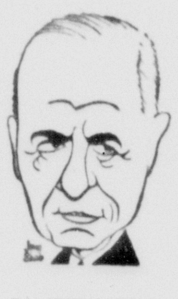
Communists Have Cuban In Through Labor Activities

By DAVID LAWRENCE



LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There is no question about the fact that the Communists have gotten a toe hold in Cuba.

They have a strategic position in the labor movement there and are taking advantage of the disturbed conditions, just as they have in other Latin American countries.

The Communists do not always appear in the open — it is being denied, for instance, that they are in any way responsible for the movement which led to Fidel Castro's triumph.

But they somehow manage to affiliate with the radical side and by infiltration influence the course of events.

Communist activity has lately been noticeable, too, in Venezuela, where American oil companies now are being harrassed as the government there is prodded by the radicals.

* * *

WHAT SHOULD the policy of the United States be toward the Central and South American governments that are responsive to Communist influence? To withhold recognition or to withdraw it when once granted means an intensification of the friction.

No line of policy, however, can be laid out with exactness, as each case has its own special circumstances.

There is particular significance, therefore, in the comprehensive report just filed with President Eisenhower by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University.

In the last few years the President's brother has been giving a lot of time to government missions studying the Latin American problem.

He has made official visits to many countries and has participated in lengthy conferences with government officials here. He says in his report:

"I believe the suggestion of Vice President Nixon is sound and would be applauded by Latin America itself — that we have an 'abrazo' (embrace) for democratic leaders, and a formal handshake for dictators.

"Trivial as this may sound, I recommend that it be our official policy in relations with Latin American leaders and nations.

"We have made some honest mistakes in our dealings with dictators. For example, we decorated several of them.

"Most Latin American nations did the same, and in grander style. Whatever reason impelled them and us to take those actions, I think, in retrospect, we were wrong.

"I recommend that we refrain from granting special recognition to a Latin American dictator, regardless of the temporary advantage that might seem to be promised by such an act.

"I most emphatically do not believe that we should withdraw our programs from Latin American countries which are ruled by dictators. We should not withdraw or diminish our technical assistance programs, diplomatic missions, loans or other activities.

"We must be careful in deciding which leader deserves a mere handshake and which an 'abrazo.' In Latin America one finds widely varying degrees of freedom.

* * *

THE FOREGOING excerpt is an illustration of the complexities encountered in trying to encourage the cause of freedom without antagonizing a dictator.

'Austerity' Plan Riles French

PARIS —(UPI)— Unionists, farmers and war veterans lined up in opposition to Premier Charles de Gaulle's "truth and severity" economic program Wednesday, marring the eve of his inauguration as president.

The opposition so far had been no more than sporadic, but some observers regarded it as a token of serious trouble ahead for De Gaulle's efforts to stabilize the French economy.

Police had to be called out to disperse 1,000-odd employes of the nationalized gas and electricity industry who massed to demand more than the four per cent wage increase they will get under the "austerity" program.

At the same time, unionists who work on the nationalized railroads decided to demand an 11 per cent raise when they meet management negotiators today. Communists among the railway men urged a "warning" strike to enforce their demands.

The powerful National Federation of Farmers threatened to halt deliveries of meat, milk and other foodstuffs unless the government restores the food subsidies eliminated by the De Gaulle program.

War veterans' groups protested the abolition of the pensions paid to able-bodied veterans—usually only a token $1.20 a year—saying that it amounted to a challenge to their war records.

Two of the three Socialist members of De Gaulle's cabinet, including ex-Premier Guy Mollet, have resigned over the austerity issue, and their party is expected to proclaim its opposition to the program formally at a convention that opens here Friday.

De Gaulle Weakens Unions

By PAUL GHALI
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

PARIS — On the eve of stepping into the French presidency Charles de Gaulle has planted a time bomb under the mighty construction of France's labor unions.

A decree just passed permits workers in all French factories to sign profit-sharing contracts with their employers.

The tricky side of the decree, from the union viewpoint, is that if a union's intervention is not formally rejected its members are authorized to negotiate profit-sharing advantages directly with their employers.

The law says that if a two-thirds majority of factory employes has agreed a contract will become valid without their union's consent.

The far-reaching aim of the new law is to undermine the influence of labor unions which as in the U. S. have a tendency to put their noses into the activities of all professional as well as unprofessional workers.

'Discoverer' Satellite Is Near Takeoff

LOS ANGELES — (UPI)— The Air Force Wednesday readied the first launching in the "Project Discoverer" space exploration series with a tentative schedule for late this week at Vanderberg Air Force Base north of here.

The first shot will put the second stage of a research vehicle, already on the launching pad at the new base, into a low "polar" orbit, as announced earlier by Roy Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Project Agency.

If successful, it will be the world's first satellite to achieve a polar orbit — one which passes over the poles of the earth.

The "Discoverer" series is aimed at eventually putting a man into orbit. With launchings scheduled once a month at Vandenberg, the series will see mice and monkeys carried into space and brought back to blaze the trail for man.

Announcements have stressed, however, that the program will not see a man flung into space this year.

Court Gives Children Break

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — California divorce court proceedings involving children can be secret.

That is the opinion of the State Supreme Court. It upheld a decision of the District Court of Appeal that the public can be barred from the courtroom "for the good of the child."

INSTEAD of pouring oil on troubled waters, Brazilian Millionaire Playboy Francisco (Baby) Pignatari poured whisky — but the treatment worked and stopped a street brawl.

It all started with a party at the Rio de Janeiro apartment of Paulo De Andrade Lira, which Pignatari attended. A neighbor, Mrs. Altair Gomes Reis, complained loudly about the noise. Someone insulted her.

Her husband rushed into the street with a pistol and started firing away. Members of the party ran out and jumped on him. A fight started, but Pignatari ran to a nearby bar.

There, he armed waiters with whisky bottles, ice and glasses and raced back with them to the fight. Gomes, the irate husband, was flat on his back, struggling against the restraining arms of the other partygoers.

Pignatari ordered the waiters to start pouring. Drinks were passed all around. Everyone cooled off and shook hands.

'Housewife' Role Isn't for Her

THE HONEYMOON really ended in a hurry for Michiko Furukawa of Fukuoka, Japan, who married an Argentine millionaire more than twice her age.

The bride's mother said the marriage to Jose Galicchio, 76, has failed because the bride found life "quite different from that promised her." It appears that the new wife expected to be something more than a "housewife."

Reports said that the bride was seeking a divorce after only two months of marriage.

Mrs. Tomoko Furukawa said her daughter wrote that Galicchio had wanted a "housewife" and that she was not of that type.

Galicchio had picked the former Miss Furukawa as his bride after he had advertised in Japanese newspapers for a wife.

Long Terms in Jail Asked For Deadly Auto Drivers

WASHINGTON —(AP)— FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover called Wednesday for sterner treatment of chronic traffic offenders to save America from the threat of national suicide.

HOOVER

In a signed editorial in the January issue of the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin, Hoover said:

"In the battle of life and death on the highway, the public interest demands that flagrant and repeating offenders be punished by denial of driver's licenses, maximum fines and long jail terms.

"The automobile assassin is a vicious criminal—and he must be treated as the major menace to society that he is. As a fundamental defense against this threat to public welfare, it is essential that in every community traffic codes be strong, enforcement be rigid and impartial, penalties for serious violation be sure and severe."

The FBI director reported that crackdown policies in Connecticut and North Carolina have brought results and public acclaim.

"The annual death toll of more than 100 lives a day snuffed out in auto accidents is assuredly an indictment of our national mentality and regard for life," Hoover wrote.

"The absurd theory of countless so-called reputable citizens that they are immune from observance of speed limits, stop signs, and traffic lights must be completely abolished.

"When an unthinking driver recklessly careens down a highway at the wheel of a speeding car, disregarding entirely the rights as well as the property and lives of his fellow men, he is no longer by any stretch of the imagination a reputable citizen."

Four Truck Drivers Indicted for Union Organizer's Slaying

BUNNELL —(UPI)— Four truck drivers were charged Wednesday with second degree murder in the Dec. 5 slaying of Union Organizer George K. Jones. The shooting was an outgrowth of a dispute between the Teamsters Union and a trucking concern.

Charged in the shooting in which another man also was killed were Sidney McCraney, 31, Jack Johnson, 33, and Robert Drake, 28, all of Bunnell; and Alexander Faircloth Jr., 24, of Ormond Beach.

It was reported by an investigator that the shooting stemmed from a labor dispute between the Teamsters Union and Tropical Transport Co.

Faircloth and Drake were wounded in the shooting and McCraney and Johnson were arrested and held on open charges soon after the incident at Jones' trailer home at the Bunnell Airport.

The indictments, a result of a grand jury investigation completed Dec. 29, were returned to Circuit Judge George W. Jackson of St. Augustine.

However, the case was still a mystery since no details of the jury's findings were released to reporters. And since no one was charged in the fatal shooting of Howard Glisson, 27-year-old Bunnell truck driver, the theory was that the 31-year-old Jones may have shot him during the hassle.

State Attorney W. W. Judge, who conducted the grand jury probe which took testimony of nine persons, declined to say on what grounds the indictments were made.

The entire case has been surrounded by a cloud of mystery because no official statement was ever released. It is expected to remain a mystery until a trial which is expected to be set at a Jan. 14 arraignment.

Union truck drivers set up pickets in front of the trucking company's offices at Lehigh Portland Cement Co. property Nov. 17. But the differences were settled Dec. 19 when the company agreed to recognize Teamsters Local 512 of Jacksonville as bargaining agent.

Carrier Provides for the Ladies

—Associated Press Wirephoto

Cold Tar Looks Over Navy's Newest and Biggest Carrier
. . . Independence cost $190,000,000, has deck 1,046 feet long

NEW YORK — (AP) — The big new aircraft carrier Independence has everything—including ladies' powder rooms.

Several of these have been installed in strategic locations about the giant and powerful vessel, to be commissioned Saturday at the Brooklyn Naval Shipyard.

This doesn't mean that there are going to be any women manning the big I, but just that the Navy tries to think of everything. The powder rooms are for the comfort of the ladies who visit the ship whenever it is in port.

The lads who'll serve aboard the world's biggest and most powerful aircraft carrier are going to have it pretty nice, too. Practically all the comforts of home.

There are walls of pastel green and pleasing hues of floor coloring in the sleeping quarters, Pullman-type bunks and individual fluorescent lamps for each crew member, air conditioning, television, porcelain washstands instead of the standard stainless steel, and foam rubber mattresses.

The porcelain bathroom equipment was chosen on the ground that it is easier to clean, and also is thought to be more pleasing to users.

In some of the lavatories hot air blowers will be used for drying hands. This will save a lot of laundry labor.

There will be all kinds of sports facilities for the crew also.

The 60,000 ton warship, costing 190 million dollars, has been under construction three and a half years. Her four-acre flight deck is big enough to hold the luxury liners America and United States with room to spare.

From top to bottom she is as tall as a 25-story building and it'll take a crew of 3,500 to operate her.

The big I will carry 100 supersonic aircraft capable of delivering atomic bombs.

She is the fourth of the Forrestal-class carriers to be built and the fifth U.S. ship to bear the name Independence.

By coincidence her two top officers are Kentuckians—Capt. Rhodam Y. McElroy Jr., and his executive officer, Cmdr. Damon W. Cooper.

Beach Unit's Fete Tonight

Outstanding citizen of the Miami Beach Taxpayers Association will be announced when that group has its annual award banquet at 7 tonight at the Saxony Hotel.

Jack Abbott, outgoing president, will receive a plaque.

Frank Smathers Jr., 1959 president, will be installed with other new officers. They are Mrs. Howard P. Cummings, Jerome Greene, William T. Kruglak II, Seymour B. Liebman and Simon E. Rubin, vice presidents; Miss Sara D. Berkowitz, secretary, and Henry E. Wolff, treasurer.

Jets Streak To Air Fete

Six F86F Jet fighters took off from Miami Wednesday morning to take part in an early celebration by the U.S. Air Force Caribbean Defense Command of Armed Forces Day.

Armed Forces Day, celebrated in the U.S. May 18, is observed early in the tropics because heavy spring rains hamper flying.

The six aircraft, members of the Air National Guard precision flying team, arrived in Miami Tuesday from their headquarters in Denver.

They will perform during the week at the Caribbean Defense installations in Panama and Nicaragua.

Fast-Draw Killer Has New Story

DAYTON, Ohio —(UPI)— Police said a teenage husband broke down after undergoing a lie detector test and admitted the "quick draw" shooting of his wife Sunday was not an accident.

James Rose, 19, told police Sunday he fatally shot his wife while practicing his fast draw with a Christmas present pistol he thought was empty.

But after the lie detector registered deceptions as police questioned him, Rose said:

"I didn't know for sure it wasn't loaded, but I didn't give a damn."

He said he and his wife, Linda, 18, argued over his wife's reluctance to have any more children. Their three-month-old son Jimmy slept in an adjoining bedroom.

Rose said he went after a gun, came back to the house, calmly cocked it and shot his wife as she walked through the bedroom doorway. She had given him the gun for Christmas.

"I committed a crime," Rose told police. "I guess I'll have to pay for it."

The shooting occurred at the home of Rose's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rose, just south of here.

Redhead Cleared In Slaying

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Mary Welborn was found not guilty Wednesday of second degree murder in the slaying of Robert Lee, 24, a Miami engineer.

She walked out of Criminal court a free woman after Judge Louis Weissing directed the jury to acquit her. Lee was killed by a hitchhiker he picked up on Christmas Day, 1957, on U.S. 27.

More than a year of ordeal for the 23-year-old red haired woman with a tragic history ended at 4:40 p.m. on the trial's third day.

It ended when her attorney, Ellis Rubin, blocked the admission of a second alleged confession as evidence.

State Rep. Emerson Allsworth, the prosecuting attorney, was visibly dejected as he rested his case.

Rubin promptly asked the court for a directed acquittal. Weissing granted the request, and called in the jury to release the defendant formally.

There was an emotional scene as well-wishers congratulated the woman whose sanity was disputed by psychiatrists.

Matrons who have looked after her in jail begged her to stay out of trouble.

Mary, said to have the mind of a 12-year-old, showed mixed delight and confusion at the verdict.

Asked if she was happy, she bubbled: "Wouldn't you be?"

Prompted by a matron, she added seriously: "Yes, I'm very happy."

"First I'm going to get situated," she said. "Then I want to go home to New Mexico.

"It'll take my Mom and Dad a long time to get money for the fare," she added thoughfully. "I want to go and call them."

A psychiatrist said earlier that five years of intensive treatment would aid her personality disorder.

"Mom wants me to go to a hospital voluntarily," she said.

Arrangements are being made for Miss Welborn to stay at the Ministering Friends Inc. Home in Miami. Mrs. Pearl Bourn, Broward representative of the society, hugged Mary as she was freed.

Medics See Three-Hour TV Surgery

Richard Mountain, 18-year-old paralysis victim, was in satsfactory condition at St. Francis Hospital Wednesday night ollowing a three-hour operaion watched by the International College of Surgeons on olor television.

Richard, son of Chester Mountain of 6307 NE Second ve., has been paralyzed from he waist down because of a pinal injury at birth.

Wednesday's operation, owever, was not to give him ack the use of his legs — lthough there is a slight posibility of that sometime in he future — but to correct omplications in the urinary ract resulting from his paralsis.

It was Richard's 18th operaon.

Physicians who conducted the eration said it would be a few ys before it is known how ccessful the operation was.

The operation was televised r the benefit of delegates atnding the surgeons' conven-n, holding sessions at the nericana Hotel.

They were able to question ctors in the operating room r a monitoring system and ard a recital of the patient's e history as the operation gan.

Titan Engine Is Tested; First Firing in Offing?

By Herald Services

CAPE CANAVERAL — The Air Force ground-tested the engine of an intercontinental Titan Wednesday night. It appeared the second try at getting the missile off the ground for the first time would be made soon.

But the test did not appear entirely successful as compared to other static, or "hold-down" tests held on the Cape. Flames lit the northwest corner of the Cape for a few seconds but it seemed as though the engines never reached full thrust.

The Titan, billed as America's most advanced intercontinental ballistic missile, has never been fired.

Metro to Set Up Code of Ethics For Employes

Financial deals by county employes with persons who may be affected by the employes' official duties will be stopped, County Manager O. W. Campbell promised Wednesday.

He termed the practice "immoral" and said he will lay down a Metro code of ethics and take other steps necessary to abolish it.

CAMPBELL

County commissioners, also frowning on the practice, said its correction should be an administrative matter by the county manager.

Their comments followed a recommendation from State Attorney Richard E. Gerstein that:

"If present county administrative regulations do not prevent employes from participating in financial transactions with persons over whom they exercise jurisdiction, then such a regulation and code of ethics should be adopted."

Gerstein made his recommendation in a report of an investigation clearing Harry Nolan, a county electrical inspector, of any law violations in connection with loans he accepted from electrical contractors more than two years ago.

Nolan, waiving immunity and testifying before Assistant State Attorney Angus Stephens, said he expects to repay the loans which were made on a personal basis.

The contractors said their jobs were not inspected by Nolan exclusively.

Opening lead: Ace of hearts.

North and South reached slam on an involved tho logical sequence of bids today. After North's opening club bid South recognized slam possibilities and started his investigation in a mild manner with a call of one spade.

West entered the proceedings with a bid of two hearts which was passed around to South. He now came out in his true colors by jumping to four clubs and after West showed his second suit, North competed freely with a raise to four spades.

South properly showed his diamond void and North having second round control of hearts decided to accept South's slam invitation by bidding five no trump. This was a request for partner to pick the suit and South obliged by bidding six spades.

The ace of hearts was opened and West promptly switched to the ace of diamonds which was ruffed. The hand appeared to be a virtual laydown unless trumps break very badly. With this combination of cards the normal play is to lay down the ace first, in order to guard against four spades to the jack in the West hand. When declarer made this play, West showed out and the contract went up in smoke.

True enough, declarer was concerned with guarding against four trumps in one hand and if there was the least danger that West had four spades his play would have been sound. But resort to the bidding will make it clear that possession of four spades by East is a practical impossibility. He has competed in hearts and diamonds all the way to the four level, marking him with at least 10 cards in those suits. There was, however, a real danger that East held four spades and precautionary measures should be taken against such holding.

Proper play was a low spade to the king. When West shows out the ten is led and East is forced to cover. Dummy is reentered and now the finesse against East's nine picks up the entire suit.

Club to Build Youth Center

The first project of the new Ives Estates Optimist Club of North Miami Beach will be a youth center for some 1,200 families in the area.

The club will receive its charter and install officers at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the Carillon Hotel. Officers are Mark Shepard, president; Leon Garland and Gerald Franklin, vice presidents, and Gershon Beiderman, secretary and treasurer.

'Venus' Statue Display Due

FLORENCE, Italy — (UPI) — The recently discovered statue of a "Venus" some experts attribute to Michelangelo will go on exhibition at the Palazzo Pitti Gallery this month, it was announced.

The statue was found in an unused hall in the Palazzo Pitti several months ago. Some experts said it might have been started by Michelangelo as a young man and later completed by one of his pupils. Others believed it was the work of a 16th century sculptor strongly influenced by Michelangelo.

Body in Freezer

ROME —(UPI)— Fellow workers found the frozen body of Romolo Giop in one of the deep freeze rooms of a local brewery. Medical authorities said Giop died of a heart attack about 20 hours previously, apparently while inspecting the refrigeration system.

Eisenhower Disturbed

Foreign Nations Question Future Of U.S. Dollar

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyist

Friday, in his annual State of the Union message, President Eisenhower will officially open the battle for a balanced budget in 1959-60 — but he will not be acting in response to a clear demand on your part for a ceiling on federal spending.

You, the majority of America's voters, simple have not made this demand.

Instead, the President will be reacting to some news which has appalled him — word from men he trusts in Washington that in high financial circles abroad there is mounting criticism of our budget deficits.

For the first time in memory financial leaders of other nations are openly questioning our ability and willingness to maintain our dollar's stability.

SYLVIA

For the first time they are telling officials of our government that they doubt our capacity to take the financial medicine we repeatedly prescribe for them—in short, our capacity to keep our spending in line with our income so we don't have to issue I.O.U.'s or print more paper money to cover the deficits.

There is more debate about the dollar's future in Hong Kong than in Harrisburg. There is more interest in the exact budget statistics of the U.S. Government in Thailand than in Toledo.

This report of growing distrust of the dollar is what Secretary of the Treasury Anderson brought home form his recent trip abroad. This same story Federal Reserve Board chairman Martin also brought back from his tour of countries in the Far East.

To President Eisenhower, news from the chief of the U.S. Treasury and the head of our Central bank that other nations actually are starting to doubt our dollar was a major blow.

His reaction helps explain his decision to repeat the economy drive of his first term and order spending slashes up and down the line.

It also helps explain why he broke tradition and, weeks before his budget message, announced to the world that he will propose a budget balanced on paper with about 77 billion dollars of spending, 77 billion dollars of receipts.

It's hardly a secret that few informed sources think the spending estimate will stick. Let's accept the assumption that 1959 will be a year of excellent business and billions in additional taxes will pour in from corporations and individuals earning more money than in 1958.

It could be that the economic recovery will be powerful enough to send receipts to the 77 billion dollars range.

But a balance at this level assumes that Congress not only will go along with Eisenhower's budget cuts, but also will vote no extra money for relief to depressed areas, urban renewal, slum clearance, aid to housing, aid to education, assistance to farmers, etc., etc.

This is a giant assumption—considering the way the November elections went, the overwhelming Democratic majorities in both houses, the fact that Democratic policy-makers are on record as favoring these programs and many more.

And a balance at this level assumes that Congress will vote increases in postal rates again and higher gas taxes.

This too is questionable—for there is particularly heavy opposition in Congress to boosting postal rates now.

If concern about a budget deficit and its effect on the dollar's future value were as active in Toledo and Harrisburg as in Thailand and Hong Kong, of course Congress would respond. But is it?

Does the average American really care what the finance minister of another country says to our Treasury Secretary at a money conference? Does he follow closely the movements of gold in and out of our country and the reasons behind those movements?

Is this country's mood now in favor of postponing all new social and welfare programs or raising the taxes to cover the programs' costs?

Is there even general agreement on how big a threat a few more billions of red ink would be to our dollar?

Answer those questions yourself—and you'll be able to predict as accurately as anyone whether the budget balanced on paper in January will be balanced in fact in June.

Nasser Rounds Up 300 Reds But the Big Shot Escapes

BEIRUT, Lebanon — (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser has carried out in Syria one of the biggest purges of Communists in the Middle East, arresting more than 300 persons.

The arrests beginning last Thursday virtually wiped out the Communist organization in the Syrian region of Nasser's United Arab Republic. But the man often regarded as the top Communist in the Middle East reportedly got away.

He is Khaled Bagdash, a veteran Red who went behind the Iron Curtain when Syria joined Egypt in the U.A.R. Feb. 1 but returned last autumn.

The pro-Nasser Beirut newspaper As Sahafa said Bagdash has gone to Baghdad and other Arab Communist leaders are gathering in the Iraqi capital for an important conference. The report could not be verified.

The arrests in Syria coincided with jailing of Communists in Egypt. Reliable sources said at least 180 were picked up. Nasser also closed three publishing houses which put out Communist-line books in Arabic.

Rocket Training For Bonn Troops

BONN, Germany—(AP)—Training of West German rocket troops will begin this month, the defense ministry announced.

Two launching ramps for the Honest John short-range ground-to-ground rocket have been set up in the Eifel Mountains. The government has brought 24 Honest Johns from the U. S. for training.

About 200 men will receive nine months of training.

The rockets are equipped with dummy cement warheads. Atomic warheads for the rockets are controlled by the U. S.

Leopoldville Calm; Europeans Jittery

BRUSSELS—(AP)—Order has been restored in most of Leopoldville after riots that killed at least 35 Africans and severely injured 100, reports from the capital of the Belgian Congo said.

Police and troops remained on the alert with the African section of the city cordoned off. A Leopoldville woman who flew here said Europeans still are panicky.

"Many Europeans would like to leave Leopoldville," she said. "They are scared there will be more trouble."

E. Germany to Put Consul in U. A. R.

CAIRO —(AP)— East German Premier Otto Grotewohl announced that his government and the United Arab Republic have agreed to establish consular relations.

The agreement was only a partial victory for the Communist premier, who had come to Cairo to seek full diplomatic relations between his regime and President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government.

Nasser obviously held back because of the good relations already existing between the U.A.R. and West Germany. West Germany has announced it will break relations with any government that recognizes the East German Communists.

So far East Germany has had only a trade mission in Cairo.

Grotewohl made his announcement just before leaving for Damascus, capital of the Syrian province of the U.A.R.

The Zulus Have A Name for It

JOHANNESBURG — (AP) — South African Zulus came up with their own name for Russia's cosmic rocket when told it would go into orbit around the sun.

They call it Isiphuphuteki, which means "the thing that goes round and round and never gets anywhere."

Allegiance Oath Better

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. —(AP)— University of North Carolina officials consider an oath of allegiance to the U. S. Constitution more effective than questions on Communist connections in screening applicants, President William C. Friday says.

He announced approval of a recommendation to drop from job application forms a question relating to Communist Party membership.

"Actual experience has shown over the last 10 years that there has not been a single instance where the question revealed any tangible evidence," Friday said.

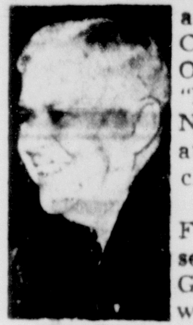
FIGHTING DEATH is the volunteer duty of Bruce W. Hodges. He is the new commanding officer of Dade County's 88-man Florida Highway Patrol Auxiliary. Members of the three-year-old volunteer group ride with regular FHP cars every weekend, offering assistance in first aid and traffic control. Municipal Judge Fred Davant, the auxiliary's state major, has installed Hodges as captain.

Charles E. Wilson

Kettering Colleague Will Speak

Charles E. Wilson, former Secretary of Defense and president of General Motors, will address the Committee of One Hundred on "Kettering Night," Feb. 10, at the Belle Isle club.



WILSON

Charles F. Kettering, research chief for General Motors, was to have given his 27th annual speech as president of the club. He died Nov. 25.

In tribute, Wilson has chosen as his topic, "Ket Kettering as I Knew Him." Wilson, who became a member of the committee two years ago, was long associated with Kettering in General Motors.

Customs Promotes Fortier

Secret Dope Agent Rewarded

Joseph A. Fortier, once cited for "superbly conducted" undercover work in narcotics investigations, has succeeded Charles E. Wyatt as supervising customs agent for the southeastern United States.

Wyatt has retired.

In 1957 Fortier handled seizure of nine pounds of heroin being smuggled from a French vessel, the Marseilles, at Port Everglades. It was the largest amount ever seized in the district.

A commendation for his work noted personal risks incurred by Fortier, who used $16,000 cash to make a "deal" with two crewmen.

Service in Paris as assistant Treasury attache preceded Fortier's move to a customs post in this country. He came into the district in 1944 as an agent at Savannah, Ga., then moved to Havana in 1945.

For 10 years after 1947 he was supervising customs agent in New Orleans.

He came here as assistant supervising agent under Wyatt. He now supervises customs activity in the area composed of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Cuba, Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic and the Virgin Islands.

Secret's Out: Warmth's In

BALTIMORE — (AP) — While directing traffic in bitter cold weather, how do the men in blue keep from turning same?

Their secret leaked out:

They wear glass-lined undies.

At least 60 traffic cops in Baltimore do. When the temperatures slide, the cops slide into fiberglass longies. They say they're warmer than wool.

Higher Postage Boosts Revenue

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Post Office Department estimated postal revenues have increased slightly more than 18 per cent since the postage advances of Aug. 1.

The estimate was based on data from the country as a whole covering the period Aug. 1 to Dec. 12, when the last full accounting period ended. Actual figures on dollar volume have not been completed.

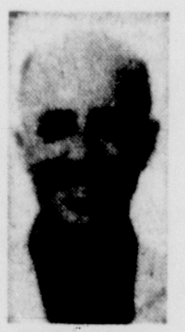
Local Firm Cuts Prices To 1940 Level

A drastic reduction in rattan furniture prices was announced Wednesday by Sam Lubin, president of Far East Rattan Company. Lubin, a pioneer importer of rattan in this area, reported that "prices have never been so low as they will be in the next few days!"

"The critical condition in the Far East," he said, "has forced shipments of merchandise to be sent months early in order to guarantee delivery.

"This causes an immediate emergency since our warehouses are already stocked to capacity.



SAM LUBIN

"Either we have to rent additional warehouse space, which would be expensive, or clear out our present stock to make room for the new!

"The choice is simple," concluded Lubin, "since we would far rather pass the savings on to the people of South Florida who made us the largest rattan dealer in the world."

The fantastic growth of Far East Rattan is proof of the keen business mind and industrious spirit of Lubin.

The hundreds of thousands of tons of rattan furnishings and Oriental accessories that have reached South Florida is a tribute to the adventurous Lubin.

His faith in South Florida was the only stimulant that sent him to the mysterious Orient years ago, a land he knew nothing about.

Today, two beautiful air-conditioned showrooms display this unmatched merchandise. One is located at 3640 Coral Way and one at 3425 South Federal Highway in Miami. —Adv.

Buried in Sand Tomb, He Prayed -- and Won

—Associated Press Wirephoto

An Unbelieving Smile Lights Face

. . . of Leslie Stafford as he is freed

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — (UPI)— "I prayed."

That was the simple, heartfelt explanation of a 45-year old well-digger who fought free of a tomb of tons of sand and gravel early Wednesday after he was once given up for dead in a cave-in.

"I prayed," said Leslie Stafford Jr. from a hospital bed. "I did everything I could think of down there. I even ate sand that was around my mouth and nose."

Stafford, in satisfactory condition although suffering a crushed foot, bruises and other injuries, was trapped for almost 13 hours in the cave-in of a 30 foot deep sump hole he was digging.

"I didn't know exactly what I was thinking all the time," he said. "You've gotta stay just as still as you can. That sand was pouring down around me like sugar. I only moved enough to keep the sand away from my face. That's important — you don't dare move too much."

The courageous little workman said the accident would not cause him to seek another type of work. "Sure, I'm going back to the same job when I get out of here."

Despite his ordeal Stafford managed to smile at his wife and say, "I feel great, Honey. It was rough but I thought I would make it."

Stafford, 124 pounds and 5-feet 4-inches in height, was rushed to Memorial Hospital where X-rays showed he had a compound fracture of the second toe on the right foot, crushed under a piece of sheet metal. He also had a laceration on the foot which required four stitches.

Physicians who praised the courage and stamina of the digger, said his back was bruised by gravel and he had swallowed a quantity of sand. They examined him for internal injuries but said none was apparent.

At the hospital, Stafford told his wife, Lydia, 54, "I really prayed and I was lucky to get out."

Mrs. Stafford was told shortly after the cave-in that her husband had no chance to survive.

"I just knew he would get out," she said, "even when they told me they thought he was gone. I tell you I prayed so hard myself. I'm just so happy, I don't know what to do."

Rescuer Works in Well

Car Wrecked

Confused, Bride Says

MENLO PARK, Calif. —(AP)— A bride of two weeks has an explanation for abandoning a station wagon on railroad tracks where it was struck by a freight, causing more than a dozen commuter trains to be delayed up to 30 minutes. She said she was confused.

Mrs. Edward R. Seymour, 21, told Police Chief George Potter that when she drove her husband to catch the 6:15 a.m. train to San Francisco before dawn Tuesday, it was the first time she had driven into downtown Menlo Park.

She said she became confused in rain and darkness, got out of the auto and walked 12 blocks home.

When she went back in daylight the wreckage had been hauled away.

Panties Preferred

ATLANTA — (UPI) — A woman reported to police that 23 pairs of panties have been stolen from her clothesline in the last five weeks. Other clothes have been left untouched, she said.

If You Won't Buy Autos, We'll Shun Films, Los Angeles Told

PONTIAC, Mich.—(AP)—Pontiac Mayor Philip E. Rowston, whose city has three major auto plants, Wednesday jumped into the controversy over Los Angeles smog with a threat of promoting a boycott of Hollywood movies and vacation travel in California.

In a statement, Rowston said he advocated the boycott on the part of Michiganders "if the Los Angeles mayor seriously advocates boycotting all new automobiles."

Rowston said he believes Ohio and Indiana, which also have auto plants, "would be happy to join us in a common cause."

Pending in the Los Angeles City Council is a resolution asking the legislature to prohibit the sale of automobiles in California after Jan. 1, 1961, unless they have smog prevention equipment on them.

Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson has proposed vigilante committees to pressure auto manufacturers and public officials to take steps against the smog menace.

Ice Cuts Off Supply Of Water to City

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y. — (UPI) — A state of emergency was declared in this Buffalo, N.Y., suburb of 30,000 population Wednesday when an intake pipe jutting into the Niagara River became clogged by ice and cut off the flow of water into the city's filtration plant.

Five officials ordered all industrial plants and schools closed because of the resulting severe water shortage.

An emergency supply of water was hauled to the De Graaf Memorial by tankers from other communities.

14 Buses Break Picket Barrier

BOSTON — (AP) — Fourteen buses of the strike-bound Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. broke through a barrier of pickets in Lowell Wednesday to pick up children for school.

Thirteen buses tried to make similar runs in Brockton, but only one got beyond the gates of the garage.

Elsewhere in the 80 communities along eastern Massachusetts which the company serves, buses remained idle as they have been since the strike began Nov. 17.

Drivers and mechanics, receiving $2 and $2.16 an hour, respectively, under the old contract, struck for a 25 cents an hour pay increase.

The company, which served 300,000 commuters daily, wants to continue the old pay scales and has refused bids to submit the matter to arbitration.

Billy Chides N. Y. On Racial Tensions

NEW YORK —(AP)— Evangelist Billy Graham offered New Yorkers a lecture Wednesday on racial tensions. He said they're as bad here as in the South.

Graham told newsmen:

"No one should point forth-righteous fingers at anyone else. During our crusade here we learned that there are racial tensions equal to anything we found in the South. No one in Chicago or New York should point a forth-righteous finger at anyone in the South.

"The racial problem in New York is tied in with economics and teenage gangsterism. The social problems of New York are equal to those of the South. Sections of this city after dark are very dangerous and you know that very well."

6 Tennessee Men Die in Truck Crash

KENTON, Ohio —(AP)— Six Tennessee men were killed early Wednesday when their automobile collided headon with a tanker truck on U.S. 68 about two miles north of here.

The truck's driver said it was carrying a load of highly explosive liquid chemical, which he did not identify. There was no explosion or fire, however.

Sheriff's deputies said all six victims were from Cleveland, Tenn., and vicinity. They were identified as:

John Lee Gibson, 32, believed to have been the driver; Floyd Edward Clark, 22; Herbert Thomas Goins 41; Robert David Lee, 31; Richard Eugene Kelly, 28; and Horace Buchfield, 24.

The driver of the tanker was identified as Albert F. Ohl, 24, of Tiffin, Ohio. He was taken to a hospital here

Improve Your Appearance, Meet Fascinating People

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Thursday, January 8, 1959

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You now have time to devote to own personal appearance, clothing, treatments for better health and greater charm, etc. P.M. go out socially and meet truly fascinating people. This will open many new doors for you in your career.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Although you are happiest when doing works of a philanthropic, artistic or idealistic nature, this is a day for thinking in terms of dollars and cents.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Seek out the most famous advisor you know and review your problems with him or her. Be sure to follow valuable advice given to the minutest detail.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Important you look into civic or credit matters and impress everyone with your earnestness and honesty. A strict adherence to principle and sincerity in all that you do should bring some wonderful results.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) See that you are on your toes now to understand what partners and higher ups expect of you. They may be entirely different types of people than you are, but it is imperative you keep promises.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Fine day for carrying through with business or home operations in such a way that you get the approval of loved ones or those directly in authority over you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Remember those obligations you have made and live up to them, though there may be some current misunderstanding or you feel a bit tired. You will regret it later if you don't.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Excellent time for completing any chores that have been put aside lately. Important you forego those rosy dreams and plans right now and get these troublesome tasks out of the way.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't hesitate to take those health or beauty treatments that you intuitively feel will make you a more charming and dynamic person. P.M. is then ideal for social pleasures.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) While they may not bring you much pleasure in the doing, there are several very important practical matters that must be attended to immediately.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you have not conferred of late with that dear relation or friend who proffers such valuable advice in times of worry, do it now. Reach complete understanding.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You must concentrate on practical affairs today. Credit must be in order, especially the payment of taxes, statements that have piled up.

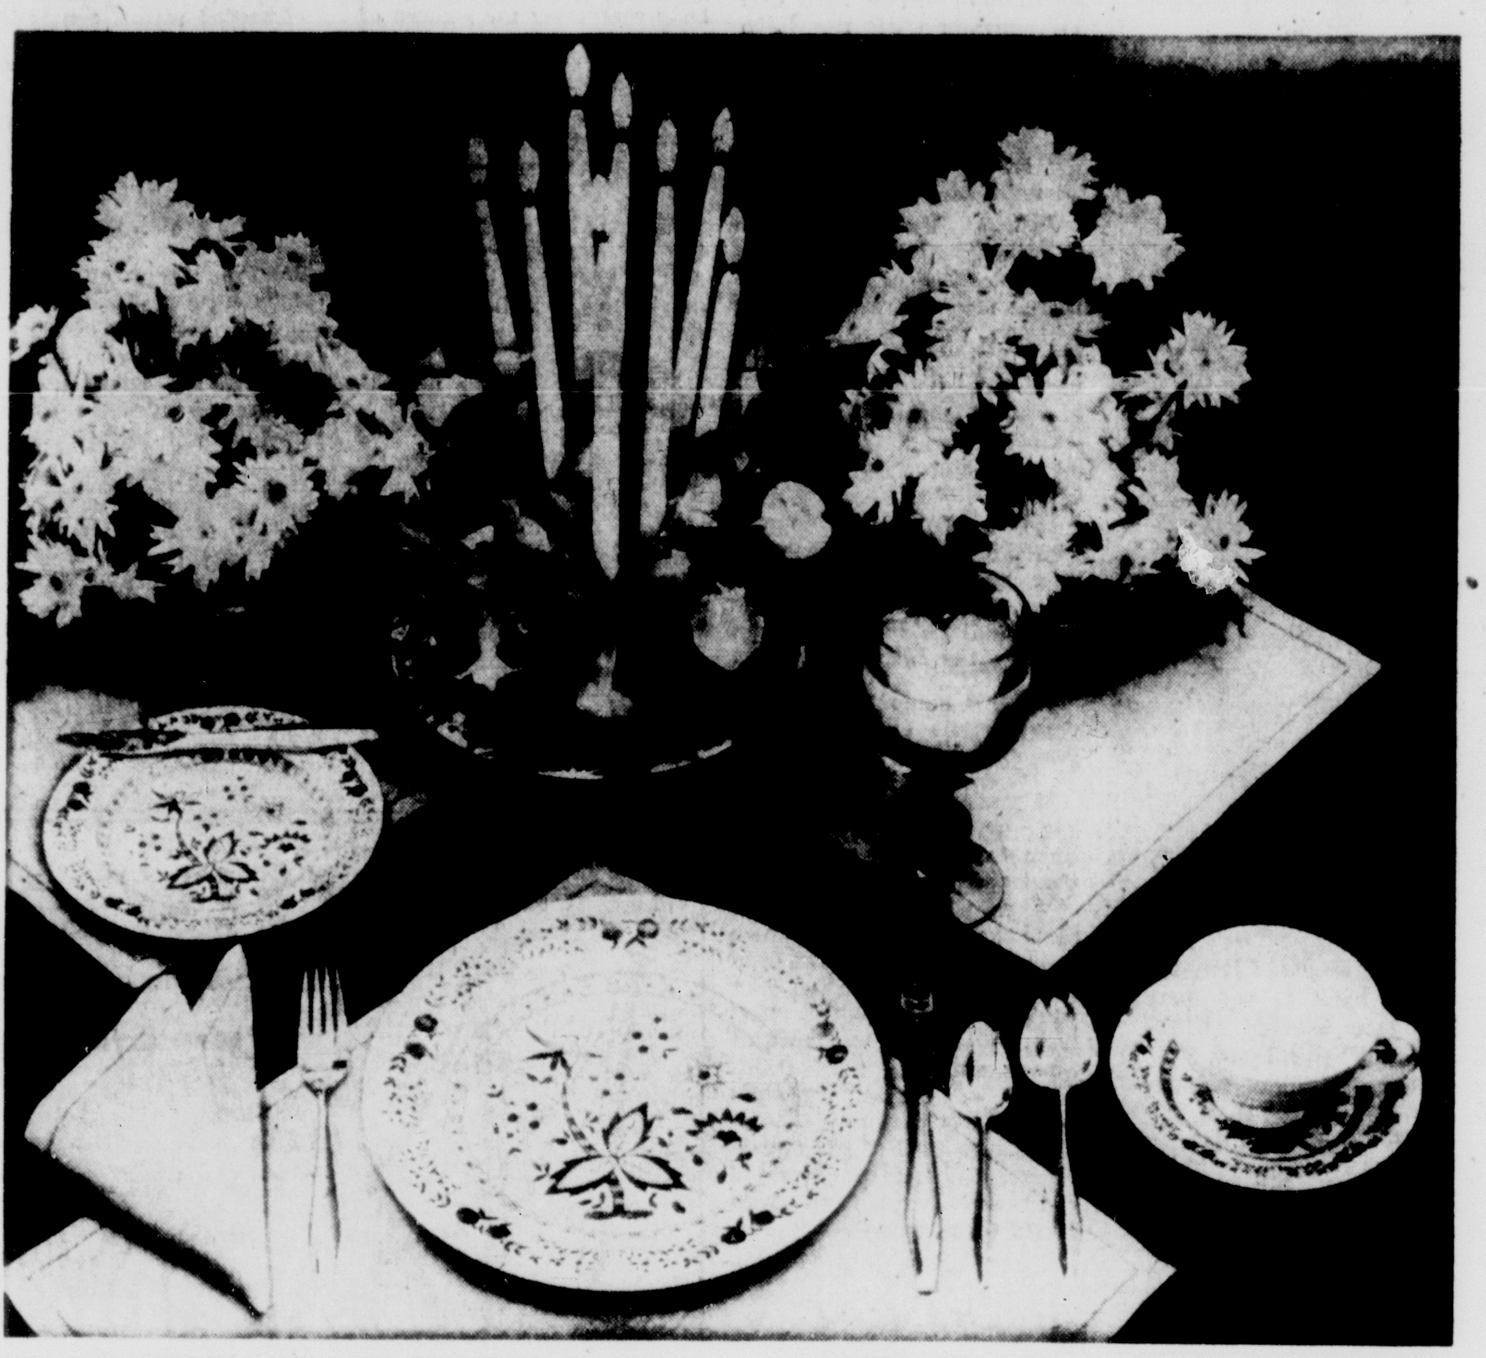
For and about WOMEN



CLASSIC CHINA patterns like Blue Heirloom, above, are going on melamine dinnerware. This deep blue and white design was first made in Meissen in 1710. The new line is being shown at the China and Glass Show in Atlantic City and will be available in about two months. Other old patterns going on plastic are Rose Pompadour, a landscape in soft pink and white originated in Sevres, and Countryside Idyll, an English village scene of Staffordshire design. This last pattern is brown on white.

'My Husband Says He'll Pay Bills But I Don't Trust Him'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I have been married 15 years, lived in our home nine years. I have always worked and helped with the bills. Now everything has run down. The furniture and the interiors need brightening up.

Column with a Heart

But my husband complains that he has no money, and since I help with the bills, I lack in clothing and necessities.

During the summer, I happened to find mail he was receiving from a girl friend on vacation, telling him how nice he is to her and thanking him for the things he does, and is still doing.

So, I stopped paying bills. Now he wants me to sign papers so he can mortgage the house to pay bills and decorate . . . he says.

But I don't trust him because he is still having an affair with this woman. I followed him one night and he went right to her house. I think he is trying to leave, but wants to leave a heavy mortgage on the house so I won't be able to keep it. What shall I do?

IN TROUBLE

Under the circumstances you have cited, who can condemn you for not signing, other than HE and SHE?

You don't say whether you have tried to find out what went wrong with your marriage, but if you should be interested in considering professional help, remember — Family Service, 395 NW 1st St. is YOUR community counseling agency. Call in advance for an appointment.

See World With A Child's Eyes

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I would like to make a few comments to Betty, the "grandmother" whose "blood pressure went up and spirits down" because she cared for her two grandchildren for a few hours.

She and her "worn out" daughter are missing one of the few pure joys afforded by life — watching the world through the eyes of a child. I have three children, and most of the time can afford no outside help.

But I can truly say, I had never really seen everyday places, like downtown or the parks, until I started going with my children. I take them out to enjoy myself!

An ordinary thing like a bus ride can be a delightful experience, if you listen to the children's reactions and note their comments, without letting dirty hands, faces, clothes and scuffed shoes ruin the fun.

Consider the children as individuals. Childhood is a fleeting thing, and children have a right to as happy a childhood as parents and grandparents can give them.

If you regard children as nuisances, they are quick to sense your attitude. They'll grow up feeling unwanted, unloved, and it will affect their whole lives.

I know — I was one of those children. And all through life, in spite of my present happiness, I feel the sadness of those early barren years.

What you sow now, you will reap later. Love and enjoy your grandchildren. One never gives too much love . . . it has a way of coming back to us a hundredfold.

VI

(Aside to Vi — and don't forget lunchtime with the pigeons in Bayfront Park! This was my children's favorite expedition. And while I'd never go alone (!), it was fun with them).

Column With a Heart welcomes discussion of your problems and your replies to the problems of others. Write to Eleanor Hart, The Miami Herald, Miami, Fla.

Of Course, Little Bruce Loves To Ride His Horse

Young Bruce Lyle Phillips is the third generation to take up the family's interest—horses.

Six year old Bruce is out riding one of his grandfather's polo ponies as often as he can and he loves it.

Grandfather is Lyle Phillips, well known in racing circles as an owner-trainer of thoroughbreds and as a famous polo player. Mr. Phillips has around 10 horses which he'll race at Hialeah, and he's been playing polo for "30-odd years," both in Florida and on the northern circuit.

He hopes to teach Bruce to play polo some day. Right now Bruce, a first grader in Hialeah, is just riding. He calls grandfather's pony his, and goes to the track with him often.

"But they won't let Bruce ride on the main track yet," says his grandfather.

Bruce's father, William Lyle Phillips, is in the insurance business. He also likes to play polo.

Lila Phillips, Bruce's young aunt, plays polo occasionally.

Training race horses is her career, and she's the only woman trainer on the grounds at Tropical Park where she has eight or nine horses of her own.

Show horses are her hobby. Last summer she won the National Champion Jumping Stakes with her show horse, Sputnik.

So little Bruce has quite a family record to live up to in the fields of polo, and racing or training horses.

Swishing Skirts Are Nice Sight For Women Too

By NORA OPHULS
Herald Staff Writer

They say the mere swish of a skirt attracts men's eyes. But how about its magic effect on women?

More than 350 women flocked to the Surf Club Wednesday to survey summery dresses and sports wear at the season's first fashion show luncheon.

Mrs. William Huntley

Mrs. Walter Peach

There was a festive air as the guests gathered in the hall before lunch, while two lone males swam in the pool beyond the glass doors.

Hatless, casually dressed women almost outnumbered the furred and veiled. Old friends drifted from group to group, eventually joining their party.

Mrs. Harry J. Collins had the biggest party — 41 guests in all. Mrs. Walter Peach, looking sweet in her little hat whose silvery gray feathers perfectly matched her hair, invited 22.

Mrs. William Huntley had an even dozen, her annual party, including Mrs. Jules Reinholdt Jr., of St. Louis, formerly Esther Baker of La Gorce Island. Among others with Mrs. Huntley were Mrs. M. Lewis Hall, Mrs. Stuart Patton and Mrs. Anton Lorenzen.

In lavender from the tip of her pointed shoes to the feathered top of her hat was slim Mrs. John Bell. Most of her guests were from Fort Lauderdale, including Mrs. Alfred V. duPont, Mrs. William Carpenter, and Mrs. Jack Coulton. Mrs. Lou Dougherty and Mrs. Clint Campbell were up from Key Largo Anglers' Club.

Guest of Mrs. Willard Parry was her sister from Boston, Mrs. Clair Egan. Mrs. Harry Ahlman of Sunset Island I brought her daughter Julia (Mrs. Palmer) Rose of Detroit, who's here for a month.

Also watching the runway were Mrs. Nelson Swift Morris, all in pale blue and chattering in French; Mrs. William Stubblefield, smart in back and white; hatless Mrs. Neil Vanderbilt in a simple navy dress and fur stole; hostess Mrs. William L. McKnight and Mar. (Mrs. Joe B.) Hendry in her delightful fuzzy hat.

Woodward Colors Revived

White with red polka dots are the colors Mrs. Thomas M. Bancroft of New York is reviving for her racing silks.

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons

Named to this years list of best-dressed women, Mrs. Bancroft has decided to display once again these famous colors when she races her best-dressed horses Quadreme, a colt, and Creme Brulee, a filly, at Hialeah.

The colors were retired when her brother William Woodward Jr. — she's the former Edith Woodward —died a few years ago. Best known of the Woodward winners was Nashua who was retired in 1956 as the greatest money winner of all time.

Mrs. Bancroft is not only reviving her family racing colors but has retained the famous James E. (Sunny Jim) Fitzsimmons, perennial trainer for the Woodwards, to coach her pets who are in Nashua's old barn. Sunny Jim is in his 80's and highly revered in horsey circles.

She's Home for a Year

While her husband Maj. William T. Ellington, USA, is stationed in Thailand for a year Virginia Witters Ellington has come home. Daughter of the Ross Witters, 3955 Granada, Coral Gables, Virginia has taken a house at 6780 SW 18th St. with her son Ross who's 9.

The Ellingtons were living in Falls Church, Va., for almost four years while the Major was stationed at the Pentagon. They expect to be stationed there again next year.

Benefields Are Visiting

Lt. William H. Benefield, USNAAF, and his bride of last June, the former Janet Rita Chadwick, are in town for a bit before leaving for French Morocco where he will be stationed.

University of Miami graduates both—he is a Kappa Sig and she a member of Delta Zeta—they have been living in Corpus Christi, Tex., and are now visiting his parents the H. O. Benefields, 6621 SW 44th St.

Back From Venezuela

Home today are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Best, 5349 SW 63rd Ave., from their holiday trip to Venezuela. In Macuto, a town 20 miles from the capital Caracas, they were the guests of importer Gordon Jacquiss and his wife who showed them the sights, including Caracas and La Guaira.

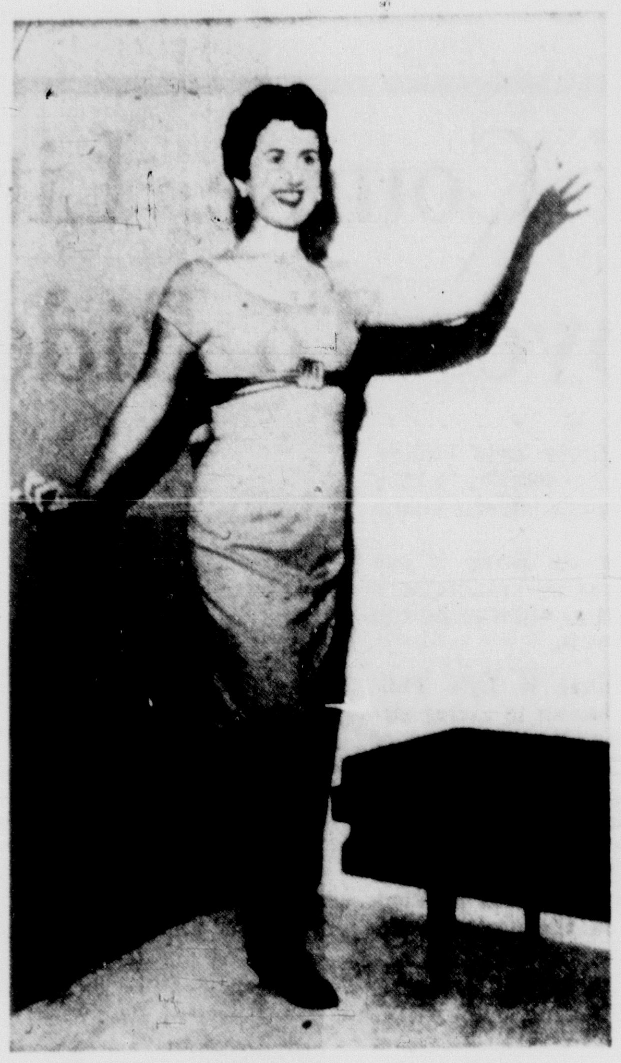
Book and Snow Time Again

Monday was back-to-the-books-and-snow day for Henry B. Lange Jr. and Robert M. Schwarcz, who returned from their Christmas vacations to New Hampton School, N.H.

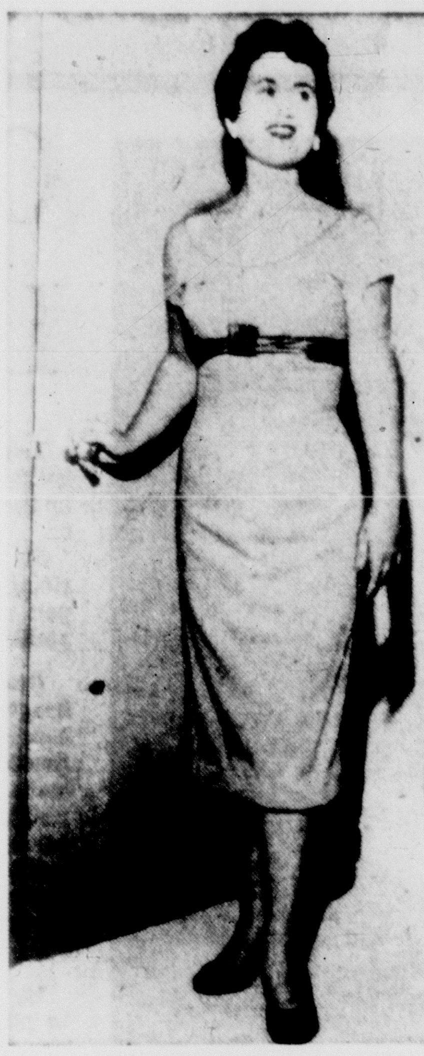
Henry is the son of the senior Langes of Miami Shores, and Bob's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Schwarcz of Coral Gables.

How To Make a Graceful Entrance



YOO-HOO, MABEL! And don't forget to close that door. Sorry, girls, but the derriere and heels have never been recognized as door-closers. This is the WRONG way to make your entrance.

—Herald Staff Photos by Ray Fisher



AH, THAT'S MORE LIKE IT. Keep your back to the door and face your hostess, swinging door shut behind you. This IS the way to make an entrance.

This is the fifth in a series of articles on Mrs. Wishful, 28-year-old mother of three who lost 10 pounds with the help of Glamor Clinic supervision.

By ELEANOR HART
Herald Glamour Clinic Editor

Glamor Clinic

Just as there's more to climbing steps than putting one foot ahead of the other so there's much more to entering a room gracefully than turning a door knob, Mrs. Wishful learned during her Glamor Clinic training.

No, Virginia, you do not swirl into the room. Open the door by grasping the knob with the hand nearest the door, and use the same hand to close the door behind you.

NEVER bump it shut with your derriere or kick it with your dainty heels.

If you're carrying a handbag or packages, transfer them to the hand away from the door knob first.

When you exit, follow the same procedure. Never turn your back on the hostess until you leave the room, and once you have exited, don't turn back to wave or to glance at Susie's mink.

And of course, maintain your perfect posture stance as you pause—heel of left foot in center diagonal to center of right foot, with front knee flexed (or reversed).

* * *

How To Avoid Urge To Nibble

PRACTICING such glamor niceties as entering and leaving a room were important to Mrs. Wishful, but not nearly as important as the daily battle she waged with herself to ignore the refrigerator.

"Oh, if I could wish 10 pounds away. I wonder how many women know what it's like to be alone in the house, the coffee perking hot and fresh, and every nerve in your body screaming for a piece of chocolate cake!"

But Mrs. Wishful finally admitted as all would-be slimerellas must do, that the yearning for chocolate cake must be denied.

"I compiled a list of don'ts for my eating moods," she says. "And they helped . . . maybe they will help someone else, too."

Here they are:

When you feel the urge to nibble

1. Take a hot bath with relaxing bath salts or bubble bath and scented soap.
2. Keep your hands busy — give yourself a facial, a manicure, brush your hair or shampoo—even learn to knit. The children can always use the scarves for dolls.
3. Take a walk, meet people, smile.
4. When your system cries out for sweets, munch a raisin. (However, don't go overboard—a quarter of a cup of seeded raisins equals 125 calories).
5. Learn that hot coffee and tea can be satisfying, without a snack.

NEXT: Hair style and make-up for Mrs. Wishful.

For your copy of the diet (Mayo Clinic) Mrs. Wishful followed and some of her exercises (brand new), send a stamped, addressed envelope with your request to Glamor Clinic, Miami Herald, Miami, Fla.

THEY CONVERT INTO BEDS

New Sofas, Chairs Give You More Space

By MARGUERITE DAVIS
United Press International

CHICAGO — Bedrooms can be transformed into sitting rooms and one-room apartments given added space through the turnabout beds on display at the annual January International Home Furnishings Show.

A French import, handled by Superior Sleeprite, includes chairs, sofas and king-size divans which can be opened into fully made beds with comfortable foam rubber mattresses. Even the pillows may be left in place when the bed is put away.

The smallest in the line is an upholstered armless chair which becomes a 30-inch wide bed, complete with upholstered head and foot boards, when opened. The outsize divan, which becomes a pair of twin beds, is on easy-to-move casters.

The opening is almost effortless. The user simply puts his hand between the back and the seat, lifts gently, and the delicate counter-balance system opens the chair. Straps at either end make it equally easy to snap the chair or sofa shut.

Krohler has attached a retractable pedal to all its convertible sofas and lounges. Step gently on the pedal and the seat of the sleeper lounge bobs up, eliminating the bending and hauling sometimes necessary.

The luxury item in this line opens into a 76-inch long, 57-inch wide double bed.

An apparently ordinary sofa shown by the Booth Company opens into a seven-foot bed, and the back pops up to reveal a headboard with space for a radio, books and ashtrays.

There also are the beds that look like beds and one, by Lullaby, looks like considerably more than that.

It is a triple-bunker of maple and birch in the Early American style. Twenty inches of space between the bunks is ample, the manufacturer said, and the safety rails guarantee that the occupants in the top layers won't tumble out.

For the luxurious taste there are the demi-tester twin beds by Oxford Kent in yew and walnut, decorated with narrow polished brass bands.

With matching bedside stands in the same light, warm-colored wood, the cost of this bedroom setting would top $1,000.

Nurses Confer On New Trends In Education

New approaches to nursing curriculum for both professional and practical nurses are being considered at a three-day conference at the Eden Roc Hotel.

The conference, which opened Wednesday, is co-sponsored by the National League for Nursing, New York, and the Southeastern Council of State Leagues for Nursing, of which the Florida league is a member.

It is one of 15 such meetings being held throughout the country for educators from both professional and practical nursing schools, representatives of service agencies providing student experience and others.

Leading discussions is a conference staff of representatives of nursing service, nursing education, interpersonal relationships and psychology.

Local planning committee is Miss Gene S. Cranch, Miss Sarah E. Fraunfelder, Miss Mildred Bearss, Miss Isabel Mustard of Coral Gables and Mrs. Carmen Ross of Miami Beach.

Doctor's Clues To a Bid Liver

Bread With More Protein

By JEANNE VOLTZ
Herald Homemaking Editor

A new higher protein bread with lysine supplement is in local markets.

The bread contains 14½ per cent protein. With the lysine supplement, quality of the protein is similar to that of meat, milk and other animal foods.

Lysine is the one component of high quality protein which is lacking in wheat flour. Without lysine, the body cannot use other protein components as effectively.

The bread is a fine textured, firm type loaf. It can be used as is or toasted.

Where To Buy?

Call FR 9-3826 after 9:30 a.m. today. After 24 hours, write to The Miami Herald Shopping Service, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Producer of the bread suggests it for weight reducers, pregnant women, adolescents and other groups whose need for protein is high.

It also could be an aid to balancing the diet of children who eat large quantities of bread in preference to other foods.

Meat Relish

Heat light or dark raisins with a little port wine or cider. Combine with cranberry sauce. Serve warm as a meat relish.

Nightlife with George Bourke

New Film's 'High Hopes' Could Become Hotels' Theme Song

FRANK SINATRA and Eddie Hodges have just recorded a tune for "A Hole in the Head" — which is about Miami Beach hotel operation which might become the rallying song of Miami Beach hotel owners. It's called "High Hopes" . . . The Gene Markeys at Leone's, near Gulfstream. And did you know that among the former film producer's novels was one called "His Majesty's Pajamas! Imagine writing on that subject in the current reign!

George Campbell is in town with the Victor Borge show, opening at the Deauville Hotel Casanova Room Friday night. He jetted down in two hours and 15 minutes air time, plus 15 minutes it took to close the door of the plane! . . . The "It Happened All Over" column on last Sunday's New York Post credited quotes and overheards to the Chicago Sun-Times, Washington Post, Springfield (Mass.) Union but in using a pithy quote from The Miami Herald's piece on Tennessee Williams credited it to "Miami journalist." The New York journalist who compiles the column is Paul Sann, who authored — among others — a book called "Pictorial History of the West" — or was it "Pictorial History of West St." With unhappy ending?

* * *

Why Let George Do It?

INCIDENTALLY, one of those things all editors abhor, occurred in the same Sann column — he attributed to Georgie Jessel, the same "only place that Maria Callas hasn't been fired from is Cape Canaveral" line that Leonard Lyons two pages later credits to "a Metropolitan Opera official." Georgie in the Met!

Bill Miller's Riviera in New York has been operating with only a liquor license — something has been holding up the full-scale permit . . . Singapore Malayan Room's tiny comedian, Snuffy Miller, had a small bit role in "The Greatest Show on Earth." . . . Nudema was like a fish out of water for the first few days back in the area — her tank, in which she does a strip act, was delayed in transit . . . Blondette is a "novelty" performer at the Jungle Club. She doesn't strip — she works on a trapeze.

Dody Goodman, formerly of the Jack Paar show, and Fay Bainter will be co-starred in "Girls in 509," opening Feb. 2 at the Royal Poinciana Playhouse in Palm Beach. Miss Goodman will do the role played in the Broadway production by Imogene Coco, and Miss Bainter will have Peggy Wood's role . . . There isn't a single Mexican in the Tru-tones, vocal and instrumental trio now at Old Patio Mexican Lounge. Tony Masi, on bass, comes closest to filling the Latin bill — he plays the bass, with Charley Ross on guitar, and Dick Sheperd as accordionist . . .

* * *

Bass Player Is a Lapidarist

HEAD TECHNICIAN at Coconut Grove Playhouse where "A Hole in the Head" will feature Frank Lovejoy, the "McGraw" of TV, soon is a fellow named Lester McGraw! . . . There's a cash prize waiting for the ultimate winner of progressive dance contests slated for Sunday afternoons at Green Mansion Mau Mau Lounge . . . The kinescope of a recent TV presentation, "The Dead Sea Scrolls" will be shown for teenagers only in Temple Emanu-El social hall on Sunday at 7:30.

Bass player Jimmy Keyes of the Picadilly Pipers at Wally's Clover Club is a "rock" enthusiast. That is, he's a lapidarist in his leisure time — works with semi-precious "rocks." . . . Vacationwear manufacturer Mal Marshall, who eats at Place for Steak a lot, is executing the designs just whipped up for the waiters uniforms there by owner Art Login.

Tony Masi
. . . closest

Pinky Lee
. . . first

Sophie Tucker
. . . last

Lewis Leary, a unit production man for Universal is at the McAllister while doing work in connection with an up-coming Cary Grant production . . . Guy Lombardo has a Nautilus check-in date Monday.

* * *

Will Denise Duck Out?

IT IS BEING RUMORED that Denise Darcel has grabbed a role in a Broadway play — which will cancel her out of the Montmartre . . . Jorge Sanchez a Gray's Inn visitor; with brother Emelio, also a Cuban sugargantuan, is on the following might. Charge it up to word of mouth . . . Bill Jordan threatens to convert his Bar of Music into an apartment building after this season. So now we can reveal that we knew it was on the market some time back.

Nana Ramon, who was a dancer when we first reviewed her, has added some dance steps to her band-fronting and song chores in the Americana Hotel Carioca Room — and the temperature of the room has soared again.

Pinky Lee's opening at the Latin Quarter tonight will be his first "in person" date here — but TV has made him familiar to just about everybody in town . . . Walter Jacobs is off to New York just as Al Jolson comes to the screen of the Variety Theater on Miami Beach in the film that started the "talkies" — "The Jazz Singer." It opens Sunday and is not to be confused with the later version starring Danny Thomas . . .

If you see this before midnight on Wednesday you still have time to hop around to the Latin Quarter to pay tribute to Sophie Tucker. E. M. Loew will tender her a birthday party at the second show and other stars in the area will participate. Soph will be 71 on Jan. 12— but who counts? Everyday is a good day to celebrate her birthday . . . We hear a story that one of the pro-Castro toppers repaid a loan a few days after the liberation . . . Is the Americana adding still more rooms? . . .

Giant Oscar Planned for Todd's Grave

Miami Herald-Chicago News Service

CHICAGO — A tombstone in the grand tradition of the man himself—a two-ton replica of filmdom's Oscar—is planned for showman Mike Todd's grave.

David Goldbogen, 48, Todd's brother, revealed this plan Wednesday for a memorial to the flamboyant movie producer who was killed last March 21 in a New Mexico plane crash.

The proposed monument would be nine feet tall, built of reddish-brown Vermont marble, at a cost of about $8,000.

Goldbogen, of Suburban Lake Zurich, said he has already had sketches drawn for the memorial in Waldheim Cemetery, Forest Park, where Todd is buried.

"I want to get the consent of Mike Todd Jr. and my brother's widow (actress Elizabeth Taylor) before I go ahead with this," said Goldbogen, owner of a millinery supplies firm.

He said the giant Oscar would commemorate the Oscar awards given by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to "Around the World in 80 Days," Todd's last production.

"The base is to be flanked with two small stones, with only my brother's birth date, date of his death in the crash and his real name, 'Abraham Goldbogen,' with 'Michael Todd, his show business name, in parentheses," he said.

"There would be no epitaph. We would want to keep the memorial simple."

Opening Today

Additions to Greater Miami entertainment scene slated for today will include the following:

LATIN QUARTER — Television and night club star Pinky Lee takes over the headline spot in Donn Arden's "Sky High" revue, with Holger and Dolores, adagio dance stars; the Romanos, and "Legs" Diamond holding over . . . TONY SWEET'S — Smart dining spot opening in former Felix Young's building in Bay Harbor, dinner music by string ensemble . . . GAIETY — Dancer Nikki Parker . . . RED BARN — Dancer Sandy Watson.

Linda Darnell Cameraman Is Her Ex-Mate

LINDA DARNELL'S cameraman on her new TV Series will be Pev Marley, her former husband. Real cozy . . . Now in what other column could you learn that Glenn Ford's real first name is Gwyllen? . . . Soames Bantry, the $50,000 per year fashion model, got $30 per week as a ballerina in Mexico City two years ago . . . You can't wear out your welcome, didja say? A Bardot movie, never seen in the U.S., is being offered for $125,000 with no takers . . . Sen. William A. Langer's (R., N.D.) wife is seriously ailing . . . The proprietor of Danny's Hide-A-Way and songstress Arlene Fontanna are steady dawn-greeters . . . The big gossip on the Radcliffe Campus involves one of the prettiest students and a 1960 Presidential possibility.

* * *

EVERY TYRANT considers himself a roaring lion in a jungle world. Ironically, the lion is always in a cage. Those who rule by terror are destined to live in fear. For every dictator knows power is temporary — as the bloody rebellion in Cuba just demonstrated. The fear haunting Dictator Batista was made clear in a recent news-item: "Not only Batista, but his sons, live in constant danger of assassination" . . . No one is safe in a dictatorship — especially the dictator.

Linda Darnell

MARILYN MONROE seems to have everything, except what she desires most: A child. The tragic loss of her baby again demonstrates the terrible power of the law of compensation. Nobody really has everything. It only seems that way to unfortunates who have nothing. The stern reality of life was once effectively described by Marilyn's groom, Arthur Miller. To wit: "Life will go on the only way I know how to make it go. With a lot of work, a couple of laughs and a lot of worry."

* * *

BILL CORUM, the sports colyumist who passed, once wrote: "Maybe our business isn't the most important in the world, but is has the world's nicest guys working in it." And one of the world's nicest guys was Bill Corum. His mastery of words was excelled by the music of his friendship. In this respect, Corum was a virtuoso. In addition to his colyuming chores, Bill was also president of Churchill Downs — which was fitting — since he was a thoroughbred.

IN "BELL, BOOK AND CANDLE," Kim Novak portrays a witch who hypnotizes males. However, she had the gift of bewitching males long before becoming a star. Recalling her pre-Hollywood days, Miss Novak has deadpanned: "My favorite job was as a receptionist for a dentist. One day the dentist's wife came into the office and the next day I lost my job. It took me a long time to figure out why."

* * *

Ingrid Bergman seems to have an affinity for headlines and heartbreak. The latest is the fight with Rossellini for custody of her children . . . It was a single incident that gave a fateful twist to Miss Bergman's personal history. Following her success in "Joan of Lorraine" on Broadway, she frantically sought another worthwhile script. "I love being on Broadway," she has stated, "if there had been another play for me, I would have stayed. But there wasn't a thing. I had to look somewhere else." And the consequence, ironically, was a continuing headline drama not many Broadway scripts have ever matched. Out of such seemingly innocuous incidents are lives — and empires — constructed and demolished.

* * *

FREDRIC MARCH, who recently reaped raves for his performance in the TV version of "The Winslow Boy," is one of the few dramatic actors who has conquered the Big Three mediums oif entertainment: Teevee, Broadway and Hollywood. He is now making the celluloid replica of "Middle of the Night" . . . The incident which turned him into an actor has an unusual dramatic quality. Mr. March was toiling as a bank clerk when he was stricken with a ruptured appendix. While waiting for the ambulance, his landlady — a former actress — sought to ease the pain by recalling her theatrical experiences. She later visited him at the hospital and continued to regale him with greasepaint lore. After he recovered, he gave up his bank job and decided to become and actor.

Musical for Genevieve

NEW YORK —(AP)— Genevieve, the French singer who won attention on the Jack Parr television show, may come to Broadway in a musical especially tailored to her talents.

George Abbott, veteran producer - director - author, has invited the dark - haired girl (full name Genevieve Auger) to head the cast in a show which he is now writing with John Allen.

Genevieve has toured the domestic scene in a road production of "Can-Can," where she enacted the role created on the White Way by Lilo.

What Makes Frankie Fight?---V

Sinatra Battles Endlessly Against Bigotry

Last of a Series

By SCOTT LAWRENCE

Generally, Frank Sinatra's wars can be classified as major and minor.

Enigma of Sinatra

There are incidents which draw excited responses from him, although they never deserved his indignation. When he was with Tommy Dorsey's band he swapped fists with Buddy Rich, the drummer, over a trivial matter.

In night-club appearances, he has frequently invited hecklers to meet him in the alley after the show. He once took a swing at a cop who tried to stop an autograph collector from getting to him.

Sinatra appears to have never acquired a firm moral basis for his outbursts of anger. In many of his battles, an essential ingredient seems to be missing—dignity. He has failed to realize that in winning such battles he loses respect.

The major Sinatra wars have been directed against the press, and his most triumphant struggle, as noted previously, was his professional victory. Another of his major wars—and the most laudable in many respects—has been his continual offensive against bigotry.

This fight is no pose with Sinatra. It is a genuine reflection of a deep conviction. One of his friends has said: "Frank bleeds for the underdog because he feels like one. Don't ask me why."

The explanation for Sinatra's bleeding for the underdog is quite simple. He has been intimately acquainted with the ugly face of bigotry. During his early years in Hoboken, N.J., he experienced its terror and lunacy, including the cross-burnings of the KKK. And he has never forgotten.

He has given his time and energies to lecturing on the subject of racial and religious hatred to a variety of audiences—from private conversations to assembled students in many schools.

* * *

THE NEW YORKER magazine once reported:

"Sinatra is so intolerant of intolerance that he will refuse to go on talking to people who use the word 'nigger.' Whenever he sings 'Old Man River,' he changes the line that usually goes 'Darkies all work on the Mississippi' to 'Here we all work on the Mississippi.'

Sinatra, Nat Cole Team Up on a Song

. . . Frank's greatest fight—against racial intolerance

"Articles with titles like 'Let's Not Forget We're All Foreigners' and 'What's All This About Races?' have been published in magazines over his byline. He appeared in an abbreviated movie about tolerance called 'The House I Live In' and won a special Academy Award for it.

"His activities have been commended by, among other groups, the Bureau for Intercultural Education, the Common Council for American Unity, the Philadelphia Boosters Association and the National Conference of Christians and Jews."

In his constant battle against bigotry, Sinatra has been quick to take action. He once slugged a waiter who refused to serve a Negro. Another time he incited a night-club brawl after overhearing an anti-Semitic remark.

After the battle had subsided, Sinatra explained: "He called me a dirty Jew. I don't mind the Jew. But nobody can call me dirty."

Probably the most ceaseless war is the one raging within him. He is a mass of contradictions. He can be thoughtful and rude, generous and cold. He is an intelligent man who is sometimes guilty of being downright foolish.

* * *

HE IS a proud father who adores his youngsters and has never been able to settle down. He has a quick, sharp mind, while popping off with ridiculous statements. He has a passion for success, although success has never given him the security he yearns for. He is adored by millions while constantly haunted by loneliness.

He is overwhelmed by a desire to be a good citizen and negates his good intentions with impetuous actions. He wants peace and loves excitement. He can speak with immense maturity and act like a spoiled child.

Of late, some of his friends have detected a new serenity in Sinatra. There are reports that he intends to slow down both personally and professionally.

In the light of his background, Sinatra's tranquility is probably temporary. Frank Sinatra will continue fighting, although his worst enemy, in many instances, is Frank Sinatra.

Word to Watch: Thermoelectricity

By ARTHUR J. SNIDER
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

SNIDER

CHICAGO — And now, thermoelectricity.

It's a word to watch, for the principle of thermoelectricity is ushering in the next revolution in technology.

Thermoelectricity will provide minature generators that will:

Cool a room at low cost.

Provide cooling blankets for summer sleeping.

Offer dehumidifiers the size of a transistor radio to be placed in a kitchen cabinet. Crackers and potato chips always will be crisp.

Keep cold foods cold on dinner plates and hot foods hot.

It's more than a dream. The first working model of a thermoelectric refrigerator will be shown by Westinghouse Electric Corp. at the home furnishing show in the merchandise mart here.

It has no compressor, no refrigerant, no moving parts, no noise or vibration.

The principle of thermoelectricity has been known for many years, but the efficient materials to permit its practical application are only now being discovered. Scientists and engineers are fired with the exciting possibilities ahead.

The new development is founded on the knowledge that when two dissimilar materials, known as semi-conductors, are joined end to end and heated, they will generate an electric current.

If a drop of water is placed on the junction and the current made to flow in one direction, the water will freeze. When the current direction is reversed, the ice will melt.

Thus, the junction liberates heat in one case and absorbs heat in the other.

The uses to which this finding will be put in the years ahead is limited only by the imagination. Companies such as Westinghouse have established staffs whose only job is to think of applications.

Remote areas in Russia use heat of ordinary kerosene lamps to power radios. Researchers at Westinghouse have been able to do the same thing by heating a tea kettle whose base is made of thermoelectric materials.

Every researcher, of course, has his eye on the tremendous heat from the sun which is going to waste.

Even the wasted heat exhaust from an auto muffler is being eyed as a source of auto refrigeration or heat.

Dr. Clarence Zener, director of Westinghouse Research Laboratories, foresees the direct generation of electricity from a coal fire, nuclear reactor or other heat source, eliminating boilers, condensers, dynamos and other intermediate apparatus.

But the more immediate application will be in small appliances with a refrigerating function, opening up a whole new line of houseware products.

Chief of Police Likes Pool Halls

BALDWIN PARK, Calif. — (UPI) — Police Chief Louis Ben Torres has endorsed a proposal to lower from 18 to 16 years the minimum age at which a boy can enter a pool hall.

"It might take a few kids off the street and give them some form of activity," he told the City Council.

Letter Late 300 Years

GELNHAUSEN, Germany — (UPI) — Postal officials here said they received a letter addressed to a man who died nearly 300 years ago.

The letter was posted in Jerusalem. It was addressed to H. J. Von Grimmelshausen. It had no street address so postal authorities checked the registration office.

There it was learned that a resident of Gelnhaushen named Grimmelshausen had died Aug. 17, 1676. He had written a book about the Thirty Year War. It was believed the letter writer thought the book was a recent one and wanted to correspond with the author. The letter was returned to the sender.

Their Sentence: Go to Church

WAYNESBURG, Pa. —(AP)— A Greene County judge has sentenced three teenage boys to attend church every Sunday for the next year. The boys had pleaded guilty to burglarizing a home.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

THIS is the fable of "Operation Rumor," the revolution that shook America to the very doors of the Pentagon.

BELL

The revolutionary leader, Stengali, left San Diego, Calif., by mule train, headed for Washington. President Eisenhower fled to Ciudad Trujillo to join the throng. Citizen Orson Oldham was appointed president by Stengali. He immediately ordered all courts to close, deposed mayors, governors, senators—even Metro. He abolished the Democratic, Republican, Communist, Socialist and Conservative parties, as well as their members who were in office.

And if you think this left things in a hell of a mess you're thinking it mildly. People must have guidance, curbs, law and order. People are more irresponsible than animals. A dictator's one who dictates, even when he succeeds a dictator.

Hark Ye, Now

Nikolai Bulganin was premier of Russia, the highest post in that vast nation. But Nikita S. Khrushchev wanted to be premier. He pulled the strings and got up there.

Now we see Bulganin branded unanimously by the Russian press and radio as a "traitor, a liar, a double-dealer." Pretty soon we'll hear he has gone to Siberia, or perhaps to a more merciful death before a firing squad.

Hark ye, who condemn your own U. S.

Tree Thrives

The Tom Flynns of Miami Springs have a Christmas tree that's starting to grow again. They put it in a bucket of water when 'twas erected. The branches are growing at the ends and cones are forming. Tom swears he didn't put any gin in the bucket.

* * *

Way's Way

S. P. Way came over to see me again Tuesday morning. "Just wanted to talk, so I took a taxi and came over," he said. He lives at the Urmey Hotel, three blocks away.

Mr. Way's the man who won't shop at a downtown store any more, "until they stop smoking in the store. "Too dangerous," he says.

For his information, Marshall Field, Chicago's biggest department store, instituted its own no-smoking edict and enforces it. They've sand receptacles at each store entrance and you deposit that dangerous fire, or else.

* * *

The Workers

So you think you work hard? Leslie Hudek plays piano at Gallery five nights a week, Bonfire the other two nights and studies psychology at University of Miami all day.

Velda Stonecypher is a music soprano student of Arturo diFilippi at University of Miami and will give her first concert in Beaumont Hall Sunday afternoon.

Carlos and Melissa, who've led the four-piece orchestra at the Delmonico for years, have opened a riding stable in Hialeah. All four are crack riders.

* * *

Horsey Items

Needles, the Florida-bred champion, is in stud at Bonnie Heath Farm at Ocala. The fee is $2,500 and the '59 book is full. They're booking for 1960. He was a slow starter, like Silky Sullivan. But he never got as far back as did the California bust. He got home on top as a real champion does.

Which reminds me that the annual Florida two-year-old show will be held at Hialeah Park Jan. 19. The Florida Breeders Association is meeting the same day: breakfast at Hialeah Park, with the annual election of new officers; cocktails and banquet in the evening at Miami Springs Villas.

And Jimmy Bright, who just has gone to the Man Upstairs, wil be lookin' down at the young Florida-bred horses with just pride.

* * *

Impossible (?)

It would be diFilippi who came, asking me to ask for the impossible. He wants a six by four foot chandelier for the Duke's drawing room in the opera Rigoletto. That's all.

The first performance is Jan. 26. "Tell them it's deductible," says the impresario. So, have you a six by four chandelier, deductible or not?

P.S. If I get this, I'm running for governor.

Jail Terms Threatened in Beach's Meter Crackdown

Lurking Police Nab 'Time' Stealers

By GENE MILLER
Herald Staff Writer

A new-fangled way of stealing parking time on Miami Beach led 14 accused "meter cheaters" into the arms of the law Wednesday.

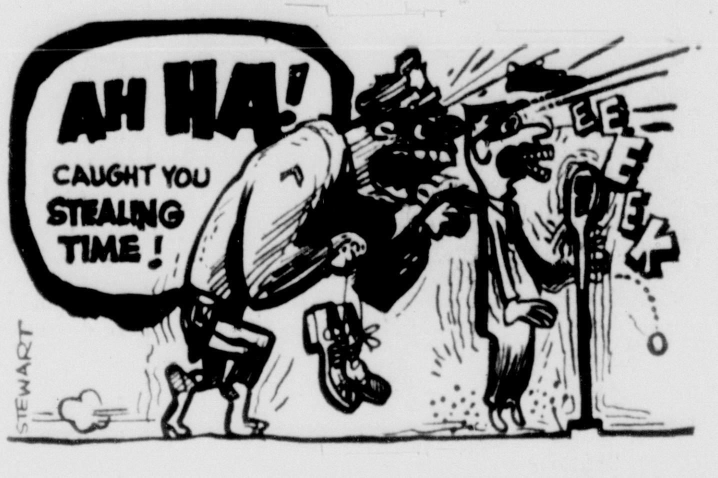
In the past few weeks, scores of Collins Ave. workers — hotel doormen, bellhops, waiters and construction men — have learned a simple but tricky way of forcing all-day meters to show up to 18 hours for a single nickel.

Police, lurking behind cars and bushes, caught them in the act — flagrante delicto.

"They threw 343 meters out of kilter," complained Sherwyn Finchell, parking meter chief. "The city lost anywhere from $3,000 to $5,000."

Wednesday Judge Albert H. Saperstein convicted the first six to appear in court, fined them $20 each, and gave each a 10-day jail sentence — suspended on good behavior. More cases come up Friday.

"Parking meters are neither a joke nor petty nuisance," lectured the judge.



AH HA!
CAUGHT YOU STEALING TIME!
EEEEK

"Stealing time is the same as stealing anything else. Meters are a fundamental part of traffic control."

Judge Saperstein threatened to hand out unsuspended jail sentences — guard-take-this-man-type — if the practice continues.

Finchell first noticed something going haywire in early December. The Beach's $722,000-a-year revenue was slipping and too many machines were broken.

After a tip that skullduggery was afoot, he started experimenting in the repair shop. To his shock, he discovered an easy way to jam the time needle.

On Monday plainclothes men conducted a surveillance in the troubled are — Collins Ave. between 26th and 44th St.s — which includes 11,000 of the Beach's 85,000 meters.

On Tuesday they nabbed seven cheaters. On Wednesday they nabbed seven more.

"Arrests will continue," said Finchell. "We are going to break this thing up completely."

Meanwhile, the Beach hurriedly began installing new fool-proof meters.

Saddle Sore

Jammed bumper-to-bumper at the LeJeune Rr.—NW 36th St. intersection, these unhappy Miami motorists have no relief in sight until 1962, a state road expert said Wednesday. In '62 the $15 million 36th St. expressway will be completed. It's not even completely off the drawing board yet.

$1,899,000 Tagged for Jr. College

Legislature Must Vote On Money

A $1,899,000 appropriation for a junior college in Dade County was recommended Wednesday by the State Advisory Council on Education.

If approved by the legislature, Dade could open its junior college in the fall of 1960, Wesley Matthews, assistant school superintendent, said Wednesday night.

The state appropriation would pay the entire cost of building the proposed college. In addition, state funds would supply half the operating costs.

The Dade college was one of four recommended by the Advisory Council Wednesday. Others were proposed for Broward, Brevard and St. Lucie Counties. Total budget request for proposed and existing junior colleges was $12,439,010.

Matthews said the school board already owns an 83-acre site for the college here, which will be built next to the new Technical High School. The tract is between NW 95th and 103rd Sts. at 17th Ave.

A separate Negro section is planned at 7007 NW 12th Ave.

"We view this as a community college that won't be limited to one site," Matthews said. "Eventually we will be able to hold classes in all parts of the county."

The college will provide for students who seek vocational training and do not plan to go beyond the two-year program, as well as those who will transfer their credits to four-year schools, Matthews said.

It is expected to open with an enrollment of 1,200 to 1,500. Fees for Dade residents would be $75 a semester.

The low cost of attending the school is expected to attract many of the county's top high school graduates who now are passing up college.

Which Workers Belong to What Group?

2 Unions Organizing Hotels Head for Factional Dispute

By CHARLES TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

Two unions trying to organize employes of Greater Miami hotels headed toward a jurisdictional dispute Wednesday over which workers should belong to what union.

The unions involved are the Hotel Employes Union and the International Union of Operating Engineers, both AFL-CIO affiliates.

The possibility of a jurisdictional dispute cropped up after the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board in Tampa said it had received petitions calling for elections on union representation of employes at 33 Miami and Miami Beach hotels.

Dave Herman, head of Local 225 of the HEU, said his union filed only four of the petitions, and that the rest were filed by the operating engineers' union.

The HEU petitions involve the Beau Rivage, Balmoral, President Madison and Lucerne hotels on Miami Beach.

Oscar Kohsiek, head of local 491 of the IUOE, said the petitions filed by his union cover large and small hotels both in Miami and Miami Beach.

The unions have stepped up organizational drives as a result of a November U.S. Supreme Court decision which ordered the NLRB to take jurisdiction in cases involving hotels.

Herman said his union will challenge the operating engineers' jurisdictional claims when the NLRB holds hearings in Miami on the petitions.

Kohsiek said his union claims jurisdiction over any hotel employe "who carries a tool box." But Herman said that employes, such as maintenance men who are not actually mechanics, should belong to the Hotel Employes Union.

Purpose of the petitions, Herman explained, is to have the unions certified through an election among employes as bargaining agent for the employes, forcing the hotel management to recognize the union.

Herman said some 600 employes are involved in the four hotels for which the HEU filed petitions. He said "a big majority" already are members of the union.

Suicidal Man's Mom Raps Two Hospitals

By AL FINKELSTEIN
Herald Staff Writer

An elderly mother, whose suicidal son killed another man in a bloody head-on collision, said Wednesday the tragedy might have been prevented if two hospitals had admitted her son for psychiatric care 24 hours earlier.

Seventy-year-old Mrs. C. L. Foisy, of 2981 SW 12th St., said both the Veterans Hospital in Coral Gables and Jackson Memorial Hospital turned away her son, attorney Paul Foisy, 33.

Lack of beds was their reasons, she said.

And she quoted one VA staff physician as saying:

"Your boy is sick . . . He needs psychiatric aid."

VA Hospital Night Registrar Hardy R. Alexander confirmed the mother's statement that her son was "transferred" to Jackson "because we had no facilities to treat him."

But he declined to say what treatment was required.

Foisy entered Jackson at 8 p.m., and was released an hour after because "that hospital, too, said they had no room" for him, his mother said.

The doctor who approved Foisy's release could not be reached by the Herald Wednesday night.

The 33-year-old attorney slept overnight at his mother's home. Last Friday, he slashed his wrists in a suicide attempt.

At noon Tuesday, while traveling west on Tamiami Trail at 122nd Ave., Foisy's car smashed head-on into an eastbound car driven by Henry Newton Moore, 50, of 7401 NW Seventh St. Beside Foisy, who survived, was a note termed by police as a suicide note.

Moore — who had a wife and two children — was killed instantly. Foisy remained in critical condition at Jackson Memorial Hospital Wednesday night.

Attorney Hurt

A Prank May Cost Him Eye

Dade School Board Attorney John S. Lloyd may lose the sight of his right eye as the result of a firecracker prank, his wife said Wednesday.

Lloyd was blinded by flying gravel when a firecracker thrown from a passing car exploded at his feet on New Year's Eve.

The school attorney, who lives at 6880 Cartee Rd., was standing by the side of Old Cutler Rd. to guide some guests to their new home, Mrs. Lloyd said.

"I heard the noise, and I thought at first someone had shot him," she said. "And the strange thing is we never go out on New Year's Eve because there always are so many accidents."

Lloyd was treated at Doctor's Hospital, where he regained sight in his left eye. He was released Tuesday. A verdict on th efate of the other eye may come today when doctors examine it again.

Headley Bans Castro Parade

Miami followers of the new Cuban revolutionary government were denied permission Wednesday to stage a victory parade in downtown Miami.

Miami Police Chief Walter Headley said the parade could touch off trouble with other Cuban factions.

But Cuban groups requesting the parade permit said they may appeal to City Manager E. A. Evans.

Pert Jerri Miller Points a Finger

. . . . at sloppy dress, male manners

'You're Sloppy,' Glum Males Hear

By MIKE MORGAN
Herald Staff Writer

The average American male is a self-centered, often sloppy, unthoughtful type who insists that his wife be none of these things.

This is what members of the Miami Beach Lion's Club were told Wednesday by pert Jerri Miller who specializes in showing women how to be more glamorous.

She tackled a much more Herculean task Wednesday—she offered to tell men how to make themselves more attractive to women.

"Charm and attractiveness are not matters of good looks," she told the men. "They are matters of poise, courtesy and kindliness.

"But the average American male after he gets married develops a paunch, a take-her-for-granted attitude toward his wife, and an almost antagonistic attitude toward dressing properly."

The men looked at each other glumly.

"And what do you expect of your wives?

"You expect them to maintain svelte figures, dress well, and be ever considerate of your needs."

The men looked at each other glumly.

"What about watching your diet?

"What about your clothes?

"How about showing your wives courtesy? These are things which will help you develop charm and attractiveness . . ."

The men started to mutter.

"When you take your wife to a party do you drop her at the door and rush to mix with the other men in the kitchen? Or do you pay some attention to her?"

She bent a hard eye on some of the club members.

"Look at the way a lot of you dress. Look at those awful ties some of you are wearing—simply no color coordination."

Finally one rebellious Lion popped up:

"Most of those ties are Christmas presents from wives. How can we be courteous and not wear them?"

The men smiled happily at each other.

Bar Expects Top 'Draw'

Largest attendance in the history of the American Bar Association may be attracted to its 80th national convention in Miami Beach Aug. 23-28, an ABA official said here Wednesday.

The official, Don Hyndman, public relations director of the association, was here for a two-day pre-convention conference with Dade County Bar Association officers.

Taking part in the conference were Joe Creel, president of the Dade association; William P. Simmons, immediate past president and national convention chairman; William C. Martin, president-elect, and Paul R. Scott, Dade public relations committee chairman.

Teacher Charged With 'Lack of Control'

Two Fs and a Black Eye Riled Mama

By PHIL MEYER
Herald Staff Writer

A nightmarish story of a seventh-grade classroom where pupils held rock fights, smoked cigarets, and played tag was told Wednesday by officials of Filer Junior High School.

"Lack of control" on the part of Teacher Evelyn Gray was to blame, Principal Jacob J. Zion told the Dade School Board at a hearing on her suspension for "incompetence."

But the soft-spoken Miss Gray retorted that her pupils behaved that way because of "frustrations" from a too-tough curriculum. And some of her students would be discipline problems anywhere, she said.

Zion and his aides told the board they had seen boys and girls playing tag around the desks and throwing rocks at each other while Miss Gray's classes were in session.

"The children were always fighting each other, out of their seats and all across the room and out in the hall," Zion said.

"One girl had an eye injured in a rock fight," he said. "The dean of girls went up and found rocks all over the room."

Despite this behavior, it was "a very normal class," said the dean, Mrs. Marjorie Wessel, who also testified.

Miss Gray had tried to use low grades in conduct as a disciplinary measure, Dean Wessel said.

One particularly bad rock fight occurred on a report card day. As a result, she had to cope with "a frantic mother who came rushing to say her little girl had gotten two Fs and a black eye," Mrs. Wessel said.

Principal Zion, who later removed the Fs from the pupils' records, said Miss Gray kept insisting her job was teaching rather than disciplining the children.

"But they were doing everything except learning," he said.

Miss Gray said her pupils were "frustrated" because of insistence by school authorities on a fast pace in learning.

"A third of the class is on a very low level," she said. "At least five pupils are discipline problems."

"They need a slower type of teaching that would not frustrate them."

Holder of a B.A. degree from Cornell and an M.A. in Spanish from the University of Mexico, Miss Gray got her training in education at the University of Miami. She taught geography, English, and mathematics, although she is certified only in foreign language.

Zion described her as "brilliant. She just couldn't keep order," he said.

Since her suspension, two weeks before the Christmas holidays, the rock-throwing boys and girls have behaved, he said.

"They always behaved in their other classes, too," he said. "They're perfectly normal, but any junior high student will do as much as he can get away with."

Board members took under advisement a recommendation from Supt. Joe Hall that Miss Gray, who has taught four years in Dade schools, be fired.

Manufacturers Assn. Elects A. Vernon Weaver President

Sullivan Becomes 1st V.P.

A. Vernon Weaver, president of Lanotan, Inc., suntan products manufacturing firm, was elected president of the Greater Miami Manufacturers Association Wednesday.

Weaver succeeds Lloyd Jaye, president of Jaye Manufacturing Company

Weaver, who is also a vice president of Southern Venetian Blind Company, became head of Lanotan last year when a group of Miami businessmen bought the firm.

Timothy J. Sullivan, vice president of Florida Power and Light Company, moved up from secretary to first vice president of the association, which includes most of Dade County's manufacturing firms.

Sidney J. Reaves, manager of the Miami Coca-Cola Bottling Company, was chosen second vice president and E. R. Starbuck, sales manager for Florida Portland Cement Company, was named secretary.

The new treasurer is Louis F. Garrard, general manager of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., here.

The new officers will be installed Jan. 31 at a dinner at the DuPont Plaza Hotel.

Speaker at the installation dinner will be Milton C. Lightner, president of the National Association of Manufacturers and board chairman of the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Green Cheese May Hide Oil on Moon

By Herald Wire Services

The Russians gave out a clue Wednesday as to why they are in a hurry to reach the moon: there may be oil there.

A Soviet Scientist, Prof. Nilolai Kozyrev, says periodic changes in the color of parts of the moon indicate the presence of natural gas.

"This would mean that in the direct vicinity one may expect to find deposits of oil," he said.

Despite Cuba

No Change Seen For Sugar Act

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Fidel Castro's successful revolt in Cuba, main sugar supplier for the rich U.S. market, will make no change in Congressional plans to extend the U.S. sugar quota act, Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D., N.C.) said Wednesday.

Cooley, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he has no doubt the new Cuban regime will allow the island's sugar producers to fill their 1959 U.S. quota. This amounts to about one-third of U.S. consumption.

"We couldn't have a sugar program without Cuba," Cooley said.

Other sources here, meanwhile, predicted domestic sugar producers will urge an indefinite extension of the law under which the U.S. market is carved up into carefully controlled shares for American and foreign producers.

Under the act, the Agriculture Department controls supplies reaching the U.S. market — and indirectly controls prices—through the quota system.

The sugar act is now in force under a four-year extension which expires at the end of 1960. Both administration and Congressional farm leaders have indicated they favor approval of the next extension this year to allow for advance planning in producing areas.

Domestic growers favor an extension with no time limit, it was reported, because many of them feel the present quota terms are the most favorable they can realistically expect to get.

Cooley said the Cuban revolt is not likely to affect Cuba's position as a supplier to the U.S. market because "Castro realizes sugar is the most important item in the Cuban economy."

Banks Bat .900; All But 4 Show Deposit Gains

All but four of Dade County's 31 banks reported increased growth during 1958.

The county's newest bank, two-year-old Dade National, led the pack with a growth in deposits of 136.2 per cent.

Second fastest growing was Metropolitan Bank, which passed four others to become the county's 12th largest. It's deposits rose 62.1 per cent.

Only four banks reported declines in both deposits and resources.

They were South Dade Farmers Bank of Homestead, down 25.4 per cent in deposits, 23.6 per cent in resources; Pan American Bank, down 13.7 and 13.1 per cent; Curtiss National of Miami Springs, down 5.8 and 1.8 per cent, and North Shore of Miami Beach, down 5 and 3.2 per cent.

Coral Gables National reported a fractional decline in deposits but a gain in resources.

Others among the top 10 in deposit growth were Miami National up 51.3 per cent; City National of Coral Gables, 41.9 per cent; Peoples of North Miami Beach, 34.3 per cent; Bank of Dade County, 26.1 per cent; Boulevard National, 21.7 per cent; Merchants of Miami, 20.5 per cent; Bank of South Miami, 16.5 per cent, and Industrial National, 14.9 per cent.

First National Bank of Miami by far the largest in Dade County, passed the 300-million-dollar mark in deposits for a gain of 10.4 per cent.

U.S. May Use Atom To Free Oil Reserve

DALLAS — (DJ) — Uncle Sam is willing to try out an underground atomic explosion in an oil well if the nation's petroleum industry will foot some of the costs.

This is the first time the government has formally offered to sanction atomic explosions for strictly non-military purposes.

R. M. Gooding of the Bureau of Mines said the government hopes to pulverize oil-bearing shale with an atomic blast and then free the oil from the shale by man made controlled fires underground.

He said the initial experimental explosion is expected to produce 15,000 barrels of oil and 10 million cubic feet of gas at the outset.

A site has tentatively been selected in the Piceance Creek Basin in northwest Colorado.

The experiment would cost 1.2 million dollars plus the cost of the atomic device, Gooding said.

'Get Rich Quick' Schemes

Big Bull Market Attracts Con Men

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Heightened interest in the stock market has attracted a fringe element of confidence men who cater to the public's get-rich-quick fancies, Congress was told Wednesday.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, in its report for the 1958 fiscal year which ended June 30, said the big bull market has saddled it with "enforcement problems of the first magnitude."

Con men were said to be preying on "uninformed investors . . . often willing to purchase unknown and speculative securities which are represented as offering unusual opportunities for gain."

The SEC observed that "somewhat paradoxically, declines in the prices of seasoned securities may increase the public appetite for such speculative offerings."

It said a substantial number of recent mergers, acquisitions and expansion programs "appear to be designed largely to reap profits for promoters and speculators at the expense of the public."

As the tempo of market activity has increased, the commission said, it has "noted a growing number of instances of unusual and unexplained market activities in particular securities, suggesting possible market manipulations." It said it expects to devote more of its enforcement effort to this area in the future.

The commission said that as opportunities for illicit profits have multiplied, "the number, resources and ingenuity of violators seeking to capitalize upon these opportunities have likewise multiplied."

F-R Board Pinched Own Credit Line

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Federal Reserve Board reported that it fell victim to its own easy credit policy last year.

It said that the sharp drop in interest rates it engineered in the first half of the year to stimulate spending by business and consumers, plus higher operating costs, reduced 1958 earnings of the 12 Federal Reserve banks to 604 million dollars.

This total represented a drop of 27 million dollars from 1957.

The bank's income is derived from holdings of U. S. government securities and from loans to commercial banks which belong to the Federal Reserve System.

GEORGE B. CASTER, President

His money is working for him in a Dade Federal Insured Savings Account . . .

This man has the right idea. He has a Dade Federal Savings Account and he has added to it regularly for years. When his children are ready for college his savings will provide for their education.

In the meantime, his money is working hard for him. It's earning excellent returns even while he's having fun at home. And he knows his money is safe — it's insured to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Why not get the Dade Federal Savings habit. NOW, IS THE TIME . . . start going places in '59!

DADE FEDERAL SAVINGS ACCOUNTS OPENED OR FUNDS ADDED TO ACCOUNTS BY JANUARY 10th CAN SHARE IN A FULL YEAR'S EARNINGS NEXT DECEMBER 31st.

Downturn Follows 7 Records

NEW YORK — (AP) — The bull market in stocks paused long enough to be shorn of some of its huge gains Wednesday. Trading was heavy.

Though some losses were sharp, the market was not subjected to panicky selling. Some vigorous profit taking occurred, however.

The retreat followed seven successive moves to record highs and was generally expected in Wall Street as a wholesome corrective step in the day-to-day advance.

Steels, motors, rails and chemicals paced the downturn after an indecisive start. Some fairly sharp losses were shown by rubbers, electronics, drugs, electrical equipments, airlines and oils. Most coppers advanced. Utilities were ahead slightly on average.

The Dow Jones industrial average fell 8.22 to 583.15.

Among new highs was American Telephone which rose about 5 points in early trading but kept a net gain of only 2⅜. Haveg was ahead around 5 at the start and closed with a net loss of 1 7-8. U.S. Steel stumbled to a loss of 3⅛.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally lower on volume of 1,660,000 shares compared with 1,570,000 Tuesday.

I NEVER KNEW AIR REDUCTION WAS SO DIVERSIFIED

Discovery of Goodbody Research helps investor

Air Reduction is not only expanding output of its major products, it is also working with a new synthetic fiber which could be an important competitor for nylon and rayon. I learned this from Goodbody & Co.'s new report on Air Reduction, which the Goodbody analysts call "an outstanding growth chemical stock," with substantially better earnings estimated for next year. The report says that Air Reduction is planning to increase its spending for plant expansion next year. I also learned from this report that only 6% of Air Reduction's sales last year went to the steel industry, which means that its earnings don't swing with steel sales. According to Goodbody's Creative Research report, the company's change into a profitable, diversified chemical operation should bring with it greater investor recognition of the stock's growth potential. They recommend it as an undervalued chemical at current prices. Their report is available to investors without cost or obligation. For your copy, use the coupon below.

Miami Jewry Told of Needs

Jewish Appeal Pleads For $2 Million in '60

By HENDRIK BERNS
Herald Staff Writer

Greater Miami Jewry was told Wednesday night that it must raise more than two million dollars this year to finance 40 different Jewish agencies in the U.S. as well as the needs of the state of Israel.

The occasion was a gathering of close to 4,000 members of the Jewish community for the opening of the 1959 Combined Jewish Appeal in the Miami Beach Auditorium.

The audience, sprinkled with dignitaries from all walks of life, was also told that this campaign goal is 25 per cent above the 1958 total because of the needs of Jewry, particularly the terrible conditions affecting Jews behind the Iron Curtain who are seeking freedom.

Guest speakers at the opening assembly were the Hon. Barnett Janner, member of the British Parliament and president of the Lionist Federation of Great Britain and Ireland, and Leon Uris, author of "Battle Cry" and the recent best-seller, "Exodus."

Janner stressed that the Jews of Great Britain began to campaign for a Jewish homeland as long as 19 years ago, and that they have continued to rally behind the state of Israel.

Uris, whose latest book deals with the flight of European Jews to Israel and the birth of the state of Israel, discussed his experiences on the soil of the modern Jewish democracy.

Stanley C. Myers, president of the Greater Miami Jewish Federation, which is responsible for the fund drive, was chairman for the evening.

The Cantors' chorus and the A Capella choir of Miami Beach High School participated in the program.

It's Only Diamonds, Dahling

Eva Not Crying Over Lost Gems

Actress Eva Gabor lost a $25,000 diamond bracelet in Miami Beach last weekend, but was out nightclubbing unconcernedly by the time police arrived.

EVA

AROUND MIAMI

With Mama Jolie, Eva bunked out for the New Year's weekend at the fashionable Eden Roc Hotel.

On Saturday evening she and her escort, Textile Manufacturer Richard Brown, left a small private party in Suite 1A, went down the elevator and walked into the Mona Lisa Room.

The tables were jammed, so they waited at the bar and then danced.

Later when she and Mama came back from a powder room, Eva noticed her arm was bare.

Gone was a $25,000 bracelet.

They retraced their steps, but found nothing.

By the time Detectives Walt Sternberg and Edward Patton arrived, Eva was off for a show at the Carillon.

In their report, the officers dutifully noted Miss Gabor had not been comparing her jewels with anyone.

They listed it as a loss — not a robbery.

Room Gutted

Flames gutted a room in the tightly closed house of Mrs. Vera A. Cordero Thursday. She is secretary to Port Director George McSherry.

Chief M. E. Couch estimated damage to the house at 267 NW 41st Ave. at $4,000. He said further damage was averted because the house was closed, and flames could not get oxygen.

Googolplex Gets a Blow To Legal Solar Plexus

The googolplex, gobbledygook used by land speculators to describe an infinitesimal piece of property, was declared illegal Wednesday in a court decision based partly on when a nine-year-old boy was born.

Circuit Judge Robert H. Anderson ordered cancellation of a googolplex tax certificate held by R. K. Branch on the property of Attorney Leslie C. Rome, of 120 Shore Dr. West, Bay Heights.

Branch bought the lien on Rome's home last year, but paid only for a googolplex — a legally described shred of the property which Judge Anderson said was "too small to bury a toothpick in."

Judge Anderson found that the tax lien on the whole lot was cleared when the certificate was sold, and that Branch got only the right to a deed if the owner didn't pay taxes after two years.

Judge Anderson said records show the term googolplex is attributed to the then nine-year-old nephew of mathematician Dr. Edward Kasner, who used it in a book in 1940.

Since the child wasn't born when Florida statutes were adopted in 1925, said Judge Anderson in a 10-page decision, googolplexes cannot be recognized.

The ruling could have a far-reaching effect on tax certificate sales in which speculators collect interest on liens they buy.

Eastern Nearly Back At Its Peak

Eastern Air Lines increased its flights to and from Miami to 136 Wednesday and announced that by Monday it will be at full winter-time peak again following the 38-day strike.

The airline's 68 daily flights to Miami now provide some 5,000 seats. By Monday, the airline expects to increase the total to 13,000 available seats.

Eastern's 10 new prop-jet Electras, which carry 72 passengers and fly to New York in three hours and 15 minutes, will be put into service for the first time Monday.

The airline said that a dispute over a new contract with its flight attendants will go into mediation soon, and that there is no immediate strike threat from stewards and stewardesses.

A strike threat by the Airline Agents Association against National Airlines is also being held up pending outcome of a federal mediator's attempts to bring agreement in a dispute over firing of an employe in New York.

League Pledge

MOSCOW —(AP)— The Young Communist League at a recent meeting pledged to devote all its energies to helping the Soviet Union outstrip the U.S. in per capita output of meat, milk and butter, the Tass News Agency said Wednesday.

Jobless Pay Claims Set Record

Due mostly to the 38-day Eastern Air Lines strike, unemployment compensation claims in the Miami area soared in December to the highest level in the history of the Florida State Employment Service.

Harry Tyson, director of the service's industrial office here, said a total of 47,981 claims were filed for the month.

Some 3,000 were filed by strike-idled EAL workers, mostly clerical employes.

Flight engineers and machinists were denied unemployment compensation, but the status of stewards and stewardesses has yet to be determined.

Tyson said engineers and machinists were ineligible because their interests in the strike were direct.

Beach High Construction Bidding OKd

The Dade School Board voted Wednesday to advertise for bids on the construction of Miami Beach's new high school.

But board members agreed to buy title insurance to protect the board against loss of the controversial site at Dade Blvd. and Prairie Ave. Beach taxpayers are contesting sale of the city-owned 20 acres to the school board.

The insurance will protect the board against losses up to 1.5 million dollars.

Board members voted to let Miami Beach collect the $175,000 purchase price held in escrow sicne last August.

The new school is expected to be ready for use by February, 1960.

Dulles Back on Job

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was back at his desk in the State Department Wednesday after a bout with a virus infection. Aides said "he's feeling fine."

On Her List?

Mrs. Fred Ravlin, chairman of house-to-house United Fund volunteers, holds some of the 10,000 cards representing Dade UF contributors of last year who have not given to the fund this year during the current drive. The list holds a potential $120,000 in donations. Canvassers will begin calling on Greater Miamians who were missed in the house-to-house drive.

Palatial Home Awaits Ousted Cuban President and Family

Batista's Pink Mansion Now an Armed Camp

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

DAYTONA BEACH — Even a dog couldn't get into Fulgencio Batista's home to play with the ousted Cuban dictator's children.

Heavily armed city policemen block every entrance to Batista's sumptuous pink stucco estate on the Halifax River.

"Nobody gets in here unless the people inside want to see him," a guard told me politely.

Gen. Batista, 129 N. Halifax Ave., is listed in the Daytona Beach phone book, so I called to ask about the general and to request entrance.

"I'm sorry, sir, we aren't allowed to say anything," said an unidentified voice at the other end of the line.

Batista is in the Dominican Republic—and nobody seems to know when he'll come here. But two of his children are here, and so are 17 members of his household staff, including his personal secretary, Mrs. Carmen Garmero.

Mrs. Garmero let three persons in Tuesday, a telephone repair man, Daytona Beach Police Chief Oscar Folsom, and Ben Brass, Batista's Daytona Beach attorney, the man who arranged for the guard.

Each was escorted in and out by a uniformed off-duty Daytona Beach policeman, who carried a carbine, or a riot gun, plus a service revolver.

Delivery trucks were allowed to enter the locked gates, but the drivers were shooed away before servants unloaded the trucks. A cab driver was told to sit firmly in his cab when he came to pick up a maid.

The only information about the inmates of the house came from Brass.

"There are 19 persons in there," he said. "The children are General Batista's son, Fulgencio Jr. . . . he's about eight . . . and a 17-month old daughter . . . I don't know her name."

Neither of the children got outdoors Tuesday.

Only one staff member, a maid, took the air. She didn't respond to a "good morning" or a Spanish "Buenas Dias."

Brass said the Daytona Beach refugees came here via New Orleans Saturday.

Asked whether Batista himself is planning to come here, Brass and Chief Folsom said they had "no information."

Brass said he requested the guards because, "Latin-Americans are excitable people."

The eight men on guard duty are paid $2.50 an hour each, Chief Folsom said. The city of Daytona Beach bills Batista and then pays the men.

Each works an eight-hour trick. This means the guards cost the ex-Cuban president $160 per day. Folsom said the payment was being handled through city channels only to assure compensation insurance coverage for the men while on guard.

Folsom has gone all out with precautions. At least two guards constantly watch all the estate entrances, including the Halifax River dock. At night floodlights illuminate the grounds.

Batista's American hideaway is an enormous Spanish style structure which he bought from R. E. Olds, the automobile tycoon. It's in a once fashionable section of Daytona Beach and includes a boathouse, boat docks, swimming pool and impeccably trimmed grounds.

Next door is another mansion, which Batista presented the city in 1946 as a Cuban museum. It's still a museum and the Cuban flag flies at its door, but the place was closed Tuesday.

Police had to shoo away several carloads of Cubans when the museum opened in 1946, but the guards at the Batista home have reported no incidents.

Closest thing to an incident they've seen came Monday night, when a local teenage boy brandished an air rifle at the guards.

"That was a damn fool thing to do," said Patrolmen Ed Biondi and Tom Grasso, Tuesday's guards.

New Surgical Technique Told

Surgeon Patches Up Worn-Out Arteries

By MIKE MORGAN
Herald Staff Writer

A New York City surgeon says Americans "are eating themselves into a national case of hardening of the arteries."

It's all because most of us insist upon eating too much rich, fatty foods.

Now maybe we can get artificial arteries for our worn out ones.

Thus says weight-watcher Dr. Gerald H. Pratt of the New York University of Medicine, who decries the high incidence of hardening of the arteries in this country.

Dr. Pratt is one of the men who is developing a remarkable operation by which surgeons can replace diseased sections of artery with a piece of artificial artery.

As he says: "Now many people who have outlived their arteries can replace parts of them and go on . . ."

Dr. Pratt, attended the Southeastern Regional Conference of the International College of Surgeons which ended at the Americana Hotel Wednesday.

He explained the operation as one wherein a synthetic, cloth-like material called Teflon, is used to replace the diseased sections of artery.

There is a method for artery replacement which makes use of sections of healthy artery, but this is difficult to obtain and there is no ready source.

Said Dr. Pratt, "We have tried this operation on more than 40 people. It offers great hope in many instances toward saving legs, and often lives.

"It opens up clogged blood supplies where diseased arteries had shut off the flow of blood."

The doctor reported that hardening of the arteries is a condition prevalent in men over 40.

Beach Lops Tax Bills Of Jitneys

A generous Miami Beach city council Wednesday chopped $12,836 off back tax bills owed by two jitney companies.

Bills totaling $21,683 was cut down to $8,847 on the recommendation of City Manager Norris N. Lipp.

He said jitneys were necessary on the Beach and that they would probably go broke if they had to pay full tax bills.

But the council voted to require each jitney to pay a $50-a-year license fee, something that has gone neglected in the past.

The companies involved are Twin City Transit Co. and Venetian Sedan Service, Inc.

By a vote of 5 to 2, Council lowered the base tax rate from 4 to 1 per cent. Councilmen Bernard Frank and D. Lee Powell were against it.

'Loophole' Man Faces 5-Yr. Term

Miami Beach police are enjoying a quiet chuckle today at the expense of Babe Shargaa — Florida's legal loophole sharpie.

He's finally going to jail — for passing rubber checks.

Convicted of issuing a $100 worthless check on Miami Beach in 1954, the one-time Fort Lauderdale mortgage broker boasted that his three-month jail sentence would "never stick." It didn't.

Like the two dozen other charges he had evaded in 19 years, Shargaa beat the jail term by petitions, appeals and governor's reprieves.

However, Criminal Court Judge Louis Weissing in Fort Lauderdale has signed commitment papers for Shargaa to begin a five-year stretch on a 1956 bad check charge.

Boasting to the end, Shargaa vowed: "I'll get another reprieve . . . you watch."

Gripe Trips Wanted Man

His public gripes about treatment in a Cuban jail led a 30-year-old Miami visitor into a U.S. jail Thursday.

He was wanted in Akron, Ohio, on bad check charges, and police were waiting there when he arrived.

Police said that detail apparently slipped Jonathan J. Graham's mind when he was telling newsmen his troubles here last week.

Miami police said they also want Graham on bad check charges, but that he slipped through Miami before they knew he was here.

Graham had said he and others were held for months in Havana jail with no charges against them.

He escaped, he said, during rioting on New Year's day following the revolution's successful ending.

Metro Police Sue on Exam

Twenty-two Metro Safety Department police investigators filed a Circuit Court suit Wednesday to bar newcomers from a scheduled Jan. 15 sergeant's promotion examination.

They say the examination had been set for last Dec. 12 for investigators who had "permanent status" as of Jan. 5, 1957. When newer employes objected, the exam was changed to next Thursday for investigators with "permanent status" as of then.

Octavus Roy Cohen
. . . $80,000 a year

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Octavus Roy Cohen, who wrote 1,100 short stories, many of them featuring the engaging Florian Slappey, is dead following a stroke. He was 67.

Cohen was a prolific writer, turning out 66 novels, six plays and numerous radio and motion picture scripts in addition to his short stories.

He recently told an interviewer he earned between $80,000 and $100,000 a year for 35 years from writing. Yet he started out to be an engineer and tried newspaper reporting and law before writing his first story.

Cohen was born in Charleston, S.C., in 1891. He was graduated from Clemson College with an engineering degree in 1909, but went into newspaper work instead. He worked for papers in Charleston, Birmingham, Ala.; Bayonne, N.J., and Newark, N.J.

His father was a lawyer and judge and young Cohen decided to go home and read law in his office. He was admitted to practice in South Carolina in 1913.

He tried his hand at writing short stories on the side and accumulated 136 rejection slips before selling his first story to a magazine for $25. That was in 1915, and from then on Cohen devoted himself exclusively to writing.

He made his biggest success with his dialect stores about Florian Slappey and other Negro characters. Most of the stories appeared in The Saturday Evening Post.

Cohen came to Los Angeles in 1945 and until his death worked on movie and television scripts. He suffered a stroke Monday and died in UCLA Medical Center without regaining consciousness.

William G. Holloway, 72, Shipping Magnate

OLD WESTBURY, N.Y. — (AP) — William Grace Holloway, 72, honorary board chairman of W. R. Grace and Co., died Wednesday at his home.

In tribute, Grace Line ships at sea and in ports throughout the world were ordered to fly their flags at half mast.

Holloway, grandson of the founder of the Grace Line, retired in 1955 after 10 years as chairman of the board of Grace and Co. He was influential in developing Grace interests in Latin America.

A native of San Francisco, he joined Grace and Co. on graduation from Harvard in 1908.

He was an active sportsman and polo player and for many years was acting mayor of this village. He also maintained a winter home at Jupiter Island, Fla.

Man Hit by Car Is 'Satisfactory'

A 67-year-old Philadelphia man who was struck by a car at Miami Beach was reported in satisfactory condition at Mount Sinai Hospital Wednesday night.

Charles Amsterdam was hit while crossing Collins Ave. in front of the Algiers Hotel, where he was staying. Amsterdam, a winter visitor here, is not the father of television and night club comedian Morey Amsterdam, as was reported Tuesday by The Herald.

DIVORCE RUNS IN FAMILIES!

DO YOUR LIKES AND DISLIKES REVEAL YOUR PERSONALITY?
YES ☐ NO ☐
3.
CAN RACIAL PREJUDICE CUT PRODUCTION?
YES ☐ NO ☐

By S. M. DUVALL and EVELAN M. DUVALL, Ph.Ds

TRUE, IT CERTAINLY does. Sociologist Judson Lewis is recently made a careful study of divorce patterns in three generations, represented by nearly 2,000 university students. He found that those who came from homes in which parents, grandparents, and uncles and aunts divorced frequently, were most likely to divorce themselves. Furthermore they tended to date and marry those who, like themselves, had come from broken homes. These findings confirm a number of other studies.

2 Yes. Your personality is the sum total of your tendencies to respond to all sorts of situations, people, and things. Your likes reveal the aspects of life that you are drawn to and respond positively toward. Your dislikes are those things that repel you and bring about your negative response. See what you like and you'll see what you are.

3. Yes. In a number of studies, certain national groups hve felt that they and their friends should have a monopoly on certain kinds of jobs, and have forced members of other groups out, thus greatly harming production. In other cases where members of other racial groups have been accepted by the employees, production has remained high and, in some instances, has been increased.

HERE'S ONE that you'd better circle with your red pencil because it's the best 1958 BUICK Riviera 2-door HARDTOP buy in Florida today. From it's gleaming front end through the good looking two-tone Frost White over Gulf Aqua finish it's completely factory original. Of course the beautiful interior with its Naugahyde door panels, Naugahyde and Nylon seats, floor mats and headliner is factory original too. It's equipment includes Buick's smooth Dynaflow transmission, clock, directional signals, the big Buick SONOMATIC "8" tube push button radio and a special set of U.S. Royal "Safety 8" white wall tires. In fact the spare tire has never been on the ground. Bring the whole family with you and take this smooth performing beauty for a long test drive. You'll buy it if you do. 1957 PREFECT
$995

NO. THAT'S not a mistake in the price. We're actually going to sell our 1957 ENGLISH FORD 4-door PREFECT for only $995. It's finished in beautiful original Gainesbrough Blue. The interior including the washable Naugahyde door panels and floor mats is factory original — and the seats have a very expensive set of Naugahyde custom tailored to fit seat covers. Of course the Goodyear tubeless white wall tires are in A-1 condition too. Here's your chance to have your cake and eat it too, because this popular model English Ford that will give you up to 35 miles per gallon of gas mileage is priced way below the going market value. You'll make part of the payments with the gas money saved. Come prepared to do business because you'll buy it if you do. No cash needed — Just trade in your 1952 model for the down payment.

THAT'S right. We want the one person in the Miami area that appreciates the unusual in a fine automobile because that is the only proper description that will fit our 1957 LINCOLN PREMIERE 4 door LANDOU HARDTOP with a smart rear and contintal tire mount finished in chrome. It is in absolute NEW CAR condition from the ground up and of course completely factory original. The Starmist White finish is complimented by a truly gorgeous interior finished in genuine leather and doeskin on door panels, headliner and seats with thick pile floor carpeting that would do justice to your living room.

AND talk about equipment — POWER STEERING — POWER BRAKES — POWER WINDOWS — 6 WAY POWER SEAT. Automatic transmission, the special TOWN and COUNTRY radio that finds its own stations, automatically with dual front and rear seat speakers, power antenna. Lincoln's Magic Air thermostat dual control heating and fresh air system. E.Z. eye Solex tinted glass and of course special white wall tires that are in top condition. It even has an inside control to adjust the fender mounted rear view mirror.

IF YOU'RE the one person in Miami that can appreciate the extra value in a fine automobile such as this one is—ask anyone of our courteous salesmen to show you Miami's finest Lincoln.

LIFE WITH LARRY THOMPSON

Tree Must Come Down

THAT CHRISTMAS tree has to come down some time. I realize that, and I keep telling my wife that I realize it. I wish she'd quit nagging about it. I take the tree down every year, don't I?

It is true that we're usually the last ones in town to get the Yuletide timber out of the front room.

Last year I was driven to it when the needles began to shed. The rug was ankle-deep in pine needles before I finally got the tree out of there.

So far, though, our balsam fir is holding up right well. I always hate to take down a Christmas tree while it's still in one piece. Besides, our children want to leave it up.

But I'm going to remove that tree from our premises this weekend, especially if my wife takes off the decorations.

If I don't get around to it this week, I'll sure do it next week.

I can't have that Christmas tree there on the Fourth of July.

* * *

SPEAKING OF CHRISTMAS TREES, I think they know when the Christmas season is ended.

As I said, our tree is in pretty good shape. But spiritually, it is down at the heels.

Before Christmas and for the rest of the holiday season, it glittered and glowed and smiled and beamed, and was happy.

But now, even though it still is green and even though the trimmings remain festooned among its branches, the tree looks tired and a little embarrassed, as though it feels out of place.

Before, it was the Christmas spirit. Now it's just a dead tree, preserved with the embalming fluid of a pot of water at its base.

* * *

SO MANY CIRCUSES are coming to town that it will be a pity if any kid doesn't get to see at least one of them.

I shy away from press agent products, but I'm a sucker for circuses and am taken in by a couple of offerings.

ITEM ONE: "Dr. J. Y. Henderson, a veteran of 17 years with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus, which pulls into Miami Beach Exhibition Hall Jan. 23, has done everything from setting a tiger's broken jaw to writing a book which has been translated into 17 languages."

ITEM TWO: "For 10 days starting Friday, strange sounds will be heard in the vicinity of the old Miami Country Club grounds at NW 12th Ave. and 14th St. They will be produced by the 78-year-old steam calliope owned by Christiani Bros. Circus.

NOTHING SO TIRED LOOKING AS AN OLD CHRISTMAS TREE!

"The old tooter has been in use continually since it was built in 1880. It has toured with such shows as Sells-Floto, Hagenbeck-Wallace, John Robinson's Ten Big Shows, Al G. Barnes and Howe's Greater London Shows. It served for 11 years on Mississippi River steamboats.

"The calliope is played by 72-year-old Les Bartlett, who has been playing it for 49 years. He is partially deaf—an occupational affliction. Asked if the thing ever gets out of hand, Les says: 'I doubt if it ever was in tune, but it's always the same.'"

* * *

I LIKE THAT QUOTE of Mr. Bartlett, who obviously has not fallen in love with his instrument in 49 years of constant association. I guess he's right about a calliope never being in tune, but those old machines have an exhilarating appeal. Possibly it's because I associate them with circus parades when I was a kid, but a calliope makes my blood circulate a little faster.

Maybe a calliope has some distant relationship to a bag pipe.

Nobody in his right mind would say that a bag pipe is melodious, but when a bunch of those squeeze bags start to shrill together, they'll make your red corpuscles play leap frog.

* * *

MR. F. WOOD, Keystone Point, North Miami, has a Pet Peeve. He thinks that waste cans should be provided at all bus stop benches. He's so hepped up on the subject that he thinks people who toss papers and debris on the landscape at a bus stop ought to be fined $5 to $10.

Jack Kofoed Says

Gambling Headache To All Concerned

ROULETTE or crap tables without customers are unprofitable as an empty night club. For awhile, which means indefinitely, gambling paraphenalia in Havana's swank casinos will be covered.

Millions of American dollars are invested in new hotels there, and those hotels would not have been built without assurance that games of chance could run wide open.

If there's anything an old pro can't stand, it is lack of action.

Quite a few people in Greater Miami want to see casino gambling here. Impresarios would like nothing better than to start high play on the Beach.

Dan Sullivan, operating head of the Crime Commission, warns that a strong and well financed drive to turn this desire into fact will be made in the near future.

There are two avenues of approach. One is to get such gambling legalized. If that fails, illegal casinos might be winked at, as they were in the past.

★ ★ ★

THE CHANCE of legislative approval is thin as a razor blade's edge. In the bawdy days of the 30s and 40s fabulous bribes were paid for "protection."

Those who'd like to reopen the business would be happy to greatly increase this so called "ice money."

Defiance of the law in the past was successful, because the public was either in favor of gambling, or indifferent to it. Only the influx of big time racketeers, and disclosures of the Kefauver Committee, caused the community to about-face.

Some people insist craps and roulette would be a wonderful shot in the arm for the tourist industry. A good many more, while admitting this possibility, don't believe the stimulation would be worth the price.

NO ILLEGAL enterprise can flourish without the connivance of police, and more important, that of elected officials. Public opinion being what it is, few office holders would take a chance on tying in with an illegal casino setup.

Dan Sullivan is unquestionably right in predicting that a big scale effort will be made, first for legalization, or failing that, a return to "liberal" policies. There doesn't seem to be any likelihood either effort will succeed.

The luckiest men in the business were such legitimate operators as Wilbur Clark, who has the Desert Inn and Stardust in Las Vegas. Clark opened the casino in Havana's Hotel Nacional. Nevada ruled that Las Vegans could choose between their lush spots, and the then tempting fields of Havana.

They could have one, but not the other. So, Clark sold out in Havana.

Miami Beach has no ambitions to become another Las Vegas. We'll do all right with no more gambling than the pari-mutuel type available now. Those hopeful of upsetting the apple cart will save a great deal of money and stave off countless headaches if they realize that.

★ ★ ★

SOMEONE, or some organization, picked an all-star, all-time major league team made up of players who had attended college. The pitchers selected were Christy Mathewson of Bucknell; Robin Roberts of Michigan State, and Ted Lyons, of Baylor. No one denies the rare skill of these men, but obviously the selectors made only a cursory excursion into baseball history.

They neglected to name a left hander to their mythical hurling staff. They didn't give even a nod to Eddie Plank of Gettysburg, and Eppa Rixey of Virginia, both regarded by real experts as among the best southpaws in baseball history. That's like making a list of the most sensational strip teasers of all time, and not mentioning Lady Godiva.

★ ★ ★

PETER LIND HAYES and Mary Healey are not only two of the most talented people in show business, but seem equally successful as parents. They are friendly, generous, uninhibited, the nicest imaginable folks to be around. I've never played golf with a guy who could chip the ball as close to the pin as consistently as Peter can.

On one point I find myself in slight disagreement with Mr. Hayes. He said the modern ideas of being pals with one's children is strictly for the birds.

Peter stressed the fact that he wanted to be a father, not a cotton picking pal with his boys, and that, by the Lord Harry, was that!

There is a middle ground Peter apparently has not explored.

I'll buy his distaste of kids calling parents by their first names, and his belief that if pop is too buddy-buddy, he won't be able to enforce discipline.

I think we had pretty good discipline in our house, but I played golf with Bill, and took him on trips to Mexico, Cuba, Jamaica, Nassau, and other places.

Our boy didn't take advantage of this to pull the old equality deal. I was the boss, and he knew it, but we had plenty of fun together.

Now, that he's grown up, and has a family of his own, we continue our golfing forays.

There is no occasion to pull on the disciplinary reins, for he walks alone now.

But, I think Bill respects me as a father, and likes me as a friend, which, in my book, is the ideal relationship between father and son.

Spotlighting Sports

JIMMY BURNS

Herald Sports Editor

Co-operation is a wonderful thing, a good example being the Sunshine Sailing Regatta coming up Saturday and Sunday . . . It was made possible by combined efforts of three yacht clubs. — Biscayne Bay, Commodore Lockwood (Woody) Pirie; Miami, Commodore Jack Griffin and Coconut Grove, Commodore James Eaton.

FSU Should Consider Moss; City May Raise OB Fee to $750

Tabloiding the field of sports:

—A RECOMMENDATION that a minimum fee of $750 be set for football games at the Orange Bowl will be made to the Stadium Advisory Board, Public Welfare Director James Hilton says . . . The present charge is $300, although it costs $650 to open the stadium, Hilton reports . . . He plans to fix up Miami Stadium and make it available to prep elevens for a $250 minimum. Main purpose is to reduce number of games in the OB and save the turf, which had to be dyed green for the New Year's game.

NUGENT

—Hilton is also interested in more revenue from Miami Stadium, which will be used for a Roller Derby, Jan. 19-31 . . . This will enrich the city by at least $2,500.

HALE

—Numerous nominations are being made for a possible successor to Tom Nugent as Florida State University's football coach . . . The powers that be would do well to consider Perry Moss, former UM backfield coach, now at Wisconsin . . . He's familiar with the football situation in Florida.

—Bruce Hale's Hurricane basketball team will shoot the works against Toronto at the Miami Beach auditorium tonight in an effort to retain its top scoring average (88.5) per game in the nation . . . Ron Godfrey and Harry Manushaw have regained their health and the UM quintet will be in better shape than it was for the recent tournament . . . Hale thinks tiny Dick Hickox is the most colorful Hurricane basketball player since Whitie Campbell.

Tropical Hopes to Hold Lead

—Tropical Park through Tuesday was up $438,702 (1.06 per cent) in betting over last season, despite being down one per cent in attendance . . . General Manager Elmer Vickers hopes the 15,296 crowd of last year will be topped for the $50,000 Handicap Saturday . . . Tropical's all-time betting high of $1,405,074 was set Handicap day in 1958.

—Coconut Grove's cement tennis courts need some work, says Les Simmonds, who says he is among those giving the courts heavy play during the week . . . I thought Les was a "golfer" . . . Anyway, I'm sure Recreation Director Ernie Doering will see that the lines are filled in, and that the nets are repaired.

—Miami's International Boat show, Feb. 20-25, will be bigger and better than ever, says President Harry Santana. The Show association with Peggy F. Leyshon as executive director does an excellent job.

—If there are any swimming fans in the audience, they'll be interested in an event Saturday at 2 o'clock in the Veteran Hospital's pool at Coral Gables. Led by Jack Nelson, former Olympic ace, the Hurricanes swim against Florida . . . There is no admission charge.

Memo to Larry Thompson

IT WILL shock Larry Thompson to know that a lot of people thoroughly enjoyed Ernie Seiler's Orange Bowl halftime show.

Bing Devine, Cardinal general manager, saw the extravaganza New Year's afternoon and carried his children to see the repeat performance.

"Devine was so enthused, he wants to arrange for one of the St. Louis high school bands to appear here next year," said Joe Ryan, Marlin general manager. Bing's daughter, Joanne, wants to ride on one of the OB parade floats."

Fan Disagrees with Spink

The Mailbag

A SUGGESTION made recently by J. G. Taylor Spink, Sporting News publisher, in this corner that baseball should add color to its All-Star game and World Series inspired objections by Robert O. Sinclaire, 333 Seaspray Ave., Palm Beach.

"Could you imagine anything being added to the World Series by some of the hocus-pocus associated with the college football games, especially the last two editions of the Series?" Sinclaire writes. "I think the so-called glamor can be quite well kept away from the professional sport, or do we never grow up?"

Sinclaire suggested a football innovation of his own, adding, "I think that one of the best rules that could be adopted, and which would be followed by spectacular results, would be to make an incomplete forward pass anybody's ball if knocked down by an opposing player. Can you imagine the long runs that would result? It would be quite risky to simply bat the ball down, and anything could happen afterward."

COMMENT: It sure could, Mr. Sinclaire and there'd be a lot of argument over whether the opposing player first knocked the ball down.

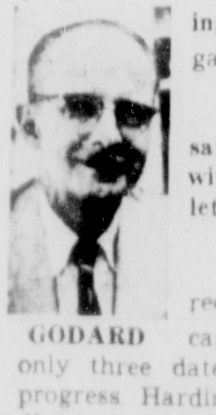
UM Seeks AF in '60-62

DURING THE NCAA and coaches' meetings now in progress at Cincinnati, UM Athletic Director Jack Harding hopes to sign Air Force for football games with the Hurricanes in 1960-62.



GODARD

"We've had some preliminary talks," said Harding before leaving for Cincinnati with Dr. James Godard of the faculty athletic committee.

Harding will talk to other athletic directors about future games, but the Hurricane schedule is complete for 1961 and only three dates are open in 1962. This reflects the progress Harding, one of the most respected athletic directors, has made in scheduling games in advance.

3 'Named' Hopefuls

FSU List: Moss...And Many More

TALLAHASSEE —(UPI)— Three "established" college football coaches applied Wednesday for the vacant head coaching job at Florida State University, but officials refused to name them.

"It would not be fair to call any names," President Robert M. Strozier told newsmen. But other sources said the applicants reportedly included Marcelino Huerta, head coach at the University of Tampa, and Perry Moss, backfield coach at Wisconsin and former assistant at the University of Miami.

MOSS

The third man was understood to be a "very prominent" coach.

"I told them all to send their credentials to the FSU athletic committee which will make the decision," Strozier said. He has been bombarded with recommendations, some from as far away as Oakland, Calif., since Tom Nugent quit Tuesday to head up the coaching staff at the University of Maryland.

Strozier said he has received no "feelers" from ousted Notre Dame Coach Terry Brennan or Otto Graham, former star for the professional Cleveland Browns, whose names headed the list in early speculation.

He said it is "highly unlikely" the Athletic Committee will come up with a nomination for the Board of Control meeting here Jan. 16.

The University is anxious to get a coach as soon as possible, he said, but will not be pressured into too hasty action. "No one will be hired without a personal interview and all that takes time," he said.

There is some need for haste since spring training begins in mid-February, particularly if Nugent takes some of his FSU coaching staff to Maryland and his successor has to get a staff together.

Board of Control Chairman James Love of Quincy said if the matter is not ready for the January meeting, the board will be ready to act "by telephone, if necessary", when the committee and Strozier have agreed on a man.

Gov. Leroy Collins urged fans and officials not to let enthusiasm and a long list of big names carry them away. He said the committee, headed by Dean Mode Stone, will find the best man possible and "I hope we do not get so excited that we muddy the water."

Both Strozier and Love said FSU has no plans to substantially jack-up the coaching salary to attract a big name, although it probably would go to $14,000 as recommended for Nugent in the new budget.

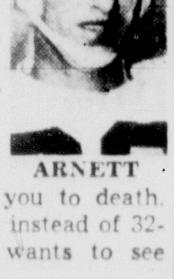
The list of "possibles", in addition to Brennan and Graham, include Huerta, Moss, Hank Foldberg, line coach at the University of Florida, Paul Amen, Wake Forest coach, and Charles La Pradd, assistant at FSU.

'Too Conservative'

Gator Bowl 'Choked' Jon Arnett

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— College football coaches are getting too conservative to suit Jon Arnett. He says too much ball control is ruining the game.

The star halfback for the Los Angeles Rams, currently training for the Pro Bowl game here Sunday, expressed his views in an interview with Sports Editor Sid Ziff of the Mirror News.



ARNETT

"I don't believe in that ball control type of football," Arnett said. "That conservative stuff bores you to death. You can win, 7-6, instead of 32-30, and nobody wants to see you play.

"Did you see that?" he asked. "Mississippi was ahead by four points in the first quarter and kicked on first down." Arnett said it chocked him.

Albie Pearson

Duren AL Runnerup

Pearson Voted Top Rookie

BOSTON —(AP)— Little Albie Pearson of the Washington Senators Wednesday was named American League 1958 Rookie of the Year by an overwhelming margin.

The 23-year-old center fielder, one of baseball's smallest competitors at 5-6, 160 pounds, polled 14 of 24 votes in balloting conducted by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

PEARSON

Ryne Duren, New York Yankee fireball relief specialist drew seven votes while Righthander Gary Bell of the Cleveland Indians recieved three.

The voting was by three baseball writers in each of the eight American League cities.

Pearson, traded by the Boston Red Sox with Norm Zauchin to Washington last January for Pete Runnels, hit .275 in his freshman major league season.

In 146 games he went to bat 530 times, scored 63 runs, connected for 146 hits and 190 total bases.

He had 25 doubles, five triples, three homers and 33 runs batted in.

A resident of West Covina, Calif., Pearson bats and throws left.

He was called up by the Red Sox after the 1957 season after a sensational minor league career in which he never hit less than .300.

Duren, in helping pitch the Yankees into the World Series, compiled a gaudy 2.01 earned run average in his 44 appearances. His overall record was six victories and four losses but he saved many games which do not show in cold figures.

SCORE

In his 76 innings he gave up only four home runs, walked only 43 and fanned 87 batters.

Bell worked in 33 games for the Indians, winning 12 and losing 10. Bell struck out 110 and walked 73 in the 182 innings he pitched. He had a 3.31 earned run average.

Pearson is the first Washington player to win rookie honors since the award's inception in 1949. Past winners were Roy Sievers with the St. Louis Browns in '49 followed by Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees, Harry Byrd of the Philadelphia Athletics, Harvey Kuenn of Detroit, Bob Grim of the Yankees, Herb Score of Cleveland, Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox and Tony Kubek of New York.

Pearson began his pro career with San Jose of the California league in 1953. He played in five more minor leagues before the Red Sox grabbed him from their San Francisco (PCL) farm after the 1957 campaign. His best minor league year was in 1956 when he led the Texas League in batting with .371.

2-Year Probation

USC Caught Again

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The University of Southern California Wednesday was placed on two-year probation, effective immediately, in a disciplinary action by the NCAA Council. The Council said USC was guilty of offering "improper inducements" to two student athletes.

CLARK

It was a case of out-of-the-frying-pan-into-the-fire for Southern Cal which had hoped to be removed from a two-year probation levied against the institution Nov. 13, 1956.

The new action by the Council, meeting here at the 53rd annual NCAA convention, means:

1. During the first year of the new probationary period USC will be ineligible to enter athletes or teams in any NCAA championship event or any of the invitational and like events which cooperate with the NCAA. There are 15 championship events and 28 cooperative events, including all the major bowl games.

2. Southern Cal's teams will not be eligible to participate in any television programs under control of the NCAA and the institution cannot make any TV commitments for future dates until removed from probation.

3. Any violation of NCAA

Cabana Boy

7-Foot Cage Ace McCoy Lands Job

Seven-foot Mike McCoy, the controversial basketball player from Ft. Wayne, Ind., went to work Wednesday as a cabana boy at the Shelborne Hotel on Miami Beach.

McCoy quit Northwestern University last week and came to Miami with the intention of enrolling at UM.

Jack Harding, UM athletic director, said he will not decide what to do in the case until he has talked to Stu Holcomb, Northwestern athletic chief.

UM is not permitted to give McCoy financial aid or let him live on the campus until he has been admitted and registered. The new semester begins Feb. 4.

Why Won't Floyd Fight 'Big Boys'? Londoners Ask

By Herald Wire Services

Some would say Alice's Wonderland has nothing on the curiouser and curiouser business of world heavyweight boxing.

Floyd Patterson has defended his title only three times since winning it in November, 1956, and London boxing writers just can't figure out why.

Desmond Hackett of the London Daily Express Wednesday directed a public question to Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato.

"Why didn't you sign up the recognized No. 1 challenger, Ingemar Johansson, when the Swatting Swede was in New York in November for that purpose?

"Is D'Amato scared of letting pampered, protected Patterson get out and play with the big boys?"

Peter Wilson of the London Daily Mirror put it this way:

"The heavyweight championship has become a kind of bauble which is locked away in a safe deposit by someone who can't afford adequate insurance for it—in this case a fighting champion."

THE COMEBACK of the Year, according to an Associated Press poll of sportswriters and sportscasters, was made by the New York Yankees on the green turf of Milwaukee's County Stadium where they won the World Series.

Fangio Ready

JUAN MANUEL FANGIO, retired world auto racing champion, said he would be ready to go to Cuba—where he was kidnaped last year—if he gets an official invitation.

A newspaper in Havana linked with Cuba's new revolutionary regime earlier Wednesday invited Fangio back to the city. It said he could see the new Cuba since Dictator Fulgencio Batista fled and Fidel Castro's Rebels took over.

THE LOS ANGELES Dodgers announced the club will play 60 night dates, a record high for the major Leagues, in the 1959 baseball season.

Over Holly Mims

Wild-Swinging Boyd Earns Split Decision

The lanky 25-year-old Boyd, unranked now but in 1956 a No. 1 middleweight contender, hit his 30-year-old foe with everything but his knees in the free-wheeling televised bout in Chicago Stadium.

The fight progressed mainly along the ropes, both men rubbing along them enough to get back burns.

Mims, rated the No. 7 contender by the National Boxing Association, and No. 4 by Ring Magazine, absorbed his second loss to the Chicagoan. Boyd beat him in the same ring in 1956 and they fought to a draw a year ago in Miami Beach.

Judge Harold Marovitz scored it 47-46 for Mims on the five-point must system. The others had it for Boyd, Judge Jim McManus by 47-43 and Referee Joey White by 47-44. The Associated Press favored Boyd by 47-46.

Mims, whose mouth bled freely from the fifth round on, finished up the way he started. In the first round he staggered Boyd with a left hook, but failed to follow up. The Chicagoan, who has been knocked out six times, regained his balance as Mims was content to clinch.

In the 10th, Mims again landed a solid left and then a fine combination that rocked Boyd. But again, Mims could not follow through as Boyd flailed his long arms and jumped around like a kangaroo on a hot seat.

In between the first and last rounds, the referee worked as hard as the fighters in trying to keep them apart. Mims spent most of the time on the ropes, either being driven there by his windmilling opponent or pushed there by bull-like charges.

Mims got in the best blows, what there were of them, with rights and lefts out of a crouch. Boyd threw shots willy-nilly, but not once did he come close to a kayo. Mims never has been knocked out.

EDWIN POPE

A Ringside Seat For the Big Fight

The mutuels clerk was cashing $2 quinlela tickets when the drunk came weaving into the line and plopped down two tickets bearing the winning number.

At $18.60 per ticket, the payoff was $37.20. The clerk took a long look at his customer, flurried up a handful of bills and change, and laid $18.60 before the drunk. The drunk scooped up the money and staggered off.

The clerk allowed himself a small smile as he pinched off the corner of the cashed ticket and slid it into a box with others alrady cashed. He poked the uncashed ticket under the counter.

Then he looked again. The smile faded. Both tickets were for previous races, and utterly worthless.

The clerk was out $18.60.

He opened his mouth to yell, then shrugged.

Very little surprises a mutuels clerk.

EVERY EMOTION from ecstasy to despair parades before the mutuels clerk. He hears more confessions than a priest, more complaints than a football coach, more pleas than the Salvation Army, more tips than a stock-broker, more crackpot ideas than the U.S. patent office.

Strangers believe the mutuels clerk has an inside line to every kennel or stable on the track. They insist on advice and are baffled and outraged when they lose money on it.

A little old lady brandished her last $2 and pestered one clerk for a selection so long that he picked out the worst-looking horse in the race just to get rid of her. The horse won and paid $67. He gave her another horse he thought had no chance. It won, and she had $600.

Betting the clerk's choices, she ran the bankroll to $800. The clerk advised her to bet $400 on a 6-5 choice in the last race. It lost on the last jump but she still was $400 to the good.

She rushed back to the window screaming, "You crook! Cheat! Dirty tout! I ought to report you to the track management!"

★ ★ ★

A MUTUELS CLERK can be a cynic but never a grouch. Patience is his stock in trade. He learns to keep a poker face while a man fishes in his pocket for $2 in change and a dozen people behind him in the line fidget in mortal fear they will be denied a chance to lose their money.

The clerk knows that people in silk suits always count their change but people with holes in their shoes never do. He knows it's safer to cash a $100 check than one for $10.

He needs a heart of iron to punch out a ticket when he's sure it's the last $2 the customer has — and a nerve of steel to cash $500 in winning tickets when he wonders where his own next rent payment is coming from.

No matter how much money the clerk handles, he never quite manages to dehumanize it, or separate it from his own financial situation.

★ ★ ★

IT IS a strenuous job but never boring. The mutuels clerk seldom quits.

If he's interested in people, he's got the best seat in the house.

Hurricanes Host Toronto Tonight

By LUTHER EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

University of Miami's worth-seeing basketball team, finalist in two pre-New Year's tournaments and No. 1 scoring unit in the nation, goes international tonight.

The Hurricanes, with three sophomores in their starting lineup and three more on the bench, entertain the University of Toronto at 8:45 in Beach Auditorium.

Actually, it doesn't figure to be too entertaining an evening for the touring Canadians.

They already have dropped four games to state quintets — Jacksonville U., 57-50; Stetson, 74-53; Florida Southern, 69-66, and Rollins, 77-67.

Miami's sophs mauled Southern, 107-80, earlier in the season despite the losers attempting to freeze the ball to keep the score "down." They also surpassed 100 points in routing Rollins.

Bruce Hale's hustlers, averaging 88.5 points, will be in quest of their seventh victory in 11 games.

Toronto's chances of denying their hosts suffered a blow when John Dacyshyn, one of their taller athletes, injured an ankle in a recent workout.

His loss leaves the Hurricanes with a marked edge in height, prime factor in their routing Tulane and carrying Miami (Ohio) into overtime in the Hurricane Classic finals before surrendering, 87-85.

Miami's 1-2 rebounders, Sophomores Harry Manushaw and Ron Godfrey, have shaken off ailments that plagued them during the Hurricane Classic.

Manushaw, 6-7 center, has picked off 144 rebounds while Godfrey, 6-4 forward, has made 114 retrieves.

In addition, the agile Godfrey is second only to Fellow-Sophomore Dick Hickox in scoring with a 16.1 average.

Hickox, a 5-6 guard who has to be seen to be appreciated, has averaged 18.1 points, plus leading the Hurricanes in playmaking.

Completing Miami's starting quintet will be Joe Gardner, steady senior guard with a 15.1 average, and Junior Forward Norm Nebel, used mainly for spot duty heretofore.

The visitors, first Canadian cagers ever to appear locally, bank on a quick-moving four-man weave with Center Rollitt Goldring keying the change-off plays.

Until talented Memphis State jumped the Canadians for 96 points, they had restricted foes to a 65-point average.

They're likely to throw up a zone defense against the Halemen. If the UM marksmen are hot, it won't help much. Except for Manushaw, all the starters can hit from outside.

The 7 p.m. preliminary matches Gene Stage's freshmen, unbeaten in two seasons against so-so competition, with a Miami Beach High five that figures to get a lesson in scoring.

Probable starting lineups:

MIAMI	POS.	TORONTO
Godfrey 6-4	F	Patterson 6-3
Nebel 6-4	F	Norman 6-1
Manushaw 6-7	C	Goldring 6-5
Gardner 6-1	G	Richman 5-10
Hickox 5-6	G	Lipke 6-1

Branch Rickey's View:

What? Me Move Dodgers? Never!

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— Branch Rickey Sr. said Wednesday that, if he had been head man at Brooklyn, the Dodgers would have never moved to Los Angeles.

Rickey, board chairman of the Pittsburgh Pirates and former general manager at Brooklyn, expressed his views in reply to a letter from Sports Editor Al Abrams of the Pittsburgh Post Gazette.

RICKEY

"If I had owned every cent of the Brooklyn franchise, I would never have moved it," said Rickey. "We were making big profits, corporation-wise, when I left Brooklyn and the club continued to make increasing profits.

"The Brooklyn Dodgers were an integral part of Brooklyn itself, almost traditionally so. In fact, I could never have become involved in a conversation about moving the team."

NCAA Gives Blessing

Don Fuell Enrolls At Miss. Southern

HATTIESBURG, Miss. —(UPI)— Football star Don Fuell, the center of Auburn's recruiting troubles, registered Wednesday at Mississippi Southern college for the winter quarter.

Head Football Coach Thad (Pie) Vann said he would be a candidate for the 1959 Southern team in spring practice. His registration and acceptance of a grant-in-aid athletic scholarship was announced after National Collegiate Athletic Association Head Walter Byers ruled in Cincinnati he could play for Mississippi Southern, an independent team.

FUELL

Fuell, 20, quarterback, was barred from Southeastern Conference athletics for life for allegedly accepting inducements to enroll at Auburn and Auburn was placed on three years NCAA probation. Southern plays Auburn next fall.

The sophomore paid a visit to the University of Nebraska campus last fall after appealing the SEC ruling to the courts but decided to return to Auburn as a student.

Fuell denied the charges that he accepted a boat, an air conditioner and an apartment for himself, his wife and baby to enter Auburn, a Southeastern Conference football powerhouse. Circuit Judge J. Russell McElroy ruled in Birmingham that the court had no jurisdiction over college athletic programs.

During the 1957 season Fuell was top quarterback on the Auburn freshman team but was banned from playing before the 1958 season got underway.

Geoffrion Still Leads

MONTREAL —(AP)— Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion of the Montreal Canadiens continued to set the pace in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race. But Don McKenney of Boston has taken over the lead in goals.

McKenney collected four goals in four games last week, giving him 22 tallies for the season. Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers and Dickie Moore of the Canadiens have 21 each.

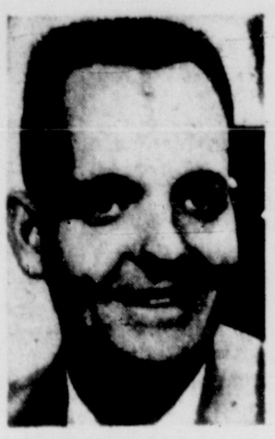
Just Don't Go Overboard

4-Pound Line Fine-- Except for 1 Pitfall

Except for the presence of one major pitfall, I would gladly go on record right now as advising all spin fishermen to devote much more time to the use of very light tackle — four-pound test line.



DUNAWAY

The one pitfall — be careful to guard against it — lies in going overboard on the flimsy stuff, as I did.

Entranced by the handling ease, long casts and the sheer novelty, I have been given to picking up the light outfit under conditions in which I had no business doing so. You can't hope to gain any results with four-pound around mangroves, or from high places, or in rough water and strong currents.

However, if used with restraint, four-pound line can easily double anyone's enjoyment of spinning, in salt water as well as fresh. As a matter of fact, the Florida angler will find more uses for four-pound in the briny than on a river or lake because freshwater fish seldom roam far from weeds or snags that can pop light lines in an instant.

Many salt water spin fishermen have avoided going too light in ocean or bay, reasoning that salt water fish grow big. Sure they grow big, but how many monsters are hooked? I'd say that at least two-thirds of all South Florida catches are composed of fish in the one-to-three pound class.

So long as the bulk of our catch is predestined to be on the smallish side, might as well make them seem big by using lighter gear.

* * *

PERFECT PREY for four-pound line are such lightweight battlers as trout, ladyfish, mackerel, bluefish, blue runners, jack and snapper. All of these usually are taken under conditions entirely suited to threadline.

On the other hand, you needn't be backward about chasing bigger game with four-pound test, but be sure to give yourself the advantage of wide-open water and a responsive boat.

One of the most appealing aspects of light spinning is the opportunity to use tiny lures, like one-eighth or even one-sixteenth ounce bucktails. These often will coax strikes from the wariest mackerel or snapper.

This type of fishing is also full of surprises, for the small lures will drag up dozens of fish that are not ordinarily considered strikers of artificials. Some of these are grunts, sailor's choice, blowfish, catfish and croakers. Not exactly prize species, but an interesting angling experience.

* * *

ANYONE WHO plans on using four-pound-test regularly should look into the purchase of an outfit designed specifically for light lines. I have been using a matched Ted Williams outfit, 300 reel and 106 rod. The whole rig weighs something like 11 ounces — less than an average spinning reel alone. You can cast it all day without the slightest fatigue.

FISHING
. . . with Vic Dunaway

If you don't figure on enough fishing to make an extra outfit worthwhile, you still might like to adapt your present spinning tackle for occasional light use.

Get an extra spool for your regular reel and load it with four-pound test. Two hundred yards should be plenty. Since most reels will hold much more than that, you can save money by backing the spool with heavier line and adding the four-pound stuff on top of it. Then the backing need never be replaced.

Use your four-pound line with the lightest rod you can get hold of.

You'll be ready to cash in on the extra bonus of fishing pleasure available in Florida to threadline devotees.

NCAA Raps USC Again For 2 Years requirements during the period of probation will be considered by the Council as cause for recommending USC's expulsion from NCAA membership.

As usual, names of the athletes were not disclosed. However, the Council said they were football players now in school to whom Southern Cal had offered air transportation beyond that permitted by the NCAA code. Coach Don Clark had no comment.

Southern Cal was in violation of Article Six, Section One of the NCAA by-laws when it provided one prospective student athlete air transportation to Los Angeles during the summer of 1957 for the purpose of enrolling him at a junior college, the Council said.

Ed Moylan Net Victor

TAMPA — (AP) — The top-seeded men's and women's singles players captured victories Wednesday in the Dixie International tennis tournament here, but two of the rated men stars fell by the wayside.

Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N.J., seeded No. 1 in men's singles, defeated Tim Cawthorn of Australia, 6-2, 6-4.

Mrs. Laura Lou Kunnen of Clearwater, rated No. 1 in women's singles, routed Karol Gagliano of Miami, 6-0, 6-1.

Middies Torpedo Gettysburg, 59-42

ANAPOLIS, Md. — (AP) — Navy's fast-breaking basketball team pulled away from Gettysburg early in the game Wednesday, but had to stop a Bullet rally before earning a a 59-42 victory behind sharpshooting Dick Brown.

Dillard Rolls, 66-28

Johnny Burke pumped in 19 points as Dillard High of Ft. Lauderdale routed North Dade, 66-28, in a basketball game at the losers' gymnasium Wednesday night. Dillard also won the B-game, 31-19.

St. Pat Rally Wins, 60-41

St. Patrick's, down 6-18 after the first quarter, ripped back to whip Christopher Columbus, 60-41, in a high school basketball game Wednesday night.

Richie DiMare, who scored 12 points in the second half, and John Murray, who hit 15 over the last two quarters, led the comeback surge. DiMare

The Horse Loveman Likes, He Buys

Fast-Appearing Check Doesn't Signify a Loser

D. E. Loveman
. . . horses bought here

CRAMER THORNBURG

By RUSS HARRIS
Herald Turf Writer

Ordinarily, when you see a man at the race track pullling out his checkbook, you figure he's having a bad day and needs extra funds. This is not necessarily true.

Especially if the fellow happens to be D. E. Loveman, the Cleveland steel man.

Some of Loveman's friends were surprised to see him in the winner's circle after a filly named Flameyed won the first race last Friday at Tropical Park.

"Hey, that's not your horse," somebody yelled.

It was Loveman's horse. He had purchased Flameyed, along with two of her stablemates, 30 minutes before post time.

When Loveman sees a horse he likes, he buys.

Flameyed's score in the second race Wednesday at Tropical Park was her second tally for Loveman, although it was the first time she actually carried his light blue and pink colors. Two wins in one start — better than perfect!

Loveman got into the owner's end of racing "on a lark" five years ago. The first horse he bought, a filly named In Honor, turned a somersault and injured herself seriously in her first race for Loveman.

Loveman was not easily discouraged. He had the veterinarians patch up In Honor and began his own breeding establishment with her.

Then he went out and bought some more horses.

Loveman's best runner, Sunningdale, has been given a rest, but will be ready for the grass events at Hialeah and Gulfstream Park. The Ohioan also is very high on Beechmont, a three-year-old who won a sprint here last Saturday and will be getting a trial over a distance of ground shortly.

Among the good claimers in the Loveman barn are Legal Larceny, Barina, Hot Coffee, Could Be It and Depth Play.

Perhaps Loveman's best fortune on the turf was his meeting with Trainer Bobby Cramer of St. Louis.

A veteran of nearly 20 years in the business, Cramer gave up his public stable three years ago and began training exclusively for Loveman.

Last summer the two added Jockey Buck Thornburg to their "team" and became the "Big Three" on the Ohio circuit. They were leading owner, trainer and rider, respectively, at Thistle Down and took down second honors in each field at Randall Park.

The trio has won seven times in 30 tries here at Tropical, putting Loveman and Cramer near the top in the owner and trainer standings. Thornburg, with 10 wins, is pretty far down in the jockey list.

"That's because Buck isn't getting as many choice mounts as he should," said Al Hudson, former University of Miami football star and now Thornburg's agent. "He's a top-notch rider but this is his first time here and the horsemen don't know him well."

NUMO, Calumet Farm's top hope in the sophomore classics, makes his third Tropical start today in the featured seventh race. Chief opposition for the 3-year-old, who has finished fourth and fifth in previous Tropical starts, includes Pryson and Master Palynch.

FLIGHT HISTORY, under a smart ride by Bobby Ussery, accounted for the featured seventh race Wednesday before a mid-week turnout of 9,475.

Flight History ducked to the rail to move to favored Whittledy Cut at the head of the stretch, and the pair raced head and head until 70 yards from the finish. There Flight History got up to win by a neck.

Whittledy Cut, with Bill Hartack up, led the longshot Paris All by two lengths for second money.

Pulled Stomach Muscle

Olmedo Shrugs Off Injury, Advances

PERTH —(AP)— The recurrence of an old injury Wednesday gave Alex Olmedo a scare, but the young Peruvian has decided to continue his bid for the singles and doubles titles in the Western Australian Tennis Championships.

"I will play," Olmedo said after examination of a pulled stomach muscle proved to be of no serious nature. "I still have pain there, but I can swing a racket okay."

Unknown to the crowd, the 22-year-old stylist from the land of the Incas injured the muscle in the first set of a match with Australia's top-seeded Rod Laver, but he gritted his teeth and persevered to a five-set victory. The score was 6-2, 6-3, 4-6, 3-6, 6-3.

He was joined in the semi-finals by two of his American Davis Cup teammates—Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz—and a highly regarded young Spaniard, Andres Gimeno.

MacKay, playing the best tennis he has shown on the present campaign, smashed Ulf Schmidt of Sweden, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

Buchholz, 18-year-old junior, beat 17-year-old Spaniard Luis Arilla in a weird match marked by angry tantrums and bickering with officials. The score was 7-5, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5.

Gimeno toyed with Australian Tony Ryan, 6-2, 6-4, 7-5.

FLEET ARGO sent along outside when ready on leaving backstretch, wore down leaders on second turn and was sharply roused to turn back ICEMAN. Latter loomed menacingly along outside through upper stretch but was not quite good enough. ROB ROY II found his best stride too late. WAY-LADY tired after making a mild rally on final bend. ANOTHER WAR lost all chances when squeezed back on leaving backstretch.

DAINTY'S REVOKED gained a position at once, moved to fore when ready on final bend along outside, responded to pressure in stretch and just lasted over ROYAL BIRTH. Latter came wide following a sluggish beginning to make his belated bid and just missed. CHENDZOD went evenly. HONEST DOC was used up in vying for early lead. TROJAN QUEST, steadied while in close quarters entering first turn, continued wide thereafter and could not threaten. OSOFLEET was ordered excused upon arriving in the paddock while running a temperature.

SCRATCHES: Osofleet.

TILE SON sprinted to lead at once, raced slightly wide throughout and just lasted in a stiff drive. DESTINY UNKNOWN lacked early speed, came from between horses in late stages, was blocked momentarily in midstretch, rallied when clear and just missed. VULCHER had no apparent mishap in an even effort. SHORT PAUSE was never a factor. BEST FLIGHT broke tardily.

Miami Fronton

Francisco Leads TV Cesta Play

Fourth in the series of televised (Channel 10) Jai Alai doubles matches will pit Francisco and Guarita against Solana and Churruca tonight at the Miami Fronton starting at 7 p.m.

Francisco, with 19 victories in the season's first 20 nights, trails only Solana in the race for the most games won trophy.

Solana has been the stick-out of the first month's action. He has displayed outstanding consistency while appearing in every game except the ninth.

Nancy Donovan Trophy Race

Hollywood Topper Pits Two In One With Bud Jack

The hot rivalry between Mrs. Lillian Ryan's stretch-running Bud Jack and the quick-starting Teddy Meadows racer, Two In One, continues tonight at Hollywood Kennel Club.

Twice this season Two In One has stopped Bud Jack's victory streaks. He whipped Bud by stealing a lead in the early running and staving off the powerhouse stretch rush of the Ryan star.

Tonight, Bud Jack makes a second attempt to score victory No. 5. The 69-pound greyhound goes to the post with Two In One in the featured ninth race, the Nancy Donovan Trophy event. It will be contested over the Hollywood course.

Entered with the pair is Runyonese, which will be going for three in a row, and Pictureman, another last-out victor. Others in the field include Fedo and a pair of quick starters, Andato and LaVeon.

How Alike Favored At Beach

Fay's Fayzie, Essential, Perfect Zip and Rock Harbor, recent victims of How Alike, will get the opportunity to even the score when they clash in tonight's featured eighth race at the Miami Beach Kennel Club.

A fifth dog that could take the major end of the purse is Get Happy, a four length winner in his latest start against Grade A rivals.

Canadian Pacific is making another start at the meeting in the ninth race also for Grade A greyhounds over the Smith Course.

In two previous efforts Canadian Pacific failed to show to his best advantage. He will face two strong contenders in Big Lon and Lincoln Road, recent winners over Grade B fields.

The Voter Heads Field At Flagler

Voter's Choice and Secret Session head two star fields in tonight's twin 5-16th mile Flagler features.

The Voter, one of greyhound racing's all-time greats, has compiled a season total of seven victories, including his second Gold Collar championship, and 14 money finishes in 19 outings.

The ninth event features a battle between the season's top winner and two of the fastest greyhounds now running. Gold Coast's fine Secret Session, boasting eight victories, will try for his second in a row against Madame Harmony and Mister Etchen.

For Carter, You

Smooth Release Pays Off

By BILLY SIXTY

Because he's big and strong, Don Carter has a style that wouldn't be suitable for many bowlers. He goes into a crouch as he takes his first (of four) step. He uses little of the push-away recommended for bowlers. Instead, he gets a piston type of motion by breaking his elbow.

As the illustration shows, however, he releases the ball with a slight push and lift of the arm. The lift helps impart spin action (by the fingers) to the ball and slight push gives him ball control.

Carter's technique may not be for you, especially if you lack his size, strength and large hands. But you can learn an important lesson by studying his finish at the foul line, shown in the sketch.

His arm is brought up smoothly and gently, no frantic twisting or jerking at the time of release. The result is a sharp and powerful hook that "spills" the pins and also one that he keeps under firm control.

Another point worth noting in Carter's technique is that his hand position is maintained throughout the delivery—with thumb pointing straight ahead and fingers well under the ball throughout.

Registration Fees Set for 200,000 Motorboats

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The governor's committee on water safety and access Wednesday set proposed registration fees for more than 200,000 motorboats which the state will be asked to license this year.

The committee, studying a tentative draft of a state boating code which will be submitted to the April session of the legislature, put all motor boats into four classifications for the purpose of license-registration fees.

Class A boats, those less than 16 feet long, will cost $5.25 to register. Boats 16 feet or over, but less than 26 feet will cost $7.25, those 26 feet to 40 feet will cost $9.25 and those more than 40 feet will cost $11.25.

Twenty five cents from each fee will go to the agent making the registration.

The code will also contain minimum safety equipment required for all motor boats using state waters, and operating laws for such craft. Not included under the proposed act were boats already numbered by the federal government, government owned boats, ship's lifeboats and boats from other countries.

It does, however, include all motorboats rented by fish camps or like businesses. And the code also provides for registration numbers for demonstrator models operated by dealers.

Ordinarily once a boat, whether inboard or outboard, receives a number, that number remains with the boat. In the case of the dealer, however, he will be issued numbers in his own name which may be shifted from boat to boat.

The committee proposed that the cabinet board of conservation administer the new program, which would be enforced by the game and fish commission, the conservation department and local authorites.

Chairman H. R. Wilber of DeLand estimated 200,000 to 400,000 motorboats in Florida would be affected by the code, which requires registration of all vessels "propelled by machinery," and prohibits the operation of unnumbered boats.

JUICY, PLUMP

Fresh Berries Are Back

By Jeanne Voltz
Herald Homemaking Editor

Plump, fresh strawberries in late December or January are proof of Florida's famous spring-in-January weather.

While their northern sisters concentrate on hearty, hot foods for wintery days, Florida homemakers can enjoy one of spring's luscious treasures.

Strawberries add color and sweet flavor to fruit cups. They are especially good with fresh orange sections as a breakfast surprise or simple supper dessert.

You'll make shortcakes, of course. Under the picture is a recipe for real old-fashioned biscuit-type shortcake.

Take your pick of two spreads. The jam is uncooked and made with bottled pectin. The preserve recipe is an old one, used for a generation or more.

Fresh strawberries and whipped cream make a handsome frosting for a cake. An angel cake made from a mix gets the strawberry frosting in the picture.

An enchanting array of desserts are made from fresh strawberries.

They can be simple, like strawberries with sour cream and brown sugar. They can be sophisticated, like a French Strawberry Tart.

Another pastry, strawberry and lemon pie, is sweetly tangy. And you can make it strawberry and lime, if you have limes on your dooryard tree.

For a cool, refreshing dessert guests or family will go for Frosted Strawberry-Pineapple Cup.

Strawberries and Sour Cream

1 quart fresh strawberries
¾ cup sour cream
¼ cup brown sugar

Wash and cap strawberries. Pile into dessert dishes. Top each serving with 2 tablespoons sour cream and 2 teaspoons brown sugar. Makes 6 servings.

French Strawberry Tart

1 cup sifted flour
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup butter or margarine
1 egg yolk
2 to 3 tablespoons water
2 8-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons grated lemon rind
6 tablespoons lemon juice
1 quart fresh strawberries
1 cup strawberry preserves
2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup water

Combine flour, ¼ cup sugar and salt. Cut in butter. Add egg yolk and 2 to 3 tablespoons water. Mix lightly. Press into ball. Roll out ¼ inch thick on lightly floured board. Press over bottom and sides of outside of 9-inch layer cake pan. Prick well. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) 15 minutes. Cool.

Combine cream cheese, lemon rind, 3 tablespoons lemon juice and ¼ cup sugar. Mix well. Spread cream cheese mixture in bottom of pastry shell. Top with washed and hulled strawberries. Combine strawberry preserves, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, cornstarch and ½ cup water. Cook over low heat until thickened and clear, stirring constantly. Cool. Pour over strawberries. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Strawberry Lemon Pie

3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup sugar
⅓ cup lemon or lime juice
2 teaspoons grated lemon or lime rind
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 9-inch unbaked pie shell
½ cup nonfat dry milk crystals
½ cup ice water
2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice
1 pint fresh strawberries, sliced

Combine eggs, ¾ cup sugar, ⅓ cup lemon juice, rind and butter. Mix well. Turn into pastry shell. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) 1 hour or until lightly browned. Cool.

Mix dry milk with ice water. Whip until soft peaks form, 3 to 4 minutes. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Continue beating until stiff peaks form, 3 to 4 minutes longer. Add ¼ cup sugar to whipped milk. Arrange strawberries and whipped milk over lemon mixture. Garnish with more strawberries if wished. Serve at once.

Frosted Strawberry-Pineapple Cup

1½ cups fresh pineapple wedges
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice
6 to 8 scoops orange or lemon ice
2 cups sliced fresh strawberries

Combine pineapple wedges, sugar and lemon juice. Chill 3 to 4 hours or overnight.

Fill sherbet glasses with alternating layers of the pineapple mixture and sliced strawberries, having pineapple at the bottom layer and strawberries for the top. Top each serving with a scoop of orange or lemon ice or sherbet. Garnish with a whole, uncapped strawberry. Serve at once. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Juicy, Fresh Strawberries for Shortcakes, Jam and Pretty Pink Frosting for Party Cake

Festive Strawberry Desserts

The argument has been heated ever since two cooks learned to serve strawberries in shortcakes, I suppose.

Should shortcake have plain or whipped cream? The shortcakes in the picture are topped with a puff of whipped cream. If you like plain cream, a pink tinged pool around the base of the shortcake, that's up to you.

A few whole berries, their green caps left on, adorn the base of the handsome whipped cream frosted cake. The berries are sliced almost through and fanned out for a nice effect.

The strawberry jam in the picture is uncooked for a fresh picked flavor. This jam must be kept in the freezer or, for just two or three weeks storage, in the refrigerator.

The preserves can be jarred and sealed now to use anytime during the year. And of course, these preserves will keep on a cupboard shelf.

For a final glamorous dessert, try Strawberry Tulip Loaf. It is a breeze to make, but is garnished with whipped cream and marshmallows for a good looking party dessert.

Individual Strawberry Shortcakes

2 cups sifted cake flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
5 tablespoons shortening
3 tablespoons milk
1 egg, well beaten
2 quarts fresh strawberries, sliced and sweetened

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar and sift again. Cut in shortening until consistency of coarse corn meal. Add milk and egg and stir until soft dough is formed.

Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 20 times. Roll ¼ inch thick and cut with floured 3-inch biscuit cutter. Place half the circles on ungreased baking sheets, brush with melted butter and top with remaining circles. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) 12 minutes or until done.

To serve, separate hot shortcakes and place berries between layers and on top of each shortcake. Garnish with whipped or plain cream. Makes 7 generous shortcakes.

Lemon Whipped Cream Angel Cake

1 package lemon chip angel food mix
1½ cups sliced fresh strawberries
⅓ cup sugar (or to taste)
1½ cups heavy cream

Prepare angel cake mix as directed on package, baking in ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Cook cake as directed.

Meanwhile combine strawberries and sugar. Let stand 15 minutes. Then whip cream and fold in berries. Pile on cake. Decorate with a few whole berries, cut in fan shape. Serve at once or refrigerate until served.

Uncooked Strawberry Jam

3 cups prepared fruit (about 1½ quarts ripe strawberries)
6 cups sugar
2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

Crush completely, one layer at a time, about 1½ quarts fully ripe strawberries. Add sugar and lemon juice. Stir until sugar is dissolved, about 3 minutes. (There may be a few remaining sugar crystals.) Stir in liquid pectin quickly, but thoroughly.

Ladle quickly into glasses or freezer containers. Cover at once with tight lids or seals. Let stand 24 hours. Then store in freezer. Or if jam is to be used within 2 or 3 weeks it may be stored in refrigerator. Makes about 9 medium glasses.

Strawberry Preserves

2 quarts fresh strawberries
Boiling water
6 cups sugar

Cap and wash strawberries. Drain. Cover with boiling water. Let stand 2 minutes. Drain.

Add 4 cups sugar to berries. Bring to a boil and cook 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Allow to stop cooking. Add 2 more cups sugar. Bring to a boil again. Cook 7 minutes.

Pour into shallow enamel pans (base of your broiler pan can be used). Let stand overnight in cool oven or at room temperature with wax paper or foil cover. Without reheating pour preserves into jars. Seal with hot paraffin.

Strawberry Tulip Loaf

1 package strawberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
2 cups halved fresh strawberries
⅓ cup sugar
6 marshmallows, finely cut (if desired)
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Combine strawberries and sugar and let stand 10 minutes.

Place slightly thickened gelatin in bowl of ice and water. Whip with rotary beater until fluffy and thick. Fold in strawberries, marshmallows and whipped cream. Spoon into loaf pan. Chill until firm. Unmold and slice to serve. Makes 12 servings.

To garnish, whip ½ cup heavy cream. Spoon over top of loaf, making two rows of small puffs. Top each puff with a strawberry slice. Split 4 marshmallows to make 8 circular halves. Using small, sharp knife, cut each marshmallow half into the shape of a tulip. Mount 4 "tulips" on each side of loaf at base and garnish with mint leaves.

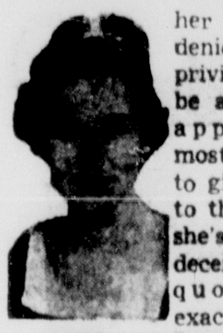
Get Character Witnesses

There Are Ways To Smash 'Frame'

By ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm so mad at you I can't see straight. You said in a column the other day a woman who loses custody of her child and is denied visiting privileges must be a pretty bad apple because most courts try to give the child to the mother if she's half way decent. I am not quoting you exactly because I can't find the cockeyed column, but that was the general idea.



ANN

You're plenty naive if you don't know that a sharp lawyer or a fixed judge can get a child away from a perfectly good mother. I'm an authority on this subject because it happened to me.

My husband's family had plenty of money and they framed me. They produced phony witnesses who swore I was no good. I didn't know who these people were, but they seemed to know a lot about me.

I suggest you send for the spoon that's sitting in the Philadelphia publisher's office, and eat your words. I hope this straightens you out and that you now get the picture.

FRAMED

I got the picture but I doubt that you got the frame. If you are such a living doll where were your character witnesses? A clergyman, a doctor or a kind neighbor could have smashed the "phony" testimony to bits.

Your lawyer knows the court hasn't lost jurisdiction of your minor child. If you can present evidence that you are a fit mother, the court can always change the decision. Work along these lines if you feel an injustice has been done.

* * *

DEAR ANN: We've been married four years. My husband's first wife died in childbirth. I married him when his little girl was only eight months old.

We now have two children of our own. We never told my husband's child that I'm not her blood mother. She has the same coloring as the other children and they are alike in many ways.

My husband feels we should tell the girl about her mother now that she's almost of school age. I'm afraid the news might be a terrible emotional shock to her. My motto is, "What they don't know can't hurt 'em." May I have your thinking on this vital problem?

RAMONA

Your motto is merely a collection of words. What people don't know often hurts them a great deal.

Children should grow up with the knowledge that they are adopted or stepchildren. When the notion is planted early there is no emotional shock. It becomes an integral part of their thinking.

If you attempt to keep this information from the child, someone out of the dim past will give her the real news one day and then it will come a real emotional shock. She'll feel betrayed and her confidence in you will be shattered.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Miami Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

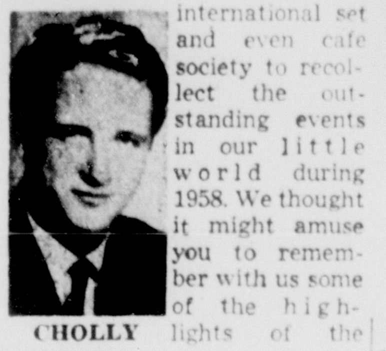
Looking Back on the Social Set's Year: Gail and Her Pop Both Took the Plunge

By Cholly Knickerbocker



CHOLLY

GAIL WHITNEY

MARY HOSFORD

NEW YORK—It happened in '58: As the New Year baby makes his entrance, it behooves Cholly to look over society, the international set and even cafe society to recollect the outstanding events in our little world during 1958. We thought it might amuse you to remember with us some of the highlights of the past year:

Old 1958 had hardly gotten started when blonde Gail Whitney broke her troth to Dick Cowell — then wed him after all less than two weeks later. Gail is the daughter of Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney.

Very soon afterward, her father was marrying for the fourth time after securing a Nevada divorce that was only four hours old. His new bride was Mary Lou Hosford (ex-wife of a Phoneix insurance exec) and in New York, his old bride, Eleanor Searle, claimed he was still legally hers.

A much-debated, big-figure settlement cleared up the matter but in the end Mr. Whitney found himself out of the Social Register. However, those in the know say he asked to be omitted.

ALY KHAN took up his post as Pakistan's Ambassador to the U.N. and did a great job of working seriously at it. He also broke off his romance with Bettina, took up with society cover girl Virginia Taylor and continued his long-time duet with Elsa Maxwell . . . Deb Cary Latimer broke her engagement to wealthy young Texan Bob Sheerin.

In late January, railroad tycoon Robert Young killed himself in his Palm Beach home in one of 1958's most heart-rending tragedies . . . One of the world's wealthiest women, Mrs. Marjorie Merriweather Post Davies, became Mrs. Herbert May at the age of 71.

Sports Car Racer Philip Schell surprised Palm Beachites when he gave up his long-time status as Dolly O'Brien's perennial house guest to marry Elizabeth Schaefer Chester, a Texas belle.

Thirty-five days later, Liz sent Philip one of the costliest "Dear John" wires in history and their marriage was off and on again as press agents played background music. It finally was off altogether, including off the front pages, to everyone's relief.

Well Named

MANSFIELD, O. —(UPI)— Widowville, on a country road east of here, received its name because so many women widowed by the Civil War settled there.

Keeping Up to Date

What Ever Became of . . .

HARRY HOOPER—the hard-hitting Chicago White Sox outfielder who came from the Boston Red Sox to help the Chicago team rebuild after the "Black Sox" scandal? Hooper spent 17 years in the American League, compiling a .281 lifetime batting average and bagging 2,466 hits. Although Hooper was a favorite at Boston from 1909 to 1920, he had his best batting years with the White Sox—.327 in 1921 and 328 in 1924.

Now 71, Hooper lives in Capitola, Calif. He has been postmaster there for many years.

Armor-Clad Cavalrymen Ready for Korean Reds

By KEYES BEECH
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

WITH THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION IN KOREA — One moment they were ordinary American GI's going about ordinary chores. Then someone shouted "Exercise Harry" and they burst into frenzied activity.

Speedy, lightly armored tanks coughed to life. Men leaped into moving jeeps and began stripping the covers off light machine guns. Other men loped off after their packs and came racing back to take up positions alongside the tanks.

In a few minutes they were out of sight around the bend.

Lt. Col. Burton B. Chandler of Mount Vernon, Va., commander of the First Reconaissance Squadron, Ninth Cavalry Regiment, looked at his watch and grunted:

"Pretty good — but not good enough. It took them 14 minutes to get away."

From where he stood it was only 12½ miles to Communist-held Kaesong north of the 2½-mile wide Korean truce zone.

Chandler said:

"If they come they'll come down that valley. They could be here in 40 minutes. It's the business of this squadron to stop them. That's why we're constantly having drills like this.

"Every man in the squadron must have his gear packed and ready to move out at a moment's notice. That includes weapons, rations and tents. We're self-sufficient in ammunition and could fight for two days or more without replenishment, depending of course on the nature of the fighting.

"The Communists may never come, but they could come any minute. That's what gives some of the boys ulcers — wondering if we'll be ready."

Each company in the squadron has seven tanks, six armored personnel carriers, 12 jeeps and an integrated fire team.

"Those tanks are lightly armored but they can do 45 miles an hour," said Chandler. "I know because I once got a ticket for speeding while driving one along a Kentucky highway at 45 miles an hour."

If the Communists ever do decide to come down that valley they can rest assured of a warm reception.

"Why does he always refer to me as 'Mr. Jackpot?'"

No Foolishness For This Goose

MILWAUKEE — (UPI) — The Rev. George Bersch of St. John's Episcopal Church tells this story:

His brother Ernest won a goose in a raffle but, unable to summon the courage to chop its head off, chloroformed it.

He plucked it and left the nude bird on the kitchen table while he left for an errand. When he came back the bird had revived and was sitting on a radiator trying to keep warm.

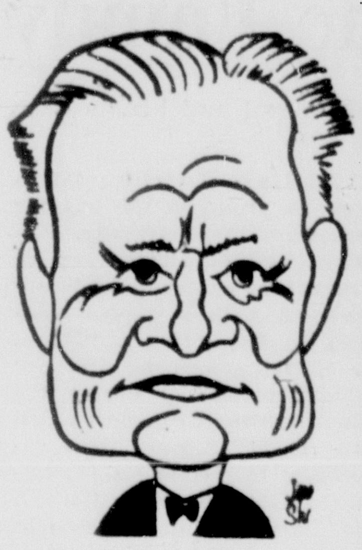
Today's Cele-Birthday

By JOY and JERRY SHAW

Of The Herald Staff



SHERMAN ADAMS, former assistant to U. S. President; born: Jan. 8, 1899, in East Dover, Vt.

* * *

Eisenhower's right-hand man has returned home to New Hampshire after resigning in September. Adams attended Dartmouth, working summers in a lumber camp. He forged his way to the top of the lumber business where he was known as "hard, fair and tireless." As New Hampshire's governor, he often took his lunch box and ate at the desk. Oft the despair of Washington hostesses, Adams left in time for 9 p.m., bedtime.

My Answer

Be Sure Remorse Is Genuine

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: I recently did a very foolish thing for which I am genuinely sorry because my testimony as a Christian has been injured. A highway patrolman started to stop me for a minor traffic violation and on a sudden impulse I tried to get away. He caught me and I now face prosecution for reckless driving because both his car and mine were damaged in the chase.

ANSWER: You have several reasons for being sorry. You broke the law and you resisted an officer. As a Christian you also offended our Lord by your action. The right thing to do is to make a frank confession.

GRAHAM

Say that you know you were wrong and that you deserve punishment. Throw yourself on the mercy of the court and it is to be hoped that your genuine regret for having done what you did will be taken into consideration.

Be very sure that your remorse is because of what you did and not because you got caught. There is a vast difference between being sorry for sin and being sorry that one got caught. Finally, let me urge you to make this a matter of prayer.

Although you rightly feel that your Christian testimony has been harmed, God is still able to use your genuine regret and your present attitude to glorify His name.

Women Attack Slacks Wearer

OPORTO, Portugal — (AP) — Seven men and two women have been given brief jail sentences and small fines for attacking a German woman who wore slacks when she visited their village.

The sight of the trouser-wearing woman was something new for the residents of the Rio Tinto region. They gathered around and threatened her, then got into a fight with the woman and her husband.

Boy Kills Self Over Pimples

LONDON — (UPI) — Fifteen-year-old schoolboy Roger Simper suffered the plague of adolescents everywhere—pimples on his face.

A coroner has ruled Roger committed suicide with gas after writing in his diary, "I cannot live any longer with spots . . . they are getting worse."

French Don't Love Americans But They Tolerate 'em Now

By PAUL GHALI
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

GHALI

PARIS The return of Charles de Gaulle to the French helm has brought yet another change to this country.

It's not a radical change — yet. And it's one you won't be apt to read about in your daily newspaper. But you will notice it at once when you visit France.

The personal antipathy of the average Frenchman for Americans, average or otherwise, is disappearing. It is being replaced by indifference. American tourists are treated with impassive politeness, the sort of distant friendliness shown seldom seen relatives.

Not that a return to the close feeling between Frenchmen and Americans which marked the end of the two world wars is just around the corner.

Frenchmen and Americans in France still live apart, seldom fraternizing.

But the days when you could read on walls in most French cities, "U. S. Go Home," the days when the tires of your American car were punctured during the night, are gone.

Why the change? It's the gradual disappearance of the French inferiority complex wrought through the humiliation of their 1940 defeat. The 22 governments which mismanaged French fiances and politics after the war increased instead of wiping out the complex.

Americans coming here — military personnel or civilians — were too ignorant of French psychology to understand. Constant misunderstandings resulted.

Jealousy of Americans increased. They were constantly reproached by the French for their lavishness, their showy cars, their neckwear, their ignorance of French habits and customs and, above all, their propensity for sticking together and ignoring excellent French food and wines in favor of imported food and liquor.

The harm that PXs, commissaries and "SHAPE villages" have done to French-American relations has yet to be written.

And carried over to the political field the French inferiority complex caused constant suspicion of American motives. The French saw Uncle Sam's finger in their successive losses of colonies and markets.

For their part, the Americans though puzzled by the French attitude did little to seek out the reason for it. They were shocked at French ingratitude. They were resentful of French criticism of their country. They were amazed at the lack of hospitality here.

De Gaulle's return marked a turning point. The French could not but appreciate the favorable reception De Gaulles' efforts to rescue France got in the U.S. The French were flattered that their chosen leader was "the man of the year" in America.

Moreover, De Gaulle's policy of grandeur and prestige has gone far toward eradicating the French feeling of inferiority.

Yesterday France was parading the souvenirs of a glorious past. Today it stands firm and well-governed in a tormented world. Tomorrow Paris may once again be one of the leading investment markets of Europe.

The French can now look the Americans straight in the eye. And when you look an American straight in the eye you usually end up by liking him.

Pig's Blood Made Fit For Humans

TAIPEI — (AP) – A process by which pig blood can be converted into plasma for human use has been perfected by a 38-year-old Chinese doctor, the Nationalist government's central news agency claims.

The agency gave this account:

Kuo Chung-po, professor of surgery at the Taiwan University Hospital in Taipei and the Medical College at Kaohsiung, in southern Formosa, worked 11 years on the process.

The conversion can be done in only five minutes and the plasma can be used on any person regardless of his blood type.

Named "Plasmanola L. P.," it has been tested on volunteers at the Taiwan University hospital with satisfactory results, although 16 per cent of them had temporary reactions.

The plasma can be preserved for a long time. Experiments showed that 13 months after being produced it was as good as new.

19 Aboard Ferry Hurt

NEW YORK — (UPI) — A ferry en route from Manhattan to Staten Island with some 1,900 passengers aboard collided with a runaway barge in the middle of New York Harbor.

Seventeen persons were injured. They were taken in ambulances to St. George Hospital on Staten Island when the Tompkinsville, a two-deck ferry, reached port.

The collision ripped a 25-foot gash in the middle of the ferry. Some of the injured were struck by flying glass. There was no panic. The ferry reached shore under its own power.

The Coast Guard then began a search for the barge, which was still loose in the harbor. High winds and rough water made the search difficult.

Prayers Asked For Thief's Soul

DETROIT —(UPI)— "Please say a prayer for the person that took the Infant from His mother."

That was the sign placed in the straw before a kneeling figure of Mary in a nativity scene outside St. Bonaventure's Monastery in Detroit.

A thief stole the figure of the infant Jesus.

Use a Shoe Box

How to Build a Mail Box For Everyone in the Family

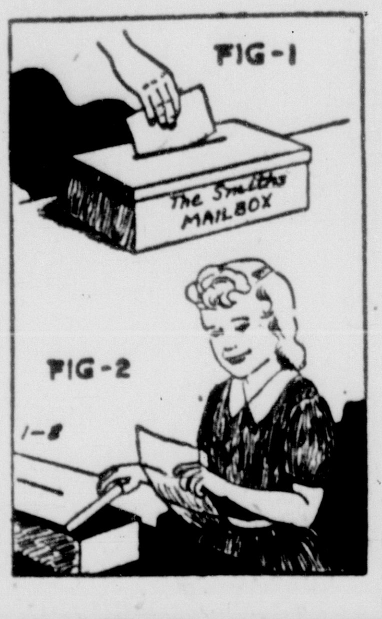
By CAPPY DICK

Hobby Club

CUT a wide slit in the top of a shoe box and place it on a table in a certain room of your house, perhaps near the front door.

Tell every member of your family that every morning and every evening each one is to go to the mail box and drop a letter into it for somebody in the house and also remove from it any letters awaiting them there.

Decorate the mail box with the name of your family as shown in Figure 1. If you want the mail box to be even more elaborate, cover it with green construction paper so it looks like a real mail box, in color, at least.



All kinds of exciting things can be placed in the box for members of the family. Pictures can be clipped out of magazines and enclosed in envelopes, with messages written on the pictures. "Thank you" notes can be left for favors performed during the day. Questions can be written on sheets of paper and addressed to certain people. Unusual little stones, or flowers, or leaves can be enclosed in envelopes and left there.

It will be fun to hurry home from school and, as the girl is doing in Figure 2, go to the mail box to find the messages that have been left for you.

Hoffa Affected By Public, Too

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

MRS. FDR

NEW YORK — I am glad that James R. Hoffa has decided against carrying out some of the threats made by himself or his aides concerning the delivery of supplies by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters to police installations in New York City.

It was foolish, both on the part of Hoffa and Henry Feinstein, president of the City Employes Union, Local 237, to threaten such action.

I hope, too, that the reaction of the people of New York will impress these leaders and that they will quickly understand that all of us are subject to public opinion which, when aroused, can lead to effective action.

* * *

THERE evidently will be a struggle in the Republican Party over the minority leadership in the new Congress.

This struggle between the liberals and the conservatives exists, of course, in both political parties. It makes me wonder if the time will come when internal rifts become so great that there will be a realignment of parties, with new parties emerging, one representing liberals and the other bringing together the conservatives.

In some ways, this would make an easier division of political thinking and perhaps result in clearer policies for each party. It certainly would make our party alignments easier to explain outside of our own country. I have found the process of explaining American politics quite difficult just because of these inter-party divisions.

Chinese Haste Is Not Waste

MILWAUKEE — (UPI) — Dr. Jack B. Greene, a physics teacher at Marquette University, gave an hour long examination, and on grading the papers found that a Chinese student, rushed for time at the end, had dashed off the answer to his final question in Chinese. Dr. Kuick Lee, also on the physics department staff, reads Chinese. He translated. The Chinese student had given a perfect answer.

Too Many Believe in God, Reds Want to Do Something About It

MOSCOW—(UPI)—Religion in Russia still is a problem to the Communists.

While belief in God and church attendance are not on the rise, neither are they dying out as rapidly as Communist Party leaders wish they would. The Russian Orthodox Church still is trying to win new souls and hold the ones it already has.

The magazine "Party Life," which twice monthly airs the opinions of the Communist Party Central Committee before the public, recently explained the Communist attitude toward religion on grounds that some Soviet citizens do not understand the party line.

"There still are many people under the influence of religion in our country and it would be wrong to ignore this," the magazine said.

Religion, it said, is still what it always has been, "a reactionary ideology which only obscures the consciousness of the working people."

The fact that the Orthodox clergy has stopped trying to sabotage the party and now more or less loyally supports its policy does not mean religion has gone Communist, as some politically naive Russians think, the magazine said. It is just as hostile to communism as ever, "Party Life" stressed.

Traditionally, the official ideology here has tended to regard religion as rather like the dirty old habit of storing coal in the bathtub.

Install the poor ignorant people in a modern apartment and they will begin to use the bathtub for taking baths, the reasoning goes.

Likewise, the Communists have said, improve man's physical surroundings on a larger, national scale and he will start using his head for thinking instead of praying, for contemplating this world instead of the next.

But, as experience often proves, it takes an energetic educational campaign to make the people fit into their new environment. Forty years in power have convinced the Soviet Communists it is not enough to sit back and let religion live out its days in peace.

For the country can be electrified, industry developed, agriculture mechanized, new apartments built — and still many people go on believing in God.

The need continues, therefore, for an imaginative militant strategy to draw the believers away from religion and into the arms of atheism, the Soviets contend.

"Party Life" said such a strategy is all the more essential now that the church is trying hard to adapt to present-day life and is "demonstrating inventiveness in applying new methods to attract the population, especially youth."

Besides holding regular services and discussions and sending missionaries out among the people, the clergy and the leaders of various religious sects organize parties, excursions, choirs, dramatic and other amateur circles in the hope of snaring young people.

Malayan Stirs Filipino Response to Southeast Asia Economic Plan

Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

MANILA, P.I. — Malaya's engaging first prime minister, Tunku Abdul Rahman, now on a visit to Manila, is sparking an enthusiastic Filipino response with his proposal for economic co-operation among the new nations of southeast Asia.

Through talks to public groups and in private conversation the determined leader of Asia's youngest nation is arguing that such collective economic action is essential for defense against domination by the new colossus of Red China.

The greatest danger, the prime minister indicates, is from Chinese Communist dumping of goods far below market prices, thereby upsetting the economy and squeezing out even infant domestic industries.

In the background is the threat of Communist penetration through the 12 million overseas Chinese that control most of the commerce and credit in Southeast Asia.

However, Filipinos also are particularly attracted by another feature of such proposed co-operation. It is that of collective price-fixing by these raw-material-exporting countries to cushion them against fluctuation in world markets.

As a starter, "The Tunku," as he is popularly known, is suggesting that the Philippines and Malaya seek opportunites for joint economic action. Later, they could invite neighboring countries to join them as a collective scheme became more firmly delineated.

The proposal by the Malayan prime minister follows a public call issued roughly two weeks ago by Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia for the creation of a Southeast Asian "Barangay."

A Barangay is the traditional Filipino village co-operative work unit used for house-moving, building and management of community projects.

It is probably not by chance that Garcia's Barangay was announced just in time to prepare for the reception of the Malayan leader's state visit here.

Garcia's invitation for application of the Barangay technique to the international scene was delivered on the occasion of the annual president's dinner of the Manila Overseas Press Club. It was the high point in a prepared talk expounding Garcia's and the Nacionalista Party's increasing emphasis upon seeking closer ties with Asian countries.

Disney Film Cut To 75 Minutes

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — Walt Disney is holding down his six million dollar movie "Sleeping Beauty" to 75 minutes for a good reason.

"Movie patrons are sick and tired of sitting hours and hours looking at a film. And 75 minutes is about as long as any child will sit still," said Disney.

Bridal Wear To Maternity

MILWAUKEE — (UPI) — Miss Lorraine Reider, Milwaukee, was recently made assistant manager of the bridal department in a Milwaukee department store, and was then made assistant manager of the maternity section only three days later.

1959 Television Sure To Bring Innovations

NEW YORK—(AP)—Nobody asked me to look into a crystal ball, but I did and I see that in television in 1959:

Westerns will pass their peak, though scarcely anyone will admit it, and private eye series will nudge them for first place.

As it does every year, NBC will deny that Perry Como is retiring and has bought a farm in Kentucky or Tennessee — where these queries always originate. Though not retiring, Como will do fewer shows.

Comedians will come and comedians go, but Jack Benny will be right there on CBS with the routines that somehow grow funnier as they—and you—grow older.

Dick Clark will find a new format for a night-time show that will make him as popular with oldsters as with youngsters.

Jackie Gleason will make a movie in which he does not play a comedian.

ABC will present more big special programs.

Jack Paar will continue to complain bitterly about his working hours, but he'll stay right where he is throughout the year.

The time of the Garry Moore show will be changed to a better hour.

AFTER STEVE ALLEN moves his show to Hollywood he'll be homesick for New York.

On the daytime serial "Love of Life" Harlowe and Ellen Scott actually will finally resolve their endlessly agonizing dilemma over Vanessa Raven (so help me).

Dinah Shore will do more television than she wants to do, by popular demand.

Sid Caesar will do less television than he wants to do — but more than he did in '58.

A relatively unknown composer will write a smash score for a musical version of something or other that will finally delight the critics.

Tennis will remain the most exciting sport to watch on the home screen.

'What's My Line?' Rolling On

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK — (UPI) — After almost 10 years, Director Franklin Heller still gets a kick out of putting "What's My Line?" on the air for CBS each Sunday.

The unpredictability of this TV panel show is what keeps him interested.

"I expect the unexpected," he said, "and I'm seldom disappointed.

Mark Goodson and Bill Todman created the program, and it first went on the air Feb. 2, 1950.

Only Moderator John Daly and Panelist Dorothy Kilgallen of the original crew are still with the program.

KILGALLEN

DALY

Three weeks later Panelist Arlene Francis and Heller joined up.

Heller was brought in to make more of a visual entertainment out of what was essentially a radio show.

Heller had been directing TV network programs for a year at the time, and in those pioneer days, that qualified him as an expert.

"From then on," Heller explained, "our basic plan has not changed. The panel show is indigenous to television. It's pure broadcasting, not derived from the stage or movies.

"And since we started the type — a type as definite as a melodrama or a musical — all the rest have followed the pattern."

The director said he had no idea that the show would last as long as it has.

But, as the years rolled by and it remained popular, he decided that there was a good reason for its longevity — "nothing interests people more than people."

Heller said that among the hundreds of guests with odd occupations who have appeared on the show he remembers most fondly the bald man who made wigs, a girl who sparred with a kangaroo, a counter of whales and a Japanese baker who specialized in making pizzas.

"For some reason, perhaps peculiar to me," he explained, "those strike me as the oddest we've had."

QUESTION: What does "died in the wool" mean? I don't understand it.—F.A.P.

ANSWER: Unless it is employed by sheep to signify a peaceful end, as we say "died in bed," I, too, am at a loss to understand it.

However, you may have confused it with "dyed-in-the-wool," a very old English expression for something deeply ingrained. It is based on the fact that dyes applied to raw wool are more lasting than those that are applied after the wool has been woven into cloth. So that something that is "dyed-in-the-wool" is basic, fixed, unremovable.

Ingrained means "dyed in grain." And this means dyed in kermes, a scarlet dye that was strikingly fast.

4—ZANE GREY — Tonight's show is built around a case of mistaken identity — a gunman thinks a firecracker blast is a shot. Paul Douglas stars in this lightweight western and does his usual firecracker job. If he looks kind of stiff to you, he has a reason. He'd just broken four ribs making a movie, but he made this film anyhow.

7—BEHIND CLOSED DOORS —A young undercover agent joins a subversive German fencing society to study its plans for a new Reich.

10—PAT BOONE — There's a nautical motif to tonight's show in honor of the appearance of the 94-man Annapolis Glee Club. As they say in Boone's office, "there's not much you can do with 94 men except let them sing," so sing they will. Pat and his guest, Alfred Drake, appear at the beginning in sailor suits, more or less as a gag, and both will sing separately, together and with the midshipmen.

2—NEW DIMENSIONS — "Demands of World Leadership: The Role of the Universities in the Social Sciences."

4—PLAYHOUSE 90 — John Houseman, one of the show's producers, has long been seeking a love story.

Best Bet

He thinks he found what he wanted in Henry James' story, "The Wings of the Dove," but it is more than just a love story. It involves a problem in ethics. There's a romantic triangle, with Dana Wynter, James Donald and Inga Swenson at the three hot corners. The first two love each other, but since he's penniless and she's rich, can't marry. For reason which would give away the story if we told, Dana encourages her man to marry her rival. And that's where the ethics come in. The ending may leave you confused, but it's an interesting situation.

7—ERNIE FORD — Tennessee Ernie will stage a "sea hunt" when his guest Lloyd Bridges shows up with his skin-diving equipment. When Ernie tries on the outfit, Bridges takes the opportunity to give Ernie a few pointers in the art of diving.

10—ROUGH RIDERS—While searching for the husband of a woman who has sought their help, Flagg, Kibry and Sinclair come upon an organized group who have been shanghaiing wanderers for sea duty.

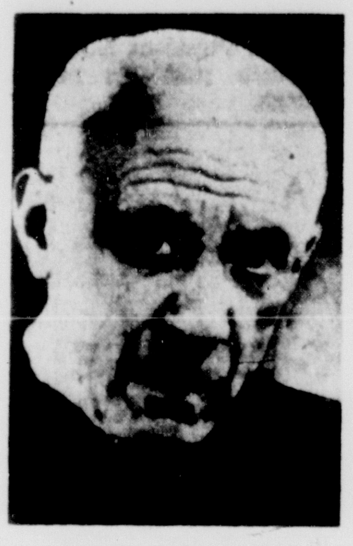
$10,000 Job Called 'Dirty Joke'

UNESCO Is Unhappy Over Picasso Mural

By WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire



Pablo Picasso
. . . confounds experts

PARIS — Pablo Picasso, who is supposed to be the greatest living painter, is in the doghouse with the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

UNESCO's magnificent new headquarters building, just back of the Invalides in Paris, has been defaced by a Picasso mural which is generally described as "a dirty joke."

Picasso was commissioned to do the mural for the conference building of the new headquarters and was paid $10,000 for the job.

Members of UNESCO's art commission thought they were getting a bargain until they saw what he produced.

The mural in question is 860 feet square and is painted on 40 separate wooden panels. It stands 28 feet high and about 50 feet long. Beyond that it defies description and interpretation.

The picture contains three semihuman figures and another fourpronged spiderlike figure which Picasso may have meant to represent a human being or "Icarus descending from the heavens." Nobody knows and Picasso won't tell.

It contains two symbols which appear to be positively obscene.

The paint has been badly mixed and the painting itself is sloppy.

Georges Salle, honorary director of French museums, produced this mumbo-jumbo in an attempt to decipher the hodgepodge.

"What does it represent? Bathers on a beach? If one wants a symbol one can see in it a struggle between the forces of good and evil and what I have described as the fall of an Icarus-like figure into the shadows."

A UNESCO official had another interpretation of Picasso's job.

"He's tried to make a mockery of what he regards as the phony intellectualism of UNESCO. They ought to throw the thing out and make Picasso cough up the $10,000."

Criticism Is Too Late

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Justice Department says it needed no prodding from Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D., La.) to collect a $9,908,000 refund from General Motors Corp.

"The fact of the matter is that the negotiations were nearing a final stage before Congressman Hebert had publicly complained about the matter," Assistant Attorney General George Cochran Doub said.

Attorney General William P. Rogers announced Friday that General Motors was refunding the money on a 1952 contract to produce jet planes. The government had accused the company of misstating its costs and making excessive profits.

After the announcement, Hebert said Rogers "and his cowboys were asleep in the saddle until we put the spurs to them." The congressman said the Justice Department failed to act until he publicly accused Rogers of laxity in the case.

Gaming Stamps Set Record

BURLINGTON, Vt. —(UPI) — The Internal Revenue Bureau said 13 Vermonters purchased $50 Federal wagering tax stamps during the 1957-58 fiscal year to set a state record. Twelve of the 13 men had been convicted of a baseball World Series lottery.

Wise Wife Lets Mate Be Winner

By AMY VANDERBILT

AMY

MY fellow columnist, Douglas Welch, recently had a very amusing column about what happens when a woman beats her husband at golf — nothing pleasant.

He cites the case of a woman who, when she was young and foolish, "used to beat her husband often. He would return home with her glum and silent, and sometime that evening he would say: 'Dear, isn't that dress a little too young for you?' Or, 'Dear, have you ever talked with anyone about restyling your hair?' Or he would say: 'Dear, I sometimes wonder what has happened to us.'

"What was happening to them, of course, was simple. She was beating him at golf. It didn't take her long to realize that whenever her score was appreciably higher than his, he would invariably walk into the clubhouse with his arm around her. . ."

Etiquette

There are many ways of beating one's husband — and there is too much of it going on. Any husband who is less than a worm will find that he retaliates if his wife is obviously superior to him in all fields, especially in those once considered masculine.

The completely independent woman is often the lonely woman, too. I decry the business woman's tendency when she gets home to "take over" in her household and in her husband's private affairs. Many such women don't even permit their husbands to perform the gentlemanly courtesies that really make a man feel warm and protective toward women.

* * *

"DEAR MISS VANDERBILT: My husband and I entered a rather nice restaurant one rainy morning and gave the waitress a large order for bacon, eggs, muffins, coffee — and asked that since we were chilly she bring us each a cup of coffee before the order was put through.

"After about 15 minutes of waiting the hostess came over and asked if we had been taken care of. We said that we had given our order but were waiting for the coffee to warm us up. We waited another 15 minutes and saw no coffee or breakfast.

"There were several other tables of people being served, but only two waitresses.

"After the half-hour my husband got up and said that he was going to leave to get his breakfast elsewhere. I felt very badly about leaving like that after we had placed the order, but even if the chef was slow we might have been served our coffee first.

"Were we proper in walking out, or should we have stayed even though the service was so slow? — M. B., Livingston, N.J."

I think that you were right in leaving. The service certainly was slow and inconsiderate.

From Placing Lights to Solving School Problem

Americans Expect Congress to Do Everything

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N.J. — The American public has a lot of interesting ideas about just what Congress can or cannot do.

GALLUP POLL

The framers of the Constitution, in fact, would no doubt be shocked and amazed at the number of Americans interviewed in a Gallup Poll who would like to see the incoming 86th Congress take on projects which the legislative branch of the federal government was never designed to handle.

To get a clear idea of what the voters would like the Congress they elected last November to do when it gets down to work, opinion reporters located in all areas of the country were assigned to ask this question of persons in all walks of life:

"The new Congress just elected is heavily Democratic. What do you hope this new Congress will do — that is, what legislation do you hope they will pass?"

After examination and analysis of all requests made by the public, the things people would like to see Congress do are seen to fall into these three general categories:

1—Legislation which the Congress is legitimately designed to deal with and which it quite possibly will take up this year.

Chief among these were requests for the Congress to try to straighten out the school integration crisis, to try to clean up corruption and racketeering in labor unions and that it vote to give more aid, financial and otherwise, to education.

2—In another category are requests for action on matters which Congress can only handle indirectly.

Specifically, people would like the new Congress to try "to reduce the cost of living" or "to cut down on unemployment" or "to keep us out of war."

3—In a final category are those problems which fall completely under the domain of the local and state governments or other agencies than Congress.

One man, for example, wanted Congress to see that "all traffic lights are put in the same place at intersections."

Many Republicans interviewed expressed the general hope that the heavily Democratic 86th Congress would cooperate with President Eisenhower and help push his program through.

London Asks Dogs to Help Fight Crime

Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

LONDON — Metropolitan police have appealed for 70 police dogs to help fight the city's growing crime wave.

Although murders in Greater London dropped from 29 to 26 between 1957 and 1958 most other crimes were far more numerous. There were 40,000 cases of theft and burglary, 40 per cent above 1957 and 30,000 more than in 1948 when London was having its latest post-war crime wave.

The Metropolitan police force is still 2,834 men under strength.

10 Batista Cohorts Executed; Hundreds Are Awaiting Trial

HAVANA, Cuba —(AP)— Revolutionary authorities announced Wednesday the execution of 10 officers of the armed forces of former Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

The executions apparently were the start of widespread trials by revolutionary courts of Cubans accused of crimes against the state.

Authorities said the 10 officers, including Col. Arcadio Casillas Lumpuy, were executed in Santiago de Cuba, capital of Oriente Province and home town of the revolution's leader, Fidel Castro. Lumpuy was Batista's chief of operations in Oriente. From 200 to 300 prisoners were reported awaiting trial there.

A court in Santa Clara in central Cuba was reported also to have sentenced Lt. Col. Cornelio Rojas, a police inspector, to be shot on charges of torturing prisoners.

Revolutionary courts were expected to begin trials elsewhere shortly.

Castro's 26th of July Movement spurred the hunt for informers, grafters and others who lined their pockets under Batista by announcing formation of a "department of purification."

"Chivato," meaning rascal, is applied to informers for Batista's police and is the dirtiest word in Havana today.

The new department also will disarm unauthorized guntoters, the Castro movement said, and assist in rounding up suspected persons.

Interior Minister Luis Orlando Rodriguez, also made defense minister by Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, ordered the creation of a military police organization to maintain order.

More than 1,100 national police and aviation personnel, plus many civilians, were reported under detention several days ago.

Another report said 400 prisoners at army headquarters at Camp Columbia outside Havana were about to be transferred to Fortress La Cabana, across the bay from the capital. The move may be preparatory to trials.

Shots were still heard in the streets occasionally, apparently from revolutionists chasing hunted men. Ernesto Delafe, former information minister who fell out with Batista about three years ago, was reported arrested.

Still enjoying a hero's journey through eastern provinces on his way to the capital, 32-year-old Castro indicated in interviews that he does not favor diplomatic relations with any dictatorship, including Communist ones.

The Havana newspaper Diario de la Marina said its interviewer asked about relations with other countries, especially the Soviet Union, and Castro replied it was his personal view that Cuba should not maintain relations with any dictatorship.

In another interview televised here, Castro declared dictators were "a menace for America." He said Cuba would strengthen relations with all countries except dictatorships.

He said, however, he did not wish to make statements indicating he was interfering with the Urrutia government.

The Uruguayan newspaper La Manana quoted President Urrutia in another interview as saying his government did not intend to nationalize foreign businesses.

New Regime Takes Dim View of Prio

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Former Cuban President Carlos Prio Socarras, who claims he spent his entire fortune buying arms for the revolution, may wind up out in the cold in his country's new government.

"I spent everything I had," Prio said Wednesday in an interview at his huge country home, La Chata, a few miles from Havana.

He and his family returned here from their long exile in Miami.

"All that I have left is the property that I own here," said Cuba's last constitutional president who was ousted by Fulgencio Batista. "But I am not asking for anything."

PRIO

Even if he does ask for something, indications are that he won't get it from the government being formed by Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Rebel Leader Fidel Castro picked to take over from Batista.

Observers here don't believe that Prio will ever regain his former political strength because he has very little popular support.

Some give him no credit for aiding the rebel movement and even accuse Prio of having stolen the money he had when he was president. Prio was ousted by Batista in 1952.

Prio did not make any estimate of just how many millions he spent while in exile in Miami buying arms and ammunition to ship to the rebels. He would only say he spent "everything."

There were close to a hundred automobiles at La Chata Wednesday, and hundreds of young men milling around who fought in the interior for Prio's revolutionary organization, Autentica.

Nearly every man was heavily armed and a few appeared to have just atarted growing beards — the symbol of sacrifice.

Without any political power, a big question is how Prio will go about rewarding them.

"If the new government asks me or members of our party to serve or cooperate in any way, of course, we will be happy to do so," Prio said.

In Havana proper, meanwhile, citizens are preparing the biggest celebration yet for the arrival of Castro and the core of his rebel army.

Havana has more than returned to normal. Things are much better than normal.

Bakers, shoeshine boys, taxis and tourist traps — except for the gambling casinos which Urrutia has vowed to keep closed—are all back in business.

But policemen are not standing on the corners demanding bribes or commissions.

Baseball is back, and sports news is again getting newspaper space, along with weddings and funerals.

People of the tourist industry are confident they still will have a good winter season, even though the season is half gone already. But the numbers racket, once backed by Batista's government, is gone, and the gambling casinos may be closed for good.

Politicans are much in evidence now, but the bearded boys who overthrew the dictator are watching. Like Prio, everyone says he personally wants nothing from the victory. But it is too early to tell if they mean what they say.

For a city that feared it was in for a blood bath this time last week, the adjustment to the switch in governments is amazing. Habaneros still can't quite believe that the tourists may start flocking back at any time.

Pickets' Greeting
. . . meant 'get lost'

Mikoyan Hooted in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio —(UPI) — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, pretending to ignore a rock-throwing incident and intensive anti-Soviet demonstrations, advocated a co-existence in "peace and friendship" on his one-day visit here Wednesday.

The Soviet's No. 2 man and seven other Russians, including Russian Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, arrived at Hopkins airport and were greeted by Financier Cyrus Eaton, who was host to the Russian official during his brief stay.

At the airport, Mikoyan, referring to Eaton's recent visit to Russia, stated: "Your trip was a private one but your statements after the visit bore testimony to the fact that people living under different systems can still get along together.

"You want peace and friendship and so do we. Let us each retain our views on capitalism and socialism, but let us be friends in peace."

All was not peaceful and friendly, however, during protest demonstrations staged by victims of Soviet terror, mostly Hungarian groups.

As Mikoyan and his party emerged from Eaton's Greenbrier suite in the Terminal Tower to attend a luncheon with business and industrial leaders at the Union Club, a

Spring Is In the Air --For Fair

Miami's spring-like weather isn't expected to change in the forseeable future, and the rest of Florida will keep warming up, too, after its brief but severe cold snap.

"There's not much prospect of any major change," Miami Weather Bureau Forecaster William McGehee said Wednesday. "The weather will be good here and the rest of the state should keep on warming up."

Miami temperatures hit the mid-70s Wednesday and are expected to go a few degrees higher Thursday. The low Thursday morning should range from 65 to 70, McGehee said.

In Central and North Florida, coldest temperatures Wednesday morning were in the high 30s, and the mercury rose during the day to the mid-60s. Sunny skies are expected to continue over the whole state at least for another day or two.

Filibuster Control Battle Erupts As Congress Opens

Stage Set For Bitter Civil Fight

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The new 86th Congress, biggest in U.S. history, opened Wednesday with fireworks popping over Senate filibusters and with new Republican leaders taking party command in both houses.

The heavily - Democratic House and Senate convened at noon for a session that must try to reconcile President Eisenhower's economy budget with Russia's space challenge. Democratic leaders promised "responsible service" and "sympathetic" consideration of the President's proposals.

The session was only minutes old when the Senate erupted in a row over attempts by liberal members to make it easier to curb anti-civil rights filibusters. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas finally forced postponement of a first-round showdown until today.

Johnson acted after Vice President Richard M. Nixon, presiding over the chamber, held for the second time in two years that the Senate can adopt new rules at the outset of a new Congress, including a crackdown on filibusters.

This was the opinion the liberal anti-filibuster senators wanted to hear and it laid the groundwork for a rousing North-South fight when the Senate meets today at 10 a.m. —two hours early. Johnson accused Nixon of issuing parliamentary opinions rather "freely" on opening day.

A House controversy, with civil rights overtones, was settled when Rep. Dale Alford, the Little Rock, Ark., segregationist, was allowed to take his seat by an overwhelming vote. A House elections subcommittee had recommended that Alford be barred pending an investigation of his write-in victory over Rep. Brooks Hays (D., Ark.).

Opening day saw more than 2,000 bills introduced in the House — including two big spending measures which Eisenhower vetoed last year for economy reasons.

One would launch a 275 million dollar program of federal aid for economically-depressed areas. The other would provide federal grants of 100 million dollars a year for five years to help communities build airports. Democrats labeled them "must" legislation.

Former President Truman and a host of luminaries were on hand to see the opening of the most overwhelmingly Democratic Congress since New Deal days. The Senate lineup is 64 Democrats and 34 Republicans. In the House, it is 283 Democrats and 153 Republicans.

The Congress, with which Eisenhower must deal during his last two years in the White House, also is the largest in history due to the addition of two senators and a House member from the new state of Alaska.

The Democrats unanimously returned Sen. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn to power. House Democrats also renamed Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts as their party's floor leader.

Johnson and Rayburn promptly urged their Democratic colleagues to live up to the responsibilities entrusted to them by the sweeping Democratic victories in the November congressional elections.

Reporter's Coin Flip Picked 'Senior' Alaska Senator
. . . E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, right, won over Ernest Gruening

'Luck of Draw' Gives Alaska Two 'Short Term' Senators

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The luck of the draw gave Alaska two short-term senators Wednesday.

Sen. Ernest Gruening will represent the 49th state for four years and Sen. E. L. (Bob) Bartlett will serve a two-year term.

Both new Democratic senators missed a chance to win a full six-year term as they performed a ceremony last held when Arizona and New Mexico sent their first senators to Washington 47 years ago.

Gruening, 71-year-old former territorial governor, drew one of three slips of paper from a small box to determine his term.

It made him a four-year senator. Then Bartlett, Alaska's 54-year-old former delegate to Congress, drew a two-year slip. The six-year slip remained unchosen.

The draw was necessary to give Gruening and Bartlett terms of differing length.

The Constitution requires the Senate membership to be divided into three classes, with about one-third of the senators standing for re-election every two years.

As a result of Wednesday's drawing, Alaskans will vote for senators again in 1960 and 1962. The senators elected then will have full six-year terms.

Martin One of Boys Again; Uses Employes' Entrance

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Joe Martin turned in his Cadillac for a taxicab Wednesday and came to work through the employes' entrance.

He was not longer the leader of House Republicans, using the boss' door. He was just one of the crowd.

The 74-year-old bachelor from North Attleboro, Mass., stands as a living monument to the caprices and cruelties of big time politics.

Almost 20 years ago to the day, Martin's colleagues elevated him to the highest post within their power — the GOP leadership of the House. They made him speaker during the four years they were in control.

Tuesday the roof fell in.

Unceremoniously, unmercifully and unexpectedly, Martin was toppled from his throne by a vote of 74-70 at a party caucus. In his place was installed Charles A. Helleck of Indiana, who had risen to a position of power in the House with the early assistance of Martin.

How does it feel to be fired, right out of a clear sky, after 20 years as boss?

"It's not too bad, now that it's over," Martin said. "I didn't like it. I didn't expect it. I thought I had the votes. I was a little stunned at first, but now I don't feel so bad about it. In fact, you might say I feel good. In a way I'm sort of glad, now that it's over.

"It's a relief not to have the responsibilities."

'Liberal' Kuchel Named Whip

GOP Senators Pick Dirksen

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Conservative Republicans won their fight to keep Senate party control Wednesday by electing Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as GOP leader over liberal Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. The vote was 20-14.

The Republicans also elected Liberal Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California as whip, or assistant GOP leader, by the same vote. This was considered a concession to the liberal group which sought to overthrow conservative control.

Kuchel won out over Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, a last minute candidate nominated by Dirksen forces, in a two-hour organizational meeting of Senate Republicans.

Kuchel said the GOP senators achieved "results that we believe will help us unite and fashion political principles on the basis of what we believe best for the American people."

Shortly after the vote was announced, President Eisenhower sent congratulations to both Dirksen and Kuchel.

Cooper said he accepted the President's statement that "he was not involved in our situation. I know also that the vice president kept a position which was correct and proper."

"I fully and wholeheartedly concur," Dirksen said.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts had charged that White House aides intervened in the vote Tuesday in which Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana unseated him as House GOP floor leader.

The GOP senators reelected Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts as chairman of the Republican Conference, made up of all Senate Republicans, and Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota was reelected as secretary. Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire was reelected chairman of the Republican Policy Committee.

Rocket Orbits Around Sun, Russians Say

LONDON —(AP)— The Soviet space rocket went into orbit around the sun Wednesday and became the first artificial planet of the solar system, Moscow radio said.

The broadcast said the rocket has covered a distance of 14,500,000 kilometers (9,062,500 miles) since it was launched from a base in the Soviet Union Friday.

All radio contact with the rocket has been lost since Monday. The Soviet Union has given no indication of how it could tell when the rocket would go into orbit around the sun.

Its curving path through space as it veers into orbit around the sun leaves it one million kilometers (625,000 miles from the earth, the broadcast said.

Quoting the science correspondent of the Tass News Agency, Moscow said this figure "will increase at a terrific pace since the earth and the artificial planet are diverging in the cosmos."

The Tass science correspondent insisted the Russians had no intention of hitting the moon with their space rocket.

It missed the moon by about 5,000 miles and headed on through space.

The initial Soviet announcement said the rocket was headed toward the moon. The aim of putting it into orbit round the sun was not mentioned then.

Cuba's Seize-Cash, Plea Denied Here

A federal judge denied a petition by the provisional Cuban government Wednesday which asked the United States to seize 17 million dollars spirited from Havana by three Batista henchmen.

The money supposedly is aboard a converted PT boat which Cuban Senator Rolando Masferrer and two brothers sailed to Key West after ex-President Fulgencio Batista fled the country New Year's Day.

Federal District Judge Emett C. Choate ruled Wednesday that he had no jurisdiction over the funds and would have to deny the petition.

Roberto Agramonte, minister of state for the Cuban provisional government, made the original request to U.S. Customs and Immigration authorities at Key West, where the boat now lies offshore.

None of the Masferrers, once strongmen of Cuba with their own private army, have been permitted to leave the boat, nor has the boat been searched, U.S. authorities said.

Row Brewing With Britain?

LONDON — A major political row seemed brewing Wednesday over British arms sales to Cuba's defunct Batista regime and the London government's apparent surprise at the swift victory of Rebel Fidel Castro.

Most British newspapers carried reports that anti-British feeling is running high in Cuba and that the revolutionary government may expel Ambassador Alfred Fordham.

The Foreign Office described these reports as pure speculation and said Provisional President Manuel Urrutia's regime had asked for British recognition, relaying its request through Fordham.

Fordham was quoted as being "greatly surprised" by the suddenness with which the Batista regime had crumbled.

Batista Betrayed Friends

HAVANA — Fulgencio Batista betrayed many of his closest and most loyal friends when he suddenly decided to give up his fight against Fidel Castro's revolutionaries on New Year's Day.

The Cuban dictator left scores of them behind when he boarded a plane for the Dominican Republic and fled the country. Many are already in jail.

Cubans, and perhaps much of the outside world, are still mystified as to why Batista suddenly gave up his post just when he reported hundreds of rebels had been killed in savage fighting for Santa Clara. His last declaration was an order to the armed forces to pursue the rebels until they were destroyed throughout Cuba.

Pilots Unit Rejects Meany Bid

WASHINGTON —(AP)— American Airlines said Wednesday the head of the Pilots Union had turned down a proposal that AFL-CIO President George Meany arbitrate a strike that has grounded its planes since Dec. 20.

C. R. Smith, president of American, said he made the recommendation Saturday but was rebuffed by Clarence Sayen, president of the striking Air Line Pilots Association.

American disclosed the arbitration proposal in a statement after federal mediators reported both sides were close to agreement in efforts to end the 19-day-old pilots' strike.

Smith said he had suggested that Meany's decisions be binding on the company and the pilots.

Sayen, he continued, termed the proposal impractical "and has consistently neglected to discuss it since that time."

Under the proposal the pilots would return to work while Meany considered the wage-hour issues.

Red Chinese Guns Angry

TAIPEI, Formosa — (UPI) — Chinese Communist guns fired 32,919 rounds Wednesday in the biggest bombardment of the offshore Quemoy islands in two months, the Nationalist defense ministry announced.

There was no immediate report on casualties.

The Chinese Reds indicated that the shelling was a punitive measure against the Nationalist garrison rather than a reopening of full-scale hostilities in the Formosa Strait.

Propaganda loudspeakers on the Red-held Chinese mainland warned Tuesday that the garrison would be "punished" for bombarding what the Reds said were civilian areas of the mainland Saturday. The Reds claimed 23 children and 25 adults were killed by Nationalist shells.

Eva Not Crying Over Lost Gems

Actress Eva Gabor lost a $25,000 diamond bracelet in Miami Beach last weekend, but was out nightclubbing unconcernedly by the time police arrived.

EVA

With Mama Jolie, Eva bunked out for the New Year's weekend at the fashionable Eden Roc Hotel.

On Saturday evening she and her escort, Textile Manufacturer Richard Brown, left a small private party in Suite 1A, went down the elevator and walked into the Mona Lisa Room.

The tables were jammed, so they waited at the bar and then danced.

Later when she and Mama came back from a powder room, Eva noticed her arm was bare.

Gone was a $25,000 bracelet.

They retraced their steps, but found nothing.

By the time Detectives Walt Sternberg and Edward Patton arrived, Eva was off for a show at the Carillon.

In their report, the officers dutifully noted Miss Gabor had not been comparing her jewels with anyone.

They listed it as a loss — not a robbery.

19-year-old fugitive from Russian oppression threw a rock at the deputy premier.

The woman, Mrs. Emma Halhal, missed, but was taken into custody and charged with disorderly conduct by police, who had difficulty restraining several hundred demonstrators who jeered and shouted at the visiting official and Eaton.

Earlier, police asked a Hungarian refugee to leave the airport when they found a spoiled egg in his possession.

Mikoyan, however, pretended to ignore the rock-throwing incident as he doffed his hat, waved and smiled at the crowd before entering a limousine to drive to the exclusive Union Club.

The anti-Soviet demonstrators started forming at the airport several hours before Mikoyan arrived and posted pickets at all points to be visited by the Communist.

Typical of the sentiment expressed by the pickets, some of whom came from out-of-state, was a sign which blared: "Mikoyan — go home, and take Eaton with you."

Others read, "Mikoyan — mass murderer," and "Mikoyan — your hands are with Latvian blood!"

Mike Halhal, 34-year-old husband of the woman who threw the rock, told reporters he and his wife fled from Budapest two years ago after Russian troops crushed the Hungarian freedom rebellion in a bath of blood.

Dad and 5 Die in Fire

BRANDON, Minn. —(AP)— A father and his five children died Wednesday in a fire that swept their two-story home here.

Mark Kelly got out of the house after the fire began, but lost his life when he went back in and sought to rescue his children.

Dead were Kelly, about 38, three sons, Jim, 16, Dennis, 12, Pat, 14; and two daughters, Mary Lee, 10, and Peggy, 3.

Mrs. Kelly fled the burning house with her husband and tried to go back in for the children, along with her husband. Neighbors restrained the mother from reentering the house.

The father's body was found at the foot of a stairs, where he apparently collapsed while trying to reach the baby.

National Summary

Widespread cloudiness accompanied the warming flow of rain or drizzle out of Texas into Tennessee and Kentucky while drizzle surrounded a disturabnce moving through the central plains toward the mid Mississippi Valley.

Spotty light snow was scattered over the Rockies from Colorado to Montana but the Pacific states held most of the wet weather in the west.

Moisture from the Gulf of Mexico spreading northeastward, will extend the rains from the lower Mississippi Valley to the Carolinas and Virginia. The precipitation may begin as a combination or variation of snow, sleet to rain from southern Iowa to the upper Ohio Valley and into the mid Atlantic states.

Snow will develop and spread from the Ohio Valley and the southern Great Lakes to the mountains of New York and as far south as the mountains of western Virginia.

Cooler air pressing eastward across the plains will give partly cloudy weather from Texas to the Dakotas with rain changing to snow in the lower Missouri Valley and snow across the Great Lakes.

The new Pacific storm sweeping down the coast is expected to give heavy rains with gale winds as it moves inland through central California with the precipitation as heavy snow in the mountains.

Teamsters In Hassle

4 Truck Drivers Indicted In Bunnell Labor Slaying

No Action Taken in 2nd Killing

BUNNELL —(UPI)— Four truck drivers were charged Wednesday with second degree murder in the Dec. 5 slaying of Union Organizer George K. Jones. The shooting was an outgrowth of a dispute between the Teamsters Union and a trucking concern.

Charged in the shooting in which another man also was killed were Sidney McCraney, 31, Jack Johnson, 33, and Robert Drake, 28, all of Bunnell; and Alexander Faircloth Jr., 24, of Ormond Beach.

Faircloth and Drake were wounded in the shooting and McCraney and Johnson were arrested and held on open charges soon after the incident at Jones' trailer home at the Bunnell Airport.

The indictments, a result of a grand jury investigation completed Dec. 29, were returned by Circuit Judge George W. Jackson of St. Augustine.

However, the case was still a mystery since no details of the jury's findings were released to reporters. And since no one was charged in the fatal shooting of Howard Glisson, 27-year-old Bunnell truck driver, the theory was that the 31-year-old Jones may have shot him during the hassle.

State Attorney W. W. Judge, who conducted the grand jury probe which took testimony of nine persons, declined to say on what grounds the indictments were made.

The entire case has been surrounded by a cloud of mystery because no official statement was ever released. It is expected to remain a mystery until a trial which is expected to be set at a Jan. 14 arraignment.

It was reported by an investigator that the shooting stemmed from a labor dispute between the Teamsters Union and Tropical Transport Co.

Union truck drivers set up pickets in front of the trucking company's offices at Lehigh Portland Cement Co. property Nov. 17. But the differences were settled Dec. 19 when the company agreed to recognize Teamsters Local 512 of Jacksonville as bargaining agent.

Citrus Men Ask Survey On Quality

LAKELAND — (UPI) — Florida Citrus Mutual Wednesday called for a survey to determine what is needed to raise quality of frozen orange concentrate.

Mutual directors refused to support a proposal, for a slight increase in quality of oranges going into concentrate.

But the board unanimously voted to set up a committee to work with concentrators in drafting proposals to boost concentrate quality.

The board rejected the concentrators' proposals to raise raw fruit quality, on a recommendation of Mutual's Advisory Committee, which met Wednesday morning.

The advisors claimed fruit quality was one of many factors controlling quality of the finished product and would be ineffective by itself.

The concentrate industry has been concerned about declining quality, spokesmen for the industry said. Introduced in 1946, concentrate production has climbed steadily.

The spokesmen say this has been instrumental in causing the quality of the product to decline, since the manufacturers no longer can use the "cream of the crop" in making concentrate.

The quality proposal was offered by the concentrators' advisory committee after it had been drafted by the Florida Canners Association. The canners sought support before asking the Florida Citrus Commission to seek legislation to put it into effect.

R. C. Wooten of Pasco Packing Co., chairman of the concentrators' committee presented the case for the canners. He brought several scientists before the board, who said the slight raise in quality standards would help the quality of concentrate and would be a "step in the right direction."

But the move was opposed by John T. Lesley, general manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and General Manager Marvin Walker of the Florida Citrus Growers Cooperative, which is also a concentrate producer.

Both said the proposal would put a "premium on dishonesty" by putting into effect an unenforceable regulation. Growers, Walker said, would violate the law by mixing low grade fruit with high grade fruit.

Lesley, whose organization represents about 25 per cent of the fresh fruit shippers, also said he was against dual quality standards — one for fresh oranges and another for concentrate oranges.

He said he stood behind a recommendation by a special committee on fruit quality to raise all orange standards by one-half point across the board.

Palatial Waterfront Home Awaits Ousted Cuban President and Family

. . . off-duty Daytona Beach policemen, Ed Biendi, left, and Tom Grasso, are on guard duty

Batista's Pink Mansion Now an Armed Camp

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

DAYTONA BEACH — Even a dog couldn't get into Fulgencio Batista's home to play with the ousted Cuban dictator's children.

Heavily armed city policemen block every entrance to Batista's sumptuous pink stucco estate on the Halifax River.

"Nobody gets in here unless the people inside want to see him," a guard told me politely.

Gen. Batista, 129 N. Halifax Ave., is listed in the Daytona Beach phone book, so I called to ask about the general and to request entrance.

"I'm sorry, sir, we aren't allowed to say anything," said an unidentified voice at the other end of the line.

Batista is in the Dominican Republic—and nobody seems to know when he'll come here. But two of his children are here, and so are 17 members of his household staff, including his personal secretary, Mrs. Carmen Garmero.

Mrs. Garmero let three persons in Tuesday, a telephone repair man, Daytona Beach Police Chief Oscar Folsom, and Ben Brass, Batista's Daytona Beach attorney, the man who arranged for the guard.

Each was escorted in and out by a uniformed off-duty Daytona Beach policeman, who carried a carbine, or a riot gun, plus a service revolver.

Delivery trucks were allowed to enter the locked gates, but the drivers were shooed away before servants unloaded the trucks. A cab driver was told to sit firmly in his cab when he came to pick up a maid.

The only information about the inmates of the house came from Brass.

"There are 19 persons in there," he said. "The children are General Batista's son, Fulgencio Jr. . . . he's about eight . . . and a 17-month old daughter . . . I don't know her name."

Neither of the children got outdoors Tuesday.

Only one staff member, a maid, took the air. She didn't respond to a "good morning" or a Spanish "Buenas Dias."

Brass said the Daytona Beach refugees came here via New Orleans Saturday.

Asked whether Batista himself is planning to come here, Brass and Chief Folsom said they had "no information."

Brass said he requested the guards because, "Latin-Americans are excitable people."

The eight men on guard duty are paid $2.50 an hour each, Chief Folsom said. The city of Daytona Beach bills Batista and then pays the men.

Frank Brass

. . . attorney of Batista

Each works an eight-hour trick. This means the guards cost the ex-Cuban president $160 per day. Folsom said the payment was being handled through city channels only to assure compensation insurance coverage for the men while on guard.

Folsom has gone all out with precautions. At least two guards constantly watch all the estate entrances, including the Halifax River dock. At night floodlights illuminate the grounds.

Batista's American hideaway is an enormous Spanish style structure which he bought from R. E. Olds, the automobile tycoon. It's in a once fashionable section of Daytona Beach and includes a boathouse, boat docks, swimming pool and impeccably trimmed grounds.

Next door is another mansion, which Batista presented the city in 1946 as a Cuban museum. It's still a museum and the Cuban flag flies at its door, but the place was closed Tuesday.

Police had to shoo away several carloads of Cubans when the museum opened in 1946, but the guards at the Batista home have reported no incidents.

Closest thing to an incident they've seen came Monday night, when a local teenage boy brandished an air rfle at the guards.

"That was a damn fool thing to do," said Patrolmen Ed Biondi and Tom Grasso, Tuesday's guards.

College Deed Is Held Up

ST. PETERSBURG —(UPI) — The City Council has voted to defer until Jan. 19 the signing of a deed which would convey 150 acres of land to Florida Presbyterian College as a campus site.

The deed was scheduled to have been signed Wednesday. But Mayor John Burroughs said there were "some restrictions I think we should discuss in private."

He said he will call a caucus before the council meeting Jan. 19 to discuss the matter.

There was speculation that "restrictions" dealt with proposals that the college promise not to permit racial integration before the deed is signed.

The college board of trustees decided to build the new church school here last fall after a survey of all of Central Florida. The city's offer, which included donation of the land, was one of the most attractive received.

Defendant 'Subject to Fantasies'

FORT LAUDERDALE — (UPI)— A psychiatrist said Wednesday that Mary Welborn, accused of the 1957 Christmas slaying of a Miami engineer, was subject to fantasies, hallucinations and often did not know if she was telling the truth.

The testimony came from Dr. Moke Williams in a day of argument over the admission as evidence of a statement by Miss Welborn. The state, which is prosecuting her for second degree murder, contended the statement was her third confession to the slaying.

The defense is fighting the admission of the statement, which runs 40 minutes recorded or covers 19 pages typewritten.

Williams, who examined the young woman at the South Florida Mental Hospital, said he could never tell when she was telling the truth.

He said she often said things which she thought were true but which were not. He said he found the woman was permanently mentally retarded and that "the best thing for her was close supervision."

Miss Welborn is accused of shooting Robert W. Lee, 24, formerly of Asheville, N.C. Lee's body was found in his car. He died from a bullet from his own .22 caliber rifle.

72 Hours in Glades

Searching Party Finds Lost Hunter

EVERGLADES CITY —(AP)— A Lakeland man missing in the Everglades northeast of here for 72 hours was rescued Wednesday by the sheriff and Coast Guard helicopter crewmen.

Sheriff E. A. (Doug) Hendry said James Williams was in "pretty good shape" when taken to Monroe Station, a community 10 miles from the Collier-Dade County line.

"He was mighty glad to see us," the sheriff said. "He said he had just about given up hope of getting out of the Glades."

Williams, 22, went into the area Sunday with four other men on a hunting trip. He became separated from the others.

"He was wandering aimlessly and getting farther from the road all the time," Hendry said.

The sheriff said a four-man search party found footprints on a swamp buggy trail Tuesday. When the search resumed at daylight, a helicopter from the Coast Guard Air Station at Miami had arrived.

Hendry and the crew flew over the area where the footprints had been discovered. They followed a trail for about two miles and spotted Williams lying on the ground.

"I was asleep and the motor from the helicopter awakened me," the sheriff quoted Williams as saying.

The man jumped to his feet and began waving his arms.

"He certainly was glad to see us," the sheriff said. "He broke down and cried with relief."

The officer said Williams "was scratched and bruised from wandering through the brush, but he's going to be all right."

He said the rescued man's father and two brothers were in a party searching on foot about two miles away when the men in the helicopter located Williams.

Five Civil Air Patrol planes and a State Game Commission plane took part in the search Tuesday and again Wednesday morning.

The sheriff said Williams' only food during the three days "was a pond bird he shot with his 20-gauge shotgun."

The officer said Williams would return to Lakeland later in the day after being checked by a physician.

Matador Fired by Trainees

CAPE CANAVERAL —(AP)— Eleven Air Force crewmen training to be missile specialists Wednesday shot the deadly Matador on a blazing flight of several hundred miles over the Atlantic.

The crewmen from the 4504th Tactical Missile Wing at Orlando Air Force Base, fired the 40-foot weapon on their own as part of their advanced training program.

The Matador, a 600-mile range guided missile capable of housing a nuclear warhead, reached operational status in 1954 and now is on sites with defense forces in Germany and Formosa.

The sleek Martin missile also may be developed with U. S. Forces in South Korea.

The launching team, headed by Capt. R. B. Given of Barberton, Ohio, will be assigned to some strategic Matador launching site when the training program is completed.

The swept-wing Matador roared off with a flash of orange flame and was out of sight in less than a minute. The missile is powered by a solid fuel booster for takeoff and a turbojet engine for sustained flight.

Baby Reptiles Found

Hunters After Gator In Melbourne Swamp

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — A group of professional hunters, led by Conservation Agent L. A. Tindall, will begin searching today for several large alligators, believed to be living in a sprawling swamp adjoining a Melbourne residential district.

The hunt was planned after small children, living in Trade Winds sub-division, Wednesday brought home several baby gators they found while playing in the marshy area.

Parents called Tindall, who disposed of the small gators and checked the swamp for evidence of larger ones, which he said he found.

Tindall, who is out of the city today requested City Commissioner R. P. (Russ) Sullivan to warn Trade Winds residents to keep children away from the swamp until the alligators are tracked down.

"If the kids found baby gators there," Sullivan explained, "there are some mama gators, too. And just think what might have happened had mama been nearby when the children took the small ones."

Alligators have been a touchy subject here since 1957,

when Alan Rice, 9, of Eau Gallie, was believed attacked and killed by a large gator.

The Rice boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Beatty, was reported missing in June, 1957. Two days later volunteer searchers found Alan's mangled body on the bank of Horse Shoe Creek, about 50 yards from his home.

Conservation agents hunted the reptile and finally captured an 11-foot bull. Parts of the boy's body were found in the alligator's stomach.

Aroused citizens called for eradication of the alligators in the area and started to do the job themselves, until stopped by conservation agents.

Hotel, Cafe Total Gains Last Year

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— Construction of sleeping and eating facilities for tourists continued unabated through 1958, the State Hotel and Restaurant Commission reported.

In fact, it said, new establishments opened up last year at a slightly higher rate than in previous years.

On Jan. 1 there were 40,005 hotels, motels, apartments and rooming houses in operation, an increase of 1,419 during the year.

The rooms totaled 811,309 an increase of 57,616. Apartments accounted for 39,547 of the room increase with motels 15,012, hotels 4,538 and rooming houses, a decrease of 1,481.

Ten new hotels opened during the year. New apartment establishments totaled 1,425, new motels 372 and rooming houses dropped 388.

On Jan. 1, hte state had 16,352 restaurants in operation, with a total seating capacity of 763,594. During the year 836 new restaurants were opened with a seating capacity of 3,409.

Manufacturers Assn. Elects A. Vernon Weaver President

Sullivan Becomes 1st V.P.

A. Vernon Weaver, president of Lanotan, Inc., suntan products manufacturing firm, was elected president of the Greater Miami Manufacturers Association Wednesday.

Weaver succeeds Lloyd Jaye, president of Jaye Manufacturing Company.

Weaver, who is also a vice president of Southern Venetian Blind Company, became head of Lanotan last year when a group of Miami businessmen bought the firm.

Timothy J. Sullivan, vice president of Florida Power and Light Company, moved up from secretary to first vice president of the association, which includes most of Dade County's manufacturing firms.

Sidney J. Reaves, manager of the Miami Coca-Cola Bottling Company, was chosen second vice president and E. R. Starbuck, sales manager for Florida Portland Cement Company, was named secretary.

The new treasurer is Louis F. Garrard, general manager of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., here.

The new officers will be installed Jan. 31 at a dinner at the DuPont Plaza Hotel.

Speaker at the installation dinner will be Milton C. Lightner, president of the National Association of Manufacturers and board chairman of the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Green Cheese May Hide Oil on Moon

By Herald Wire Services

The Russians gave out a clue Wednesday as to why they are in a hurry to reach the moon: there may be oil there.

A Soviet Scientist, Prof. Nilolai Kozyrev, says periodic changes in the color of parts of the moon indicate the presence of natural gas.

"This would mean that in the direct vicinity one may expect to find deposits of oil," he said.

PROTESTING an increase in federal gasoline taxes proposed by President Eisenhower, a top oil man declared that the present nine-cent tax on a gallon of gas is equal to 80 per cent of its refinery price and 41 per cent of its retail price.

Despite Cuba

No Change Seen For Sugar Act

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Fidel Castro's successful revolt in Cuba, main sugar supplier for the rich U.S. market, will make no change in Congressional plans to extend the U.S. sugar quota act, Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D., N.C.) said Wednesday.

Cooley, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he has no doubt the new Cuban regime will allow the island's sugar producers to fill their 1959 U.S. quota. This amounts to about one-third of U.S. consumption.

"We couldn't have a sugar program without Cuba," Cooley said.

Other sources here, meanwhile, predicted domestic sugar producers will urge an indefinite extension of the law under which the U.S. market is carved up into carefully controlled shares for American and foreign producers.

Under the act, the Agriculture Department controls supplies reaching the U.S. market — and indirectly controls prices—through the quota system.

The sugar act is now in force under a four-year extension which expires at the end of 1960. Both administration and Congressional farm leaders have indicated they favor approval of the next extension this year to allow for advance planning in producing areas.

Domestic growers favor an extension with no time limit, it was reported, because many of them feel the present quota terms are the most favorable they can realistically expect to get.

Cooley said the Cuban revolt is not likely to affect Cuba's position as a supplier to the U.S. market because "Castro realizes sugar is the most important item in the Cuban economy."

Banks Bat .900; All But 4 Show Deposit Gains

All but four of Dade County's 31 banks reported increased growth during 1958.

The county's newest bank, two-year-old Dade National, led the pack with a growth in deposits of 136.2 per cent.

Second fastest growing was Metropolitan Bank, which passed four others to become the county's 12th largest. It's deposits rose 62.1 per cent.

Only four banks reported declines in both deposits and resources.

They were South Dade Farmers Bank of Homestead, down 25.4 per cent in deposits, 23.6 per cent in resources; Pan American Bank, down 13.7 and 13.1 per cent; Curtiss National of Miami Springs, down 5.8 and 1.8 per cent, and North Shore of Miami Beach, down 5 and 3.2 per cent.

Coral Gables National reported a fractional decline in deposits but a gain in resources.

Others among the top 10 in deposit growth were Miami National up 51.3 per cent; City National of Coral Gables, 41.9 per cent; Peoples of North Miami Beach, 34.3 per cent; Bank of Dade County, 26.1 per cent; Boulevard National, 21.7 per cent; Merchants of Miami, 20.5 per cent; Bank of South Miami, 16.5 per cent, and Industrial National, 14.9 per cent.

First National Bank of Miami by far the largest in Dade County, passed the 300-million-dollar mark in deposits for a gain of 10.4 per cent.

U.S. May Use Atom To Free Oil Reserve

DALLAS — (DJ) — Uncle Sam is willing to try out an underground atomic explosion in an oil well if the nation's petroleum industry will foot some of the costs.

This is the first time the government has formally offered to sanction atomic explosions for strictly non-military purposes.

R. M. Gooding of the Bureau of Mines said the government hopes to pulverize oil-bearing shale with an atomic blast and then free the oil from the shale by man made controlled fires underground.

He said the initial experimental explosion is expected to produce 15,000 barrels of oil and 10 million cubic feet of gas at the outset.

A site has tentatively been selected in the Piceance Creek Basin in northwest Colorado.

The experiment would cost 1.2 million dollars plus the cost of the atomic device, Gooding said.

'Get Rich Quick' Schemes

Big Bull Market Attracts Con Men

WASHINGTON —(P)— Heightened interest in the stock market has attracted a fringe element of confidence men who cater to the public's get-rich-quick fancies, Congress was told Wednesday.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, in its report for the 1958 fiscal year which ended June 30, said the big bull market has saddled it with "enforcement problems of the first magnitude."

Con men were said to be preying on "uninformed investors . . . often willing to purchase unknown and speculative securities which are represented as offering unusual opportunities for gain."

The SEC observed that "somewhat paradoxically, declines in the prices of seasoned securities may increase the public appetite for such speculative offerings."

It said a substantial number of recent mergers, acquisitions and expansion programs "appear to be designed largely to reap profits for promoters and speculators at the expense of the public."

As the tempo of market activity has increased, the commission said, it has "noted a growing number of instances of unusual and unexplained market activities in particular securities, suggesting possible market manipulations." It said it expects to devote more of its enforcement effort to this area in the future.

The commission said that as opportunities for illicit profits have multiplied, "the number, resources and ingenuity of violators seeking to capitalize upon these opportunities have likewise multiplied."

F-R Board Pinched Own Credit Line

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Federal Reserve Board reported that it fell victim to its own easy credit policy last year.

It said that the sharp drop in interest rates it engineered in the first half of the year to stimulate spending by business and consumers, plus higher operating costs, reduced 1958 earnings of the 12 Federal Reserve banks to 604 million dollars.

This total represented a drop of 27 million dollars from 1957.

The bank's income is derived from holdings of U. S. government securities and from loans to commercial banks which belong to the Federal Reserve System.

Beach Federal Election Delayed

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board Wednesday delayed a directors election at Miami Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association until Feb. 18.

The election originally had been set for Jan. 21. The present management of the association asked for the delay over the objections of a shareholders group which now controls most of the proxies which would be voted in the election.

U.S. Recognizes Castro; 15 Batista Men Executed

By Herald Wire Services

HAVANA, Cuba — The United States formally recognized the revolutionary government of Cuba Wednesday as the regime of Fidel Castro announced the execution of 15 officers of the forces of former dictator Fulgencio Batista.

The American action, announced in a note delivered to the new Cuban foreign minister, Robert Daniel Agramonte, by Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith, was followed almost immediately by similar action by the British government.

The move came six days after Batista fled Cuba, admitting defeat at the hands of the rebels.

The note said:

"I have been instructed by my government to inform your excellency, that, having noted with satisfaction the assurances given by the new government of Cuba of its intention to comply with the international obligation and agreements of Cuba, the government of the U.S. is pleased to recognize the government under the presidency of Manuel Urrutia Lleo, as the provisional government of the Republic of Cuba."

The executions signaled the start of widespread trials by revolutionary courts of Cubans accused of crimes against the state.

Authorities said 10 officers, including Col. Arcadio Casillas Lumpuy, were executed in Santiago, capital of Oriente province and hometown of Castro.

Lumpuy was Batista's chief of operations in Oriente, where between 200 and 300 presoners were reported awaiting trial.

Five military men were executed in Santa Clara, capital of central Las Villas Province. Among those reported sentenced to death there was Lt. Col. Cornelio Rojas, a police inspector. He was accused of torturing prisoners.

Havana Police Chief Aldo Vera said 800 prisoners are being held in the capital on political charges. He declared each case is under investigation and the innocent will be released.

Camilio Cienfugos, commander of Havana Province, said plans were under way for a drastic reorganization of the country's armed forces, under the supervision of the revolutionaries. He added that regular army men innocent of misdeeds will be permitted to take part in the reorganization.

There were these additional developments as Havana awaited impatiently for the expected arrival of Castro today:

Luis Bush, minister of the presidency, said Cuba will demand the extradition of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer on charges he fled by yacht to Key West, Fla., with 17 million dollars belonging to the Cuban people.

The presidency said Masferrer had his own private army for protection and for rooting out suspected rebel sympathizers. He is a close friend of Batista and owner of the newspaper El Tiempo. The paper was sacked by rebel sympathizers after Batista fled. Bush said instructions already had been given to press the U. S. for Masferrer's immediate extradition.

Bush also announced creation of two new ministries — social assistance and economy. The names of the men to head the ministries were not announced.

Castro would not comment on reports that the revolutionary regime would ask for replacement of U.S. Ambassador Smith. Castro was expected to spend the night at Matanzas, 60 miles from Havana. He headed to Matanzas from Santa Clara.

Castro's 26th of July Movement spurred the hunt for informers, grafters and others who lined their pockets under Batista by announcing formation of a "department of purification."

"Chivato," meaning rascal, is applied to informers for Batista's police and is the dirtiest word in Havana today.

The new department also will disarm unauthorized gun-

New Regime Takes Dim View of Prio

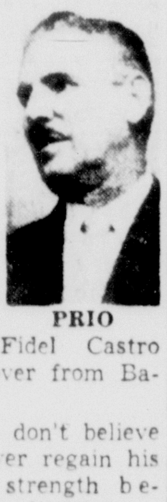
By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Former Cuban President Carlos Prio Socarras, who claims he spent his entire fortune buying arms for the revolution, may wind up out in the cold in his country's new government.

"I spent everything I had," Prio said Wednesday in an interview at his huge country home, La Chata, a few miles from Havana.

He and his family returned here from their long exile in Miami.

"All that I have left is the property that I own here," said Cuba's last constitutional president who was ousted by Fulgencio Batista. "But I am not asking for anything."



PRIO

Even if he does ask for something, indications are that he won't get it from the government being formed by Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Rebel Leader Fidel Castro picked to take over from Batista.

Observers here don't believe that Prio will ever regain his former political strength because he has very little popular support.

Some give him no credit for aiding the rebel movement and even accuse Prio of having stolen the money he had when he was president. Prio was ousted by Batista in 1952.

Prio did not make any estimate of just how many millions he spent while in exile in Miami buying arms and ammunition to ship to the rebels. He would only say he spent "everything."

There were close to a hundred automobiles at La Chata Wednesday, and hundreds of young men milling around who fought in the interior for Prio's revolutionary organization, Autentica.

Nearly every man was heavily armed and a few appeared to have just atarted growing beards — the symbol of sacrifice.

Without any political power, a big question is how Prio will go about rewarding them.

In Havana proper, meanwhile, citizens are preparing the biggest celebration yet for the arrival of Castro and the core of his rebel army.

Havana has more than returned to normal. Things are much better than normal.

Bakers, shoeshine boys, taxis and tourist traps — except for the gambling casinos which Urrutia has vowed to keep closed—are all back in business.

Baseball is back, and sports news is again getting newspaper space, along with weddings and funerals.

For a city that feared it was in for a blood bath this time last week, the adjustment to the switch in governments is amazing. Habaneros still can't quite believe that the tourists may start flocking back at any time.

Boone Does Some Explaining About Beer Drinking, Stealing

NEW YORK—(AP)—Singer Pat Boone, idolized as a clean-living, non-drinking antidote to juvenile delinquency, is having to do some explaining about his "past."

In an interview Wednesday with The New York Post, Boone discussed the weaknesses he discloses in his new book, "Twixt Twelve and Twenty." These weaknesses included shoplifting and beer-drinking.

Pat explained:

"I was about 16 when four or five of us guys did our shoplifting. Each of us took a downtown store in Nashville at Christmas time. We did it for excitement, but we did it.

"We took little items. Cigaret lighters, socks, pants, shirts, sweaters, things like that. Our folks could have afforded to pay for them."

Later, Boone continued, he became remorseful, and confessed his deeds to his high high school principal.

"I . . . told him I wanted to return the goods I'd stolen, or pay for it. He helped me. By this time I'd sung quite a lot around town, and this would have been quite a story if it had come out but it never did.

"Again with the guys, we got to drinking beer like a lot of teen-agers. None of us liked it—I smoked a lot, too, and I don't now."

Nor, he added, does he any longer take beer or other alcoholic beverages.

Mikoyan Hooted in Cleveland

By Herald Wire Services

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, pretending to ignore a rock-throwing incident and intensive anti-Soviet demonstrations, advocated a co-existence in "peace and friendship" on his one-day visit here Wednesday.

The Soviet's No. 2 man and seven other Russians, including Russian Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, arrived at Hopkins airport and were greeted by Financier Cyrus Eaton, who was host to the Russian official during his brief stay.

At the airport, Mikoyan, referring to Eaton's recent visit to Russia, stated: "Your trip was a private one but your statements after the visit bore testimony to the fact that people living under different systems can still get along together.

"You want peace and friendship and so do we. Let us each retain our views on capitalism and socialism, but let us be friends in peace."

He told a group of leading Ohio businessmen that Soviet scientists have so far failed to create shelters good against H-bombs. Soviet scientists are working to create shelters which can provide protection against thermonuclear explosions, he said that "when one has knowledge of what the

Spring Is In the Air --For Fair

Miami's spring-like weather isn't expected to change in the foreseeable future, and the rest of Florida will keep warming up, too, after its brief but severe cold snap.

"There's not much prospect of any major change," Miami Weather Bureau Forecaster William McGehee said Wednesday. "The weather will be good here and the rest of the state should keep on warming up."

Miami temperatures hit the mid-70s Wednesday and are expected to go a few degrees higher Thursday. The low Thursday morning should range from 65 to 70, McGehee said.

In Central and North Florida, coldest temperatures Wednesday morning were in the high 30s, and the mercury rose during the day to the mid-60s. Sunny skies are expected to continue over the whole state at least for another day or two.

Filibuster Control Battle Erupts As Congress Opens

Stage Set For Bitter Civil Fight

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The new 86th Congress, biggest in U.S. history, opened Wednesday with fireworks popping over Senate filibusters and with new Republican leaders taking party command in both houses.

The heavily - Democratic House and Senate convened at noon for a session that must try to reconcile President Eisenhower's economy budget with Russia's space challenge. Democratic leaders promised "responsible service" and "sympathetic" consideration of the President's proposals.

The session was only minutes old when the Senate erupted in a row over attempts by liberal members to make it easier to curb anti-civil rights filibusters. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas finally forced postponement of a first-round showdown until today.

Johnson acted after Vice President Richard M. Nixon, presiding over the chamber, held for the second time in two years that the Senate can adopt new rules at the outset of a new Congress, including a crackdown on filibusters.

This was the opinion the liberal anti-filibuster senators wanted to hear and it laid the groundwork for a rousing North-South fight when the Senate meets today at 10 a.m. —two hours early. Johnson accused Nixon of issuing parliamentary opinions rather "freely" on opening day.

A House controversy, with civil rights overtones, was settled when Rep. Dale Alford, the Little Rock, Ark., segregationist, was allowed to take his seat by an overwhelming vote. A House elections subcommittee had recommended that Alford be barred pending an investigation of his write-in victory over Rep. Brooks Hays (D., Ark.).

Opening day saw more than 2,000 bills introduced in the House — including two big spending measures which Eisenhower vetoed last year for economy reasons.

One would launch a 275 million dollar program of federal aid for economically-depressed areas. The other would provide federal grants of 100 million dollars a year for five years to help communities build airports. Democrats labeled them "must" legislation.

Former President Truman and a host of luminaries were on hand to see the opening of the most overwhelmingly Democratic Congress since New Deal days. The Senate lineup is 64 Democrats and 34 Republicans. In the House, it is 283 Democrats and 153 Republicans.

The Congress, with which Eisenhower must deal during his last two years in the White House, also is the largest in history due to the addition of two senators and a House member from the new state of Alaska.

The Democrats unanimously returned Sen. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn to power. House Democrats also renamed Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts as their party's floor leader.

Johnson and Rayburn promptly urged their Democratic colleagues to live up to the responsibilities entrusted to them by the sweeping Democratic victories in the November congressional elections.

Reporter's Coin Flip Picked 'Senior' Alaska Senator
. . . E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, right, won over Ernest Gruening

'Luck of Draw' Gives Alaska Two 'Short Term' Senators

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The luck of the draw gave Alaska two short-term senators Wednesday.

Sen. Ernest Gruening will represent the 49th state for four years and Sen. E. L. (Bob) Bartlett will serve a two-year term.

Both new Democratic senators missed a chance to win a full six-year term as they performed a ceremony last held when Arizona and New Mexico sent their first senators to Washington 47 years ago.

Gruening, 71-year-old former territorial governor, drew one of three slips of paper from a small box to determine his term.

It made him a four-year senator. Then Bartlett, Alaska's 54-year-old former delegate to Congress, drew a two-year slip. The six-year slip remained unchosen.

The draw was necessary to give Gruening and Bartlett terms of differing length.

The Constitution requires the Senate membership to be divided into three classes, with about one-third of the senators standing for re-election every two years.

As a result of Wednesday's drawing, Alaskans will vote for senators again in 1960 and 1962. The senators elected then will have full six-year terms.

On Tuesday, Gruening and Bartlett flipped a coin to decide who would rank as Alaska's senior senator. Bartlett won the flip, so Gruening had first choice in the draw Wednesday.

Martin One of Boys Again; Uses Employes' Entrance

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Joe Martin turned in his Cadillac for a taxicab Wednesday and came to work through the employes' entrance.

He was no longer the leader of House Republicans, using the boss' door. He was just one of the crowd.

The 74-year-old bachelor from North Attleboro, Mass., stands as a living monument to the caprices and cruelties of big time politics.

Almost 20 years ago to the day, Martin's colleagues elevated him to the highest post within their power — the GOP leadership of the House. They made him speaker during the four years they were in control.

Tuesday the roof fell in.

Unceremoniously, unmercifully and unexpectedly, Martin was toppled from his throne by a vote of 74-70 at a party caucus. In his place was installed Charles A. Helleck of Indiana, who had risen to a position of power in the House with the early assistance of Martin.

How does it feel to be fired, right out of a clear sky, after 20 years as boss?

"It's not too bad, now that it's over," Martin said. "I didn't like it. I didn't expect it. I thought I had the votes. I was a little stunned at first, but now I don't feel so bad about it. In fact, you might say I feel good. In a way I'm sort of glad, now that it's over.

"It's a relief not to have the responsibilities."

Missing 72 Hours in Everglades

Search Party Finds Lost Hunter

More State News, 1C, 2B, 7C

EVERGLADES CITY —(AP)— A Lakeland man missing in the Everglades northeast of here for 72 hours was rescued Wednesday by the sheriff and Coast Guard helicopter crewmen.

Sheriff E. A. (Doug) Hendry said James Williams was in "pretty good shape" when taken to Monroe Station, a community 10 miles from the Collier-Dade County line.

"He was mighty glad to see us," the sheriff said. "He said he had just about given up hope of getting out of the Glades."

Williams, 22, went into the area Sunday with four other men on a hunting trip. He became separated from the others.

"He was wandering aimlessly and getting farther from the road all the time," Hendry said.

The sheriff said a four-man search party found footprints on a swamp buggy trail Tuesday. When the search resumed at daylight, a helicopter from the Coast Guard Air Station at Miami had arrived.

Hendry and the crew flew over the area where the footprints had been discovered. They followed a trail for about two miles and spotted Williams lying on the ground.

"I was asleep and the motor from the helicopter awakened me," the sheriff quoted Williams as saying.

The officer said Williams "was scratched and bruised from wandering through the brush, but he's going to be all right."

The sheriff said Williams' only food during the three days "was a pond bird he shot with his 20-gauge shotgun."

The officer said Williams would return to Lakeland after being checked by a physician.

Rocket Orbits Around Sun, Russians Say

LONDON —(AP)— The Soviet space rocket went into orbit around the sun Wednesday and became the first artificial planet of the solar system, Moscow radio said.

The broadcast said the rocket has covered a distance of 14,500,000 kilometers (9,062,500 miles) since it was launched from a base in the Soviet Union Friday.

All radio contact with the rocket has been lost since Monday. The Soviet Union has given no indication of how it could tell when the rocket would go into orbit around the sun.

Its curving path through space as it veers into orbit around the sun leaves it one million kilometers (625,000 miles) from the earth, the broadcast said.

Quoting the science correspondent of the Tass News Agency, Moscow said this figure "will increase at a terrific pace since the earth and the artificial planet are diverging in the cosmos."

The Tass science correspondent insisted the Russians had no intention of hitting the moon with their space rocket.

It missed the moon by about 5,000 miles and headed on through space.

The initial Soviet announcement said the rocket was headed toward the moon. The aim of putting it into orbit around the sun was not mentioned then.

Conservatives Keep Control

Dirksen Is GOP Senate Leader

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Conservative Republicans won their fight to keep Senate party control Wednesday by electing Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as GOP leader over liberal Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. The vote was 20-14.

The Republicans also elected Liberal Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California as whip, or assistant GOP leader, by the same vote. This was considered a concession to the liberal group which sought to overthrow conservative control.

Kuchel won out over Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, a last minute candidate nominated by Dirksen forces, in a two-hour organizational meeting of Senate Republicans.

Kuchel said the GOP senators achieved "results that we believe will help us unite and fashion political principles on the basis of what we believe best for the American people."

Shortly after the vote was announced, President Eisenhower sent congratulations to both Dirksen and Kuchel.

Cooper said he accepted the President's statement that "he was not involved in our situation. I know also that the vice president kept a position which was correct and proper."

"I fully and wholeheartedly concur," Dirksen said.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts had charged that White House aides intervened in the vote Tuesday in which Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana unseated him as House GOP floor leader.

The GOP senators reelected Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Masschusetts as chairman of the Republican Conference, made up of all Senate Republicans, and Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota was reelected secretary. Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire was reelected chairman of the Republican Policy Committee.

U.S. Gets Ricca Data

CHICAGO — (UPI) — The naturalization papers of Paul (The Waiter) Ricca, one-time kingpin in the Al Capone gang, Wednesday were ordered turned over to the attorney general in a new move to deport the mob veteran to his native Italy.

At the request of the government, Federal Judge Walter La Buy ordered Ricca's certificate of naturalization turned over to U.S. District Attorney Robert Tieken for transfer to Washington.

Ricca appeared Tuesday before Otto A. Eck, special inquiry officer of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, but was a reluctant witness when the government tried to get him to admit he obtained his citizenship fraudulently.

Pilots Unit Rejects Meany Bid

WASHINGTON — (AP) — American Airlines said Wednesday the head of the Pilots Union had turned down a proposal that AFL-CIO President George Meany arbitrate a strike that has grounded its planes since Dec. 20.

C. R. Smith, president of American, said he made the recommendation Saturday but was rebuffed by Clarence Sayen, president of the striking Air Line Pilots Association.

American disclosed the arbitration proposal in a statement after federal mediators reported both sides were close to agreement in efforts to end the 19-day-old pilots' strike.

Smith said he had suggested that Meany's decisions be binding on the company and the pilots.

Sayen, he continued, termed the proposal impractical "and has consistently neglected to discuss it since that time."

Under the proposal the pilots would return to work while Meany considered the wage-hour issues.

Red Chinese Guns Angry

TAIPEI, Formosa — (UPI) — Chinese Communist guns fired 32,919 rounds Wednesday in the biggest bombardment of the offshore Quemoy islands in two months, the Nationalist defense ministry announced.

There was no immediate report on casualties.

The Chinese Reds indicated that the shelling was a punitive measure against the Nationalist garrison rather than a reopening of full-scale hostilities in the Formosa Strait.

Propaganda loudspeakers on the Red-held Chinese mainland warned Tuesday that the garrison would be "punished" for bombarding what the Reds said were civilian areas of the mainland Saturday. The Reds claimed 23 children and 25 adults were killed by Nationalist shells.

8 Junior Colleges In Florida Sought

TAMPA — (AP) — The state advisory council on education Wednesday voted to ask the Legislature to establish eight new community junior colleges in east and southeast Florida in the next biennium.

The council will ask legislators to appropriate $12,439,010 for establishing the colleges and for capital outlay for existing junior colleges.

The recommendation calls for both white and Negro schools to be constructed in Dade, Broward and Brevard counties and in an area consisting of St. Lucie, Martin, Indian River and Okeechobee counties.

The 1957 Legislature approved a community junior college budget of $8,135,499, of which $4,880,409 was appropriated.

The remaining $3,255,090 already approved forms one section of the advisory council's budget recommendation. Current capital outlay needs total $5,455,920. Building costs for the four proposed white and four Negro colleges total $3,728,000.

Dr. James Wattenbarger of the state department of education told the council that present estimates indicate there will be 160,000 pupils eligible for college in Florida in 1970.

The council, headed by Allen Glazier of St. Petersburg, recommended these capital outlay budgets for existing junior colleges:

Bay County: Gulf Coast $332,554; Rosenwald (Negro) $93,646.

Escambia: Pensacola $714,141; Washington (Negro) $144,300.

Jackson; Chipola $110,820; Negro institution $97,680.

Madison: North Florida $417,340; Negro institution $87,879.

Manatee: Manatee $1,343,728; Negro institution $68,265.

Marion: Central Florida $663,840; Howard (Negro) $286,560.

Palm Beach: Palm Beach $689,833; Roosevelt (Negro) $113,100.

Pinellas: St. Petersburg $1,165,500; Gibbs (Negro) $472,530.

Putnam: St. Johns River $520,740; Negro institution $109,596.

Volusia: Daytona Beach $1,035,478; Volusia County (Negro) $240,480.

Capital outlay expenditures anticipated at the new junior colleges include: Brevard County: $483,000; Broward County: $1,005,000; St. Lucie County: $261,000; Dade County: $1,899,000.

Mikoyan spoke of the futility of the building of shelters against such weapons in order to make a plea for friendship and peace between the Soviet Union and the U.S.

All was not peaceful and friendly, however, during protest demonstrations staged by victims of Soviet terror, mostly Hungarian groups.

As Mikoyan and his party emerged from Eaton's Greenbrier suite in the Terminal Tower to attend a luncheon with business and industrial leaders at the Union Club, a 19-year-old fugitive from Russian oppression threw a rock at the deputy premier.

The woman, Mrs. Emma Halhai, missed, but was taken into custody and charged with disorderly conduct by police, who had difficulty restraining several hundred demonstrators who jeered and shouted at the visiting official and Eaton.

Earlier, police asked a Hungarian refugee to leave the airport when they found a spoiled egg in his possession.

Mikoyan, however, pretended to ignore the rock-throwing incident as he doffed his hat, waved and smiled at the crowd before entering a limousine to drive to the exclusive Union Club.

Dad and 5 Die in Fire

BRANDON, Minn. —(AP)— A father and his five children died Wednesday in a fire that swept their two-story home here.

Mark Kelly got out of the house after the fire began, but lost his life when he went back in and sought to rescue his children.

Dead were Kelly, about 38, three sons, Jim, 16, Dennis, 12, Pat, 14; and two daughters, Mary Lee, 10, and Peggy, 3.

Mrs. Kelly fled the burning house with her husband and tried to go back in for the children, along with her husband. Neighbors restrained the mother from reentering the house.

The father's body was found at the foot of a stairs, where he apparently collapsed while trying to reach the baby.

National Summary

Widespread cloudiness accompanied the warming flow of rain or drizzle out of Texas into Tennessee and Kentucky while drizzle surrounded a disturabnce moving through the central plains toward the mid Mississippi Valley.

Spotty light snow was scattered over the Rockies from Colorado to Montana but the Pacific states held most of the wet weather in the west.

Moisture from the Gulf of Mexico spreading northeastward, will extend the rains from the lower Mississippi Valley to the Carolinas and Virginia. The precipitation may begin as a combination or variation of snow, sleet to rain from southern Iowa to the upper Ohio Valley and into the mid Atlantic states.

Snow will develop and spread from the Ohio Valley and the southern Great Lakes to the mountains of New York and as far south as the mountains of western Virginia.

Cooler air pressing eastward across the plains will give partly cloudy weather from Texas to the Dakotas with rain changing to snow in the lower Missouri Valley and snow across the Great Lakes.

The new Pacific storm sweeping down the coast is expected to give heavy rains with gale winds as it moves inland through central California with the precipitation as heavy snow in the mountains.

Sand Piled

The driver of this car escaped injury but he had to dig his way out from under a mound of wet sand after a collision with a dump truck at a Tallahassee intersection. The truck overturned on impact and buried the car with its cargo. The truck driver also escaped injury. Patrolman Frank Causseaux inspects the damage.

Fast-Moving Fire Destroys 4-Bedroom Sharpes Home

Indian River Area

COCOA — A fast burning fire which apparently started in the kitchen Wednesday destroyed a four-bedroom frame house in Sharpes, a small community five miles north of Cocoa.

No one was injured in the blaze which started when Mrs. B. D. Holland was visiting a neighbor.

The Hollands lost virtually all their belongings.

Firemen of the four communities volunteer fire department were unable to check the flames. They managed to keep the blaze away from the adjoining home of Earle French.

The Hollands and their four children — Billy 15, Dianne 12, Gloria 10, and Gary 8 — were taken in by neighbors temporarily.

Named to Band

COCOA — Four local school band members were named Monday to the all-Florida High School Band.

The chosen musicians are David Jaehne and Lee Barnhart of Cocoa High School and Patricia Cuppett and Caroline Fulford of Cocoa Junior High School.

All four will play this weekend in Tampa where the All-Florida high school and junior high school bands will be assembled for the annual clinic of the Florida Music Educators Association.

Schools Slated

MELBOURNE — City officials have been informed that the State Board of Health plans to use Melbourne's modern water pumping and treatment plant at Lake Washington as a "classroom" for water plant operator schools.

The operator school sessions usually are held at the University of Florida. After this city's plant has been completed — scheduled for March 1 — the school will be conducted here occasionally.

The lake plant is part of a multi-million dollar Melbourne water system that will serve not only this community but nearly a third of Brevard County.

To Take Oath

TITUSVILLE — Lee Wenner and Fred Fisher will be sworn in as members of the Brevard County Commission today.

Wenner of Sharpes succeeds retiring commissioner Curt Barnes of Cocoa. Fisher replaces commissioner Dave Nisbet of Merritt Island whom he defeated in the November election.

Election Today

VERO BEACH — New Officers will be elected today by the board of directors of the Vero Beach Chamber of Commerce.

Results of the election of four directors by a mail ballot of members were tallied Tuesday night. They are Neal Bird, George Loy Jr., Al Stockmeier, and John Sutherland.

Hearing Set

INDIALANTIC — A hearing has been set by City Council Feb. 3 on this beach town's first master zoning plan.

Council also adopted a county natural gas franchise and a bulkhead ordinance.

The franchise, submitted by county commissioners, was approved after council deleted a clause permitting construction of a plant in the community.

The bulkhead ordinance will allow Indian River property owners to fill in the river 10 to 40 feet from shore. Councilmen hope to straighten out the Indialantic shore with the bulkheads.

No Furniture

TITUSVILLE — Brevard County's sheriff's department was in a fix Wednesday. It had a new home, but it couldn't move in because it didn't have any beds.

It didn't have any desk, typewriters, tables, filing cabinets or other office equipment either for that matter.

The department's new $300,000 office building and jail here was ready for occupancy Wednesday, but the furniture ordered a month ago from an Orlando firm hadn't arrived.

Public Hearing

STUART — A public hearing was conducted by Winston Carelton of the State Road Department Tuesday on the use of federal aid funds for Palm City Loop Road.

Carleton said that evidence had to be presented indicating the economic effect and alignment of the road prior to release of the federal matching funds.

After the hearing Carleton said the road was justified and that he predicted that a small municipality would probably be the result in that area when the road was completed.

New Formula

VERO BEACH — An improved formula regulating the paving of residential streets in Vero Beach is being worked on by city officials.

Mayor Harry C. Offutt Jr. told a council meeting Tuesday night that it is almost impossible to get a street paved under the present formula requiring that 90 per cent of the owners of abutting property contribute the same proportion of funds for the paving before it can start.

Baby Reptiles Found

Hunters After Gator In Melbourne Swamp

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — A group of professional hunters, led by Conservation Agent L. A. Tindall, will begin searching today for several large alligators, believed to be living in a sprawling swamp adjoining a Melbourne residential district.

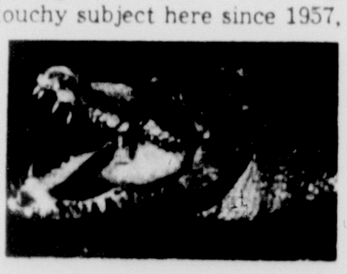
The hunt was planned after small children, living in Trade Winds sub-division, Wednesday brought home several baby gators they found while playing in the marshy area.

Parents called Tindall, who disposed of the small gators and checked the swamp for evidence of larger ones, which he said he found.

Tindall, who is out of the city today requested City Commissioner R. P. (Russ) Sullivan to warn Trade Winds residents to keep children away from the swamp until the alligators are tracked down.

"If the kids found baby gators there," Sullivan explained, "there are some mama gators, too. And just think what might have happened had mama been nearby when the children took the small ones."

Alligators have been a touchy subject here since 1957,



when Alan Rice, 9, of Eau Gallie, was believed attacked and killed by a large gator.

The Rice boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Beatty, was reported missing in June, 1957. Two days later volunteer searchers found Alan's mangled body on the bank of Horse Shoe Creek, about 50 yards from his home.

Conservation agents hunted the reptile and finally captured an 11-foot bull. Parts of the boy's body were found in the alligator's stomach.

Aroused citizens called for eradication of the alligators in the area and started to do the job themselves, until stopped by conservation agents.

Tax Assessor Urges County to Cut Millage

St. Lucie Chairman Re-Elected

B. Y. Free Again Named to Post

FORT PIERCE — B. Y. (Bill) Free was reelected chairman of the St. Lucie County Commission Wednesday.

N. W. (Bill) Jorgensen was chosen vice-chairman at a reorganization meeting.

Taking his place on the commission was Melvin Shaffner, who succeeded Commissioner Douglas Silver, who did not run for reelection.

In meetings of the Port Authority and the Sanitary District, of which Silver had been chairman, the commissioners chose Joseph Nelson as chairman and E. L. Taylor as vice-chairman.

Upon the request of Mackle's General Development Company, the commission agreed to postpone any decision on the approval of soil cement roads for county subdivisions until after a conference with principals of the company.

A conference was scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 8:30 a.m.

Commission Chairman Free outlined an intensive schedule set up for the visit of Road Board member William Singer next Tuesday, when the commission hopes to give Singer both a ground and aerial view of various road projects.

The St. Lucie County Farm Bureau, asked the commission to take action to control uncapped artesian wells and also prevent city trash and garbage trucks from scattering refuse on county roads en route to the city dump.

Free said both requests will be investigated.

Vero Votes To Set Up New Office

VERO BEACH — The position of budget and personnel officer for Vero Beach has been created by the City Council.

The councilman decided Tuesday night, upon recommendation of City Manager Eugene Lyon, that centralizing city purchasing in the new official would save at least his or her salary and that of an additional secretary.

An informal meeting of the council was set for Friday at 8 p.m. to hear a report on the best method of expansion of the municipal electricity system.

At another informal meeting Jan. 16 representatives of natural gas companies will present their requests for franchises.

Clinic Slated

FORT PIERCE—Physicians, nurses, and hospital personnel from nine counties have been invited to a Demonstration Clinic on the Care of the Premature Infant, to be held here Friday, at the Garden Center.

Beach Road Dispute

Law Suit Threat Is Facing Martin

STUART — The Martin county commission will face a law suit if it doesn't take immediate steps to remove structures which allegedly block a county road on Hutchinson Island.

The commission was informed by Warner B. Tilton of Jensen Beach, through his attorney Edward Dennison of Fort Pierce, that Tuscbay Properties on the island had constructed a concrete wall and a building across the county beach road which blocked off access to his property.

The commission has sought for more than a year to solve this problem. It had instructed Attorney William R. Scott to determine if the road, which borders the ocean was county owned.

Scott, as well as former Commission Attorney Theodore C. Houk, maintain that the road, which has been used for years to the St. Lucie Inlet was county owned.

Tilton has attempted to get the county to take action on the road block. The commission has requested representatives of Tuscbay Properties to come to some agreement.

Scott on Tuesday told the commission that if, in their opinion, the road was a public necessity and its opening would be of public benefit, they should take action.

"On the other hand," he added, "if you think this is a private matter between Tilton and Tuscbay let them proceed with the suit."

Attorney Scott was instructed to inform Dennison that the county was maintaining "status quo."

Pioneer Resident Of Vero Dies

Herald Correspondent

VERO BEACH—Mrs. Emma K. Meyer, 80, of 2050 17th Ave., died Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Meyer was a pioneer resident of Vero Beach, moving here 44 years ago from Davenport, Iowa.

She was a charter member of Grace Lutheran Church and a member of the Women's Missionary League.

She is survived by her husband, F. W., Vero Beach; two daughters, Miss Bernice Meyer, Vero Beach and Mrs. Emma Venzke, Davenport, Iowa; two sons, Walter R. Meyer, and William A. Meyer, Vero Beach; and two grandsons.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Friday in the Grace Lutheran Church with the Rev. L. C. Gerbhardt officiating. Burial will follow at Crestlawn Cemetery under the direction of Floyd Funeral Home.

William Lee

VERO BEACH — William Lee, 56, of 1310 4th Ct. in Rockridge, died suddenly Wednesday morning at a local hospital. He was a retired machinist who moved to Vero Beach 18 months ago from New York City.

He is survived by his wife, May Evelyn, a sister, and four brothers. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Floyd Funeral Chapel with the Rev. James Oppert officiating. Burial will follow at Crestlawn Cemetery.

STUART — Cancer education workers from Titusville to Boca Raton are invited to be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Matheson.

'We Have to Get Within Budget', Says Chairman

STUART — "I will raise valuations of homestead property, but I won't if you don't reduce the millage," said Martin County Tax Assessor A. C. Courson.

County Commission Chairman Marvin H. Rowell, asked Courson and Thomas Lee Crook, county superintendent of schools to attend the special commission meeting Tuesday to discuss the county's financial difficulties.

"We're in a bind," said Rowell.

The railroad assessment board cut the county back by $26,000 this year and "somehow we have to get within the budget," he said.

Rowell continued that after the school bond failed in November that the county was in a serious state of affairs, with the crux of the growth just starting.

He added that there was a great deal of diestisfaction among some property owners who "got hurt" during the last assessment.

Rowell urged that Courson and Crook meet with the commissioner and Comptroller Ray E. Green of Tallahassee to go over the entire assessment roll and get the county solvent by adopting more business-like methods in its operation.

Courson said he would be glad to attend the conference as did Crook, but refused to increase home valuations and assessment if the county and school board did not reduce the millage.

The four members of the commission present, agreed with Courson that millage must be reduced if valuations were increased.

The new commission appeared to be budget-minded, and carefully studied the voucher list before okaying it for payment.

Several items, among them payment to Contractor John L. Taylor for courthouse alterations and remodeling for the sum of $1,010 drew criticism.

The work was broken down in three billings which prevented the advertising of bids. The county must advertise for bids if the job will exceed $300.

Rowell also recommended that a complete study be made of the labor budget. He named Commissioners Charles Leighton, and E. J. Arnold to work with him.

The commission went into informal session Tuesday after five and a half hours of taking care of 40 some items on the agenda, to study the budget.

An informal meeting of the commission will be held Friday at the courthouse for additional budget study.

Fund Trustees Get Request

STUART — The Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund were requested by the Martin County Commission to disapprove the sale or conveyance of any submerged land in Martin County beyond the one foot bulkhead line.

In addition, to insure that the rivers and waterways of the county are kept open for the public, the commission agreed to endorse and will sponsor appropriate legislation to ensure perpetual public ownership of all submerged lands in the county beyond the one foot bulkhead line.

Oil Firm's Bid Fails In Brevard

By DAN DROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA — A Frontier Oil Co. last ditch effort to win approval of its plans to build an oil refinery on Merritt Island appeared to be a complete bust Wednesday.

Not a single central Brevard resident had written to the Brevard County Commission or the Canaveral Port Authority to urge the boards to approve the firm's controversial plans.

And J. J. Jackson, Port Authority attorney, was writing the firm that the board isn't interested in reopening negotiations with Frontier over a lease of port property for oil-handling facilities.

Use of the port is a necessity for the refinery which would process imported crude oils.

M. H. (Bud) Robineau president of the Cheyenne, Wyo., oil company, asked the public to support his firm's plans after the Port Authority originally broke off negotiations over the port lease Dec. 18.

He made the request in full page advertisements published by the Cocoa Tribune and the Titusville Star-Advocate.

Mrs. Arnold's Funeral Held

MERRITT ISLAND — Private services were held Wednesday for Mrs. Jeanette Arnold, 44, who died Monday. She was buried in LaGrange Cenetery.

Mrs. Arnold, who had been ill for several months, is survived by her husband, Edson; a daughter, Barbara; two sisters, Mrs. Harry Sisson of Indian River City and Mrs. James Nichols of Titusville; two brothers, Woodrow Whidden of Titusville and George Whidden of Orlando; and her mother, Mrs. Arch Whidden of Titusville.

Control Tower Needed at Melbourne Airport

Aviation Men Concerned Over Danger of Mid-Air Crash

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — Aircraft using the military field at Patrick Air Force Base, where tower facilities are maintained, try to avoid getting near the almost uncontrolled air activity of growing Melbourne Airport.

"We try to stay away from that area (Melbourne Airport's ground-to-air control zone) is much as possible," a PAFB air safety official reported.

An earlier Miami Herald story quoted local aviation interests as saying that the lack of adequate safety devices at the municipal airport not only boosts the accident potential there, but increases the danger to planes using the military airport a few miles away.

Melbourne Airport does not have a control tower, despite a steady gain in traffic, according to C. A. McAllister, local Civil Aeronautics Authority station chief. And the chance of getting one soon still appears slim, he said.

McAllister points out that Melbourne and PAFB fields operate on the same radio range and ground-to-air control zones of the two installations almost touch.

Under this setup, the chance for mid-air collision is great. Patrick-bound planes approach their field from the south, Melbourne-bound aircraft approach the municipal landing strips from the north, and it is reported that aircraft get into each other's control zones.

According to the PAFB spokesman, military pilots are on the watch for the civilian planes and try hard to keep from accidentally flying into the nearby Melbourne zone.

The military official also said that the Air Force is gradually adopting a program of marking its aircraft with a fluorescent type red paint to make them easily seen by other pilots.

"We're painting them as fast as possible," he said, "but you can't say we'll paint a plane red and have job completed the next day. It's difficult to see a silver airplane against the sky, though."

CAA Chief McAllister said the red markings on airplanes are getting to be a universal practice among owners of private and executive planes, too.

Establishment of a CAA tower could coordinate civil aircraft activities with traffic handled by Patrick's tower. The city can set up and operate a tower until the FAA approved one for the field, but municipal officials are told that the cost would be prohibitive.

Eastern Air Lines, with seven daily flights scheduled here, has its own system for getting its planes up and down. McAllister says most of the trouble comes from itinerant aircraft.

These itinerant planes endanger area air traffic because some pilots use 10-year-old maps, and in bad weather fly low enough to see the coastline, railroad tracks or Indian River to stay on course, McAllister said.

His FAA office here handles pilots using flight plans and desiring weather information. Melbourne is a check point for planes operating on the low frequency radio range, and landing and takeoff data is given whenever possible.

Melbourne is not eligible for an FAA tower because it does not have the necessary 24,000 landing or takeoff operations a year.

McAllister recorded 3,284 EAL and 11,940 itinerant operations in 1957, and "we could easily add 20 per cent to that total." He hasn't compiled all the figures for 1958 yet, but feels that traffic has been about 25 per cent greater and will continue to grow by leaps and bounds as the city completes present modernization plans.

Aviation interests said they have hopes that the city's proposed airport authority will check into the need for more safety measures when it is organized.

Manufacturers Assn. Elects A. Vernon Weaver President

Sullivan Becomes 1st V.P.

A. Vernon Weaver, president of Lanotan, Inc., suntan products manufacturing firm, was elected president of the Greater Miami Manufacturers Association Wednesday.

Weaver succeeds Lloyd Jaye, president of Jaye Manufacturing Company.

Weaver, who is also a vice president of Southern Venetian Blind Company, became head of Lanotan last year when a group of Miami businessmen bought the firm.

Timothy J. Sullivan, vice president of Florida Power and Light Company, moved up from secretary to first vice president of the association, which includes most of Dade County's manufacturing firms.

Sidney J. Reaves, manager of the Miami Coca-Cola Bottling Company, was chosen second vice president and E. R. Starbuck, sales manager for Florida Portland Cement Company, was named secretary.

The new treasurer is Louis F. Garrard, general manager of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., here.

The new officers will be installed Jan. 31 at a dinner at the DuPont Plaza Hotel.

Speaker at the installation dinner will be Milton C. Lightner, president of the National Association of Manufacturers and board chairman of the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Green Cheese May Hide Oil on Moon

By Herald Wire Services

The Russians gave out a clue Wednesday as to why they are in a hurry to reach the moon: there may be oil there.

A Soviet Scientist, Prof. Nilolai Kozyrev, says periodic changes in the color of parts of the moon indicate the presence of natural gas.

"This would mean that in the direct vicinity one may expect to find deposits of oil," he said.

Despite Cuba

No Change Seen For Sugar Act

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Fidel Castro's successful revolt in Cuba, main sugar supplier for the rich U.S. market, will make no change in Congressional plans to extend the U.S. sugar quota act, Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D., N.C.) said Wednesday.

Cooley, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he has no doubt the new Cuban regime will allow the island's sugar producers to fill their 1959 U.S. quota. This amounts to about one-third of U.S. consumption.

"We couldn't have a sugar program without Cuba," Cooley said.

Other sources here, meanwhile, predicted domestic sugar producers will urge an indefinite extension of the law under which the U.S. market is carved up into carefully controlled shares for American and foreign producers.

Under the act, the Agriculture Department controls supplies reaching the U.S. market — and indirectly controls prices—through the quota system.

The sugar act is now in force under a four-year extension which expires at the end of 1960. Both administration and Congressional farm leaders have indicated they favor approval of the next extension this year to allow for advance planning in producing areas.

Domestic growers favor an extension with no time limit, it was reported, because many of them feel the present quota terms are the most favorable they can realistically expect to get.

Cooley said the Cuban revolt is not likely to affect Cuba's position as a supplier to the U.S. market because "Castro realizes sugar is the most important item in the Cuban economy."

Banks Bat .900; All But 4 Show Deposit Gains

All but four of Dade County's 31 banks reported increased growth during 1958.

The county's newest bank, two-year-old Dade National, led the pack with a growth in deposits of 136.2 per cent.

Second fastest growing was Metropolitan Bank, which passed four others to become the county's 12th largest. It's deposits rose 62.1 per cent.

Only four banks reported declines in both deposits and resources.

They were South Dade Farmers Bank of Homestead, down 25.4 per cent in deposits, 23.6 per cent in resources; Pan American Bank, down 13.7 and 13.1 per cent; Curtiss National of Miami Springs, down 5.8 and 1.8 per cent, and North Shore of Miami Beach, down 5 and 3.2 per cent.

Coral Gables National reported a fractional decline in deposits but a gain in resources.

Others among the top 10 in deposit growth were Miami National up 51.3 per cent; City National of Coral Gables, 41.9 per cent; Peoples of North Miami Beach, 34.3 per cent; Bank of Dade County, 26.1 per cent; Boulevard National, 21.7 per cent; Merchants of Miami, 20.5 per cent; Bank of South Miami, 16.5 per cent, and Industrial National, 14.9 per cent.

First National Bank of Miami by far the largest in Dade County, passed the 300-million-dollar mark in deposits for a gain of 10.4 per cent.

U.S. May Use Atom To Free Oil Reserve

DALLAS — (DJ) — Uncle Sam is willing to try out an underground atomic explosion in an oil well if the nation's petroleum industry will foot some of the costs.

This is the first time the government has formally offered to sanction atomic explosions for strictly non-military purposes.

R. M. Gooding of the Bureau of Mines said the government hopes to pulverize oil-bearing shale with an atomic blast and then free the oil from the shale by man made controlled fires underground.

He said the initial experimental explosion is expected to produce 15,000 barrels of oil and 10 million cubic feet of gas at the outset.

A site has tentatively been selected in the Piceance Creek Basin in northwest Colorado.

The experiment would cost 1.2 million dollars plus the cost of the atomic device, Gooding said.

'Get Rich Quick' Schemes

Big Bull Market Attracts Con Men

WASHINGTON —(P)— Heightened interest in the stock market has attracted a fringe element of confidence men who cater to the public's get-rich-quick fancies, Congress was told Wednesday.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, in its report for the 1958 fiscal year which ended June 30, said the big bull market has saddled it with "enforcement problems of the first magnitude."

Con men were said to be preying on "uninformed investors . . . often willing to purchase unknown and speculative securities which are represented as offering unusual opportunities for gain."

The SEC observed that "somewhat paradoxically, declines in the prices of seasoned securities may increase the public appetite for such speculative offerings."

It said a substantial number of recent mergers, acquisitions and expansion programs "appear to be designed largely to reap profits for promoters and speculators at the expense of the public."

As the tempo of market activity has increased, the commission said, it has "noted a growing number of instances of unusual and unexplained market activities in particular securities, suggesting possible market manipulations." It said it expects to devote more of its enforcement effort to this area in the future.

The commission said that as opportunities for illicit profits have multiplied, "the number, resources and ingenuity of violators seeking to capitalize upon these opportunities have likewise multiplied."

F-R Board Pinched Own Credit Line

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Federal Reserve Board reported that it fell victim to its own easy credit policy last year.

It said that the sharp drop in interest rates it engineered in the first half of the year to stimulate spending by business and consumers, plus higher operating costs, reduced 1958 earnings of the 12 Federal Reserve banks to 604 million dollars.

This total represented a drop of 27 million dollars from 1957.

The bank's income is derived from holdings of U. S. government securities and from loans to commercial banks which belong to the Federal Reserve System.

For and about WOMEN

CLASSIC CHINA patterns like Blue Heirloom, above, are going on melamine dinnerware. This deep blue and white design was first made in Meissen in 1710. The new line is being shown at the China and Glass Show in Atlantic City and will be available in about two months. Other old patterns going on plastic are Rose Pompadour, a landscape in soft pink and white originated in Sevres, and Countryside Idyll, an English village scene of Staffordshire design. This last pattern is brown on white.

'My Husband Says He'll Pay Bills But I Don't Trust Him'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I have been married 15 years, lived in our home nine years. I have always worked and helped with the bills. Now everything has run down. The furniture and the interiors need brightening up.

But my husband complains that he has no money, and since I help with the bills, I lack in clothing and necessities.

During the summer, I happened to find mail he was receiving from a girl friend on vacation, telling him how nice he is to her and thanking him for the things he does, and is still doing.

So, I stopped paying bills. Now he wants me to sign papers so he can mortgage the house to pay bills and decorate . . . he says.

But I don't trust him because he is still having an affair with this woman. I followed him one night and he went right to her house. I think he is trying to leave, but wants to leave a heavy mortgage on the house so I won't be able to keep it. What shall I do?

IN TROUBLE

Under the circumstances you have cited, who can condemn you for not signing, other than HE and SHE?

You don't say whether you have tried to find out what went wrong with your marriage, but if you should be interested in considering professional help, remember — Family Service, 395 NW 1st St. is YOUR community counseling agency. Call in advance for an appointment.

See World With A Child's Eyes

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I would like to make a few comments to Betty, the "grandmother" whose "blood pressure went up and spirits down" because she cared for her two grandchildren for a few hours.

She and her "worn out" daughter are missing one of the few pure joys afforded by life — watching the world through the eyes of a child. I have three children, and most of the time can afford no outside help.

But I can truly say, I had never really seen everyday places, like downtown or the parks, until I started going with my children. I take them out to enjoy myself!

An ordinary thing like a bus ride can be a delightful experience, if you listen to the children's reactions and note their comments, without letting dirty hands, faces, clothes and scuffed shoes ruin the fun.

Consider the children as individuals. Childhood is a fleeting thing, and children have a right to as happy a childhood as parents and grandparents can give them.

If you regard children as nuisances, they are quick to sense your attitude. They'll grow up feeling unwanted, unloved, and it will affect their whole lives.

I know — I was one of those children. And all through life, in spite of my present happiness, I feel the sadness of those early barren years.

What you sow now, you will reap later. Love and enjoy your grandchildren. One never gives too much love . . . it has a way of coming back to us a hundredfold.

VI

(Aside to Vi — and don't forget lunchtime with the pigeons in Bayfront Park! This was my children's favorite expedition. And while I'd never go alone (!), it was fun with them).

Column With a Heart welcomes discussion of your problems and your replies to the problems of others. Write to Eleanor Hart, The Miami Herald, Miami, Fla.

Of Course, Little Bruce Loves To Ride His Horse

Young Bruce Lyle Phillips is the third generation to take up the family's interest—horses.

Six year old Bruce is out riding one of his grandfather's polo ponies as often as he can and he loves it.

Grandfather is Lyle Phillips, well known in racing circles as an owner-trainer of thoroughbreds and as a famous polo player. Mr. Phillips has around 10 horses which he'll race at Hialeah, and he's been playing polo for "30-odd years," both in Florida and on the northern circuit.

He hopes to teach Bruce to play polo some day. Right now Bruce, a first grader in Hialeah, is just riding. He calls grandfather's pony his, and goes to the track with him often.

"But they won't let Bruce ride on the main track yet," says his grandfather.

Bruce's father, William Lyle Phillips, is in the insurance business. He also likes to play polo.

Lila Phillips, Bruce's young aunt, plays polo occasionally.

Training race horses is her career, and she's the only woman trainer on the grounds at Tropical Park where she has eight or nine horses of her own.

Show horses are her hobby. Last summer she won the National Champion Jumping Stakes with her show horse, Sputnik.

So little Bruce has quite a family record to live up to in the fields of polo, and racing or training horses.

Holiday Parties Just a Memory as Society Faces '59

By HELEN VAN HOY SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

THE PALM BEACHES — It's just the first week in 1959, and already the backward glancing face of Janus is blurred in profile. Forward face is alert, gazing into the wild blue yonder of the social futurama.

Holiday parties are just a mem-oh-ree — but what a memory! And now society is settling down into its accustomed grooves with clubs, bridge parties, and public work on the agenda.

MRS. SMITH

Only eight and already in love with a ballerina! The smitten swain is Gary, son of the junior Howard P. Cooks. Object of his devotion is Clara Beth Cravey, also eight, who took part in the Palm Beach Ballet, "The Princess," as one of the elfin little "urchins." She's the sister of the ballet's baby ballerina, 10-year-old Claudia Cravey.

Gary sent his true love a music box for Christmas and the only reason he wasn't waiting around in the wings of the theater is that his momma wouldn't let him; and besides it's against the rules.

Pals Meet After 75 Years

SMALL WORLD ITEM: It had been 75 years since Jack Ivey and Tom Buckholt had met. They had bade one another a tearful goodbye when they were ten years old and the Buckholts had moved to Alabama.

Their fathers' farms had adjoined near Cuthbert, Ga., and the boys had been inseparable. They fished and waded in the creek and had all those good times that make the years up to ten an indelible memory.

Jack Ivey and his wife continued to live in Georgia, but recently came to West Palm Beach to live to be near their daughter and son-in-law, Irene and Carlton Hays, 224 Valencia Rd.

During the holidays the Iveys and the Hays' drove down to Hialeah for a dinner with the Hays' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fenters.

It was then that Jack Ivey remarked that he had heard a long time ago that Tom Buckholt and his family had moved to Miami. He just wondered . . .

The telephone book provided the names of some Buckholt families, and the second one called was the right one.

So later in the afternoon the two men — both 85 — had a joyful reunion. Tom was waiting impatiently on the front porch for Jack. The Buckholt home is at 3415 NW 19th Ave.

Each insisted the other looked fine, and while they wouldn't have recognized one another, the manner of speech was familiar to each. Once they got talking the years dissolved like magic and they were boys again, wading in the creek and going fishing.

Tom plans a trip to West Palm Beach soon for another visit with his old buddy, Jack.

Anne Marcy Weds German Scholar

ANNE MARCY went to Iowa State University to study for her master's degree in psychology and there she met Reinhart Grossmann, from Berlin, a Fulbright scholar.

The two were married during the holiday at the home of Anne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sullivan Marcy, 233 Almeria Rd.

They are making their home in Champaign, Ill., where the bridegroom, who has received his doctorate, is teaching in the department of philosophy of the University of Illinois.

Anne attended the International Girl Scout Jamboree in Finland following graduation from High school in 1953. She was graduated from Wesleyan University, Macon, Ga., in 1957.

FBI Man Addresses Daughters

MRS. FREDA AVANT JAY introduced Allan Gillies of Miami, FBI agent, who spoke Saturday before Seminole Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Lois (Mrs. Joseph C.) Bernstein, regent, announced the annual Washington Birthday card party will be held Feb. 21 at the American Legion Home auditorium.

Other organizations that pledge allegiance to the flag will have to get a new banner, in time, because of that 49th star. The UDC, however, continues to use the Stahs and Bahs, to which it pledges "affection, reverence, and undying remembrance."

The salute to the Confederate flag, which follows the pledge of allegiance to Old Glory, was written by a Mrs. James Parker of New York and adopted by the general organization in 1933.

Thomas Benton Ellis Chapter UDC is meeting today at the home of Fanny Lu (Mrs. Clyde W.) Fisher, 130 Everglades Ave., in Palm Beach.

Special guests will be Emily (Mrs. Herbert O.) Vance of Miami, state president, Mrs. Fay Anspaugh, director of District No. 5; Mrs. H. B. Gillertine and Mrs. P. G. Pemberton, state officers, also of Miami.

Santa Margarita Chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists will meet this morning at the Seacrest Hotel in Delray Beach, with many attending from the Palm Beaches. Neva (Mrs. George S.) Brockway, is regent.

Delray hostesses are Mrs. William Webb and Mrs. James B. Dunn. Mrs. Calvin W. Campbell will speak on the history and the flags of Florida.

Troilus and Cresida Next Topic

SHAKESPEARE CLUB will embark on a study of Troilus and Cressida when it meets today at the home of Mrs. Henry J. Burkhardt, 5802 N. Poinsettia. Mrs. E. S. Ferguson is leader.

Miss May Carey, who died recently, was an early member of the club and a sister of Mrs. Charles Burke Jefferson, daughter-in-law of the great Joe Jefferson.

Edna Carey Jefferson, an actress of note in the 80s, was also a club member.

Miss Carey left a number of faded old playbills and letters attesting to Edna's fame, and in an envelope a worn bit of silk. She had inscribed on the envelope, "piece of a dress worn by a passenger on the Mayflower."

FORT PIERCE PIONEERS

Rogers Celebrate Golden Wedding

FORT PIERCE — Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rogers, both members of Florida Pioneer Families, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary during the Christmas holidays. A reception was held in their honor at the home of a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Gillette, where hundreds of friends and relatives called to share in the celebration.

Three daughters, Mrs. Gillette, Mrs. F. D. McCray of West Palm Beach, and Mrs. B. J. Miller together with Mrs. Stacy Rogers, a daughter-in-law were hostesses.

Mrs. H. H. Willis Jr., a niece, presided at the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers were married in Fort Pierce, Dec. 23, 1908, in the home of Mrs. Rogers' uncle, the late A. Y. W. Hogg. Rev. J. W. McNamara, minister of the First Baptist Church at that time, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Rogers, the former Leonora Brown, is a granddaughter of the sea-captain Benjamen Hogg and his wife Anne . . . a young Scottish couple who migrated to this country and cast their lot with the pioneer families after Mrs. Hogg, a member of the royal house of York, was disinherited for marrying a commoner.

Pioneer families up and down the coast will recall the schooner Capt. Hogg owned that plied these waters carrying goods and green turtles, and the trading post Mrs. Hogg ran that later became known as Cobb's store after it was purchased by P. P. Cobb of Fort Pierce.

Mr. Rogers, originally from north Florida, is a descendant of the pioneer Rogers family of Suwannee County.

Out of town guests for the occasion were a son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Rogers and children Stacey Jr. and Mary Louise of Cuba; Mr. and Mrs. F. D. McCray and son Jimmy of West Palm Beach, a granddaughter, Mrs. Joseph Bucheck and sons Joey and Derryl of West Palm Beach; Mrs. Hettie Stead of St. Petersburg; Mr. Edwin A. Helseth of Vero Beach; Mrs. Jack Barker of Vero Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Phillips of Columbus, Ohio.

All of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers' children were present for the occasion with the exception of one son, Leslie who was in New York with his family. He phoned that evening to add his congratulation to the family affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers have sixteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Heart Attack Hits Bishop

ORLANDO—(AP)—Bishop John Branscomb, 52, is in a hospital here recovering from a heart attack which he thought was an attack of indigestion.

The Methodist Bishop of Florida and Cuba suffered the attack Monday night at Jacksonville but preached Tuesday at an evangelistic rally at Ocala. His physician said his condition was satisfactory and his general health good.

Paralyzed Pahokee Teenager Vows He'll Walk Again

By VENA T. SCHRODER
Herald Correspondent

PAHOKEE — Sept. 2, 1958 is a day which will long be remembered by 18-year-old Tripp Alderman. On that day he had just registered as a senior in Pahokee High and had again made fullback position on the Blue Devil football squad. He felt in his own mind that he had almost reached the stature of a man. He owned a car, was dating a lovely girl, and life was sweet and exciting.

Tripp Alderman
. . . near-fatal crash

But on his way home that afternoon in a rainstorm his car skidded, flipped over and crashed into a tree, and almost in a split second life was completely changed for Tripp.

A severe spinal injury left him paralyzed from the chest down. For days his life hung in the balance. While doctors performed surgery his family and friends prayed and hoped. Then came the tragic verdict: "He will never walk again."

When his mother, Mrs. L.G. Alderman, told Tripp the sad news he looked at her with a determined smile. "Don't feel so bad about it Mom, you'll see—I'll walk." And this has been his attitude throughout the four long months that have elapsed.

Tripp is now completing three months of physical therapy at Tampa General Hospital. He feels he has come a long way. "I will be independent in my wheel chair when I finish the course," he said, proud of his accomplishments.

Tripp's friends in Pahokee have established the Tripp Alderman fund to help the family with expenses. Collections were taken at each home football game and Pahokee and Belle Glade Rainbow Girls staged a powder puff football game that netted $250 for the fund.

Edgar Wilder, local pilot, flew Tripp home for Thanksgiving and the annual football game between Pahokee and Belle Glade.

During the Christmas Holidays the Rainbow Girls rolled out the red carpet when he came home. They presented him with a portable television set and held open house for him.

Tripp is planning to graduate with his class in the spring.

"I am really studying," he said. "And actually I have learned more in the three months I have been studying in the hospital than I learned in a year at school. Before, all I wanted was just a pass and I didn't apply myself. But now I realize the value of an education."

Tripp was silent for awhile and then he added, "If I had not been hurt I would not be the person I am today. My difficulty has increased my understanding and broadened my sympathy. Before I took everything for granted."

Tripp is looking forward to coming home to stay today.

"My doctor in Tampa is one of 12 top physical therapy doctors in the U.S.," he said, "and he has never said I wouldn't walk. I believe I will. But if I never do there are many persons in a worse condition than I. I see young men in the hospital paralyzed from their neck down. I just thank God for the use of my hands."

Tripp says the Bible has been a great source of strength. He has leaned on the 23rd Psalm, especially the verse, "He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul."

Tripp's spirit is good as he plans for the future. "I hope I can go to college and major in architectural engineering. I am trying for a scholarship at the University of Tampa. I sure hope I make it."

His family and friends are hoping he will make it too, because last year his father was severely injured in an automobile accident and was in the hospital for months. And with hospital expenses for Tripp this year the family finances are so low that Tripp's college education may be out of the question if he doesn't make it.

Lawyer Hits Suspension

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — Charles C. Corces, widely known Tampa attorney, asked the Supreme Court Wednesday to reduce a Florida Bar recommendation that he be suspended from practice for a year.

Corces maintained suspension was too stiff a punishment for the professional misconduct charges against him.

Tampa Lawyer John Arthur Jones, representing the Bar, said a one-year suspension was "lenient under the circumstances."

The court took the case under advisement.

The Bar accused Corces of representing a Negro defendant in City Court without his permission, and of paying a policeman $25 in another case. Corces denied the charges.

Now It's Wigs

LONDON — (UPI) — Designer Teddy Tining, who designed the lace panties that won headlines for American tennis player "Gorgeous Gussie" Moran, has proposed vari-colored wigs as the accessory the woman tennis player should wear in 1959.

4 Truck Drivers Indicted In Bunnell Labor Slaying

No Action Taken in 2nd Killing

BUNNELL —(UPI)— Four truck drivers were charged Wednesday with second degree murder in the Dec. 5 slaying of Union Organizer George K. Jones. The shooting was an outgrowth of a dispute between the Teamsters Union and a trucking concern.

Charged in the shooting in which another man also was killed were Sidney McCraney, 31, Jack Johnson, 33, and Robert Drake, 28, all of Bunnell; and Alexander Faircloth Jr., 24, of Ormond Beach.

Faircloth and Drake were wounded in the shooting and McCraney and Johnson were arrested and held on open charges soon after the incident at Jones' trailer home at the Bunnell Airport.

The indictments, a result of a grand jury investigation completed Dec. 29, were returned to Circuit Judge George W. Jackson of St. Augustine.

However, the case was still a mystery since no details of the jury's findings were released to reporters. And since no one was charged in the fatal shooting of Howard Glisson, 27-year-old Bunnell truck driver, the theory was that the 31-year-old Jones may have shot him during the hassle.

State Attorney W. W. Judge, who conducted the grand jury probe which took testimony of nine persons, declined to say on what grounds the indictments were made.

The entire case has been surrounded by a cloud of mystery because no official statement was ever released. It is expected to remain a mystery until a trial which is expected to be set at a Jan. 14 arraignment.

It was reported by an investigator that the shooting stemmed from a labor dispute between the Teamsters Union and Tropical Transport Co.

Union truck drivers set up pickets in front of the trucking company's offices at Lehigh Portland Cement Co. property Nov. 17. But the differences were settled Dec. 19 when the company agreed to recognize Teamsters Local 512 of Jacksonville as bargaining agent.

College Deed Is Held Up

ST. PETERSBURG —(UPI) — The City Council has voted to defer until Jan. 19 the signing of a deed which would convey 150 acres of land to Florida Presbyterian College as a campus site.

The deed was scheduled to have been signed Wednesday. But Mayor John Burroughs said there were "some restrictions I think we should discuss in private."

He said he will call a caucus before the council meeting Jan. 19 to discuss the matter.

There was speculation that "restrictions" dealt with proposals that the college promise not to permit racial integration before the deed is signed.

The college board of trustees decided to build the new church school here last fall after a survey of all of Central Florida. The city's offer, which included donation of the land, was one of the most attractive received.

Hotel, Cafe Total Gains Last Year

TALLAHASSEE —(P)— Construction of sleeping and eating facilities for tourists continued unabated through 1958, the State Hotel and Restaurant Commission reported.

In fact, it said, new establishments opened up last year at a slightly higher rate than in previous years.

On Jan. 1 there were 40,005 hotels, motels, apartments and rooming houses in operation, an increase of 1,419 during the year.

Ten new hotels opened during the year. New apartment establishments totaled 1,425, new motels 372 and rooming houses dropped 388.

$25,000 Reward For Lee's

BRADENTON — (P) — The reward for information about a missing Parrish cattleman and merchant and the murder of his wife was increased to $25,000 Wednesday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lee, mother of Gettis Lee—who disappeared in 1957—raised her personal reward from $6,000 to $10,000. Gettis Lee's estate upped its reward from $1,000 to $15,000.

Lee, who was then 63, and his 60-year-old wife vanished March 7, 1957. Mrs. Lee's body was found two days later in a creek three miles west of Parrish. She had been shot three times.

Nothing has been heard of Lee. His parked auto was found near Palmetto, 10 miles south of Parrish. In the back seat was his hat with a bullet hole in the crown. Police officials have adopted the theory Lee is dead.

William Ray of Bradenton, attorney for Mrs. Elizabeth Lee, announced the larger reward offer Wednesday. The original rewards were posted in September, 1957.

Ray said the rewards are payable "for information leading to the location of Gettis Lee's body along with some evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for his being dead or missing. They also are payable for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person "who murdered Mrs. Lee."

He said anyone is eligible for Mrs. Elizabeth Lee's personal reward, but that law officials are excluded from receiving the $15,000 put up by the estate.

D'Albora and Brinson were sworn in as Port Authority commissioners Tuesday.

Cargo, Mail Service Sought

WASHINGTON — Delta Air Lines, Atlanta, asked the Civil Aeronautics Board Wednesday for authority to provide cargo and mail service at the Florida airports of Stuart, Fort Pierce, Fort Myers, Sarasota-Bradenton, Lakeland, Melbourne, Patrick Air Force base, Daytona Beach and Palatka.

The non-passenger service would be offered on a demand or flag-stop basis.

Batista Pays $160 Per Day To Guard His Daytona Home

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

DAYTONA BEACH — Even a dog couldn't get into Fulgencio Batista's home to play with the ousted Cuban dictator's children.

Heavily armed city policemen block every entrance to Batista's sumptuous pink stucco estate on the Halifax River.

"Nobody gets in here unless the people inside want to see him," a guard told me politely.

Gen. Batista, 129 N. Halifax Ave., is listed in the Daytona Beach phone book, so I called to ask about the general and to request entrance.

"I'm sorry, sir, we aren't allowed to say anything," said an unidentified voice at the other end of the line.

Batista is in the Dominican Republic—and nobody seems to know when he'll come here. But two of his children are here, and so are 17 members of his household staff, including his personal secretary, Mrs. Carmen Garmero.

Mrs. Garmero let three persons in Tuesday, a telephone repair man, Daytona Beach Police Chief Oscar Folsom, and Ben Brass, Batista's Daytona Beach attorney, the man who arranged for the guard.

Each was escorted in and out by a uniformed off-duty Daytona Beach policeman, who carried a carbine, or a riot gun, plus a service revolver.

Delivery trucks were allowed to enter the locked gates, but the drivers were shooed away before servants unloaded the trucks. A cab driver was told to sit firmly in his cab when he came to pick up a maid.

The only information about the inmates of the house came from Brass.

Frank Brass
. . . attorney of Batista

"There are 19 persons in there," he said. "The children are General Batista's son, Fulgencio Jr. . . . he's about eight . . . and a 17-month old daughter . . . I don't know her name."

Neither of the children got outdoors Tuesday.

Only one staff member, a maid, took the air. She didn't respond to a "good morning" or a Spanish "Buenas Dias."

Brass said the Daytona Beach refugees came here via New Orleans Saturday.

Asked whether Batista himself is planning to come here, Brass and Chief Folsom said they had "no information."

Brass said he requested the guards because, "Latin-Americans are excitable people."

The eight men on guard duty are paid $2.50 an hour each, Chief Folsom said. The city of Daytona Beach bills Batista, and then pays the men.

Each works an eight-hour trick. This means the guards cost the ex-Cuban president $160 per day. Folsom said the payment was being handled through city channels only to assure compensation insurance coverage for the men while on guard.

Folsom has gone all out with precautions. At least two guards constantly watch all the estate entrances, including the Halifax River dock. At night floodlights illuminate the grounds.

Batista's American hideaway is an enormous Spanish style structure which he bought from R. E. Olds, the automobile tycoon. It's in a once fashionable section of Daytona Beach and includes a boathouse, boat docks, swimming pool and impeccably trimmed grounds.

Next door is another mansion, which Batista presented the city in 1946 as a Cuban museum. It's still a museum and the Cuban flag flies at its door, but the place was closed Tuesday.

Police had to shoo away several carloads of Cubans when the museum opened in 1946, but the guards at the Batista home have reported no incidents.

Closest thing to an incident they've seen came Monday night, when a local teenage boy brandished an air rifle at the guards.

"That was a damn fool thing to do," said Patrolmen Ed Biondi and Tom Grasso, Tuesday's guards.

'Redhead' Cleared In Killing

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Mary Welborn was found not guilty Wednesday of second degree murder in the slaying of Robert Lee, 24, a Miami engineer.

She walked out of Criminal court a free woman after Judge Louis Weissing directed the jury to acquit her. Lee was killed by a hitchhiker he picked up on Christmas Day, 1957, on U.S. 27.

More than a year of ordeal for the 23-year-old red haired woman with a tragic history ended at 4:40 p.m. on the trial's third day.

It ended when her attorney, Ellis Rubin, blocked the admission of a second alleged confession as evidence.

State Rep. Emerson Allsworth, the prosecuting attorney, was visibly dejected as he rested his case.

Rubin promptly asked the court for a directed acquittal. Weissing granted the request, and called in the jury to release the defendant formally.

There was an emotional scene as well-wishers congratulated the woman whose sanity was disputed by psychiatrists.

Matrons who have looked after her in jail begged her to stay out of trouble.

Mary, said to have the mind of a 12-year-old, showed mixed delight and confusion at the verdict.

Asked if she was happy, she bubbled: "Wouldn't you be?"

Prompted by a matron, she added seriously: "Yes, I'm very happy."

"First I'm going to get situated," she said. "Then I want to go home to New Mexico.

"It'll take my Mom and Dad a long time to get money for the fare," she added thoughfully. "I want to go and call them."

A psychiatrist said earlier that five years of intensive treatment would aid her personality disorder.

"Mom wants me to go to a hospital voluntarily," she said.

Arrangements are being made for Miss Welborn to stay at the Ministering Friends Inc. Home in Miami. Mrs. Pearl Bourn, Broward representative of the society, hugged Mary as she was freed.

Air Force Tests Titan On Ground

CAPE CANAVERAL — (UPI) — The Air Force ground-tested the engine of an awesome intercontinental Titan Wednesday night and it appeared the second try at getting the missile off the ground for the first time would be made soon.

But the test did not appear to be entirely successful as compared to other static, or "hold-down" tests held on the cape. Flames lit the northwest corner of the Cape for a few seconds but it seemed as though the engines never reached full thrust.

The Titan, billed as America's most advanced intercontinental ballistic missile, has never been fired. The Air Force tired to get the 90-foot war rocket off the ground Dec. 20 but failed when technical difficulties developed.

An attempt at launching usually follows a static test within a week to 10 days, but only if the static achieves the desired results.

If fitted with a hydrogen warhead, a perfected Titan could make rubble of a great city more than 6,000 miles away from the missile's launching site. But the Air Force also has said the missile could take man to the moon and back in a scientific mission.

The Titan hold-down test was the third major missile development of the day. A few minutes before the static test, an Air Force crew launched a second Matador missile in training for overseas replacement duty.

Orange Concentrate Study

Mutual Requests Quality Survey

LAKELAND — (UPI) — Florida Citrus Mutual Wednesday called for a survey to determine what is needed to raise quality of frozen orange concentrate.

Mutual directors refused to support a proposal, for a slight increase in quality of oranges going into concentrate.

But the board unanimously voted to set up a committee to work with concentrators in drafting proposals to boost concentrate quality.

The board rejected the concentrators' proposals to raise raw fruit quality, on a recommendation of Mutual's Advisory Committee, which met Wednesday morning.

The advisors claimed fruit quality was one of many factors controlling quality of the finished product and would be ineffective by itself.

The concentrate industry has been concerned about declining quality, spokesmen for the industry said. Introduced in 1946, concentrate production has climbed steadily.

The spokesmen say this has been instrumental in causing the quality of the product to decline, since the manufacturers no longer can use the "cream of the crop" in making concentrate.

The quality proposal was offered by the concentrators' advisor, committee after it had been drafted by the Florida Canners Association. The canners sought support before asking the Florida Citrus Commission to seek legislation to put it into effect.

R. C. Wooten of Pasco Packing Co., chairman of the concentrators' committee presented the case for the canners. He brought several scientists before the board, who said the slight raise in quality standards would help the quality of concentrate and would be a "step in the right direction."

But the move was opposed by John T. Lesley, general manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and General Manager Marvin Walker of the Florida Citrus Growers Cooperative, which is also a concentrate producer.

Both said the proposal would put a "premium on dishonesty" by putting into effect an unenforceable regulation. Growers, Walker said, would violate the law by mixing low grade fruit with high grade fruit.

Lesley, whose organization represents about 25 per cent of the fresh fruit shippers, also said he was against dual quality standards — one for fresh oranges and another for concentrate oranges.

He said he stood behind a recommendation by a special committee on fruit quality to raise all orange standards by one-half point across the board.

St. Lucie to Start Water Conservation

Herald Service

FORT PIERCE—The much-stalled water conservation program for the North St. Lucie River Drainage District got on the road this week, and officials hope the actual work can start late this spring or early this summer.

Final approval was given this week to the program set up by the Soil Service Engineers, and the plans will be taken to Spartanburg, S.C., so that engineering plans and specifications can be drawn up. This will take about four months.

A five-year plan has been set up, with the first phase including construction of spillways in Ten and Eleven Mile creeks, and construction of a pumping unit at the south end of the Header Canal. Other spillways will be constructed as time goes on.

The overall plan is for building spillways located at strategic points throughout the district, plus some canal cleaning and re-alignment.

Soil service engineers, Howard Helson, James Luke, and U.S. Allison met with the drainage district supervisors Cornelius Van Der Lugt, Walter Dun, and R. F. Cassens, and spent Monday out in the district, reviewing all the practical features of the program on the ground.

Tuesday the board met with the engineers, with Ed Jesse, who is technical advisor for the St. Lucie Soil Conservation district, and with drainage district engineer Charles Richheimer to give final approval.

Members of a special committee, appointed to check the plans as they involved Arvida Groves, were included in the inspections and meetings — they were O. C. Minton, Brian McCarty and J. H. Brooks, and Arvida engineer Ben Herr of Palm Beach.

Arvida, owned by Arthur Vining Davis, had halted the water conservation program for several months over the program of water control structure management. The problem was resolved with the appointing of the special committee.

U.S. Recognizes Castro; 15 Batista Men Executed

By Herald Wire Services

HAVANA, Cuba - The United States formally recognized the revolutionary government of Cuba Wednesday as the regime of Fidel Castro announced the execution of 15 officers of the forces of former dictator Fulgencio Batista.

The American action, announced in a note delivered to the new Cuban foreign minister, Robert Daniel Agramonte, by Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith, was followed almost immediately by similar action by the British government.

The move came six days after Batista fled Cuba, admitting defeat at the hands of the rebels.

The note said:

"I have been instructed by my government to inform your excellency, that, having noted with satisfaction the assurances given by the new government of Cuba of its intention to comply with the international obligation and agreements of Cuba, the government of the U.S. is pleased to recognize the government under the presidency of Manuel Urrutia Lleo, as the provisional government of the Republic of Cuba."

The executions signaled the start of widespread trials by revolutionary courts of Cubans accused of crimes against the state.

Authorities said 10 officers, including Col. Arcadio Casillas Lumpuy, were executed in Santiago, capital of Oriente province and hometown of Castro.

Lumpuy was Batista's chief of operations in Oriente, where between 200 and 300 presoners were reported awaiting trial.

Five military men were executed in Santa Clara, capital of central Las Villas Province. Among those reported sentenced to death there was Lt. Col. Cornelio Rojas, a police inspector. He was accused of torturing prisoners.

Havana Police Chief Aldo Vera said 800 prisoners are being held in the capital on political charges. He declared each case is under investigation and the innocent will be released.

Camilio Cienfugos, commander of Havana Province, said plans were under way for a drastic reorganization of the country's armed forces, under the supervision of the revolutionaries. He added that regular army men innocent of misdeeds will be permitted to take part in the reorganization.

There were these additional developments as Havana awaited impatiently for the expected arrival of Castro today:

Luis Bush, minister of the presidency, said Cuba will demand the extradition of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer on charges he fled by yacht to Key West, Fla., with 17 million dollars belonging to the Cuban people.

The presidency said Masferrer had his own private army for protection and for rooting out suspected rebel sympathizers. He is a close friend of Batista and owner of the newspaper El Tiempo. The paper was sacked by rebel sympathizers after Batista fled. Bush said instructions already had been given to press the U. S. for Masferrer's immediate extradition.

Bush also announced creation of two new ministries — social assistance and economy. The names of the men to head the ministries were not announced.

Castro would not comment on reports that the revolutionary regime would ask for replacement of U.S. Ambassador Smith. Castro was expected to spend the night at Matanzas, 60 miles from Havana. He headed to Matanzas from Santa Clara.

Castro's 26th of July Movement spurred the hunt for informers, grafters and others who lined their pockets under Batista by announcing formation of a "department of purification."

"Chivato," meaning rascal, is applied to informers for Batista's police and is the dirtiest word in Havana today.

The new department also will disarm unauthorized gun-

New Regime Takes Dim View of Prio

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Former Cuban President Carlos Prio Socarras, who claims he spent his entire fortune buying arms for the revolution, may wind up out in the cold in his country's new government.

"I spent everything I had." Prio said Wednesday in an interview at his huge country home, La Chata, a few miles from Havana.

He and his family returned here from their long exile in Miami.

"All that I have left is the property that I own here," said Cuba's last constitutional president who was ousted by Fulgencio Batista. "But I am not asking for anything."

PRIO

Even if he does ask for something, indications are that he won't get it from the government being formed by Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Rebel Leader Fidel Castro picked to take over from Batista.

Observers here don't believe that Prio will ever regain his former political strength because he has very little popular support.

Some give him no credit for aiding the rebel movement and even accuse Prio of having stolen the money he had when he was president. Prio was ousted by Batista in 1952.

Prio did not make any estimate of just how many millions he spent while in exile in Miami buying arms and ammunition to ship to the rebels. He would only say he spent "everything."

There were close to a hundred automobiles at La Chata Wednesday, and hundreds of young men milling around who fought in the interior for Prio's revolutionary organization, Autentica.

Nearly every man was heavily armed and a few appeared to have just atarted growing beards — the symbol of sacrifice.

Without any political power, a big question is how Prio will go about rewarding them.

In Havana proper, meanwhile, citizens are preparing the biggest celebration yet for the arrival of Castro and the core of his rebel army.

Havana has more than returned to normal. Things are much better than normal.

Bakers, shoeshine boys, taxis and tourist traps — except for the gambling casinos which Urrutia has vowed to keep closed—are all back in business.

Baseball is back, and sports news is again getting newspaper space, along with weddings and funerals.

For a city that feared it was in for a blood bath this time last week, the adjustment to the switch in governments is amazing. Habaneros still can't quite believe that the tourists may start flocking back at any time.

Boone Does Some Explaining About Beer Drinking, Stealing

NEW YORK—(AP)—Singer Pat Boone, idolized as a clean-living, non-drinking antidote to juvenile delinquency, is having to do some explaining about his "past."

In an interview Wednesday with The New York Post, Boone discussed the weaknesses he discloses in his new book, "Twixt Twelve and Twenty." These weaknesses included shoplifting and beer-drinking.

Pat explained:

"I was about 16 when four or five of us guys did our shoplifting. Each of us took a downtown store in Nashville at Christmas time. We did it for excitement, but we did it.

"We took little items. Cigaret lighters, socks, pants, shirts, sweaters, things like that. Our folks could have afforded to pay for them."

Later, Boone continued, he became remorseful, and confessed his deeds to his high high school principal.

"I . . . told him I wanted to return the goods I'd stolen, or pay for it. He helped me. By this time I'd sung quite a lot around town, and this would have been quite a story if it had come out but it never did.

"Again with the guys, we got to drinking beer like a lot of teen-agers. None of us liked it—I smoked a lot, too, and I don't now."

Nor, he added, does he any longer take beer or other alcoholic beverages.

Pat's New Book Starts Sunday

Pat Boone got his last spanking at the age of 17.

His mother gave it to him good over the edge of the bathtub because he'd been fighting with his brother Nick.

It's an amusing and revealing incident revealed by Pat in his book "Twixt Twelve and Twenty."

Pat's learned a lot about the business of growing up. His life and advice make good reading for both young and old. You won't want to miss the series taken from his book starting in Sunday's editions of

Pickets' Greeting

Mikoyan Hooted in Cleveland

By Herald Wire Services

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, pretending to ignore a rock-throwing incident and intensive anti-Soviet demonstrations, advocated a co-existence in "peace and friendship" on his one-day visit here Wednesday.

The Soviet's No. 2 man and seven other Russians, including Russian Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, arrived at Hopkins airport and were greeted by Financier Cyrus Eaton, who was host to the Russian official during his brief stay.

At the airport, Mikoyan, referring to Eaton's recent visit to Russia, stated: "Your trip was a private one but your statements after the visit bore testimony to the fact that people living under different systems can still get along together.

"You want peace and friendship and so do we. Let us each retain our views on capitalism and socialism, but let us be friends in peace."

He told a group of leading Ohio businessmen that Soviet scientists have so far failed to create shelters good against H-bombs. Soviet scientists are working to create shelters which can provide protection against thermonuclear explosions, he said that "when one has knowledge of what the

Spring Is In the Air --For Fair

Miami's spring-like weather isn't expected to change in the foreseeable future, and the rest of Florida will keep warming up, too, after its brief but severe cold snap.

"There's not much prospect of any major change," Miami Weather Bureau Forecaster William McGehee said Wednesday. "The weather will be good here and the rest of the state should keep on warming up."

Miami temperatures hit the mid-70s Wednesday and are expected to go a few degrees higher Thursday. The low Thursday morning should range from 65 to 70, McGehee said.

In Central and North Florida, coldest temperatures Wednesday morning were in the high 30s, and the mercury rose during the day to the mid-60s. Sunny skies are expected to continue over the whole state at least for another day or two.

Filibuster Control Battle Erupts As Congress Opens

Stage Set For Bitter Civil Fight

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The new 86th Congress, biggest in U.S. history, opened Wednesday with fireworks popping over Senate filibusters and with new Republican leaders taking party command in both houses.

The heavily - Democratic House and Senate convened at noon for a session that must try to reconcile President Eisenhower's economy budget with Russia's space challenge. Democratic leaders promised "responsible service" and "sympathetic" consideration of the President's proposals.

The session was only minutes old when the Senate erupted in a row over attempts by liberal members to make it easier to curb anti-civil rights filibusters. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas finally forced postponement of a first-round showdown until today.

Johnson acted after Vice President Richard M. Nixon, presiding over the chamber, held for the second time in two years that the Senate can adopt new rules at the outset of a new Congress, including a crackdown on filibusters.

This was the opinion the liberal anti-filibuster senators wanted to hear and it laid the groundwork for a rousing North-South fight when the Senate meets today at 10 a.m. —two hours early. Johnson accused Nixon of issuing parliamentary opinions rather "freely" on opening day.

A House controversy, with civil rights overtones, was settled when Rep. Dale Alford, the Little Rock, Ark., segregationist, was allowed to take his seat by an overwhelming vote. A House elections subcommittee had recommended that Alford be barred pending an investigation of his write-in victory over Rep. Brooks Hays (D., Ark.).

Opening day saw more than 2,000 bills introduced in the House — including two big spending measures which Eisenhower vetoed last year for economy reasons.

One would launch a 275 million dollar program of federal aid for economically-depressed areas. The other would provide federal grants of 100 million dollars a year for five years to help communities build airports. Democrats labeled them "must" legislation.

Former President Truman and a host of luminaries were on hand to see the opening of the most overwhelmingly Democratic Congress since New Deal days. The Senate lineup is 64 Democrats and 34 Republicans. In the House, it is 283 Democrats and 153 Republicans.

The Congress, with which Eisenhower must deal during his last two years in the White House, also is the largest in history due to the addition of two senators and a House member from the new state of Alaska.

The Democrats unanimously returned Sen. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn to power. House Democrats also renamed Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts as their party's floor leader.

Johnson and Rayburn promptly urged their Democratic colleagues to live up to the responsibilities entrusted to them by the sweeping Democratic victories in the November congressional elections.

Reporter's Coin Flip Picked 'Senior' Alaska Senator
. . . E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, right, won over Ernest Gruening

'Luck of Draw' Gives Alaska Two 'Short Term' Senators

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The luck of the draw gave Alaska two short-term senators Wednesday.

Sen. Ernest Gruening will represent the 49th state for four years and Sen. E. L. (Bob) Bartlett will serve a two-year term.

Both new Democratic senators missed a chance to win a full six-year term as they performed a ceremony last held when Arizona and New Mexico sent their first senators to Washington 47 years ago.

Gruening, 71-year-old former territorial governor, drew one of three slips of paper from a small box to determine his term.

It made him a four-year senator. Then Bartlett, Alaska's 54-year-old former delegate to Congress, drew a two-year slip. The six-year slip remained unchosen.

The draw was necessary to give Gruening and Bartlett terms of differing length.

The Constitution requires the Senate membership to be divided into three classes, with about one-third of the senators standing for re-election every two years.

As a result of Wednesday's drawing, Alaskans will vote for senators again in 1960 and 1962. The senators elected then will have full six-year terms.

On Tuesday, Gruening and Bartlett flipped a coin to decide who would rank as Alaska's senior senator. Bartlett won the flip, so Gruening had first choice in the draw Wednesday.

Martin One of Boys Again; Uses Employes' Entrance

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Joe Martin turned in his Cadillac for a taxicab Wednesday and came to work through the employes' entrance.

He was no longer the leader of House Republicans, using the boss' door. He was just one of the crowd.

The 74-year-old bachelor from North Attleboro, Mass., stands as a living monument to the caprices and cruelties of big time politics.

Almost 20 years ago to the day, Martin's colleagues elevated him to the highest post within their power — the GOP leadership of the House. They made him speaker during the four years they were in control.

Tuesday the roof fell in.

Unceremoniously, unmercifully and unexpectedly, Martin was toppled from his throne by a vote of 74-70 at a party caucus. In his place was installed Charles A. Helleck of Indiana, who had risen to a position of power in the House with the early assistance of Martin.

How does it feel to be fired, right out of a clear sky, after 20 years as boss?

"It's not too bad, now that it's over," Martin said. "I didn't like it. I didn't expect it. I thought I had the votes. I was a little stunned at first, but now I don't feel so bad about it. In fact, you might say I feel good. In a way I'm sort of glad, now that it's over.

"It's a relief not to have the responsibilities."

Missing 72 Hours in Everglades

Search Party Finds Lost Hunter

More State News, 1C, 2B, 7C

EVERGLADES CITY —(AP)— A Lakeland man missing in the Everglades northeast of here for 72 hours was rescued Wednesday by the sheriff and Coast Guard helicopter crewmen.

Sheriff E. A. (Doug) Hendry said James Williams was in "pretty good shape" when taken to Monroe Station, a community 10 miles from the Collier-Dade County line.

"He was mighty glad to see us," the sheriff said. "He said he had just about given up hope of getting out of the Glades."

Williams, 22, went into the area Sunday with four other men on a hunting trip. He became separated from the others.

"He was wandering aimlessly and getting farther from the road all the time," Hendry said.

The sheriff said a four-man search party found footprints on a swamp buggy trail Tuesday. When the search resumed at daylight, a helicopter from the Coast Guard Air Station at Miami had arrived.

Hendry and the crew flew over the area where the footprints had been discovered. They followed a trail for about two miles and spotted Williams lying on the ground.

"I was asleep and the motor from the helicopter awakened me," the sheriff quoted Williams as saying.

The officer said Williams "was scratched and bruised from wandering through the brush, but he's going to be all right."

The sheriff said Williams' only food during the three days "was a pond bird he shot with his 20-gauge shotgun."

The officer said Williams would return to Lakeland after being checked by a physician.

Rocket Orbits Around Sun, Russians Say

LONDON —(AP)— The Soviet space rocket went into orbit around the sun Wednesday and became the first artificial planet of the solar system, Moscow radio said.

The broadcast said the rocket has covered a distance of 14,500,000 kilometers (9,062,500 miles) since it was launched from a base in the Soviet Union Friday.

All radio contact with the rocket has been lost since Monday. The Soviet Union has given no indication of how it could tell when the rocket would go into orbit around the sun.

Its curving path through space as it veers into orbit around the sun leaves it one million kilometers (625,000 miles) from the earth, the broadcast said.

Quoting the science correspondent of the Tass News Agency, Moscow said this figure "will increase at a terrific pace since the earth and the artificial planet are diverging in the cosmos."

The Tass science correspondent insisted the Russians had no intention of hitting the moon with their space rocket.

It missed the moon by about 5,000 miles and headed on through space.

The initial Soviet announcement said the rocket was headed toward the moon. The aim of putting it into orbit around the sun was not mentioned then.

Conservatives Keep Control

Dirksen Is GOP Senate Leader

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Conservative Republicans won their fight to keep Senate party control Wednesday by electing Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as GOP leader over liberal Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. The vote was 20-14.

The Republicans also elected Liberal Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California as whip, or assistant GOP leader, by the same vote. This was considered a concession to the liberal group which sought to overthrow conservative control.

Kuchel won out over Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, a last minute candidate nominated by Dirksen forces, in a two-hour organizational meeting of Senate Republicans.

Kuchel said the GOP senators achieved "results that we believe will help us unite and fashion political principles on the basis of what we believe best for the American people."

Shortly after the vote was announced, President Eisenhower sent congratulations to both Dirksen and Kuchel.

Cooper said he accepted the President's statement that "he was not involved in our situation. I know also that the vice president kept a position which was correct and proper."

"I fully and wholeheartedly concur," Dirksen said.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts had charged that White House aides intervened in the vote Tuesday in which Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana unseated him as House GOP floor leader.

The GOP senators reelected Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Masschusetts as chairman of the Republican Conference, made up of all Senate Republicans, and Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota was reelected secretary. Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire was reelected chairman of the Republican Policy Committee.

Mine Blast Hits Refugee

EISENSTADT, Austria —(AP) — An exploding Iron Curtain mine blew off the right leg of a Hungarian girl fleeing to Austria with her parents and younger sister, police said Wednesday.

Klara Sarkany, 18, was taken to a hospital when the refugee family reached Austrian territory.

The girl's father had crept ahead and cut the barbed wire entanglements. Klara was the last to come through, when the mine went off.

Istanbul Toll Rises to 17

ISTANBUL —(AP)— The official death toll in an explosion that shattered two buildings in old Istanbul rose Wednesday to 17. More victims are believed buried in the debris.

Most Turkish newspapers put the total figure of dead between 40 to 50 persons. The buildings were wrecked by an explosion, apparently in a boiler room.

U.S. Gets Ricca Data

CHICAGO — (UPI) — The naturalization papers of Paul (The Waiter) Ricca, one-time kingpin in the Al Capone gang, Wednesday were ordered turned over to the attorney general in a new move to deport the mob veteran to his native Italy.

At the request of the government, Federal Judge Walter La Buy ordered Ricca's certificate of naturalization turned over to U.S. District Attorney Robert Tieken for transfer to Washington.

Ricca appeared Tuesday before Otto A. Eck, special inquiry officer of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, but was a reluctant witness when the government tried to get him to admit he obtained his citizenship fraudulently.

Pilots Unit Rejects Meany Bid

WASHINGTON — (AP) — American Airlines said Wednesday the head of the Pilots Union had turned down a proposal that AFL-CIO President George Meany arbitrate a strike that has grounded its planes since Dec. 20.

C. R. Smith, president of American, said he made the recommendation Saturday but was rebuffed by Clarence Sayen, president of the striking Air Line Pilots Association.

American disclosed the arbitration proposal in a statement after federal mediators reported both sides were close to agreement in efforts to end the 19-day-old pilots' strike.

Smith said he had suggested that Meany's decisions be binding on the company and the pilots.

Sayen, he continued, termed the proposal impractical "and has consistently neglected to discuss it since that time."

Under the proposal the pilots would return to work while Meany considered the wage-hour issues.

Red Chinese Guns Angry

TAIPEI, Formosa — (UPI) — Chinese Communist guns fired 32,919 rounds Wednesday in the biggest bombardment of the offshore Quemoy islands in two months, the Nationalist defense ministry announced.

There was no immediate report on casualties.

The Chinese Reds indicated that the shelling was a punitive measure against the Nationalist garrison rather than a reopening of full-scale hostilities in the Formosa Strait.

Propaganda loudspeakers on the Red-held Chinese mainland warned Tuesday that the garrison would be "punished" for bombarding what the Reds said were civilian areas of the mainland Saturday. The Reds claimed 23 children and 25 adults were killed by Nationalist shells.

2 Proposed for Dade

8 Junior Colleges In Florida Sought

TAMPA — (AP) — The state advisory council on education Wednesday voted to ask the Legislature to establish eight new community junior colleges in east and southeast Florida in the next biennium.

The council will ask legislators to appropriate $12,439,010 for establishing the colleges and for capital outlay for existing junior colleges.

The recommendation calls for both white and Negro schools to be constructed in Dade, Broward and Brevard counties and in an area consisting of St. Lucie, Martin, Indian River and Okeechobee counties.

The 1957 Legislature approved a community junior college budget of $8,135,499, of which $4,880,409 was appropriated.

The remaining $3,255,090 already approved forms one section of the advisory council's budget recommendation. Current capital outlay needs total $5,455,920. Building costs for the four proposed white and four Negro colleges total $3,728,000.

Dr. James Wattenbarger of the state department of education told the council that present estimates indicate there will be 160,000 pupils eligible for college in Florida in 1970.

The council, headed by Allen Glazier of St. Petersburg, recommended these capital outlay budgets for existing junior colleges:

Bay County: Gulf Coast $332,554; Rosenwald (Negro) $93,646.

Escambia: Pensacola $714,141; Washington (Negro) $144,300.

Jackson; Chipola $110,820; Negro institution $97,680.

Madison: North Florida $417,340; Negro institution $87,879.

Manatee: Manatee $1,343,728; Negro institution $68,265.

Marion: Central Florida $663,840; Howard (Negro) $286,560.

Palm Beach: Palm Beach $689,833; Roosevelt (Negro) $113,100.

Pinellas: St. Petersburg $1,165,500; Gibbs (Negro) $472,530.

Putnam: St. Johns River $520,740; Negro institution $109,596.

Volusia: Daytona Beach $1,035,478; Volusia County (Negro) $240,480.

Capital outlay expenditures anticipated at the new junior colleges include: Brevard County: $483,000; Broward County: $1,005,000; St. Lucie County: $261,000; Dade County: $1,899,000.

AAA Lauds U.S. Drivers

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The American Automobile Association congratulated U.S. motorists for achieving the best traffic safety record in history last year.

Frederick T. McGuire Jr., president of AAA, said the highway death rate dropped to an all-time low of 5.3 fatalities per million miles driven last year.

He said the rate was 5.9 in 1957 and seven fatalities for every million miles driven five years ago. Total deaths dropped from 38,500 in 1957 to 37,000 last year, he said.

bomb really is, one thinks that all these shelters are merely a matter of consolation until the bomb has exploded, because there is no shelter."

Mikoyan spoke of the futility of the building of shelters against such weapons in order to make a plea for friendship and peace between the Soviet Union and the U.S.

All was not peaceful and friendly, however, during protest demonstrations staged by victims of Soviet terror, mostly Hungarian groups.

As Mikoyan and his party emerged from Eaton's Greenbrier suite in the Terminal Tower to attend a luncheon with business and industrial leaders at the Union Club, a 19-year-old fugitive from Russian oppression threw a rock at the deputy premier.

The woman, Mrs. Emma Halhai, missed, but was taken into custody and charged with disorderly conduct by police, who had difficulty restraining several hundred demonstrators who jeered and shouted at the visiting official and Eaton.

Earlier, police asked a Hungarian refugee to leave the airport when they found a spoiled egg in his possession.

Mikoyan, however, pretended to ignore the rock-throwing incident as he doffed his hat, waved and smiled at the crowd before entering a limousine to drive to the exclusive Union Club.

Dad and 5 Die in Fire

BRANDON, Minn. —(AP)— A father and his five children died Wednesday in a fire that swept their two-story home here.

Mark Kelly got out of the house after the fire began, but lost his life when he went back in and sought to rescue his children.

Dead were Kelly, about 38, three sons, Jim, 16, Dennis, 12, Pat, 14; and two daughters, Mary Lee, 10, and Peggy, 3.

Mrs. Kelly fled the burning house with her husband and tried to go back in for the children, along with her husband. Neighbors restrained the mother from reentering the house.

The father's body was found at the foot of a stairs, where he apparently collapsed while trying to reach the baby.

THIS is the fable of "Operation Rumor," the revolution that shook America to the very doors of the Pentagon.

BELL

The revolutionary leader, Stengali, left San Diego, Calif., by mule train, headed for Washington. President Eisenhower fled to Ciudad Trujillo to join the throng. Citizen Orson Oldham was appointed president by Stengali. He immediately ordered all courts to close, deposed mayors, governors, senators—even Metro. He abolished the Democratic, Republican, Communist, Socialist and Conservative parties, as well as their members who were in office.

And if you think this left things in a hell of a mess you're thinking it mildly. People must have guidance, curbs, law and order. People are more irresponsible than animals. A dictator's one who dictates, even when he succeeds a dictator.

National Summary

Widespread cloudiness accompanied the warming flow of rain or drizzle out of Texas into Tennessee and Kentucky while drizzle surrounded a disturabnce moving through the central plains toward the mid Mississippi Valley.

Spotty light snow was scattered over the Rockies from Colorado to Montana but the Pacific states held most of the wet weather in the west.

Moisture from the Gulf of Mexico spreading northeastward, will extend the rains from the lower Mississippi Valley to the Carolinas and Virginia. The precipitation may begin as a combination or variation of snow, sleet, to rain from southern Iowa to the upper Ohio Valley and into the mid Atlantic states.

Snow will develop and spread from the Ohio Valley and the southern Great Lakes to the mountains of New York and as far south as the mountains of western Virginia.

Cooler air pressing eastward across the plains will give partly cloudy weather from Texas to the Dakotas with rain changing to snow in the lower Missouri Valley and snow across the Great Lakes.

The new Pacific storm sweeping down the coast is expected to give heavy rains with gale winds as it moves inland through central California with the precipitation as heavy snow in the mountains.

City-Navy Board OK

By HARRY CAICEDO
WPB Bureau Chief

KEY WEST — The Key West Chamber of Commerce directors Wednesday decided to name a representative to a proposed city-Navy community relations board, despite warnings the new group may be a "political body."

Director Robert Dopp was appointed by President Kermit Lewin to serve on the 10-man board, suggested by City Commissioner Bill Chappell last month.

On the motion of Joe Pinder, the chamber board also agreed to suggest to the city it invite representatives of interested county agencies to meetings of the proposed board.

As suggested by Chappell, the board would consist of five civilian and five Navy representatives. Its function would be to advise the City Commission on ways to correct, or improve, undesirable situations in the City-Navy relationship.

Paul Sher said the board idea is good, "but it has no county representation." Sher suggested action be taken to enlarge the proposed board.

Edwin Trevor questioned the phrase "to carry out the wishes of the City Commission" contained in a letter asking the chamber to appoint a member to the board.

"That's the crux of the matter," Trevor said. "If that board is to carry out the city's wishes, then its a political body and it's dead from the beginning."

Pinder urged "We give this thing a try before we get off on a tangent."

Q Airways To Resume To Havana

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — Q Airways' regular flights between Key West and Havana will be resumed today, the airline's Florida representative assured The Herald.

Roberto Chomat said the airline had recovered all but one of its aircraft, and would be able to return to normal operations immediately. Service has been suspended since Jan. 1.

Q's seven-plane passenger fleet, which operated out of the military field at Camp Columbia at Havana was commandeered by ex-President Fulgencio Batista and his followers for the pre-dawn, New Year's Day flight from Cuba.

Chomat said the new Cuban government has been "very helpful and cooperative." He added the Key West-Havana flight would continue to land at Camp Columbia, pending some final arrangement.

The airline official said flights from Key West to the Isle of Pines had been in operation for the past two days.

He said Q would resume thrice-daily service to Havana today, but indicated the service may be expanded in the near future.

"Now that things are normal in Cuba, we expect a wonderful tourist season," Chomat said.

Q Airways is one of two chartered airlines using the Key West International Airport, and is the only scheduled air service between here and Havana.

Fund Trustees Get Request

STUART — The Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund were requested by the Martin County Commission to disapprove the sale or conveyance of any submerged land in Martin County beyond the one foot bulkhead line.

In addition, to insure that the rivers and waterways of the county are kept open for the public, the commission agreed to endorse and will sponsor appropriate legislation to ensure perpetual public ownership of all submerged lands in the county beyond the one foot bulkhead line.

River Park Bought By Gallahue

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — A large part of the River Park subdivision for Negroes has been bought by Dudley Gallahue, Indianapolis millionaire, the City Council was informed Wednesday.

Gallahue has bought over 7.5 million dollars worth of property here in the past year. Details of the latest purchase were not given.

The announcement came from Dr. Francis Ford, who questioned the council's action last week in holding River Park developers had "shown bad faith" by not completing streets and sanitary sewers.

Ford said one reason an extension on the project utilities had been asked was because the sale is underway.

Ford added that he talked with Henry B. Watkins, president of the Naples Development Co., which handled the project, and learned the construction would be finished.

"Mr. Watkins called me and he was a little angry," agreed City Manager Fred Lowdermilk. "He was a little incensed by the remark he was going out of business."

Lowdermilk said a conference of Watkins and Gallahue this month would determine streets Gallahue might want.

"I'm quite familiar with this," said Councilman Archie Turner, Gallahue's superintendent of construction. "There's no change in the subdivision plans."

The part of the subdivision being sold appeared, from the discussion, to be west of the railroad and does not include the 50 undeveloped acres of River Park.

Council made no changes in the requirement of last week that a new bond for the subdivision would require signatures of the firm and individual stockholders, as well as letting of a street and sanitary sewer contract, and a start of construction.

Slaying Suspect To Return

NEW ORLEANS —(UPI)— Extradition of Charles R. Smith to Florida to stand trial on two charges of murder was ordered Wednesday by Criminal District Court Judge Shirley G. Wimberly.

The decision was handed down after two Florida officers testified Smith's fingerprints matched those found at the scene of the slaying of a Miami cab driver on Oct. 21.

The officers, Cornelius M. Verhoven, an identification technician of the Miami police, and T. W. Boen, Dade County deputy sheriff, testified they lifted and identified the prints from the taxi in which Edward Setnor, 63, was killed.

If County Seat Moves

Courthouse Site Gift Expanded by Gallahue

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES — A gift of a site for a new Collier County courthouse and jail in Naples was offered from Indianapolis Wednesday by Dudley Gallahue, winter resident of Naples.

Gallahue, an insurance firm executive and millionaire, has extensive land holdings in Naples. A move to transfer the Collier County seat from Everglades to Naples is now underway.

A proposal to build a "branch" courthouse, costing $65,000, on land he owns at Ninth Ave. and Eight St., was made recently by Gallahue. His Wednesday offer would add a plot containing 60,000 square feet, or 150 by 400 feet, to the branch court-house site offer.

In his proposal to construct the branch building, Gallahue asked the county to repay the construction cost of the building over a 10-year period. He would eventually deed the building and land to the county.

"My whole intention is to help the community," Gallahue told the Naples Bureau of The Miami Herald by telephone. "I'm for no faction; I have no axe to grind.

"A lot of people think there's a catch in this, but I don't have to make money, I have it made. I'm not trying to be an opportunist. I love Naples and want to help it."

Gallahue said work will be resumed on at least the 24 efficiency apartments of his stalled Tahitian Lodge project within 30 days, with Handley W. Caraway of Hollywood joining Archie Turner in directing the project.

Caraway, a contractor, built the Howard Johnson restaurant here and Gallahue's Naples house.

The lodge will cost an estimated 1.59 million dollars and include a motel, restaurant and bar, and other facilities. It has been delayed since late summer by lack of sanitary sewer connections. The sewer line is nearing completion.

His purchase of over 7.5 million dollars worth of land in Naples in 1958 were said by Gallahue to be part of a planned development, details of which are not yet ready for announcement.

Comparing his plans to those of Carl Fisher in Miami Beach, Gallahue said his property includes all types of land, from residential to industrial.

"It's like what Arthur Vining Davis has," said Gallahue, "only smaller of course, and more sound since it is concentrated within Naples."

The Collier County Commission agreed Wednesday to give serious consideration to Gallahue's courthouse offer. The insurance man said the offer had been incorrectly stated as an outright gift of the site at 10 years or sooner.

He explained the site would be given at the rate of "10 per cent a year starting at the tenth year."

Gallahue confirmed he had bought the entire Campbell Nursery at Arcadia to use in landscaping his Naples projects, including the Tahitian Lodge. Some of the plants are in a special nursery on 10th St. and the rest are being cared for by Win Turner.

"It cost me $25,000 or more," said Gallahue, "and there were 20 truck loads. I now have exotic plants the Miami nurseries don't have."

Saunders Chairman In Monroe

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — Gerald Saunders has been selected to his fifth term as chairman of the Monroe County Commission.

Saunders, chairman for eight years, got a unanimous nod for another two-year term at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

The board reappointed Paul Sawyer as county attorney and voted to retain all county employes at existing salaries.

In accepting the post, Saunders praised the board for working well together "although occasionally we have differences of opinion."

He emphasized that as chairman he has never called a secret meeting. He explained that sometimes "urgent business may require hastily called" meetings.

"But our meetings are always open to the public and the press. We are conducting your business and you are always welcome," Saunders pledged.

City Sewer Refunding Postponed

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — Proposals for refinancing of city sewer revenue certificates, perhaps in combination with water revenue certificates, will have to wait until October the City Council learned Wednesday.

A letter from Ernest E. Stevens, Fort Myers, former fiscal agent, pointed out that any redemption would have to be on the next interest date, April 1, and be advertised before Feb. 1 in a New York financial paper.

The $200,000 sewer certificates have had to be augmented by $125,000 in loans from the general fund during the past year to meet construction needs.

The city auditor, Rexford W. Gilliam of Fort Myers, has urged these general fund transfers be made permanent.

Councilmen agreed that any future sewer plans will have to wait on a general survey report by Black and Associates, Council advisors, due within the next few days.

Manager Fred Lowdermilk reported completion of a sewer lift station at First Ave. and 10th Street, South. The prefabricated unit had heaved out of its excavation the first time it was installed due to boiling springs at the site.

The station is one of four lift stations which have had foundation trouble since the sewer program began.

Petition Claims Three Took Cash

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writer

Cuban government officials say $17 million dollars which they claim was stolen from the national treasury by three Batista henchmen is aboard a boat anchored off Key West.

And the Cubans want it back.

A petition, asking the money be impounded, was denied late Wednesday by Federal District Judge Emett C. Choate, who ruled his court did not have jurisdiction.

The huge fund, believed in currency, is reputed to be aboard the Olocun II, a converted PT boat in which three brothers fled Havana on New Year's Day with 23 other passengers.

The boat anchored off Key West later that day as Rolando, Rudolfo and Ramundo Masferrer asked permission to enter the U.S. as political refugees.

No action has been yet taken on their plea.

The move to recover the funds — if they are aboard — came from Roberto Agramonte, Minister of State in the new Cuban government.

His petition mentioned the passengers and said:

"In the possession of one or more of these people is approximately 17 million dollars in currency. This money is believed to have come from the treasury of the Cuban government and is illegally in the possession of the carriers."

Agramonte asked the funds be held by U.S. officials "for a short period of time to allow us to complete our investigation and make formal claim for return of such money to the treasury of Cuba through the Courts of the United States."

The Masferrers have often been called "the most hated and feared men in Cuba."

Rolando, a senator from Oriente province, where the revolution to oust ex-President Fulgencio Batista had its start, maintained his own private "army," operated hundreds of gambling places, and owned one of Havana's principal newspapers, which served as a "mouthpiece" for the Batista government.

Ramundo and Rudolfo aided their brother in his operations. Rudolfo was attacked and beaten last year during a visit to Hialeah by Cuban rebel sympathizers.

In retaliation, Rolando began a "hate campaign" against Miami, printing stories in his newspaper that the city had been swept by a polio epidemic.

Rolando's army, called the "Tigers," served as Batista's terrorists, carrying out beatings and executions ordered by high men of the regime.

The Masferrer gambling operations were designed strictly for the poorest class of Cubans, operating on a nickel-and dime basis in cities and towns throughout the island.

These illegal operations were never licensed, and the huge proceeds went into the Masferrer and Batista pockets, it is charged.

$85,000 Is Found On Batista Yacht

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Immigration Service said Wednesday about $85,000 has been discovered aboard one of two yachts on which 36 men, identified with the Batista regime, fled from Cuba to Key West.

James L. Hennessy, executive assistant to Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing, said the money was found on the Marta III. He said it consisted of about $81,000 in U.S. currency and $4,000 in Cuban bills.

Hennessy said the money was found in a preliminary examination of the Marta and the Olocun II, the other yacht involved.

Swing said immigration inspectors are at Key West, examining the 36 men to determine if they should be admitted to the U.S.

The commissioner said the group includes Cuban Sen. Rolando Masferrer, Cuban admirals and navy officials of the Batista regime. None aboard the yachts, Swing said, have been permitted to land.

Swing said it was probable some of the 36 would be found eligible for admission on parole under the U.S. policy to grant asylum to political refugees claiming they would face physical danger if forced to return to their homeland.

Billboard Plan Nixed By C. of C.

By HARRY CAICEDO
Key West Bureau Chief

KEY WEST — A plan to invest some $36,500 in a billboard advertising program for the Keys got turned down by the Chamber of Commerce board of directors Wednesday.

Instead the board voted to seek an increase in the county's advertising fund without tying it to any particular form of advertising.

Alvin E. Lanning of Islamorada proposed that the Key West Chamber joined with the Marathon and Upper Keys chambers in a plan to place 50 billboards through Florida advertising the Keyes.

The money for this project, which Lanning said would run about $36,500, would come from county tax money. However, it would be necessary first to amend the existing special act which holds the county to a $10,000 maximum for advertising.

Several board members protested obtaining an increase in the advertising budget strictly for the billboard program. They suggested that advertising medium decisions be left up to a designated committee.

The board understood that the state law governing the county advertising fund stated that it could have the revenue from a one-mill levy up to a "maximum of $10,000."

On that assumption, it passed a motion seeking to have that act amended by delting the "maximum" line in order to receive the full one - mill revenue.

However, Charles Smith, of the county advertising committee, later said he learned the bill contains no reference to a specific millage levied for advertising.

He said he would propose to the chamber that it change its motion to call for an amendment not only deleting the "maximum" line, but designating a millage amount to be used for county advertising.

Naples Hauls Down The Flag On Enforcing License Law

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — The City of Naples has given up in its efforts to enforce licensing of some out-of-town firms, delivering goods, but not services, within the city.

The ruling came from Kirby Smith, city attorney, after Bert Pinkston, deputy tax collector, asked advice about a supper club at Horse Creek, which is delivering food here. City Manager Fred Lowdermilk explained one such firm had already obtained a license.

"I can't help that," said Smith. "They're making a contract to deliver by phone. It's just as if you called Sears and Roebuck and asked them to deliver something from Fort Myers. We couldn't make them take out a license either."

About a year ago Town and Country Liquors were haled into court for violating the city Sunday sales law by making deliveries. The case was quashed when the complaining witness never appeared to prosecute.

Within the last month the Council had also decided it could not enforce a Sunday blue law on business closings.

Manufacturers Assn. Elects A. Vernon Weaver President

Sullivan Becomes 1st V.P.

A. Vernon Weaver, president of Lanotan, Inc., suntan products manufacturing firm, was elected president of the Greater Miami Manufacturers Association Wednesday.

Weaver succeeds Lloyd Jaye, president of Jaye Manufacturing Company

Weaver, who is also a vice president of Southern Venetian Blind Company, became head of Lanotan last year when a group of Miami businessmen bought the firm.

Timothy J. Sullivan, vice president of Florida Power and Light Company, moved up from secretary to first vice president of the association, which includes most of Dade County's manufacturing firms.

Sidney J. Reaves, manager of the Miami Coca-Cola Bottling Company, was chosen second vice president and E. R. Starbuck, sales manager for Florida Portland Cement Company, was named secretary.

The new treasurer is Louis F. Garrard, general manager of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., here.

The new officers will be installed Jan. 31 at a dinner at the DuPont Plaza Hotel.

Speaker at the installation dinner will be Milton C. Lightner, president of the National Association of Manufacturers and board chairman of the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Despite Cuba

No Change Seen For Sugar Act

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Fidel Castro's successful revolt in Cuba, main sugar supplier for the rich U.S. market, will make no change in Congressional plans to extend the U.S. sugar quota act, Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D., N.C.) said Wednesday.

Cooley, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he has no doubt the new Cuban regime will allow the island's sugar producers to fill their 1959 U.S. quota. This amounts to about one-third of U.S. consumption.

"We couldn't have a sugar program without Cuba," Cooley said.

Other sources here, meanwhile, predicted domestic sugar producers will urge an indefinite extension of the law under which the U.S. market is carved up into carefully controlled shares for American and foreign producers.

Under the act, the Agriculture Department controls supplies reaching the U.S. market — and indirectly controls prices—through the quota system.

The sugar act is now in force under a four-year extension which expires at the end of 1960. Both administration and Congressional farm leaders have indicated they favor approval of the next extension this year to allow for advance planning in producing areas.

Domestic growers favor an extension with no time limit, it was reported, because many of them feel the present quota terms are the most favorable they can realistically expect to get.

Cooley said the Cuban revolt is not likely to affect Cuba's position as a supplier to the U.S. market because "Castro realizes sugar is the most important item in the Cuban economy."

Banks Bat .900; All But 4 Show Deposit Gains

All but four of Dade County's 31 banks reported increased growth during 1958.

The county's newest bank, two-year-old Dade National, led the pack with a growth in deposits of 136.2 per cent.

Second fastest growing was Metropolitan Bank, which passed four others to become the county's 12th largest. It's deposits rose 62.1 per cent.

Only four banks reported declines in both deposits and resources.

They were South Dade Farmers Bank of Homestead, down 25.4 per cent in deposits, 23.6 per cent in resources; Pan American Bank, down 13.7 and 13.1 per cent; Curtiss National of Miami Springs, down 5.8 and 1.8 per cent, and North Shore of Miami Beach, down 5 and 3.2 per cent.

Coral Gables National reported a fractional decline in deposits but a gain in resources.

Others among the top 10 in deposit growth were Miami National up 51.3 per cent; City National of Coral Gables, 41.9 per cent; Peoples of North Miami Beach, 34.3 per cent; Bank of Dade County, 26.1 per cent; Boulevard National, 21.7 per cent; Merchants of Miami, 20.5 per cent; Bank of South Miami, 16.5 per cent, and Industrial National, 14.9 per cent.

First National Bank of Miami by far the largest in Dade County, passed the 300-million-dollar mark in deposits for a gain of 10.4 per cent.

U.S. May Use Atom To Free Oil Reserve

DALLAS — (DJ) — Uncle Sam is willing to try out an underground atomic explosion in an oil well if the nation's petroleum industry will foot some of the costs.

This is the first time the government has formally offered to sanction atomic explosions for strictly non-military purposes.

R. M. Gooding of the Bureau of Mines said the government hopes to pulverize oil-bearing shale with an atomic blast and then free the oil from the shale by man made controlled fires underground.

He said the initial experimental explosion is expected to produce 15,000 barrels of oil and 10 million cubic feet of gas at the outset.

A site has tentatively been selected in the Piceance Creek Basin in northwest Colorado.

The experiment would cost 1.2 million dollars plus the cost of the atomic device, Gooding said.

'Get Rich Quick' Schemes

Big Bull Market Attracts Con Men

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Heightened interest in the stock market has attracted a fringe element of confidence men who cater to the public's get-rich-quick fancies, Congress was told Wednesday.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, in its report for the 1958 fiscal year which ended June 30, said the big bull market has saddled it with "enforcement problems of the first magnitude."

Con men were said to be preying on "uninformed investors . . . often willing to purchase unknown and speculative securities which are represented as offering unusual opportunities for gain."

The SEC observed that "somewhat paradoxically, declines in the prices of seasoned securities may increase the public appetite for such speculative offerings."

It said a substantial number of recent mergers, acquisitions and expansion programs "appear to be designed largely to reap profits for promoters and speculators at the expense of the public."

As the tempo of market activity has increased, the commission said, it has "noted a growing number of instances of unusual and unexplained market activities in particular securities, suggesting possible market manipulations." It said it expects to devote more of its enforcement effort to this area in the future.

The commission said that as opportunities for illicit profits have multiplied, "the number, resources and ingenuity of violators seeking to capitalize upon these opportunities have likewise multiplied."

F-R Board Pinched Own Credit Line

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Federal Reserve Board reported that it fell victim to its own easy credit policy last year.

It said that the sharp drop in interest rates it engineered in the first half of the year to stimulate spending by business and consumers, plus higher operating costs, reduced 1958 earnings of the 12 Federal Reserve banks to 604 million dollars.

This total represented a drop of 27 million dollars from 1957.

The bank's income is derived from holdings of U. S. government securities and from loans to commercial banks which belong to the Federal Reserve System.

Beach Federal Election Delayed

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board Wednesday delayed a directors election at Miami Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association until Feb. 18.

The election originally had been set for Jan. 21. The present management of the association asked for the delay over the objections of a shareholders group which now controls most of the proxies which would be voted in the election.

U.S. Recognizes Castro; 15 Batista Men Executed

By Herald Wire Services

HAVANA, Cuba – The United States formally recognized the revolutionary government of Cuba Wednesday as the regime of Fidel Castro announced the execution of 15 officers of the forces of former dictator Fulgencio Batista.

The American action, announced in a note delivered to the new Cuban foreign minister, Robert Daniel Agramonte, by Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith, was followed almost immediately by similar action by the British government.

The move came six days after Batista fled Cuba, admitting defeat at the hands of the rebels.

The note said:

"I have been instructed by my government to inform your excellency, that, having noted with satisfaction the assurances given by the new government of Cuba of its intention to comply with the international obligation and agreements of Cuba, the government of the U.S. is pleased to recognize the government under the presidency of Manuel Urrutia Lleo, as the provisional government of the Republic of Cuba."

The executions signaled the start of widespread trials by revolutionary courts of Cubans accused of crimes against the state.

Authorities said 10 officers, including Col. Arcadio Casillas Lumpuy, were executed in Santiago, capital of Oriente province and hometown of Castro.

Lumpuy was Batista's chief of operations in Oriente, where between 200 and 300 presoners were reported awaiting trial.

Five military men were executed in Santa Clara, capital of central Las Villas Province. Among those reported sentenced to death there was Lt. Col. Cornelio Rojas, a police inspector. He was accused of torturing prisoners.

Havana Police Chief Aldo Vera said 800 prisoners are being held in the capital on political charges. He declared each case is under investigation and the innocent will be released.

Camilio Cienfugos, commander of Havana Province, said plans were under way for a drastic reorganization of the country's armed forces, under the supervision of the revolutionaries. He added that regular army men innocent of misdeeds will be permitted to take part in the reorganization.

There were these additional developments as Havana awaited impatiently for the expected arrival of Castro today:

Luis Bush, minister of the presidency, said Cuba will demand the extradition of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer on charges he fled by yacht to Key West, Fla., with 17 million dollars belonging to the Cuban people.

The presidency said Masferrer had his own private army for protection and for rooting out suspected rebel sympathizers. He is a close friend of Batista and owner of the newspaper El Tiempo. The paper was sacked by rebel sympathizers after Batista fled. Bush said instructions already had been given to press the U. S. for Masferrer's immediate extradition.

Bush also announced creation of two new ministries — social assistance and economy. The names of the men to head the ministries were not announced.

Castro would not comment on reports that the revolutionary regime would ask for replacement of U.S. Ambassador Smith. Castro was expected to spend the night at Matanzas, 60 miles from Havana. He headed to Matanzas from Santa Clara.

Castro's 26th of July Movement spurred the hunt for informers, grafters and others who lined their pockets under Batista by announcing formation of a "department of purification."

"Chivato," meaning rascal, is applied to informers for Batista's police and is the dirtiest word in Havana today.

The new department also will disarm unauthorized gun-

New Regime Takes Dim View of Prio

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Former Cuban President Carlos Prio Socarras, who claims he spent his entire fortune buying arms for the revolution, may wind up out in the cold in his country's new government.

"I spent everything I had," Prio said Wednesday in an interview at his huge country home, La Chata, a few miles from Havana.

He and his family returned here from their long exile in Miami.

"All that I have left is the property that I own here," said Cuba's last constitutional president who was ousted by Fulgencio Batista. "But I am not asking for anything."

PRIO

Even if he does ask for something, indications are that he won't get it from the government being formed by Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Rebel Leader Fidel Castro picked to take over from Batista.

Observers here don't believe that Prio will ever regain his former political strength because he has very little popular support.

Some give him no credit for aiding the rebel movement and even accuse Prio of having stolen the money he had when he was president. Prio was ousted by Batista in 1952.

Prio did not make any estimate of just how many millions he spent while in exile in Miami buying arms and ammunition to ship to the rebels. He would only say he spent "everything."

There were close to a hundred automobiles at La Chata Wednesday, and hundreds of young men milling around who fought in the interior for Prio's revolutionary organization, Autentica.

Nearly every man was heavily armed and a few appeared to have just started growing beards — the symbol of sacrifice.

Without any political power, a big question is how Prio will go about rewarding them.

In Havana proper, meanwhile, citizens are preparing the biggest celebration yet for the arrival of Castro and the core of his rebel army.

Havana has more than returned to normal. Things are much better than normal.

Bakers, shoeshine boys, taxis and tourist traps — except for the gambling casinos which Urrutia has vowed to keep closed—are all back in business.

Baseball is back, and sports news is again getting newspaper space, along with weddings and funerals.

For a city that feared it was in for a blood bath this time last week, the adjustment to the switch in governments is amazing. Habaneros still can't quite believe that the tourists may start flocking back at any time.

Boone Does Some Explaining About Beer Drinking, Stealing

NEW YORK—(AP)—Singer Pat Boone, idolized as a clean-living, non-drinking antidote to juvenile delinquency, is having to do some explaining about his "past."

In an interview Wednesday with The New York Post, Boone discussed the weaknesses he discloses in his new book, "Twixt Twelve and Twenty." These weaknesses included shoplifting and beer-drinking.

Pat explained:

"I was about 16 when four or five of us guys did our shoplifting. Each of us took a downtown store in Nashville at Christmas time. We did it for excitement, but we did it.

"We took little items. Cigaret lighters, socks, pants, shirts, sweaters, things like that. Our folks could have afforded to pay for them."

Later, Boone continued, he became remorseful, and confessed his deeds to his high high school principal.

"I . . . told him I wanted to return the goods I'd stolen, or pay for it. He helped me. By this time I'd sung quite a lot around town, and this would have been quite a story if it had come out but it never did.

"Again with the guys, we got to drinking beer like a lot of teen-agers. None of us liked it—I smoked a lot, too, and I don't now."

Nor, he added, does he any longer take beer or other alcoholic beverages.

Pat's New Book Starts Sunday

Pat Boone got his last spanking at the age of 17.

His mother gave it to him good over the edge of the bathtub because he'd been fighting with his brother Nick.

It's an amusing and revealing incident revealed by Pat in his book "Twixt Twelve and Twenty."

Pat's learned a lot about the business of growing up. His life and advice make good reading for both young and old. You won't want to miss the series taken from his book starting in Sunday's editions of

Mikoyan Hooted in Cleveland

By Herald Wire Services

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, pretending to ignore a rock-throwing incident and intensive anti-Soviet demonstrations, advocated a co-existence in "peace and friendship" on his one-day visit here Wednesday.

The Soviet's No. 2 man and seven other Russians, including Russian Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, arrived at Hopkins airport and were greeted by Financier Cyrus Eaton, who was host to the Russian official during his brief stay.

At the airport, Mikoyan, referring to Eaton's recent visit to Russia, stated: "Your trip was a private one but your statements after the visit bore testimony to the fact that people living under different systems can still get along together.

"You want peace and friendship and so do we. Let us each retain our views on capitalism and socialism, but let us be friends in peace."

He told a group of leading Ohio businessmen that Soviet scientists have so far failed to create shelters good against H-bombs. Soviet scientists are working to create shelters which can provide protection against thermonuclear explosions, he said that "when one has knowledge of what the

Spring Is In the Air --For Fair

Miami's spring-like weather isn't expected to change in the foreseeable future, and the rest of Florida will keep warming up, too, after its brief but severe cold snap.

"There's not much prospect of any major change," Miami Weather Bureau Forecaster William McGehee said Wednesday. "The weather will be good here and the rest of the state should keep on warming up."

Miami temperatures hit the mid-70s Wednesday and are expected to go a few degrees higher Thursday. The low Thursday morning should range from 65 to 70, McGehee said.

In Central and North Florida, coldest temperatures Wednesday morning were in the high 30s, and the mercury rose during the day to the mid-60s. Sunny skies are expected to continue over the whole state at least for another day or two.

Filibuster Control Battle Erupts As Congress Opens

Stage Set For Bitter Civil Fight

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The new 86th Congress, biggest in U.S. history, opened Wednesday with fireworks popping over Senate filibusters and with new Republican leaders taking party command in both houses.

The heavily - Democratic House and Senate convened at noon for a session that must try to reconcile President Eisenhower's economy budget with Russia's space challenge. Democratic leaders promised "responsible service" and "sympathetic" consideration of the President's proposals.

The session was only minutes old when the Senate erupted in a row over attempts by liberal members to make it easier to curb anti-civil rights filibusters. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas finally forced postponement of a first-round showdown until today.

Johnson acted after Vice President Richard M. Nixon, presiding over the chamber, held for the second time in two years that the Senate can adopt new rules at the outset of a new Congress, including a crackdown on filibusters.

This was the opinion the liberal anti-filibuster senators wanted to hear and it laid the groundwork for a rousing North-South fight when the Senate meets today at 10 a.m. —two hours early. Johnson accused Nixon of issuing parliamentary opinions rather "freely" on opening day.

A House controversy, with civil rights overtones, was settled when Rep. Dale Alford, the Little Rock, Ark., segregationist, was allowed to take his seat by an overwhelming vote. A House elections subcommittee had recommended that Alford be barred pending an investigation of his write-in victory over Rep. Brooks Hays (D., Ark.).

Opening day saw more than 2,000 bills introduced in the House — including two big spending measures which Eisenhower vetoed last year for economy reasons.

One would launch a 275 million dollar program of federal aid for economically-depressed areas. The other would provide federal grants of 100 million dollars a year for five years to help communities build airports. Democrats labeled them "must" legislation.

Former President Truman and a host of luminaries were on hand to see the opening of the most overwhelmingly Democratic Congress since New Deal days. The Senate lineup is 64 Democrats and 34 Republicans. In the House, it is 283 Democrats and 153 Republicans.

The Congress, with which Eisenhower must deal during his last two years in the White House, also is the largest in history due to the addition of two senators and a House member from the new state of Alaska.

The Democrats unanimously returned Sen. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn to power. House Democrats also renamed Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts as their party's floor leader.

Johnson and Rayburn promptly urged their Democratic colleagues to live up to the responsibilities entrusted to them by the sweeping Democratic victories in the November congressional elections.

Reporter's Coin Flip Picked 'Senior' Alaska Senator
. . . E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, right, won over Ernest Gruening

'Luck of Draw' Gives Alaska Two 'Short Term' Senators

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The luck of the draw gave Alaska two short-term senators Wednesday.

Sen. Ernest Gruening will represent the 49th state for four years and Sen. E. L. (Bob) Bartlett will serve a two-year term.

Both new Democratic senators missed a chance to win a full six-year term as they performed a ceremony last held when Arizona and New Mexico sent their first senators to Washington 47 years ago.

Gruening, 71-year-old former territorial governor, drew one of three slips of paper from a small box to determine his term.

It made him a four-year senator. Then Bartlett, Alaska's 54-year-old former delegate to Congress, drew a two-year slip. The six-year slip remained unchosen.

The draw was necessary to give Gruening and Bartlett terms of differing length.

The Constitution requires the Senate membership to be divided into three classes, with about one-third of the senators standing for re-election every two years.

As a result of Wednesday's drawing, Alaskans will vote for senators again in 1960 and 1962. The senators elected then will have full six-year terms.

On Tuesday, Gruening and Bartlett flipped a coin to decide who would rank as Alaska's senior senator. Bartlett won the flip, so Gruening had first choice in the draw Wednesday.

Martin One of Boys Again; Uses Employes' Entrance

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Joe Martin turned in his Cadillac for a taxicab Wednesday and came to work through the employes' entrance.

He was no longer the leader of House Republicans, using the boss' door. He was just one of the crowd.

The 74-year-old bachelor from North Attleboro, Mass., stands as a living monument to the caprices and cruelties of big time politics.

Almost 20 years ago to the day, Martin's colleagues elevated him to the highest post within their power — the GOP leadership of the House. They made him speaker during the four years they were in control.

Tuesday the roof fell in.

Unceremoniously, unmercifully and unexpectedly, Martin was toppled from his throne by a vote of 74-70 at a party caucus. In his place was installed Charles A. Helleck of Indiana, who had risen to a position of power in the House with the early assistance of Martin.

How does it feel to be fired, right out of a clear sky, after 20 years as boss?

"It's not too bad, now that it's over," Martin said. "I didn't like it. I didn't expect it. I thought I had the votes. I was a little stunned at first, but now I don't feel so bad about it. In fact, you might say I feel good. In a way I'm sort of glad, now that it's over.

"It's a relief not to have the responsibilities."

Pompano Bans Buses as Hotels

More Broward News, 1C, 7C

By CLARENCE ZAITZ
North Broward Bureau

POMPANO BEACH — The use of buses as hotels parked on city streets has to stop, Police Chief James Boggs declared Wednesday.

He ordered any arrests necessary to eliminate the "threat to businesses" by allowing migrant vagrants to sleep in buses parked along Hammondville Rd. in the city's Negro district.

There has been an increase in the number of such incidents in recent weeks, with as many as a half dozen persons sleeping in each bus. The buses are parked wherever there is space along the street. No consideration is given to sanitary facilities.

Boggs said the action could be condoned during "bad times," when a bad farming season reduced the need for workers.

"But I can see no reason for it now," the chief said. "The bean fields are busy and the men can work if they want to."

Women Seek Men Pinups

VINCENNES, Ind. —(AP)— A city councilman says he is quitting his campaign against indecent magazines on Vincennes' newstands.

Marvin Miller said while he was suggesting that a magazine dealer remove a display of nude femininity from his newstand, two elderly women came in and asked for "pinup pictures of men with big muscles."

Rocket Orbits Around Sun, Russians Say

LONDON —(AP)— The Soviet space rocket went into orbit around the sun Wednesday and became the first artificial planet of the solar system, Moscow radio said.

The broadcast said the rocket has covered a distance of 14,500,000 kilometers (9,062,500 miles) since it was launched from a base in the Soviet Union Friday.

All radio contact with the rocket has been lost since Monday. The Soviet Union has given no indication of how it could tell when the rocket would go into orbit around the sun.

Its curving path through space as it veers into orbit around the sun leaves it one million kilometers (625,000 miles) from the earth, the broadcast said.

Quoting the science correspondent of the Tass News Agency, Moscow said this figure "will increase at a terrific pace since the earth and the artificial planet are diverging in the cosmos."

The Tass science correspondent insisted the Russians had no intention of hitting the moon with their space rocket.

It missed the moon by about 5,000 miles and headed on through space.

The initial Soviet announcement said the rocket was headed toward the moon. The aim of putting it into orbit around the sun was not mentioned then.

Conservatives Keep Control

Dirksen Is GOP Senate Leader

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Conservative Republicans won their fight to keep Senate party control Wednesday by electing Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as GOP leader over liberal Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. The vote was 20-14.

The Republicans also elected Liberal Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California as whip, or assistant GOP leader, by the same vote. This was considered a concession to the liberal group which sought to overthrow conservative control.

Kuchel won out over Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, a last minute candidate nominated by Dirksen forces, in a two-hour organizational meeting of Senate Republicans.

Kuchel said the GOP senators achieved "results that we believe will help us unite and fashion political principles on the basis of what we believe best for the American people."

Shortly after the vote was announced, President Eisenhower sent congratulations to both Dirksen and Kuchel.

Cooper said he accepted the President's statement that "he was not involved in our situation. I know also that the vice president kept a position which was correct and proper."

"I fully and wholeheartedly concur," Dirksen said.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts had charged that White House aides intervened in the vote Tuesday in which Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana unseated him as House GOP floor leader.

The GOP senators reelected Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Masschusetts as chairman of the Republican Conference, made up of all Senate Republicans, and Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota was reelected secretary. Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire was reelected chairman of the Republican Policy Committee.

The girl's father had crept ahead and cut the barbed wire entanglements. Klara was the last to come through, when the mine went off.

Istanbul Toll Rises to 17

ISTANBUL —(AP)— The official death toll in an explosion that shattered two buildings in old Istanbul rose Wednesday to 17. More victims are believed buried in the debris.

Most Turkish newspapers put the total figure of dead between 40 to 50 persons. The buildings were wrecked by an explosion, apparently in a boiler room.

U.S. Gets Ricca Data

CHICAGO — (UPI) — The naturalization papers of Paul (The Waiter) Ricca, one-time kingpin in the Al Capone gang, Wednesday were ordered turned over to the attorney general in a new move to deport the mob veteran to his native Italy.

At the request of the government, Federal Judge Walter La Buy ordered Ricca's certificate of naturalization turned over to U.S. District Attorney Robert Tieken for transfer to Washington.

Ricca appeared Tuesday before Otto A. Eck, special inquiry officer of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, but was a reluctant witness when the government tried to get him to admit he obtained his citizenship fraudulently.

Pilots Unit Rejects Meany Bid

WASHINGTON — (AP) — American Airlines said Wednesday the head of the Pilots Union had turned down a proposal that AFL-CIO President George Meany arbitrate a strike that has grounded its planes since Dec. 20.

C. R. Smith, president of American, said he made the recommendation Saturday but was rebuffed by Clarence Sayen, president of the striking Air Line Pilots Association.

American disclosed the arbitration proposal in a statement after federal mediators reported both sides were close to agreement in efforts to end the 19-day-old pilots' strike.

Smith said he had suggested that Meany's decisions be binding on the company and the pilots.

Sayen, he continued, termed the proposal impractical "and has consistently neglected to discuss it since that time."

Under the proposal the pilots would return to work while Meany considered the wage-hour issues.

Red Chinese Guns Angry

TAIPEI, Formosa — (UPI) — Chinese Communist guns fired 32,919 rounds Wednesday in the biggest bombardment of the offshore Quemoy islands in two months, the Nationalist defense ministry announced.

There was no immediate report on casualties.

The Chinese Reds indicated that the shelling was a punitive measure against the Nationalist garrison rather than a reopening of full-scale hostilities in the Formosa Strait.

Propaganda loudspeakers on the Red-held Chinese mainland warned Tuesday that the garrison would be "punished" for bombarding what the Reds said were civilian areas of the mainland Saturday. The Reds claimed 23 children and 25 adults were killed by Nationalist shells.

8 Junior Colleges In Florida Sought

TAMPA — (AP) — The state advisory council on education Wednesday voted to ask the Legislature to establish eight new community junior colleges in east and southeast Florida in the next biennium.

The council will ask legislators to appropriate $12,439,010 for establishing the colleges and for capital outlay for existing junior colleges.

The recommendation calls for both white and Negro schools to be constructed in Dade, Broward and Brevard counties and in an area consisting of St. Lucie, Martin, Indian River and Okeechobee counties.

The 1957 Legislature approved a community junior college budget of $8,135,499, of which $4,880,409 was appropriated.

The remaining $3,255,090 already approved forms one section of the advisory council's budget recommendation. Current capital outlay needs total $5,455,920. Building costs for the four proposed white and four Negro colleges total $3,728,000.

Dr. James Wattenbarger of the state department of education told the council that present estimates indicate there will be 160,000 pupils eligible for college in Florida in 1970.

The council, headed by Allen Glazier of St. Petersburg, recommended these capital outlay budgets for existing junior colleges:

Bay County: Gulf Coast $332,554; Rosenwald (Negro) $93,646.

Escambia: Pensacola $714,141; Washington (Negro) $144,300.

Jackson: Chipola $110,820; Negro institution $97,680.

Madison: North Florida $417,340; Negro institution $87,879.

Manatee: Manatee $1,343,728; Negro institution $68,265.

Marion: Central Florida $663,840; Howard (Negro) $286,560.

Palm Beach: Palm Beach $689,833; Roosevelt (Negro) $113,100.

Pinellas: St. Petersburg $1,165,500; Gibbs (Negro) $472,530.

Putnam: St. Johns River $520,740; Negro institution $109,596.

Volusia: Daytona Beach $1,035,478; Volusia County (Negro) $240,480.

Capital outlay expenditures anticipated at the new junior colleges include: Brevard County: $483,000; Broward County: $1,005,000; St. Lucie County: $261,000; Dade County: $1,899,000.

AAA Lauds U.S. Drivers

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The American Automobile Association congratulated U.S. motorists for achieving the best traffic safety record in history last year.

Frederick T. McGuire Jr., president of AAA, said the highway death rate dropped to an all-time low of 5.3 fatalities per million miles driven last year.

He said the rate was 5.9 in 1957 and seven fatalities for every million miles driven five years ago. Total deaths dropped from 38,500 in 1957 to 37,000 last year, he said.

bomb really is, one thinks that all these shelters are merely a matter of consolation until the bomb has exploded, because there is no shelter."

Mikoyan spoke of the futility of the building of shelters against such weapons in order to make a plea for friendship and peace between the Soviet Union and the U.S.

All was not peaceful and friendly, however, during protest demonstrations staged by victims of Soviet terror, mostly Hungarian groups.

As Mikoyan and his party emerged from Eaton's Greenbrier suite in the Terminal Tower to attend a luncheon with business and industrial leaders at the Union Club, a 19-year-old fugitive from Russian oppression threw a rock at the deputy premier.

The woman, Mrs. Emma Halhai, missed, but was taken into custody and charged with disorderly conduct by police, who had difficulty restraining several hundred demonstrators who jeered and shouted at the visiting official and Eaton.

Earlier, police asked a Hungarian refugee to leave the airport when they found a spoiled egg in his possession.

Mikoyan, however, pretended to ignore the rock-throwing incident as he doffed his hat, waved and smiled at the crowd before entering a limousine to drive to the exclusive Union Club.

Still enjoying a hero's journey through eastern provinces on his way to the capital, 32-year-old Castro indicated in interviews that he does not favor diplomatic relations with any dictatorship, including Communist ones.

Dad and 5 Die in Fire

BRANDON, Minn. —(AP)— A father and his five children died Wednesday in a fire that swept their two-story home here.

Mark Kelly got out of the house after the fire began, but lost his life when he went back in and sought to rescue his children.

Dead were Kelly, about 38, three sons, Jim, 16, Dennis, 12, Pat, 14; and two daughters, Mary Lee, 10, and Peggy, 3.

Mrs. Kelly fled the burning house with her husband and tried to go back in for the children, along with her husband. Neighbors restrained the mother from reentering the house.

The father's body was found at the foot of a stairs, where he apparently collapsed while trying to reach the baby.

National Summary

Widespread cloudiness accompanied the warming flow of rain or drizzle out of Texas into Tennessee and Kentucky while drizzle surrounded a disturabnce moving through the central plains toward the mid Mississippi Valley.

Spotty light snow was scattered over the Rockies from Colorado to Montana but the Pacific states held most of the wet weather in the west.

Moisture from the Gulf of Mexico spreading northeastward, will extend the rains from the lower Mississippi Valley to the Carolinas and Virginia. The precipitation may begin as a combination or variation of snow, sleet to rain from southern Iowa to the upper Ohio Valley and into the mid Atlantic states.

Snow will develop and spread from the Ohio Valley and the southern Great Lakes to the mountains of New York and as far south as the mountains of western Virginia.

Cooler air pressing eastward across the plains will give partly cloudy weather from Texas to the Dakotas with rain changing to snow in the lower Missouri Valley and snow across the Great Lakes.

The new Pacific storm sweeping down the coast is expected to give heavy rains with gale winds as it moves inland through central California with the precipitation as heavy snow in the mountains.

Nth Degree Americanism

Refusal of the City Commission to buy small cars, in spite of the savings which could be effected, because they're not made in the U.S.A. has raised a number of questions.

Is the city going to reject everything that's foreign-made, or only cars? If the commission is right, is the individual taxpayer being un-American when he buys a Volkswagen? Are the French being un-French when they buy Chevrolets, or the British un-British when they buy Fords? Is an English Ford a foreign car? Is the widespread demand for economy in government less important than keeping U.S. factories humming?

One observer commented that the commission may start buying small cars when General Motors produces one. A listener replied that the year after GM makes a small car, it'll come out with tail fins and four headlights . . .

Erosion Stand Is Well-Taken

APPEAL TO the county's legislators: Lend an attentive ear when Leo Sable pleads for legislative action on beach erosion.

The Sables live on the ocean at the foot of Oakland Park Beach Blvd. They've seen about 30 or 40 feet of beach washed away in the nine years they've been there, and they've studied erosion in general long enough to know that this is happening year after year along hundreds of miles of Florida beach.

The reason Fort Lauderdale people can't get excited about it, they believe, is that thus far no buildings have fallen into the sea here. But the same thing that happened to that $150,000 oceanfront mansion at Gulfstream a few days ago can happen here and anywhere.

Deerfield and Pompano people have seen roads disappear, sea walls overturned. The county engineer watches the people of Broward lose 20 feet of their public beach south of Port Everglades ever year. It's time someone around here got excited about it . . .

* * *

Everyone Owns Sand on Beach

THE SABLES MAY be said to have a special interest, and they do, up to a point. But when 10 feet of beach was lost in front of their home last year, it wasn't their land that disappeared — it was the beach belonging to the City of Fort Lauderdale and the State of Florida.

They're fighting virtually a lone battle against it in their neighborhood. Mrs. Sable dug a trench and planted Australian pines in it to hold the sand. They're waging a small war with the city to keep the dunes there from being knocked down by the seaweed collectors and to keep the city from pushing sand out of the water and up the beach.

Those are poor conservation practices, the Sables claim, and they've got studies by the State Board of Conservation to back them up.

* * *

Dangers Spelled Out in Report

"BACKFILL SHOULD NOT be taken from the seaward side," says one study, named Water Survey and Research Paper No. 8. The state told the city recently to call a halt to that.

At another point the report declares: "The dunes are the savings account of the beach, deposits made in time of surplus to be drawn on in time of need." It says further, "Beach erosion is transmitted along the shore like measles in a grade school," which should indicate that this is everybody's job; and that a beach is a delicately balanced thing, easily upset by both nature and man.

The Sables, who have inspected erosion damage from Palm Beach to Miami Beach, argue that too much beach was taken when Atlantic Blvd. was widened north of Birch Park, and a bad storm could take the rest.

They may be wrong, but they may also be right. Somebody had better find out.

A Good Day for Getting Lost, But Being Found Was Better

By PAT MANGAN
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — A block is a long way for a little boy in a city of big people.

Three-year-old Buddy Sherwin was lost and desolate when police found him Wednesday afternoon, crying, on Andrews Ave.

His parents were in a store less than a block away.

Buddy couldn't decide which was the worse of two evils—to stay lost, or to get in the police car. When Parking Meter Checker Jane Headla came along, Buddy agreed to be helped.

At the police station, he wouldn't let Jane go. He insisted she hold him and walk. Not sit down, walk.

Crackers, pop, drinks of water and toy cars didn't help.

It was hard to tell who was more relieved, Jane or Buddy, when Jack (Daddy) Sherwin hurried into the station.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin and Buddy's sister Brenda, 4, — who are here from Toronto on vacation — came after him.

"His father was supposed to be watching him," Mrs. Sherwin said. "But men just don't realize how quickly children get away."

U.S. Agents Stage Welcome

Lansky Back Home From Cuban Revolt

Meyer Lansky, operator of one of revolt-torn Havana's plush gambling casinos, flew into Miami Wednesday and was met by a welcoming committee of federal agents.

But the short, 55-year-old gambler was not detained nor subjected to any official action.

A customs official said, "we just want to know what he's doing, where he's going, and whether he brought any assets or merchandise back."

Lansky, carrying only a small cloth overnight bag, said he was going to his home at 3800 S. Ocean Dr., Hollywood, for a few days to see a doctor.

The future of Cuba's world-famous casinos has been uncertain since the overthrow of President Fulgencio Batista. Provisional President Manuel Urrutia said earlier this week that casino gambling is finished in the island nation.

Lansky is operator of the casino and in charge of food and beverages at the Riviera Hotel.

They Got 2 for One

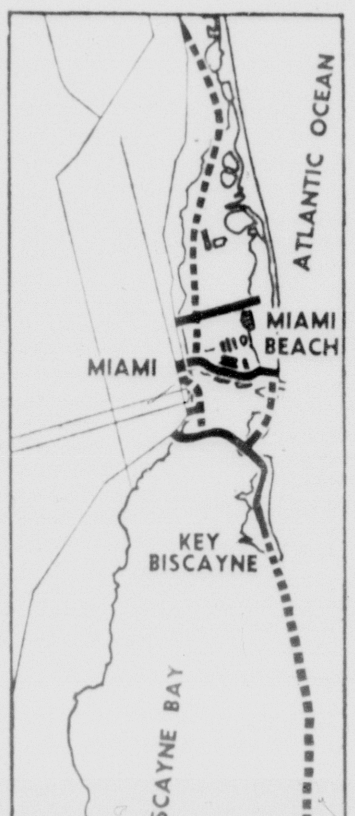
FORT LAUDERDALE — Warren Simmons' two bedroom house looked considerably smaller to him Wednesday.

Tuesday night, his wife surprised both him and the doctor by giving birth to twins, a boy and a girl, at Holy Cross Hospital.

"We had everything ready for just one," daddy moaned. "Everything will have to be doubled . . . and I'm going to have to start thinking about adding on to my house (at 1404 NW 12th St.) or buying a bigger one."

The Simmons already have one son, Mark, 7.

The babies are still in incubators. The boy weighed five pounds, eight ounces at birth and the girl, four pounds, 10 ounces. Mom is doing fine.



A CLEAR SHOT to the Keys would be available to Broward residents if this 56-million-dollar over-the-water loop is approved. Being studied by the Dade Metro Commission, it would extend from the Broward to the Monroe County line. Reports of two engineering firms studying the plan will be heard Monday. Key to the project would be a tunnel connecting Miami Beach and Key Biscayne.

Year-Long Ordeal Ends For Red-Headed Waitress

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Mary Welborn was found not guilty Wednesday of second degree murder in the slaying of Robert Lee, 24, a Miami engineer.

She walked out of Criminal court a free woman after Judge Louis Weissing directed the jury to acquit her. Lee was killed by a hitchhiker he picked up on Christmas Day, 1957, on U.S. 27.

More than a year of ordeal for the 23-year-old red haired woman with a tragic history ended at 4:40 p.m. on the trial's third day.

It ended when her attorney, Ellis Rubin, blocked the admission of a second alleged confession as evidence.

State Rep. Emerson Allsworth, the prosecuting attorney, was visibly dejected as he rested his case.

Rubin promptly asked the court for a directed acquittal. Weissing granted the request and called in the jury to release the defendant formally.

There was an emotional scene as well-wishers congratulated the woman whose sanity was disputed by psychiatrists.

Matrons who have looked after her in jail begged her to stay out of trouble.

Mary, said to have the mind of a 12-year-old, showed mixed delight and confusion at the verdict.

Mary Welborn Walks Free
. . . 'I want to go home'

Asked if she was happy, she bubbled: "Wouldn't you be?"

Prompted by a matron, she added seriously: "Yes, I'm very happy."

"First I'm going to get situated," she said. "Then I want to go home to New Mexico.

"It'll take my Mom and Dad a long time to get money for the fare," she added thoughfully. "I want to go and call them."

A psychiatrist said earlier that five years of intensive treatment would aid her personality disorder.

"Mom wants me to go to a hospital voluntarily," she said.

Arrangements are being made for Miss Welborn to stay at the Ministering Friends Inc. Home in Miami. Mrs. Pearl Bourn, Broward representative of the society, hugged Mary as she was freed.

Four psychiatrists gave contradictory evidence Wednesday on Mary's mental ability.

Weissing then ruled that she was incompetent when she gave the second confession March 20. Mary was then a patient at the South Florida Mental Hospital.

The first confession, made soon after Mary's arrest, was tossed out Tuesday. Weissing ruled it was not "free and voluntary."

These were the conflicts that led to Mary's release:

Dr. Arnold Eichert, superintendent of the South Florida Mental Hospital: "She's entirely normal except for a personality disorder."

Dr. Mordecai Haber, hospital clinical director: "She has no mental retardation. She has dull normal intelligence. She is completely aware of reality at all times."

Dr. Barnett Alpert, Hollywood psychiatrist: "Her behavior is anti-social. I would describe her as being ill."

Dr. Rudolph Heath, Fort Lauderdale psychiatrist: "She is mentally retarded . . . an incipient schizophrenic. Any child up to 12 can have fantasies. She is mentally ill now, and the illness would have affected her answers."

Murder Case Now In 'Unsolved' File

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — The body of Robert Lee, 24, a Miami engineer, was found lying half out of his car early Dec. 26, 1957, on U.S. 27 about two miles north of State Road 84.

Lee had spent Christmas Day at his fiancee's home in Belle Glade, and left for Miami that night.

Beside his body lay a .22 rifle given him as a Christmas gift. Nearby were a pair of woman's earrings and a pair of woman's shoes.

Mary Welborn was nowhere near the dead man.

She entered the case when the Highway Patrol arrested her for hitchhiking on the turnpike near Stuart.

A kind judge had turned her loose from the Miami Beach jail on Christmas Eve.

Mary was held in Palm Beach County jail. Broward investigators heard about her, and brought her here for questioning.

She was then in a state of withdrawal from narcotics, a doctor testified.

Mary gave deputies a confession to the shooting which she later repudiated. In it, she said that Lee had given her a lift, that they tussled over the gun, that it went off.

But a psychiatrist who saw Mary in jail doubted her sanity. The county judge committed her to the South Florida Mental Hospital.

She stayed there for about eight months before hospital authorities said she was sane, and discharged her to stand trial.

The first trial began Nov. 3. It blew up when a psychiatrist gave prejudicial evidence in front of the jury.

A second trial was necessary. It started Monday and ended Wednesday. Mary left it innocent.

And Lee's death stays on the books as an unsolved homicide.

'Ambassador' Teams Ready to Sell Area

By HENRY KINNEY
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Business people here are being organized into teams of "good will ambassadors" to sell Fort Lauderdale vacation-wise and industrially in 10 major metropolitan areas this year.

The plan for "1959, The Year of Decision" was outlined Tuesday at Pier 66 to a group of 101 persons designated as the chamber's tourism committee.

Good will teams will visit Detroit, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Kansas City and St. Louis during April and May to stimulate summer trade, Chairman Stuart Sharpe announced. Five other cities, not named, will be visited during the fall.

From 20 to 30 men and women will make up each group. Their trips will be two or three days in length.

Each will be conducted according to a prepared plan which will call for a press reception, talks to various groups, radio and television appearances, meetings with city officials and business leaders, and interviews with industrialists.

The groups will "do the doorbell ringing" for the chamber's industrial committee, Executive Vice President R. W. Ward explained. Manufacturers who might establish plants here will be contacted in advance by the chamber.

Cadets Marching Back to Georgia

By RICK TUTTLE
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — General Sandy Beaver and his 750 cadets of Riverside Military Academy left Wednesday.

The visit had been short and unpleasant.

They left behind a fire-scarred barracks that city inspectors said should be torn down.

They left behind balmy South Florida weather and returned to the bleak mountains of Gainesville, Ga.

About 200 cadets slept on cots in the gymnasium Monday and Tuesday night. Others slept in dormitories undamaged by fire.

Chief Building Isnpector George Whitfield thinks damage to the barracks will run between $200,000 and $300,000.

The blaze that firemen fought for over two hours Monday was too much for the 35-year-old former luxury hotel.

It was a lonely place Wednesday afternoon.

Water still dripped from ceilings, draining from black pools, the remnants of Monday's struggle.

Some third floor rooms had no ceilings and the sun shone through, falling upon charred walls, burned uniforms and soggy text books.

Had it not been for a firewall near the center of the building, there would be no barracks at all today.

At the top of the firewall — in the north tower—the great beams were charred where fire had started to bridge the barrier. The blackened wood made strange sounds — muffled creaking sounds. The tower floor gave slightly under a man's weight.

"I hope we can come back to Florida," said Gen. Beaver. "I don't know just now what we will do about the building."

Firemen still are not sure of the cause.

Moving vans lined up to be loaded with the piles of trunks and equipment stacked on the academy grounds.

Cadets lined up to buy popcorn from a vendor in a truck.

They lined up to get their lunch from an improvised kitchen and they sat on the grass and joked and ate the beans and potato salad from paper plates.

Buses lined up to take them back to the cold mountains of Georgia.

Manufacturers Assn. Elects A. Vernon Weaver President

Sullivan Becomes 1st V.P.

A. Vernon Weaver, president of Lanotan, Inc., suntan products manufacturing firm, was elected president of the Greater Miami Manufacturers Association Wednesday.

Weaver succeeds Lloyd Jaye, president of Jaye Manufacturing Company.

Weaver, who is also a vice president of Southern Venetian Blind Company, became head of Lanotan last year when a group of Miami businessmen bought the firm.

Timothy J. Sullivan, vice president of Florida Power and Light Company, moved up from secretary to first vice president of the association, which includes most of Dade County's manufacturing firms.

Sidney J. Reaves, manager of the Miami Coca-Cola Bottling Company, was chosen second vice president and E. R. Starbuck, sales manager for Florida Portland Cement Company, was named secretary.

The new treasurer is Louis F. Garrard, general manager of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., here.

The new officers will be installed Jan. 31 at a dinner at the DuPont Plaza Hotel.

Speaker at the installation dinner will be Milton C. Lightner, president of the National Association of Manufacturers and board chairman of the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Green Cheese May Hide Oil on Moon

By Herald Wire Services

The Russians gave out a clue Wednesday as to why they are in a hurry to reach the moon: there may be oil there.

A Soviet Scientist, Prof. Nilolai Kozyrev, says periodic changes in the color of parts of the moon indicate the presence of natural gas.

"This would mean that in the direct vicinity one may expect to find deposits of oil," he said.

Despite Cuba

No Change Seen For Sugar Act

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Fidel Castro's successful revolt in Cuba, main sugar supplier for the rich U.S. market, will make no change in Congressional plans to extend the U.S. sugar quota act, Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D., N.C.) said Wednesday.

Cooley, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he has no doubt the new Cuban regime will allow the island's sugar producers to fill their 1959 U.S. quota. This amounts to about one-third of U.S. consumption.

"We couldn't have a sugar program without Cuba," Cooley said.

Other sources here, meanwhile, predicted domestic sugar producers will urge an indefinite extension of the law under which the U.S. market is carved up into carefully controlled shares for American and foreign producers.

Under the act, the Agriculture Department controls supplies reaching the U.S. market — and indirectly controls prices—through the quota system.

The sugar act is now in force under a four-year extension which expires at the end of 1960. Both administration and Congressional farm leaders have indicated they favor approval of the next extension this year to allow for advance planning in producing areas.

Domestic growers favor an extension with no time limit, it was reported, because many of them feel the present quota terms are the most favorable they can realistically expect to get.

Cooley said the Cuban revolt is not likely to affect Cuba's position as a supplier to the U.S. market because "Castro realizes sugar is the most important item in the Cuban economy."

Banks Bat .900; All But 4 Show Deposit Gains

All but four of Dade County's 31 banks reported increased growth during 1958.

The county's newest bank, two-year-old Dade National, led the pack with a growth in deposits of 136.2 per cent.

Second fastest growing was Metropolitan Bank, which passed four others to become the county's 12th largest. It's deposits rose 62.1 per cent.

Only four banks reported declines in both deposits and resources.

They were South Dade Farmers Bank of Homestead, down 25.4 per cent in deposits, 23.6 per cent in resources; Pan American Bank, down 13.7 and 13.1 per cent; Curtiss National of Miami Springs, down 5.8 and 1.8 per cent, and North Shore of Miami Beach, down 5 and 3.2 per cent.

Coral Gables National reported a fractional decline in deposits but a gain in resources.

Others among the top 10 in deposit growth were Miami National up 51.3 per cent; City National of Coral Gables, 41.9 per cent; Peoples of North Miami Beach, 34.3 per cent; Bank of Dade County, 26.1 per cent; Boulevard National, 21.7 per cent; Merchants of Miami, 20.5 per cent; Bank of South Miami, 16.5 per cent, and Industrial National, 14.9 per cent.

First National Bank of Miami by far the largest in Dade County, passed the 300-million-dollar mark in deposits for a gain of 10.4 per cent.

U.S. May Use Atom To Free Oil Reserve

DALLAS — (DJ) — Uncle Sam is willing to try out an underground atomic explosion in an oil well if the nation's petroleum industry will foot some of the costs.

This is the first time the government has formally offered to sanction atomic explosions for strictly non-military purposes.

R. M. Gooding of the Bureau of Mines said the government hopes to pulverize oil-bearing shale with an atomic blast and then free the oil from the shale by man made controlled fires underground.

He said the initial experimental explosion is expected to produce 15,000 barrels of oil and 10 million cubic feet of gas at the outset.

A site has tentatively been selected in the Piceance Creek Basin in northwest Colorado.

The experiment would cost 1.2 million dollars plus the cost of the atomic device, Gooding said.

'Get Rich Quick' Schemes

Big Bull Market Attracts Con Men

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Heightened interest in the stock market has attracted a fringe element of confidence men who cater to the public's get-rich-quick fancies, Congress was told Wednesday.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, in its report for the 1958 fiscal year which ended June 30, said the big bull market has saddled it with "enforcement problems of the first magnitude."

Con men were said to be preying on "uninformed investors . . . often willing to purchase unknown and speculative securities which are represented as offering unusual opportunities for gain."

The SEC observed that "somewhat paradoxically, declines in the prices of seasoned securities may increase the public appetite for such speculative offerings."

It said a substantial number of recent mergers, acquisitions and expansion programs "appear to be designed largely to reap profits for promoters and speculators at the expense of the public."

As the tempo of market activity has increased, the commission said, it has "noted a growing number of instances of unusual and unexplained market activities in particular securities, suggesting possible market manipulations." It said it expects to devote more of its enforcement effort to this area in the future.

The commission said that as opportunities for illicit profits have multiplied, "the number, resources and ingenuity of violators seeking to capitalize upon these opportunities have likewise multiplied."

F-R Board Pinched Own Credit Line

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Federal Reserve Board reported that it fell victim to its own easy credit policy last year.

It said that the sharp drop in interest rates it engineered in the first half of the year to stimulate spending by business and consumers, plus higher operating costs, reduced 1958 earnings of the 12 Federal Reserve banks to 604 million dollars.

This total represented a drop of 27 million dollars from 1957.

The bank's income is derived from holdings of U. S. government securities and from loans to commercial banks which belong to the Federal Reserve System.

4 Truck Drivers Indicted In Bunnell Labor Slaying

No Action Taken in 2nd Killing

BUNNELL —(UPI)— Four truck drivers were charged Wednesday with second degree murder in the Dec. 5 slaying of Union Organizer George K. Jones. The shooting was an outgrowth of a dispute between the Teamsters Union and a trucking concern.

Charged in the shooting in which another man also was killed were Sidney McCraney, 31, Jack Johnson, 33, and Robert Drake, 28, all of Bunnell; and Alexander Faircloth Jr., 24, of Ormond Beach.

Faircloth and Drake were wounded in the shooting and McCraney and Johnson were arrested and held on open charges soon after the incident at Jones' trailer home at the Bunnell Airport.

The indictments, a result of a grand jury investigation completed Dec. 29, were returned to Circuit Judge George W. Jackson of St. Augustine.

However, the case was still a mystery since no details of the jury's findings were released to reporters. And since no one was charged in the fatal shooting of Howard Glisson, 27-year-old Bunnell truck driver, the theory was that the 31-year-old Jones may have shot him during the hassle.

State Attorney W. W. Judge, who conducted the grand jury probe which took testimony of nine persons, declined to say on what grounds the indictments were made.

The entire case has been surrounded by a cloud of mystery because no official statement was ever released. It is expected to remain a mystery until a trial which is expected to be set at a Jan. 14 arraignment.

It was reported by an investigator that the shooting stemmed from a labor dispute between the Teamsters Union and Tropical Transport Co.

Union truck drivers set up pickets in front of the trucking company's offices at Lehigh Portland Cement Co. property Nov. 17. But the differences were settled Dec. 19 when the company agreed to recognize Teamsters Local 512 of Jacksonville as bargaining agent.

Hearing On Porky Postponed

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — A habeas corpus hearing to determine if Donald (Porky) Baines, nightspot owner, and Guido Di Bona were illegally held in jail was again postponed Wednesday.

Circuit Judge Lamar Warren asked Wallace Allbritton, assistant county solicitor, and Ray Sandstrom, defense attorney, to present legal arguments today.

Baines and Di Bona are charged with receiving stolen property. Di Bona is also charged with breaking and entering.

Sandstorm claims the defendants were not taken before a magistrate for a preliminary hearing.

Allbritton said they were arrested Friday night, and were held to appear before a magistrate Monday morning. No judges were available over the weekend, he said.

"The crux of the matter is whether the weekend delay was unreasonable," he added.

Sandstrom argued that a magistrate's convenience should not interfere with the rights of a defendant.

Judge Warren asked Allbriton how the state could hold prisoners without filing formal charges.

"It appears that the statute on preliminary hearings is not being observed," he said later. "It is a question of arranging a hearing schedule."

Hallandale OKs Fair

HALLANDALE—The Chamber of Commerce will stage an Industrial and Agricultural Fair, Feb. 23-28 as a replacement for the Horse Show Fair held during Derby Week.

It will be set up across U. S. 1 from Gulfstream Race Track.

City commissioners Tuesday night approved the project and decided to charge the chamber $1,000 as a special license fee.

Chamber officers were questioned closely on whether the city had enough vegetables to warrant a fair. They assured commissioners the fair had been well-planned and said they hoped to make it an annual event.

Batista Pays $160 Per Day To Guard His Daytona Home

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

DAYTONA BEACH — Even a dog couldn't get into Fulgencio Batista's home to play with the ousted Cuban dictator's children.

Heavily armed city policemen block every entrance to Batista's sumptuous pink stucco estate on the Halifax River.

"Nobody gets in here unless the people inside want to see him," a guard told me politely.

Gen. Batista, 129 N. Halifax Ave., is listed in the Daytona Beach phone book, so I called to ask about the general and to request entrance.

"I'm sorry, sir, we aren't allowed to say anything," said an unidentified voice at the other end of the line.

Batista is in the Dominican Republic—and nobody seems to know when he'll come here. But two of his children are here, and so are 17 members of his household staff, including his personal secretary, Mrs. Carmen Garmero.

Mrs. Garmero let three persons in Tuesday, a telephone repair man, Daytona Beach Police Chief Oscar Folsom, and Ben Brass, Batista's Daytona Beach attorney, the man who arranged for the guard.

Each was escorted in and out by a uniformed off-duty Daytona Beach policeman, who carried a carbine, or a riot gun, plus a service revolver.

Delivery trucks were allowed to enter the locked gates, but the drivers were shooed away before servants unloaded the trucks. A cab driver was told to sit firmly in his cab when he came to pick up a maid.

The only information about the inmates of the house came from Brass.

Frank Brass
. . . attorney of Batista

"There are 19 persons in there," he said. "The children are General Batista's son, Fulgencio Jr. . . . he's about eight . . . and a 17-month old daughter . . . I don't know her name."

Neither of the children got outdoors Tuesday.

Only one staff member, a maid, took the air. She didn't respond to a "good morning" or a Spanish "Buenas Dias."

Brass said the Daytona Beach refugees came here via New Orleans Saturday.

Asked whether Batista himself is planning to come here, Brass and Chief Folsom said they had "no information."

Brass said he requested the guards because, "Latin-Americans are excitable people."

The eight men on guard duty are paid $2.50 an hour each, Chief Folsom said. The city of Daytona Beach bills Batista and then pays the men.

Each works an eight-hour trick. This means the guards cost the ex-Cuban president $160 per day. Folsom said the payment was being handled through city channels only to assure compensation insurance coverage for the men while on guard.

Folsom has gone all out with precautions. At least two guards constantly watch all the estate entrances, including the Halifax River dock. At night floodlights illuminate the grounds.

Batista's American hideaway is an enormous Spanish style structure which he bought from R. E. Olds, the automobile tycoon. It's in a once fashionable section of Daytona Beach and includes a boathouse, boat docks, swimming pool and impeccably trimmed grounds.

Next door is another mansion, which Batista presented the city in 1946 as a Cuban museum. It's still a museum and the Cuban flag flies at its door, but the place was closed Tuesday.

Police had to shoo away several carloads of Cubans when the museum opened in 1946, but the guards at the Batista home have reported no incidents.

Closest thing to an incident they've seen came Monday night, when a local teenage boy brandished an air rifle at the guards.

"That was a damn fool thing to do," said Patrolmen Ed Biondi and Tom Grasso, Tuesday's guards.

Graham Arrested At Akron

AKRON, Ohio —(AP)— Jonathan J. Graham Jr., 30, of Akron, wanted on bad check charges in Miami, surrendered to police here Wednesday.

He was traced by Dade County authorities through his publicized complaints about the treatment he received in a Cuban jail.

Graham appeared at police headquarters accompanied by Attorney Jerry Potts shortly after police received a telegram from Chief Deputy Constable Ernest Sistruck of Miami, requesting that Graham be held on the check charges.

Graham denied the charges and said he had asked Potts and an attorney in Miami to try to determine "what they are all about." He was released on bond.

He complained to newsmen that he and two other Americans were held for months in jail at Havana by supporters of fallen Dictator Fulgencio Batista, without being informed of charges against them. He said they were beaten by prison guards and that they received no help from the U. S. Embassy in Havana.

The embassy said Graham was held on a swindling charge.

Graham said he was thrown in jail last May while in Havana on a business trip for a wholesale chemical firm at Hollywood.

He arrived here Sunday after escaping during rioting in the Cuban capital on New Year's Day.

Graham's Story Hit As Untrue

HAVANA—(AP)—A Hollywood, Fla., fruit dealer, one of six Americans freed from Havana's prison by the revolution, said he and fellow Americans got the best of everything while in the Cuban jail.

"There was a lot of brutal treatment of Cuban prisoners but authorities wanted no trouble with the U.S." said Guido de Phillips.

De Phillips was commenting on stories from Akron, quoting Jonathan Graham about the hard life suffered in jail by himself, Dean Gleaves of Portland, Ore., and Edward Keehn of Pontiac, Mich. Graham said the three men were beaten and tortured and that the U.S. Embassy refused to help them.

De Phillips said Graham was in jail awaiting trial on charges of passing bad checks, and Gleaves and Keehn were awaiting trial on charges of assaulting and robbing the manager of the American Club here.

De Phillips said he was sentenced to three years for not paying for fruit he shipped from the Isle of Pines to the U.S.

"The man I shipped to failed to pay me so I couldn't pay for it," he said.

He added he remained here after being freed by the revolutionists "because I have done nothing wrong and already have appealed my conviction."

Hotel, Cafe Total Gains Last Year

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— Construction of sleeping and eating facilities for tourists continued unabated through 1958, the State Hotel and Restaurant Commission reported.

In fact, it said, new establishments opened up last year at a slightly higher rate than in previous years.

On Jan. 1 there were 40,005 hotels, motels, apartments and rooming houses in operation, an increase of 1,419 during the year.

Ten new hotels opened during the year. New apartment establishments totaled 1,425, new motels 372 and rooming houses dropped 388.

Chamber Gets Proposal for Record Budget

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

WEST HOLLYWOOD — The Chamber of Commerce Wednesday took under study a proposed $15,990 budget for 1959, an increase of nearly $6,000 over last year's expenses.

In other action, the board of directors appointed a bond sales committee to arrange financing for a permanent chamber building, and voted to oppose a county judge's recommendation to consolidate sale of motorists' licenses in one state agency.

The chamber tabled any decision on a set policy for special fund drives, on a business booster program, or on a chamber property committee appointments.

The three-year-old chamber operated on $7,500 in 1958 and had an income of $11,000.

Jim MaGee, budget chairman, said this year's higher budget is based on anticipated additional revenue from 150 new members plus increased sale of automobile tags and operating licenses.

Last year the chamber realized $2,154.11 on license sales.

Noting the income from licenses, the board directed Regis Reasbeck, president, to write County Judge Boyd Anderson, protesting a state county judges'' move to take sales out of the hands of private agencies.

In another issue, Reasbeck suggested the chamber foot the bills for an advertising promotion plan for West Hollywood businesses.

"We've been here three years but we've done little to boost private businesses," he said.

However Henry Perry said chamber member firms are listed alphabetically in a brochure. Action was deferred.

The chamber decided against allowing firms to pay annual dues in two payments.

On the new building, Don Holmes was named to plan a bond sale to finance costs.

The chamber has an option to buy two lots off Hollywood Blvd. Purchase price of the land is not included in the new budget.

Gets $155 Near Bank

Fleet-Footed Thief Traced to Tavern

Sheriff's deputies Wednesday were tracking a fleet-footed thief who left a shoe store manager holding an empty money bag in front of citizens bank at WEST HOLLYWOOD.

AROUND BROWARD

Officers said the robber, clad in a sporty black sweater, fled on foot after holding up Peter Kappesser, manager of Goody Shoe Store, of $155 in cash Tuesday night.

Kappesser told investigators he had started to deposit the days receipts when a "good-looking young man" stepped in front of him.

Kappesser said he handed over the money when he saw the gunman's pistol.

Sheriff's deputies said a man fitting the thief's description was reported seen early Wednesday morning in a West Hollywood bar.

The FORT LAUDERDALE Planning and Zoning Board will recommend to the City Commission that property to the east and south of Broward General Hospital and the hospital land be reclassified from R-1 to R-4, which will permit construction of clinics and large apartment houses. However, the board refused the request of Raymond Shock to rezone property he owns on SE 16th St., north of the hospital.

The Daniel Rehabilitation Institute reported Wednesday that it lost $28.30 on a charity ball designed to raise money for the organization. However, Earle H. Daniel, president, and James F. Minnett, director and attorney, said "donations and program advertising money" would boost the ball out of the red and into a profit.

Receipts Up

Postal receipts at HOLLYWOOD post office were $93,747 higher last year than in 1957, Postmaster Charles W. Ten Eick said.

The total for 1958 was $711,805, as compared to $618,057 in 1957.

Another duplex-converted-to-triplex was discovered in the beach area of POMPANO BEACH Monday by Howard Lane, chief building inspector. The zoning violation was the first since 11 similar ones were discovered in another part of town in late November.

Those 11 cases are still pending. The individuals involved have a public hearing slated for Jan. 13 before the City Commission on a request for rezoning to legalize their violations.

Bandits Get $15 At Liquor Store

HALLANDALE — Two armed Negro bandits held up Tom's Liquor Store, 417 N. Dixie Hwy., at 6 p.m. Tuesday and escaped with $15 cash, police said.

They had not been caught at 10 p.m.

Al Milleisen, 52, said the men entered the store and told him to lie down on the floor. He was alone. They helped themselves to the cash register contents and fled.

Display 'New Glory' Only After July 4

By HENRY KINNEY
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — New 49-star American flags probably will be available here by Feb. 1, but anyone who flies one before the Fourth of July will be officially out of step.

It's "not advisable" to use the flag with the Alaska star until it formally replaces the present banner July 4, according to Lew Duncan, the Fort Lauderdale flag dealer who supplies the flags which decorate local streets on holidays. "The present flag is still official," he said.

He hopes 1,000 local business places will be ready to display the new one on the date set by President Eisenhower for the changeover.

Duncan pointed out that Macy's, the New York department store, intended to put up a huge new flag immediately, but was told from Washington not to do so.

Meantime, it's a good time to buy a 48-star flag.

"I've got about 500 I'll be selling at a discount for use between now and the Fourth of July," Duncan added. "Some of them are nearly new.

"They'll be collectors' items—some day," he added, hopefully.

U.S. Recognizes Castro; 15 Batista Men Executed

By Herald Wire Services

HAVANA, Cuba — The United States formally recognized the revolutionary government of Cuba Wednesday as the regime of Fidel Castro announced the execution of 15 officers of the forces of former dictator Fulgencio Batista.

The American action, announced in a note delivered to the new Cuban foreign minister, Robert Daniel Agramonte, by Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith, was followed almost immediately by similar action by the British government.

The move came six days after Batista fled Cuba, admitting defeat at the hands of the rebels.

The note said:

"I have been instructed by my government to inform your excellency, that, having noted with satisfaction the assurances given by the new government of Cuba of its intention to comply with the international obligation and agreements of Cuba, the government of the U.S. is pleased to recognize the government under the presidency of Manuel Urrutia Lleo, as the provisional government of the Republic of Cuba."

The executions signaled the start of widespread trials by revolutionary courts of Cubans accused of crimes against the state.

Authorities said 10 officers, including Col. Arcadio Casillas Lumpuy, were executed in Santiago, capital of Oriente province and hometown of Castro.

Lumpuy was Batista's chief of operations in Oriente, where between 200 and 300 presoners were reported awaiting trial.

Five military men were executed in Santa Clara, capital of central Las Villas Province. Among those reported sentenced to death there was Lt. Col. Cornelio Rojas, a police inspector. He was accused of torturing prisoners.

Havana Police Chief Aldo Vera said 800 prisoners are being held in the capital on political charges. He declared each case is under investigation and the innocent will be released.

Camilio Cienfugos, commander of Havana Province, said plans were under way for a drastic reorganization of the country's armed forces, under the supervision of the revolutionaries. He added that regular army men innocent of misdeeds will be permitted to take part in the reorganization.

There were these additional developments as Havana awaited impatiently for the expected arrival of Castro today;

Luis Bush, minister of the presidency, said Cuba will demand the extradition of former Sen. Rolando Masferrer on charges he fled by yacht to Key West, Fla., with 17 million dollars belonging to the Cuban people.

The presidency said Masferrer had his own private army for protection and for rooting out suspected rebel sympathizers. He is a close friend of Batista and owner of the newspaper El Tiempo. The paper was sacked by rebel sympathizers after Batista fled. Bush said instructions already had been given to press the U. S. for Masferrer's immediate extradition.

Bush also announced creation of two new ministries — social assistance and economy. The names of the men to head the ministries were not announced.

Castro's 26th of July Movement spurred the hunt for informers, grafters and others who lined their pockets under Batista by announcing formation of a "department of purification."

"Chivato," meaning rascal, is applied to informers for Batista's police and is the dirtiest word in Havana today.

New Regime Takes Dim View of Prio

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Former Cuban President Carlos Prio Socarras, who claims he spent his entire fortune buying arms for the revolution, may wind up out in the cold in his country's new government.

"I spent everything I had," Prio said Wednesday in an interview at his huge country home, La Chata, a few miles from Havana.

He and his family returned here from their long exile in Miami.

"All that I have left is the property that I own here," said Cuba's last constitutional president who was ousted by Fulgencio Batista. "But I am not asking for anything."

PRIO

Even if he does ask for something, indications are that he won't get it from the government being formed by Provisional President Manuel Urrutia, whom Rebel Leader Fidel Castro picked to take over from Batista.

Observers here don't believe that Prio will ever regain his former political strength because he has very little popular support.

Some give him no credit for aiding the rebel movement and even accuse Prio of having stolen the money he had when he was president. Prio was ousted by Batista in 1952.

Prio did not make any estimate of just how many millions he spent while in exile in Miami buying arms and ammunition to ship to the rebels. He would only say he spent "everything."

There were close to a hundred automobiles at La Chata Wednesday, and hundreds of young men milling around who fought in the interior for Prio's revolutionary organization, Autentica.

Nearly every man was heavily armed and a few appeared to have just atarted growing beards — the symbol of sacrifice.

Without any political power, a big question is how Prio will go about rewarding them.

In Havana proper, meanwhile, citizens are preparing the biggest celebration yet for the arrival of Castro and the core of his rebel army.

Havana has more than returned to normal. Things are much better than normal.

Bakers, shoeshine boys, taxis and tourist traps — except for the gambling casinos which Urrutia has vowed to keep closed—are all back in business.

Baseball is back, and sports news is again getting newspaper space, along with weddings and funerals.

For a city that feared it was in for a blood bath this time last week, the adjustment to the switch in governments is amazing. Habaneros still can't quite believe that the tourists may start flocking back at any time.

Boone Does Some Explaining About Beer Drinking, Stealing

NEW YORK—(AP)—Singer Pat Boone, idolized as a clean-living, non-drinking antidote to juvenile delinquency, is having to do some explaining about his "past."

In an interview Wednesday with The New York Post, Boone discussed the weaknesses he discloses in his new book, "Twixt Twelve and Twenty." These weaknesses included shoplifting and beer-drinking.

Pat explained:

"I was about 16 when four or five of us guys did our shoplifting. Each of us took a downtown store in Nashville at Christmas time. We did it for excitement, but we did it.

"We took little items. Cigaret lighters, socks, pants, shirts, sweaters, things like that. Our folks could have afforded to pay for them."

Later, Boone continued, he became remorseful, and confessed his deeds to his high high school principal.

"I . . . told him I wanted to return the goods I'd stolen, or pay for it. He helped me. By this time I'd sung quite a lot around town, and this would have been quite a story if it had come out but it never did.

"Again with the guys, we got to drinking beer like a lot of teen-agers. None of us liked it—I smoked a lot, too, and I don't now."

Nor, he added, does he any longer take beer or other alcoholic beverages.

Pat's New Book Starts Sunday

Pat Boone got his last spanking at the age of 17.

His mother gave it to him good over the edge of the bathtub because he'd been fighting with his brother Nick.

It's an amusing and revealing incident revealed by Pat in his book "Twixt Twelve and Twenty."

Mikoyan Hooted in Cleveland

By Herald Wire Services

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan, pretending to ignore a rock-throwing incident and intensive anti-Soviet demonstrations, advocated a co-existence in "peace and friendship" on his one-day visit here Wednesday.

The Soviet's No. 2 man and seven other Russians, including Russian Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov, arrived at Hopkins airport and were greeted by Financier Cyrus Eaton, who was host to the Russian official during his brief stay.

At the airport, Mikoyan, referring to Eaton's recent visit to Russia, stated: "Your trip was a private one but your statements after the visit bore testimony to the fact that people living under different systems can still get along together.

"You want peace and friendship and so do we. Let us each retain our views on capitalism and socialism, but let us be friends in peace."

He told a group of leading Ohio businessmen that Soviet scientists have so far failed to create shelters good against H-bombs. Soviet scientists are working to create shelters which can provide protection against thermonuclear explosions, he said that "when one has knowledge of what the

Spring Is In the Air --For Fair

Miami's spring-like weather isn't expected to change in the foreseeable future, and the rest of Florida will keep warming up, too, after its brief but severe cold snap.

"There's not much prospect of any major change," Miami Weather Bureau Forecaster William McGehee said Wednesday. "The weather will be good here and the rest of the state should keep on warming up."

Miami temperatures hit the mid-70s Wednesday and are expected to go a few degrees higher Thursday. The low Thursday morning should range from 65 to 70, McGehee said.

In Central and North Florida, coldest temperatures Wednesday morning were in the high 30s, and the mercury rose during the day to the mid-60s. Sunny skies are expected to continue over the whole state at least for another day or two.

Filibuster Control Battle Erupts As Congress Opens

Stage Set For Bitter Civil Fight

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The new 86th Congress, biggest in U.S. history, opened Wednesday with fireworks popping over Senate filibusters and with new Republican leaders taking party command in both houses.

The heavily - Democratic House and Senate convened at noon for a session that must try to reconcile President Eisenhower's economy budget with Russia's space challenge. Democratic leaders promised "responsible service" and "sympathetic" consideration of the President's proposals.

The session was only minutes old when the Senate erupted in a row over attempts by liberal members to make it easier to curb anti-civil rights filibusters. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas finally forced postponement of a first-round showdown until today.

Johnson acted after Vice President Richard M. Nixon, presiding over the chamber, held for the second time in two years that the Senate can adopt new rules at the outset of a new Congress, including a crackdown on filibusters.

This was the opinion the liberal anti-filibuster senators wanted to hear and it laid the groundwork for a rousing North-South fight when the Senate meets today at 10 a.m. —two hours early. Johnson accused Nixon of issuing parliamentary opinions rather "freely" on opening day.

A House controversy, with civil rights overtones, was settled when Rep. Dale Alford, the Little Rock, Ark., segregationist, was allowed to take his seat by an overwhelming vote. A House elections subcommittee had recommended that Alford be barred pending an investigation of his write-in victory over Rep. Brooks Hays (D., Ark.).

Opening day saw more than 2,000 bills introduced in the House — including two big spending measures which Eisenhower vetoed last year for economy reasons.

One would launch a 275 million dollar program of federal aid for economically-depressed areas. The other would provide federal grants of 100 million dollars a year for five years to help communities build airports. Democrats labeled them "must" legislation.

Former President Truman and a host of luminaries were on hand to see the opening of the most overwhelmingly Democratic Congress since New Deal days. The Senate lineup is 64 Democrats and 34 Republicans. In the House, it is 283 Democrats and 153 Republicans.

The Congress, with which Eisenhower must deal during his last two years in the White House, also is the largest in history due to the addition of two senators and a House member from the new state of Alaska.

The Democrats unanimously returned Sen. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn to power. House Democrats also renamed Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts as their party's floor leader.

Johnson and Rayburn promptly urged their Democratic colleagues to live up to the responsibilities entrusted to them by the sweeping Democratic victories in the November congressional elections.

Reporter's Coin Flip Picked 'Senior' Alaska Senator

. . . E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, right, won over Ernest Gruening

'Luck of Draw' Gives Alaska Two 'Short Term' Senators

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The luck of the draw gave Alaska two short-term senators Wednesday.

Sen. Ernest Gruening will represent the 49th state for four years and Sen. E. L. (Bob) Bartlett will serve a two-year term.

Both new Democratic senators missed a chance to win a full six-year term as they performed a ceremony last held when Arizona and New Mexico sent their first senators to Washington 47 years ago.

Gruening, 71-year-old former territorial governor, drew one of three slips of paper from a small box to determine his term.

It made him a four-year senator. Then Bartlett, Alaska's 54-year-old former delegate to Congress, drew a two-year slip. The six-year slip remained unchosen.

The draw was necessary to give Gruening and Bartlett terms of differing length.

The Constitution requires the Senate membership to be divided into three classes, with about one-third of the senators standing for re-election every two years.

As a result of Wednesday's drawing, Alaskans will vote for senators again in 1960 and 1962. The senators elected then will have full six-year terms.

On Tuesday, Gruening and Bartlett flipped a coin to decide who would rank as Alaska's senior senator. Bartlett won the flip, so Gruening had first choice in the draw Wednesday.

Martin One of Boys Again; Uses Employes' Entrance

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Joe Martin turned in his Cadillac for a taxicab Wednesday and came to work through the employes' entrance.

He was no longer the leader of House Republicans, using the boss' door. He was just one of the crowd.

The 74-year-old bachelor from North Attleboro, Mass., stands as a living monument to the caprices and cruelties of big time politics.

Almost 20 years ago to the day, Martin's colleagues elevated him to the highest post within their power — the GOP leadership of the House. They made him speaker during the four years they were in control.

Tuesday the roof fell in.

Unceremoniously, unmercifully and unexpectedly, Martin was toppled from his throne by a vote of 74-70 at a party caucus. In his place was installed Charles A. Helleck of Indiana, who had risen to a position of power in the House with the early assistance of Martin.

How does it feel to be fired, right out of a clear sky, after 20 years as boss?

"It's not too bad, now that it's over," Martin said. "I didn't like it. I didn't expect it. I thought I had the votes. I was a little stunned at first, but now I don't feel so bad about it. In fact, you might say I feel good. In a way I'm sort of glad, now that it's over.

"It's a relief not to have the responsibilities."

Rail Car Ferry to Cuba Resumed

WEST PALM BEACH — Railroad car ferry service between here and Havana has been resumed, officials of the West India Fruit and Steamship Co. said Wednesday.

Operation between West Palm Beach and the Cuban capital was suspended during the overthrow of the Batista government by Fidel Castro's rebels.

The line at the time had two car ferries at Havana waiting to be loaded. The worker strike and lack of government clearance kept these there.

A. H. Grigsby, assistant to the president of the car ferry company, said Wednesday one or two ships a day are now leaving Palm Beach and the same number from Havana.

He added passenger and auto service between Key West and Cuba would be resumed Friday.

"We had no trouble," Grigsby said. "We received the utmost cooperation."

Rocket Orbits Around Sun, Russians Say

LONDON —(AP)— The Soviet space rocket went into orbit around the sun Wednesday and became the first artificial planet of the solar system, Moscow radio said.

The broadcast said the rocket has covered a distance of 14,500,000 kilometers (9,062,500 miles) since it was launched from a base in the Soviet Union Friday.

All radio contact with the rocket has been lost since Monday. The Soviet Union has given no indication of how it could tell when the rocket would go into orbit around the sun.

Its curving path through space as it veers into orbit around the sun leaves it one million kilometers (625,000 miles) from the earth, the broadcast said.

Quoting the science correspondent of the Tass News Agency, Moscow said this figure "will increase at a terrific pace since the earth and the artificial planet are diverging in the cosmos."

The Tass science correspondent insisted the Russians had no intention of hitting the moon with their space rocket.

It missed the moon by about 5,000 miles and headed on through space.

The initial Soviet announcement said the rocket was headed toward the moon. The aim of putting it into orbit around the sun was not mentioned then.

Conservatives Keep Control

Dirksen Is GOP Senate Leader

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Conservative Republicans won their fight to keep Senate party control Wednesday by electing Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois as GOP leader over liberal Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky. The vote was 20-14.

The Republicans also elected Liberal Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California as whip, or assistant GOP leader, by the same vote. This was considered a concession to the liberal group which sought to overthrow conservative control.

Kuchel won out over Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, a last minute candidate nominated by Dirksen forces, in a two-hour organizational meeting of Senate Republicans.

Kuchel said the GOP senators achieved "results that we believe will help us unite and fashion political principles on the basis of what we believe best for the American people."

Shortly after the vote was announced, President Eisenhower sent congratulations to both Dirksen and Kuchel.

Cooper said he accepted the President's statement that "he was not involved in our situation. I know also that the vice president kept a position which was correct and proper."

"I fully and wholeheartedly concur," Dirksen said.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts had charged that White House aides intervened in the vote Tuesday in which Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana unseated him as House GOP floor leader.

The GOP senators reelected Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Masschusetts as chairman of the Republican Conference, made up of all Senate Republicans, and Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota was reelected secretary. Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire was reelected chairman of the Republican Policy Committee.

CHICAGO — (UPI) — The naturalization papers of Paul (The Waiter) Ricca, one-time kingpin in the Al Capone gang, Wednesday were ordered turned over to the attorney general in a new move to deport the mob veteran to his native Italy.

At the request of the government, Federal Judge Walter La Buy ordered Ricca's certificate of naturalization turned over to U.S. District Attorney Robert Tieken for transfer to Washington.

Ricca appeared Tuesday before Otto A. Eck, special inquiry officer of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, but was a reluctant witness when the government tried to get him to admit he obtained his citizenship fraudulently.

Pilots Unit Rejects Meany Bid

WASHINGTON — (AP) — American Airlines said Wednesday the head of the Pilots Union had turned down a proposal that AFL-CIO President George Meany arbitrate a strike that has grounded its planes since Dec. 20.

C. R. Smith, president of American, said he made the recommendation Saturday but was rebuffed by Clarence Sayen, president of the striking Air Line Pilots Association.

American disclosed the arbitration proposal in a statement after federal mediators reported both sides were close to agreement in efforts to end the 19-day-old pilots' strike.

Smith said he had suggested that Meany's decisions be binding on the company and the pilots.

Sayen, he continued, termed the proposal impractical "and has consistently neglected to discuss it since that time."

Under the proposal the pilots would return to work while Meany considered the wage-hour issues.

Red Chinese Guns Angry

TAIPEI, Formosa — (UPI) — Chinese Communist guns fired 32,919 rounds Wednesday in the biggest bombardment of the offshore Quemoy islands in two months, the Nationalist defense ministry announced.

There was no immediate report on casualties.

The Chinese Reds indicated that the shelling was a punitive measure against the Nationalist garrison rather than a reopening of full-scale hostilities in the Formosa Strait.

Propaganda loudspeakers on the Red-held Chinese mainland warned Tuesday that the garrison would be "punished" for bombarding what the Reds said were civilian areas of the mainland Saturday. The Reds claimed 23 children and 25 adults were killed by Nationalist shells.

8 Junior Colleges In Florida Sought

TAMPA — (AP) — The state advisory council on education Wednesday voted to ask the Legislature to establish eight new community junior colleges in east and southeast Florida in the next biennium.

The council will ask legislators to appropriate $12,439,010 for establishing the colleges and for capital outlay for existing junior colleges.

The recommendation calls for both white and Negro schools to be constructed in Dade, Broward and Brevard counties and in an area consisting of St. Lucie, Martin, Indian River and Okeechobee counties.

The 1957 Legislature approved a community junior college budget of $8,135,499, of which $4,880,409 was appropriated.

The remaining $3,255,090 already approved forms one section of the advisory council's budget recommendation. Current capital outlay needs total $5,455,920. Building costs for the four proposed white and four Negro colleges total $3,728,000.

Dr. James Wattenbarger of the state department of education told the council that present estimates indicate there will be 160,000 pupils eligible for college in Florida in 1970.

The council, headed by Allen Glazier of St. Petersburg, recommended these capital outlay budgets for existing junior colleges:

Bay County: Gulf Coast $332,554; Rosenwald (Negro) $93,646.

Escambia: Pensacola $714,141; Washington (Negro) $144,300.

Jackson: Chipola $110,820; Negro institution $97,680.

Madison: North Florida $417,340; Negro institution $87,879.

Manatee: Manatee $1,343,728; Negro institution $68,265.

Marion: Central Florida $663,840; Howard (Negro) $286,560.

Palm Beach: Palm Beach $689,833; Roosevelt (Negro) $113,100.

Pinellas: St. Petersburg $1,165,500; Gibbs (Negro) $472,530.

Putnam: St. Johns River $520,740; Negro institution $109,596.

Volusia: Daytona Beach $1,035,478; Volusia County (Negro) $240,480.

Capital outlay expenditures anticipated at the new junior colleges include: Brevard County: $483,000; Broward County: $1,005,000; St. Lucie County: $261,000; Dade County: $1,899,000.

Mikoyan spoke of the futility of the building of shelters against such weapons in order to make a plea for friendship and peace between the Soviet Union and the U.S.

All was not peaceful and friendly, however, during protest demonstrations staged by victims of Soviet terror, mostly Hungarian groups.

As Mikoyan and his party emerged from Eaton's Greenbrier suite in the Terminal Tower to attend a luncheon with business and industrial leaders at the Union Club, a 19-year-old fugitive from Russian oppression threw a rock at the deputy premier.

The woman, Mrs. Emma Halhai, missed, but was taken into custody and charged with disorderly conduct by police, who had difficulty restraining several hundred demonstrators who jeered and shouted at the visiting official and Eaton.

Earlier, police asked a Hungarian refugee to leave the airport when they found a spoiled egg in his possession.

Dad and 5 Die in Fire

BRANDON, Minn. —(AP)— A father and his five children died Wednesday in a fire that swept their two-story home here.

Mark Kelly got out of the house after the fire began, but lost his life when he went back in and sought to rescue his children.

Dead were Kelly, about 38, three sons, Jim, 16, Dennis, 12, Pat, 14; and two daughters, Mary Lee, 10, and Peggy, 3.

Mrs. Kelly fled the burning house with her husband and tried to go back in for the children, along with her husband. Neighbors restrained the mother from reentering the house.

The father's body was found at the foot of a stairs, where he apparently collapsed while trying to reach the baby.

National Summary

Widespread cloudiness accompanied the warming flow of rain or drizzle out of Texas into Tennessee and Kentucky while drizzle surrounded a disturabnce moving through the central plains toward the mid Mississippi Valley.

Spotty light snow was scattered over the Rockies from Colorado to Montana but the Pacific states held most of the wet weather in the west.

Moisture from the Gulf of Mexico spreading northeastward, will extend the rains from the lower Mississippi Valley to the Carolinas and Virginia. The precipitation may begin as a combination or variation of snow, sleet to rain from southern Iowa to the upper Ohio Valley and into the mid Atlantic states.

Snow will develop and spread from the Ohio Valley and the southern Great Lakes to the mountains of New York and as far south as the mountains of western Virginia.

Cooler air pressing eastward across the plains will give partly cloudy weather from Texas to the Dakotas with rain changing to snow in the lower Missouri Valley and snow across the Great Lakes.

The new Pacific storm sweeping down the coast is expected to give heavy rains with gale winds as it moves inland through central California with the precipitation as heavy snow in the mountains.

U.S. 2 Years Behind Reds, Says Missilemen

'In This Race You Try to Leapfrog'

By ROSE ALLEGATO
WPB Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — A rocket expert said here Wednesday night that it will be 1½ to two years before America can put a heavy payload satellite into the sun's orbit.

Krafft A. Ehricke, closely associated with the development of the still-orbiting Atlas missile, also said in an interview with The Herald that America lags behind the Russians in man orbital flight and thrust power.

Ehricke, once part of the original German V-2 rocket team, predicted Russia would put a man into orbit a year before America.

He also said it will take America two to three years to catch up with the Soviet in thrust power. "They have a bigger booster than we do," Ehricke said.

The missile expert was in West Palm Beach to install officers of the newly-organized Palm Beach Rocket Society.

"In this race," Ehricke said, "you try to leapfrog. At the moment we have to do the leapfrogging. Nothing says we have lost the race. We don't have to stay behind."

He called for a determined effort to catch up with the Russians, whose "dream" went into orbit around the sun this week.

"We have to stop playing around and work out a consistent program and spend money," the rocket and missile man said.

"We have enough ideas and as much, if not more, capabilities," Ehricke added. "We just have not been allowed to go ahead at the pace it takes to keep up with the Russians."

Ehricke, a consultant for the office of defense and assistant to the chief engineer of Convair astronautics, listed the next steps in space exploration as moon landings and interplanetary flights.

The next steps for America will follow two lines, he said. These are:

BIGGER space probes to explore the earth-moon space and inner solar system.

MAN orbital flight.

New officers of the rocket society are Henry J. Barten, president; Roy Hill, vice president; Stanley A. Mosier, secretary; and Wayne H. Patterson, treasurer. Directors are Charles T. Roelke, general manager of Pratt and Whitney; Albert R. Weldon and Donald D. Pascal. All are Pratt and Whitney people.

Gal Gymnasts Get Training in Ballet

By ROSE ALLEGATO
WPB Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — Budd Watson has a new weapon for the cold war — femininity.

Watson, national instructor for the Olympic women gymnasts, says, "Americans have been weak on all women gymnastics."

In the 1958 world championships in Moscow, American gals ranked in the low 60's, a cold war defeat very definitely.

The poor showing, Watson contends, is because "women are going too much for men's gymnastics. Woman gymnasts have to be feminine," he said.

Watson has found a way — ballet — to put femininity into gymnastics.

His gal gymnasts are on their toes. Literally.

"Ballet is what gives you form," Watson said. "It is the way you handle your body and breath."

U.S. teams, Watson said, have been lacking in ballet training.

"They can't compare with the Russians as regards form and ballet technique," he added.

But Watson is setting about to correct the U.S. failings.

He has a Moscow-trained ballet teacher, Grace Kaywell, teaching his gal gymnasts ballet.

Right now the team is training daily for the Pan American tryouts in West Palm Beach July 4. Six girls will be selected to compete with teams from other Pan American countries in Chicago in August.

Watson thinks he has a sure-fire winner — 14-year-old Gail Sontgerath, who has taken first place in every state and national event in the last two years in her age group.

She turns 15 in March, becoming eligible for the Olympics and the Pan American games.

"I believe she will be the first in the U.S. to give Russian and Japanese girls any competition at all," Watson said.

Watson is a seasoned circus and vaudeville trouper. In his younger stage days he handled the Marcellus Dancers and performed before Queen Elizabeth, then a princess, in 1934 at the Olympia in London. He was a trapezist and aerialist with Ringling Bros. for many years.

Chrysler Planning PB Plant?

WEST PALM BEACH — Recurring reports Chrysler Corp. plans to build a plant in Palm Beach County took on added emphasis Wednesday when it was reported the company has taken office space here.

The reports, which could not immediately be confirmed, indicated the company plans to open business offices in the Datura Bldg. possibly Monday.

Pratt & Whitney Co. maintained offices in the Datura Bldg. until its plant northwest of the city was completed.

There has never been any official confirmation from authoritative sources that Chrysler proposes to build near here, but the report has persisted for a year.

How Green Was Their Golf Course

LAKE WORTH — City Commissioners have an eye for color.

Commissioners voted to allow the equipment at the municipal golf course to be painted green "to blend with the landscape."

The Golf Commission made the request for the "less conspicuous" color instead of the "bright Omaha orange" of other city equipment.

The reason: so the golfer will keep his eye on the ball instead of the orange — color.

Golf commissioners said the bright orange is a distraction to players.

Drive Short Of Goal

$8,000 for TB Fund Sought

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The 1958 annual Christmas Seal sale fell over $8,000 short of its $50,000 goal at the end of the campaign, County Chairman Emmett S. Roberts said Wednesday.

He said the total collection for the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis and Health Association war against disease amounted to $41,303.

The chairman added, "It is not too late to help in the fight against TB in Palm Beach County, and it is hoped that late contributions will bring the amount somewhere near the $50,000 estimated as essential for the association's 1959 program.

Seven towns in the county, Riviera Beach, Lake Park, Jupiter, Lake Harbor, Lantana, Boca Raton and Byrant, exceeded their seal sale totals for the year and were commended by Roberts.

The amounts from the various towns: West Palm Beach $14,963; Palm Beach $6,845; Riviera Beach $1,997; Lake Worth $6,795; Lake Park $420; Delray Beach $4,293; Jupiter $587; Pahokee $399; Loxahatchee $43; Belle Glade $1,027; Bean City $6; Chosen $15; Greenacres City $21; Lake Harbor $41; South Bay $152; Canal Point $232; Pelican Lake $6; Lantana $927; Boynton Beach $1,193; Boca Raton $1,280; Bryant $33, and miscellaneous, $32.

Pahokee Woman Hurt in Crash

PAHOKEE — Word has been received this week that Mrs. Ronald Renouf of Pahokee was seriously injured in an automobile New Years Day accident in Mobile, Ala., as she and her husband were returning from a holiday trip to California, where they visited relatives.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Renouf were hospitalized at Providence Hospital in Mobile. Mrs. Renouf suffered a fracutred arm and possible internal injuries. Mr. Renouf escaped with minor injuries.

Hunters After Gator In Melbourne Swamp

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — A group of professional hunters, led by Conservation Agent L. A. Tindall, will begin searching today for several large alligators, believed to be living in a sprawling swamp adjoining a Melbourne residential district.

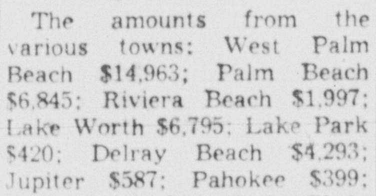
The hunt was planned after small children, living in Trade Winds sub-division, Wednesday brought home several baby gators they found while playing in the marshy area.

Parents called Tindall, who disposed of the small gators and checked the swamp for evidence of larger ones, which he said he found.

Tindall, who is out of the city today requested City Commissioner R. P. (Russ) Sullivan to warn Trade Winds residents to keep children away from the swamp until the alligators are tracked down.

"If the kids found baby gators there," Sullivan explained, "there are some mama gators, too. And just think what might have happened had mama been nearby when the children took the small ones."

Alligators have been a touchy subject here since 1957, when Alan Rice, 9, of Eau Gallie, was believed attacked and killed by a large gator.



The Rice boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Beatty, was reported missing in June, 1957. Two days later volunteer searchers found Alan's mangled body on the bank of Horse Shoe Creek, about 50 yards from his home.

Conservation agents hunted the reptile and finally captured an 11-foot bull. Parts of the boy's body were found in the alligator's stomach.

Aroused citizens called for eradication of the alligators in the area and started to do the job themselves, until stopped by conservation agents.

Ex-Court Clerk Tries Accounting

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — John B. Dunkle Wednesday completed his first full day as county Criminal Court clerk and J. Louie Carter, the man he ousted from office, went into the accounting business.

Carter, who is contesting the election of Dunkle which removed him from a political post he had held for 24 years, did not attend the induction of his victorious opponent Tuesday.

But 24 hours later he made paid announcements that he would assume the practice of accounting. Carter, while county criminal clerk, specialized in the raising of cattleya orchids.

More will be heard about the political contest — even though the switch in office has already been made.

Trial of Carter's suit against Dunkle on charges that the latter failed to report campaign expenses, is scheduled in Circuit Court Feb. 19 but may be postponed. The attorney general's office, a party to that suit, may be unable to send a representative on that date and may push the hearing back to March.

Lakefront Tract Sold For Boatel

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — An ultra-modern, apartment-boatel along the shores of Lake Worth was forecast Tuesday with the recording of a $170,000 land transaction in Circuit Court.

The tract was sold by Henry Moser, Inc., 188 Lake Dr., Palm Beach Shores, to Edna Duncan, Palm Beach Towers. Attorney William K. Chester handled the sale.

The land extends from Flagler Dr., to the lakefront and from 26th St. about 750 feet north. It adjoins Currie Park.

Chester said a six-story, modern apartment building was being planned. He said a marina facility would be included.

The site was not long ago the center of a heated discussion before the City Commission. At that time, Moser planned to build a motel, cocktail lounge and restaurant.

This was prevented by the Board after a group of residents strongly protested the proposed use.

Woman Sues TV Station

WEST PALM BEACH — A jill of all trades Wednesday Wednesday filed suit against WEAT-TV for $9,950 she claims she lost when the station broke her contract.

Linda Brent, who said she was released by the station Dec. 23, alleges she entered into an oral one year contract Nov. 12.

She said she was to serve as an advertising sales executive, mistress of ceremonies, disk jockey, announcer, narrator and feature performer, at a salary of $100 per week.

The station, she claims, also agreed to pay her 15 per cent of the net monies from ads she solicited and 10 per cent of the net on all ads used on shows assigned to her.

Sewer Bond Squabble

'Turn Off Water If They Boycott'

Herald Bureau

LAKE WORTH — A city official Wednesday suggested there was a quick remedy to any resident who "boycotted" payments on the proposed 2.5 million dollar sewage disposal system.

"We'll cut their water off," Commissioner James Stafford declared.

A group of residents threatened Tuesday they might refuse to pay.

Stafford said he didn't take the threat seriously. He added he felt it was just another outcry after the opponents of the program had been defeated.

The boycott was disclosed by Mrs. W. Harrison Taylor, who headed an organization which petitioned the City Commission to call a referendum on the bond issue which would finance the program.

Mrs. Taylor was also an objector at the validation proceedings on the bonds.

Circuit Judge Culver Smith validated the bonds last week.

The city will receive bids on the sewer construction Jan. 20 and will offer the bonds for sale Feb. 16.

Judge: Issue Liquor License

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — Circuit Judge James R. Knott Wednesday ordered this city to issue a retail liquor license to owners of the 2500 Club or show cause by Jan. 22 why it refuses to do so.

The order was in the form of an alternative writ of mandamus issued on petition of Paul W. and Elizabeth Ann Clark, for their place at 2500 N. Broadway.

Farm Prices Rally After Holidays

Herald Service

PAHOKEE — Farm prices in the Lake Okeechobee area are rallying some following the holidays, when prices usually slump a bit.

Some 180 car equivalents of fresh vegetables are going to market daily from this section. Pascal celery leads to volume with prices ranging from $1.25-$2.50 according to size on Monday.

Sweet corn volume has dropped because the winter volume is never as heavy as the fall and spring volumes. Prices are fair with U.S. fancy grades selling for $2.50 a crate Monday.

The cabbage volume is picking up some with 24 car equivalents daily going out. Prices ranged from $1.25-$1.50 a crate Monday.

Green bean volume has dropped to two or three cars daily. Prices have climbed with fancy grades bringing $3.10-$5 a crate this week.

Other vegetables being shipped are red, Savoy and Chinese cabbage; endive, escarole, parsley, green peppers and radishes.

The winter potato crop is going to market in 25 car equivalents daily this week. Fifty pound sacks are selling for $1.75.

'Send It Back to Treasury'

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writer

Cuban government officials say 17 million dollars which they claim was stolen from the national treasury by three Batista henchmen is aboard a boat anchored off Key West.

And the Cubans want it back.

A petition, asking the money be impounded, was denied late Wednesday by Federal District Judge Emett C. Choate, who ruled his court did not have jurisdiction.

The huge fund, believed in currency, is reputed to be aboard the Olocun II, a converted PT boat in which three brothers fled Havana on New Year's Day with 23 other passengers."

The boat anchored off Key West later that day as Rolando, Rudolfo and Ramundo Masferrer asked permission to enter the U.S. as political refugees.

No action has been yet taken on their plea.

The move to recover the funds — if they are aboard — came from Roberto Agramonte, Minister of State in the new Cuban government.

His petition mentioned the passengers and said:

"In the possession of one or more of these people is approximately 17 million dollars in currency. This money is believed to have come from the treasury of the Cuban government and is illegally in the possession of the carriers."

Agramonte asked the funds be held by U.S. officials "for a short period of time to allow us to complete our investigation and make formal claim for return of such money to the treasury of Cuba through the Courts of the United States."

The Masferrers have often been called "the most hated and feared men in Cuba."

Rolando, a senator from Oriente province, where the revolution to oust ex-President Fulgencio Batista had its start, maintained his own private "army," operated hundreds of gambling places, and owned one of Havana's principal newspapers, which served as a "mouthpiece" for the Batista government.

Ramundo and Rudolfo aided their brother in his operations. Rudolfo was attacked and beaten last year during a visit to Hialeah by Cuban rebel sympathizers.

$85,000 Is Found On Batista Yacht

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Immigration Service said Wednesday about $85,000 has been discovered aboard one of two yachts on which 36 men, identified with the Batista regime, fled from Cuba to Key West.

James L. Hennessy, executive assistant to Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing, said the money was found on the Marta III. He said it consisted of about $81,000 in U.S. currency and $4,000 in Cuban bills.

Manufacturers Assn. Elects A. Vernon Weaver President

Sullivan Becomes 1st V.P.

Lloyd Jaye, Left, Turns Over Gavel to A. Vernon Weaver
... other officers, standing, left to right are Sidney Reaves, Timothy Sullivan, E. R. Starbuck

A. Vernon Weaver, president of Lanotan, Inc., suntan products manufacturing firm, was elected president of the Greater Miami Manufacturers Association Wednesday.

Weaver succeeds Lloyd Jaye, president of Jaye Manufacturing Company

Weaver, who is also a vice president of Southern Venetian Blind Company, became head of Lanotan last year when a group of Miami businessmen bought the firm.

Timothy J. Sullivan, vice president of Florida Power and Light Company, moved up from secretary to first vice president of the association, which includes most of Dade County's manufacturing firms.

Sidney J. Reaves, manager of the Miami Coca-Cola Bottling Company, was chosen second vice president and E. R. Starbuck, sales manager for Florida Portland Cement Company, was named secretary.

The new treasurer is Louis F. Garrard, general manager of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., here.

The new officers will be installed Jan. 31 at a dinner at the DuPont Plaza Hotel.

Speaker at the installation dinner will be Milton C. Lightner, president of the National Association of Manufacturers and board chairman of the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Green Cheese May Hide Oil on Moon

By Herald Wire Services

The Russians gave out a clue Wednesday as to why they are in a hurry to reach the moon: there may be oil there.

A Soviet Scientist, Prof. Nilolai Kozyrev, says periodic changes in the color of parts of the moon indicate the presence of natural gas.

"This would mean that in the direct vicinity one may expect to find deposits of oil," he said.

Despite Cuba

No Change Seen For Sugar Act

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Fidel Castro's successful revolt in Cuba, main sugar supplier for the rich U.S. market, will make no change in Congressional plans to extend the U.S. sugar quota act, Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D., N.C.) said Wednesday.

Cooley, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he has no doubt the new Cuban regime will allow the island's sugar producers to fill their 1959 U.S. quota. This amounts to about one-third of U.S. consumption.

"We couldn't have a sugar program without Cuba," Cooley said.

Other sources here, meanwhile, predicted domestic sugar producers will urge an indefinite extension of the law under which the U.S. market is carved up into carefully controlled shares for American and foreign producers.

Under the act, the Agriculture Department controls supplies reaching the U.S. market — and indirectly controls prices—through the quota system.

The sugar act is now in force under a four-year extension which expires at the end of 1960. Both administration and Congressional farm leaders have indicated they favor approval of the next extension this year to allow for advance planning in producing areas.

Domestic growers favor an extension with no time limit, it was reported, because many of them feel the present quota terms are the most favorable they can realistically expect to get.

Cooley said the Cuban revolt is not likely to affect Cuba's position as a supplier to the U.S. market because "Castro realizes sugar is the most important item in the Cuban economy."

Banks Bat .900; All But 4 Show Deposit Gains

All but four of Dade County's 31 banks reported increased growth during 1958.

The county's newest bank, two-year-old Dade National, led the pack with a growth in deposits of 136.2 per cent.

Second fastest growing was Metropolitan Bank, which passed four others to become the county's 12th largest. It's deposits rose 62.1 per cent.

Only four banks reported declines in both deposits and resources.

They were South Dade Farmers Bank of Homestead, down 25.4 per cent in deposits, 23.6 per cent in resources; Pan American Bank, down 13.7 and 13.1 per cent; Curtiss National of Miami Springs, down 5.8 and 1.8 per cent, and North Shore of Miami Beach, down 5 and 3.2 per cent.

Coral Gables National reported a fractional decline in deposits but a gain in resources.

Others among the top 10 in deposit growth were Miami National up 51.3 per cent; City National of Coral Gables, 41.9 per cent; Peoples of North Miami Beach, 34.3 per cent; Bank of Dade County, 26.1 per cent; Boulevard National, 21.7 per cent; Merchants of Miami, 20.5 per cent; Bank of South Miami, 16.5 per cent, and Industrial National, 14.9 per cent.

First National Bank of Miami by far the largest in Dade County, passed the 300-million-dollar mark in deposits for a gain of 10.4 per cent.

U.S. May Use Atom To Free Oil Reserve

DALLAS — (DJ) — Uncle Sam is willing to try out an underground atomic explosion in an oil well if the nation's petroleum industry will foot some of the costs.

This is the first time the government has formally offered to sanction atomic explosions for strictly non-military purposes.

R. M. Gooding of the Bureau of Mines said the government hopes to pulverize oil-bearing shale with an atomic blast and then free the oil from the shale by man made controlled fires underground.

He said the initial experimental explosion is expected to produce 15,000 barrels of oil and 10 million cubic feet of gas at the outset.

A site has tentatively been selected in the Piceance Creek Basin in northwest Colorado.

The experiment would cost 1.2 million dollars plus the cost of the atomic device, Gooding said.

'Get Rich Quick' Schemes

Big Bull Market Attracts Con Men

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Heightened interest in the stock market has attracted a fringe element of confidence men who cater to the public's get-rich-quick fancies, Congress was told Wednesday.

The Securities and Exchange Commission, in its report for the 1958 fiscal year which ended June 30, said the big bull market has saddled it with "enforcement problems of the first magnitude."

Con men were said to be preying on "uninformed investors . . . often willing to purchase unknown and speculative securities which are represented as offering unusual opportunities for gain."

The SEC observed that "somewhat paradoxically, declines in the prices of seasoned securities may increase the public appetite for such speculative offerings."

It said a substantial number of recent mergers, acquisitions and expansion programs "appear to be designed largely to reap profits for promoters and speculators at the expense of the public."

As the tempo of market activity has increased, the commission said, it has "noted a growing number of instances of unusual and unexplained market activities in particular securities, suggesting possible market manipulations." It said it expects to devote more of its enforcement effort to this area in the future.

The commission said that as opportunities for illicit profits have multiplied, "the number, resources and ingenuity of violators seeking to capitalize upon these opportunities have likewise multiplied."

F-R Board Pinched Own Credit Line

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Federal Reserve Board reported that it fell victim to its own easy credit policy last year.

It said that the sharp drop in interest rates it engineered in the first half of the year to stimulate spending by business and consumers, plus higher operating costs, reduced 1958 earnings of the 12 Federal Reserve banks to 604 million dollars.

This total represented a drop of 27 million dollars from 1957.

The bank's income is derived from holdings of U. S. government securities and from loans to commercial banks which belong to the Federal Reserve System.

4 Truck Drivers Indicted In Bunnell Labor Slaying

No Action Taken in 2nd Killing

BUNNELL —(UPI)— Four truck drivers were charged Wednesday with second degree murder in the Dec. 5 slaying of Union Organizer George K. Jones. The shooting was an outgrowth of a dispute between the Teamsters Union and a trucking concern.

Charged in the shooting in which another man also was killed were Sidney McCraney, 31, Jack Johnson, 33, and Robert Drake, 28, all of Bunnell; and Alexander Faircloth Jr., 24, of Ormond Beach.

Faircloth and Drake were wounded in the shooting and McCraney and Johnson were arrested and held on open charges soon after the incident at Jones' trailer home at the Bunnell Airport.

The indictments, a result of a grand jury investigation completed Dec. 29, were returned to Circuit Judge George W. Jackson of St. Augustine.

However, the case was still a mystery since no details of the jury's findings were released to reporters. And since no one was charged in the fatal shooting of Howard Glisson, 27-year-old Bunnell truck driver, the theory was that the 31-year-old Jones may have shot him during the hassle.

State Attorney W. W. Judge, who conducted the grand jury probe which took testimony of nine persons, declined to say on what grounds the indictments were made.

The entire case has been surrounded by a cloud of mystery because no official statement was ever released. It is expected to remain a mystery until a trial which is expected to be set at a Jan. 14 arraignment.

It was reported by an investigator that the shooting stemmed from a labor dispute between the Teamsters Union and Tropical Transport Co.

Union truck drivers set up pickets in front of the trucking company's offices at Lehigh Portland Cement Co. property Nov. 17. But the differences were settled Dec. 19 when the company agreed to recognize Teamsters Local 512 of Jacksonville as bargaining agent.

College Deed Is Held Up

ST. PETERSBURG —(UPI) — The City Council has voted to defer until Jan. 19 the signing of a deed which would convey 150 acres of land to Florida Presbyterian College as a campus site.

The deed was scheduled to have been signed Wednesday. But Mayor John Burroughs said there were "some restrictions I think we should discuss in private."

He said he will call a caucus before the council meeting Jan. 19 to discuss the matter.

There was speculation that "restrictions" dealt with proposals that the college promise not to permit racial integration before the deed is signed.

The college board of trustees decided to build the new church school here last fall after a survey of all of Central Florida. The city's offer, which included donation of the land, was one of the most attractive received.

Hotel, Cafe Total Gains Last Year

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— Construction of sleeping and eating facilities for tourists continued unabated through 1958, the State Hotel and Restaurant Commission reported.

In fact, it said, new establishments opened up last year at a slightly higher rate than in previous years.

On Jan. 1 there were 40,005 hotels, motels, apartments and rooming houses in operation, an increase of 1,419 during the year.

Ten new hotels opened during the year. New apartment establishments totaled 1,425, new motels 372 and rooming houses dropped 388.

$25,000 Reward For Lee's

BRADENTON — (AP) — The reward for information about a missing Parrish cattleman and merchant and the murder of his wife was increased to $25,000 Wednesday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lee, mother of Gettis Lee—who disappeared in 1957—raised her personal reward from $6,000 to $10,000. Gettis Lee's estate upped its reward from $1,000 to $15,000.

Lee, who was then 63, and his 60-year-old wife vanished March 7, 1957. Mrs. Lee's body was found two days later in a creek three miles west of Parrish. She had been shot three times.

Nothing has been heard of Lee. His parked auto was found near Palmetto, 10 miles south of Parrish. In the back seat was his hat with a bullet hole in the crown. Police officials have adopted the theory Lee is dead.

William Ray of Bradenton, attorney for Mrs. Elizabeth Lee, announced the larger reward offer Wednesday. The original rewards were posted in September, 1957.

Ray said the rewards are payable "for information leading to the location of Gettis Lee's body along with some evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for his being dead or missing. They also are payable for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person "who murdered Mrs. Lee."

He said anyone is eligible for Mrs. Elizabeth Lee's personal reward, but that law officials are excluded from receiving the $15,000 put up by the estate.

Batista Pays $160 Per Day To Guard His Daytona Home

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

DAYTONA BEACH — Even a dog couldn't get into Fulgencio Batista's home to play with the ousted Cuban dictator's children.

Heavily armed city policemen block every entrance to Batista's sumptuous pink stucco estate on the Halifax River.

"Nobody gets in here unless the people inside want to see him," a guard told me politely.

Gen. Batista, 129 N. Halifax Ave., is listed in the Daytona Beach phone book, so I called to ask about the general and to request entrance.

"I'm sorry, sir, we aren't allowed to say anything," said an unidentified voice at the other end of the line.

Batista is in the Dominican Republic—and nobody seems to know when he'll come here. But two of his children are here, and so are 17 members of his household staff, including his personal secretary, Mrs. Carmen Garmero.

Mrs. Garmero let three persons in Tuesday, a telephone repair man, Daytona Beach Police Chief Oscar Folsom, and Ben Brass, Batista's Daytona Beach attorney, the man who arranged for the guard.

Each was escorted in and out by a uniformed off-duty Daytona Beach policeman, who carried a carbine, or a riot gun, plus a service revolver.

Delivery trucks were allowed to enter the locked gates, but the drivers were shooed away before servants unloaded the trucks. A cab driver was told to sit firmly in his cab when he came to pick up a maid.

The only information about the inmates of the house came from Brass.

Frank Brass

. . . attorney of Batista

"There are 19 persons in there," he said. "The children are General Batista's son, Fulgencio Jr. . . . he's about eight . . . and a 17-month old daughter . . . I don't know her name."

Neither of the children got outdoors Tuesday.

Only one staff member, a maid, took the air. She didn't respond to a "good morning" or a Spanish "Buenas Dias."

Brass said the Daytona Beach refugees came here via New Orleans Saturday.

Asked whether Batista himself is planning to come here, Brass and Chief Folsom said they had "no information."

Brass said he requested the guards because, "Latin-Americans are excitable people."

The eight men on guard duty are paid $2.50 an hour each, Chief Folsom said. The city of Daytona Beach bills Batista and then pays the men.

Each works an eight-hour trick. This means the guards cost the ex-Cuban president $160 per day. Folsom said the payment was being handled through city channels only to assure compensation insurance coverage for the men while on guard.

Folsom has gone all out with precautions. At least two guards constantly watch all the estate entrances, including the Halifax River dock. At night floodlights illuminate the grounds.

Batista's American hideaway is an enormous Spanish style structure which he bought from R. E. Olds, the automobile tycoon. It's in a once fashionable section of Daytona Beach and includes a boathouse, boat docks, swimming pool and impeccably trimmed grounds.

Next door is another mansion, which Batista presented the city in 1946 as a Cuban museum. It's still a museum and the Cuban flag flies at its door, but the place was closed Tuesday.

Police had to shoo away several carloads of Cubans when the museum opened in 1946, but the guards at the Batista home have reported no incidents.

Closest thing to an incident they've seen came Monday night, when a local teenage boy brandished an air rifle at the guards.

"That was a damn fool thing to do," said Patrolmen Ed Biondi and Tom Grasso, Tuesday's guards.

'Redhead' Cleared In Killing

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Mary Welborn was found not guilty Wednesday of second degree murder in the slaying of Robert Lee, 24, a Miami engineer.

She walked out of Criminal court a free woman after Judge Louis Weissing directed the jury to acquit her. Lee was killed by a hitchhiker he picked up on Christmas Day, 1957, on U.S. 27.

More than a year of ordeal for the 23-year-old red haired woman with a tragic history ended at 4:40 p.m. on the trial's third day.

It ended when her attorney, Ellis Rubin, blocked the admission of a second alleged confession as evidence.

State Rep. Emerson Allsworth, the prosecuting attorney, was visibly dejected as he rested his case.

Rubin promptly asked the court for a directed acquittal. Weissing granted the request, and called in the jury to release the defendant formally.

There was an emotional scene as well-wishers congratulated the woman whose sanity was disputed by psychiatrists.

Matrons who have looked after her in jail begged her to stay out of trouble.

Mary, said to have the mind of a 12-year-old, showed mixed delight and confusion at the verdict.

Asked if she was happy, she bubbied: "Wouldn't you be?"

Prompted by a matron, she added seriously: "Yes, I'm very happy."

"First I'm going to get situated," she said. "Then I want to go home to New Mexico.

"It'll take my Mom and Dad a long time to get money for the fare," she added thoughfully. "I want to go and call them."

A psychiatrist said earlier that five years of intensive treatment would aid her personality disorder.

"Mom wants me to go to a hospital voluntarily," she said.

Arrangements are being made for Miss Welborn to stay at the Ministering Friends Inc. Home in Miami. Mrs. Pearl Bourn, Broward representative of the society, hugged Mary as she was freed.

Air Force Tests Titan On Ground

CAPE CANAVERAL — (UPI) — The Air Force ground-tested the engine of an awesome intercontinental Titan Wednesday night and it appeared the second try at getting the missile off the ground for the first time would be made soon.

But the test did not appear to be entirely successful as compared to other static, or "hold-down" tests held on the cape. Flames lit the northwest corner of the Cape for a few seconds but it seemed as though the engines never reached full thrust.

The Titan, billed as America's most advanced intercontinental ballistic missile, has never been fired. The Air Force tired to get the 90-foot war rocket off the ground Dec. 20 but failed when technical difficulties developed.

An attempt at launching usually follows a static test within a week to 10 days, but only if the static achieves the desired results.

If fitted with a hydrogen warhead, a perfected Titan could make rubble of a great city more than 6,000 miles away from the missile's launching site. But the Air Force also has said the missile could take man to the moon and back in a scientific mission.

The Titan hold-down test was the third major missile development of the day. A few minutes before the static test, an Air Force crew launched a second Matador missile in training for overseas replacement duty.

Orange Concentrate Study

Mutual Requests Quality Survey

LAKELAND — (UPI) — Florida Citrus Mutual Wednesday called for a survey to determine what is needed to raise quality of frozen orange concentrate.

Mutual directors refused to support a proposal, for a slight increase in quality of oranges going into concentrate.

But the board unanimously voted to set up a committee to work with concentrators in drafting proposals to boost concentrate quality.

The board rejected the concentrators' proposals to raise raw fruit quality, on a recommendation of Mutual's Advisory Committee, which met Wednesday morning.

The advisors claimed fruit quality was one of many factors controlling quality of the finished product and would be ineffective by itself.

The concentrate industry has been concerned about declining quality, spokesmen for the industry said. Introduced in 1946, concentrate production has climbed steadily.

The spokesmen say this has been instrumental in causing the quality of the product to decline, since the manufacturers no longer can use the "cream of the crop" in making concentrate.

The quality proposal was offered by the concentrators' advisory committee after it had been drafted by the Florida Canners Association. The canners sought support before asking the Florida Citrus Commission to seek legislation to put it into effect.

R. C. Wooten of Pasco Packing Co., chairman of the concentrators' committee presented the case for the canners. He brought several scientists before the board, who said the slight raise in quality standards would help the quality of concentrate and would be a "step in the right direction."

But the move was opposed by John T. Lesley, general manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and General Manager Marvin Walker of the Florida Citrus Growers Cooperative, which is also a concentrate producer.

Both said the proposal would put a "premium on dishonesty" by putting into effect an unenforceable regulation. Growers, Walker said, would violate the law by mixing low grade fruit with high grade fruit.

Lesley, whose organization represents about 25 per cent of the fresh fruit shippers, also said he was against dual quality standards — one for fresh oranges and another for concentrate oranges.

He said he stood behind a recommendation by a special committee on fruit quality to raise all orange standards by one-half point across the board.

St. Lucie to Start Water Conservation

Herald Service

FORT PIERCE—The much-stalled water conservation program for the North St. Lucie River Drainage District got on the road this week, and officials hope the actual work can start late this spring or early this summer.

Final approval was given this week to the program set up by the Soil Service Engineers, and the plans will be taken to Spartanburg, S.C., so that engineering plans and specifications can be drawn up. This will take about four months.

A five-year plan has been set up, with the first phase including construction of spillways in Ten and Eleven Mile creeks; and construction of a pumping unit at the south end of the Header Canal. Other spillways will be constructed as time goes on.

The overall plan is for building spillways located at strategic points throughout the district, plus some canal cleaning and re-alignment.

Soil service engineers, Howard Helson, James Luke, and U.S. Allison met with the drainage district supervisors Cornelius Van Der Lugt, Walter Dun, and R. F. Cassens, and spent Monday out in the district, reviewing all the practical features of the program on the ground.

Tuesday the board met with the engineers, with Ed Jesse, who is technical advisor for the St. Lucie Soil Conservation district, and with drainage district engineer Charles Richheimer to give final approval.

Members of a special committee, appointed to check the plans as they involved Arvida Groves, were included in the inspections and meetings — they were O. C. Minton, Brian McCarty and J. H. Brooks, and Arvida engineer Ben Herr of Palm Beach.

Arvida, owned by Arthur Vining Davis, had halted the water conservation program for several months over the program of water control structure management. The problem was resolved with the appointing of the special committee.
